NIXON'S PRESS DAY

Mideast Report Likely Thursday

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The White House said today President Nixon had conferred with former President Lyndon B. Johnson on the smoldering Middle East crisis and was preparing to "make some decisions" on U. S. strategy to defuse the situation.

With Nixon ready to go along with a French proposal for Big Four Mideast talks within the United Nations, the President talked with Johnson by telephone for about 15 minutes last night to discuss the latest developments.

Nixon had conferred with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower on the situation Sunday at Walter Reed Hospital.

Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said the Middle East crisis was the "priority item" today as Nixon conferred again with his National Security Council.

"The President will make some decisions on the Middle East following today's meeting," Ziegler said. "These decisions will become apparent over the next few days."

Nixon will have an opportunity to spell out his administration's position on the Arab-Israeli troubles when he holds his second presidential news conference on Thursday.

Ziegler said the President will give both Johnson and Eisenhower weekly briefings on foreign policy developments, either by telephone, written reports or personal briefings by staff members.

Moratorium Urged On Death Penalty

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A four-year moratorium on California's death penalty to try to prove it does not deter crime was proposed today by the student body president of San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

The 24-year-old seminarian, Douglas Huneke, and Assemblyman Henry Waxman, D-Los Angeles — both firm opponents of capital punishment — announced the proposal in a joint press conference today. Waxman, serving his first term, has agreed to sponsor the bill drawn up by Huneke.

The California Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of the death penalty in November, and courts throughout the state have begun to reschedule execution dates for San Quentin's 85 Death Row inmates. One is scheduled to die in the gas chamber on Feb. 18, a second on March 5 and a third on March 12.

The justices agreed that "retention or abolition (of the death penalty) raises a question of legislative policy under which our system of division of powers falls within the competence of the Legislature or the electorate."

Waxman's bill is an urgency measure, so it would be effective immediately if it passed the Legislature and were signed by the governor. Urgency measures, however, require a two-thirds approval of all members in each house, instead

Bucher's Top Officer Backs Up His Story

CORONADO (AP) — The executive officer of the Pueblo, backing up testimony of its skipper, said today the intelligence ship did not enter North Korean territorial waters and was "heavily outgunned" by its captors.

Lt. Edward R. Murphy also told in detail about the death of the only crewman killed during North Korea's capture of the Pueblo a year ago.

Murphy, 31, boyish-faced with thinning black hair and glasses, spoke clearly and deliberately in addressing a court of inquiry investigating the Pueblo's capture and the imprisonment of its crew. He was the first crew member other than the skipper to testify in an open session of the court.

His testimony agreed in virtually every detail with that given earlier by Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, the ship's captain, and with Murphy's own remarks at a news conference several weeks ago.

Murphy spoke at length of the death of Fireman Duane Hodges, 21, of Creswell, Ore., hit in the leg and abdomen by a 57mm hell from a North Korean gunboat. He said that, as the ship's medical officer, he was with Hodges at the end and he died "resting easily."

Murphy also was the Pueblo's navigator. He said: "I unreservedly comment that at no time between the day we got underway on 11 January 1968 to the day of the capture on 23 January 1968 did the USS Pueblo violate the coastal 12-mile limit claimed by North Korea."

Seventeen Communist claims of intrusion were fabricated, he said.

Referring to the Pueblo's armament, two .50-caliber machine guns plus some hand weapons, he said: "It is not my opinion that we could have held up against any ship . . . that had any greater armaments than we

Bomb-Blasted Offices Open During Repair

Workmen were mopping up and installing plate glass windows today in the office of Public Finance Corporation, San Rafael, following Sunday night's city-jarring bomb explosion.

San Rafael police reported that they have sent a small object, believed to be a fuse for the bomb, to the Criminal Identification and Investigation center in Sacramento.

Otherwise there is nothing new, reported Deputy Chief Joseph J. Brusatori. "We're continuing our investigation."

Business went on as usual yesterday in the Marin Selective Service headquarters, located in the bombed building, assistant clerk Sandra May reported. "We worked by candlelight until noon yesterday, however."

Gary Hall, branch representative at the finance company at 817 A Street, said his company was operating but that it was a bit limited because of repairs going on.

Windows have been replaced in other offices in the building, Hall said, including that of Trimarin Realty Associates.

The bomb, believed to contain three to five sticks of dynamite, was placed beside the stairs leading to the second floor of the building where the Selective Service office is located. No injuries were reported from the blast.

Sirhan Takes Stand, Details His Earnings

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, taking the witness stand at his trial on a charge he murdered Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, said today that the most money he earned in any of the four previous years was $2,212.46.

The slender young Jordanian was poised and spoke clearly during five minutes of testimony about his financial status. He spoke in support of a defense motion to quash the grand jury indictment against him on grounds the jury was unbalanced in makeup.

He confirmed these income figures: 1965, $964.90; 1966, $2,212.46; 1967, $430.96; 1968, $752.35. The money, he said, came from jobs in a drive-in, motor service firm, a ranch in nearby Chino, a construction company in nearby Corona, and a food store in Pasadena.

Sirhan, 24, was neatly dressed in a gray suit, blue tie and shirt, and took the oath with fists clenched. But he seemed relaxed while speaking. His voice was slightly accented.

The defense earlier presented testimony that the grand jury was mostly composed of college-educated persons in the professional, sales or managerial classes and included no one who was under 30 or poor.

Under questioning by chief defense counsel Grant B. Cooper, Sirhan responded almost entirely with "yes" or "yes sir."

Under cross - examination by Chief Deputy Dist. Atty. Lynn D. Compton, Sirhan's replies were a bit longer.

Red China Diplomat Asks Asylum In United States

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The State Department announced today that Liao Hu-Shu, a Red Chinese diplomat who defected in the Netherlands 10 days ago, has come to the United States and requested asylum.

A department spokesman, Robert J. McCloskey, said Liao's request was "under consideration" and that the Chinese official —the highest ever to defect to the United States —was in "protective custody."

Liao, born Dec. 20, 1922, in Hunan Province, was described by McCloskey as a diplomat about whom little was known.

He defected in the Hague, where reports earlier today said he had left the Netherlands.

When specifically asked whether Liao was an intelligence agent, the State Department spokesman brushed aside the question by saying that he did not think "a great deal was known" about the Communist Chinese official.

Liao, who was temporary charge d'affaires at the Chinese Legation, informed the Netherlands government on Jan. 24 he "no longer wanted to carry on his function," the statement said.

The ministry of justice said Liao had been allowed to remain in the country "for the time being" but would not say where he had been hiding.

Liao's whereabouts have been a topic of speculation in the Dutch press for several days.

Peace March Trial Opens At Hamilton

Court martial for Airman 1/C Michael Locks, 25, of San Anselmo, charged with wearing a uniform to a peace demonstration, opened today at Hamilton Air Force Base with his attorney questioning panel members on their views of the Vietnam War.

Locks, who was a leader of the GI's and Veterans Peace March Oct. 12 in San Francisco, sat stoically staring straight ahead during the session in the Air Force courtroom.

The examination of the nine-member court-martial panel by attorney Richard J. Wertheimer of San Anselmo was expected to continue through the day.

Wertheimer questioned the Air Force officers on the panel not only about their views on the war, which all said they supported, but also on the effect the peace march had had on base personnel.

One officer was excused by the legal officer when he said he had already made up his mind about the case.

Heater Blamed In Olompali Fire

Blame for the fire which destroyed the historic Burdell Mansion at Rancho Olompali Sunday was pinned today on a faulty gas heater.

Novato Asst. Fire Chief James W. (Jack) Kidder said the spectacular fire which routed 20 hippies into the cold before dawn Sunday was definitely caused by a heater in the rumpus room off the main living area.

The estate has been a haven for a hippie population for about a year since businessman-turned-hippie Donald C. McCoy Jr. began using his inherited fortune to run the hippie mecca north of Novato.

Report Puts Chill On New Campuses

Novato, Petaluma Area College Plans Affected

BY PAUL E. PETERZELL

SACRAMENTO — No new junior college campuses should be built in Marin or Sonoma counties at least until after 1977, the staff of the California Coordinating Council for Higher Education has reported.

The staff report, originally set for review today in San Francisco by the council, has been shelved until the council's May session at the request of Dr. John W. Gunn, Peralta College president and head of the California Junior College Association. (See story, page 32.)

The report is bound to be controversial in Marin and Sonoma, junior college districts, where planning is well under way for new campuses.

SECOND CAMPUS

The College of Marin's proposed second campus, north of Novato, the council noted, would be only 10 miles from the Sonoma district's proposed second campus, just north of Petaluma.

The report conceded that 11 new junior college campuses will be needed throughout the state before 1977. The proposed new campuses in Marin and Sonoma were among 19 the report said would not be needed before 1977.

The council is the legislature's official advisory body on programs and facilities for higher education in the state and the study was made to consider the need for new centers of public higher education through 1977. The legislature's policy is to approve funds for new school facilities only if they are recommended by the council.

STATE FUNDS

The new campuses planned in Marin and Sonoma both anticipate the use of some state funds. Thus, without council approval, property taxpayers in both districts would have to makeup any loss of state funds.

Instead of new campuses, the council recommended increased use of the existing campuses. Specifically, the council recommended year-round operation which it said would increase enrollment ceilings by one-third, "with only a small corresponding increase in facilities."

The council explained that

Supervisors Grumble, Vote For Meyer

Two Marin County Supervisors from San Rafael tried unsuccessfully today to oust fellow supervisor Michael Wornum from the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board in order to get representation from Northern Marin.

Chairman John F. McInnis and Supervisor Louis H. Baar noted that the appointment of Mayor Dean N. Meyer of Mill Valley by the cities means all three representatives to the bridge board are from Southern Marin.

EARLIER APPOINTEES

Joseph E. Sheeks, a Belvedere attorney, was named to the bridge board by the 1968 board of supervisors, and Wornum, of Mill Valley, was named by the board of supervisors last month.

Both McInnis and Baar emphasized that they have nothing against the choice of Meyer by the cities, but they think Meyer and Wornum could not effectively represent the commuters of Northern Marin because problems of commuters in the north are different from those in the south.

"I question the desirability of having such an important appointment all from the same general area of Marin," said McInnis. "We could amend that by withdrawing the name of Mr. Wornum and putting in the name of L. H. Baar."

Wornum said he would be willing to give up his post on the bridge board, but only to another commuter. "I feel the commuter has the greatest problem as far as the bridge is concerned." The only other commuter on the board is Peter R. Arrigoni of Fairfax.

ARRIGONI SATISFACTION

Arrigoni announced he is satisfied with Meyer's selection by the cities, and councilmen in his district (Ross Valley) feel they are well represented by Meyer and Wornum. "I would be hard pressed to vote to remove Mr. Wornum," said Arrigoni.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss chuckled: "I just want to say I'm taking no part in this." If a resident of Novato were in the running, Gnoss said he would have backed that person.

The supervisors ratified the Marin Council on Mayors and Councilmen's designation of Mayor Meyer as Marin's third representative to the bridge board.

Publisher Ralph McGill Dies At 71

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) —Ralph Emerson McGill, the Pulitzer Prize-winning publisher of the Atlanta Constitution, died last night of a heart attack. He would have been 71 Wednesday.

McGill rose from life in a small Tennessee farm community to become the South's most vocal white advocate of civil rights.

He was stricken as he was leaving a private birthday party in his honor at the home of a friend, John B. Lawhorn. He was pronounced dead at Holy Family Hospital.

McGill, who became publisher of the Constitution in 1960 after 31 years with the newspaper, received the Pulitzer Prize in 1958 for editorial writing. The Pulitzer committee pointed to his "long, courageous and effective editorial leadership."

He was awarded the Medal of Freedom in 1964, for what President Johnson described as making "man's world safe, his physical body more durable, his mind broader and his dignity important."

McGill, born 10 miles from the little farm community of Soddy, Tenn., began his newspaper career in 1922 as a sports writer and reporter for the Nashville Banner. He joined the Constitution as sports editor in 1929.

He was named executive editor in 1938 and became editor in 1942.

McGill became widely-known through his syndicated column, in which he championed civil rights.

McGill made his first mark as a sports writer, coining the phrase "strong legs run that weak legs may walk," a slogan still used by Shriners in their all-star football games for the benefit of crippled children's hospitals.

Reagan To Give Budget Talk Tonight

The governor will appear with Finance Director Caspar Weinberger at 7 p.m. on Channel 4 to explain the budget to the public.

Reagan also will discuss again the 10 per cent personal income tax cut he promised during a similar television report last week.

Tonight's progarm was filmed two weeks ago. "It's an attempt by the governor to explain to the people the budget, which is a very complicated thing," said Paul Beck, Reagan's press secretary.

Reagan has decided to adopt an entirely new style of budget this year — a "program budget." It will list the statewide cost of the entire program, rather than an individual breakdown of the cost of separate institutions in each program.

Another new twist is the television report itself. This is the first time Reagan has planned to give the public a direct, detailed explanation of the budget.

The budget is expected to be somewhere around $6 billion, a record, and contain a "substantial" increase in the state appropriation to local school districts.

Also included will be the tax rebate. Reagan said a budget surplus of $100 million from last year will make the 10 per cent across - the - board cut possible.

Help Wanted Ad Separation Out

WASHINGTON (UPI)—From now on, unless you need something like a go-go dancer or a football tackle, you will be violating the law if you advertise for employees by sex.

The U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission printed new guidelines yesterday which prohibit the placement of job openings under separate male and female headings except in rare cases where sex is a definite qualification for the position.

The order, according to the commission, is retroactive to Jan. 24 when the U.S. Court of Appeals in the District of Columbia ruled the guidelines constitutional.

Five Trampled

MADRAS (AP) — Five persons were trampled to death and one was killed by police gunfire last night when a vast throng stampeded at Rajaji Hall as the body of Chief Minister C. N. Annadurai lay in state. More than 300 persons were reported injured.

Police estimated 15 million persons had poured into Madras for the funeral today.

Arab Leader Pledges 'War Of Liberation'

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

An Arab guerrilla leader today vowed to mount a "war of liberation" throughout Israeli-occupied territory.

In Cairo, Yassir Arafat told newsmen he would "escalate the Palestinian armed revolution in all parts of occupied Palestine to become a popular war of liberation."

He spoke following his election last night as chairman of the executive committee of the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO), a combine of guerrilla bands and groups of Arab refugees from Israeli-held territory.

Arafat said armed forces is their only solution.

In Amman, Jordanian authorities yesterday accused Israel of sending two helicopters gunships backed by jet fighters into the area and strafing a civilian settlement, killing two women. According to Jordanian and Iraqui spokesmen it was the fourth Israeli air incursion and strike of the day into Jordan. Both Jordan and Iraq, which keeps some 10,000 troops in Jordan, claimed downing two Israeli aircraft.

In Jerusalem, Israeli spokesmen denied their craft did any raiding yesterday except for hitting Jordanian guns that popped at an Israeli patrol on the west bank of the Jordan. The Israelis reported no air losses.

Heyns Blames U.C. Unrest For Delaying Afro Studies

BERKELEY (AP) — University of California Berkeley Chancellor Roger W. Heyns blames slow progress in developing an Afro-American study program on "disorder, violence and mistrust" by striking students.

He told the Academic Senate yesterday that since the strike by the Third World Liberation Front began Jan. 22, there have been seven attempts at arson or firebombing and "innumerable bomb threats on lives of students and faculties."

He noted 14 buildings have been damaged and 21 students face possible suspension for strike activities.

The Academic Senate reaffirmed its support of administration plans to establish ethnic programs and condemned the use of force and violence by strikers.

The striking students want, among other things, a minority-group studies Third World College on the Berkeley campus.

Heyns said he is considering the advantages of a college of ethnic studies at Berkeley, but "obviously I cannot commit myself in advance."

Some 300 demonstrators marched through university buildings yesterday trying to disrupt classes.

There was a five-minute brawl including 20 strikers and students in a zoology class after the study room was invaded. One student had a cut over an eye.

Police were called but made no arrests.

U.S. Tallies Enemy Force Inside DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. intelligence reports say there are from 1,500 to 3,000 North Vietnamese troops inside the demilitarized Zone between North and South Vietnam, it was learned today.

The U.S. Command would not comment on enemy strength in the six-mile-wide strip that stretches 40 miles across Vietnam. But it was learned from other reliable sources that intelligence places three to six North Vietnamese battalions of 500 men each in the zone, most of them in the northern half.

President Nixon said at his first news conference last week that one of the top American priorities at the Paris peace talks would be restoration of the zone to the demilitarized status prescribed in the 1954 Geneva agreement. But the Communist side at the conference has refused to discuss this, saying it is a U.S. trick to perpetuate American forces in Vietnam.

Sources said that Gen. Creighton Z. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, does not consider the enemy troops inside the zone a serious threat this point. But the North Vietnamese have been moving war supplies through the zone into Laos and then down the Ho Chi Minh Trail to support North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops fighting in South Vietnam.

One source said North Vietnamese activity in the zone is at about the same level as the past several weeks. They are repairing bunkers and building some new ones."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon Administration has picked John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University and architect of its pioneer adventures in helping underdeveloped countries, to guide the nation's embattled foreign aid program.

Hannah, staunch Republican and long-time friend of President Nixon, was expected to submit his resignation to the Democratic - controlled MSU Board of Regents tonight.

But he indicated in a statement released in Detroit last night that problems of succession—former Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams was reportedly to take his place — could delay a "fulltime role in the federal government" until spring or later.

New Zoning Advances On Houseboats

New zoning regulations to control houseboat marinas were approved by the Marin County Planning commissioners by split vote yesterday and forwarded to the Marin County Board of Supervisors for a public hearing.

Margaret Azevedo moved to adopt the new rules on "floating home marinas" and got a second from Dr. William F. Upton. The lone dissenting vote came from Walter F. Freitas, who objected to a provision which allows only one dwelling unit per vessel.

Michael Praszker abstained for two reasons: he missed the previous discussion two weeks ago and wants more information on use of water for human habitation before deciding.

Under the new rules, a floating home marina must have 50 per cent of the total area in open water, including fairways, which will be 35 feet wide. Only one dwelling unit will be allowed per vessel, and six feet of space must be allowed between floating homes. The distance must be 10 feet if either floating home is more than one story.

Existing houseboats that do not conform to the new regulations must apply for use permit within six months. All floating homes must comply within three years, except that the planning commission may grant extensions of up to two more years where justified by individual circumstances.

Defining a "transient vessel" proved to be a stickler, and the commissioners decided to drop that paragraph completely. At the suggestion of Niels Schultz Jr., the commissioners decided that the definition of a "floating home" would be sufficient.

The commissioners agreed that houseboats must float at plus five feet tide in order for the area to qualify as a floating home marina.

San Pablo Bay Drilling Probe Asked

No oil or gas drilling should be allowed anywhere in San Pablo Bay until a hearing is held in Marin to provide full information on possible hazards, Marin County Planning commissioners declared unanimously yesterday.

"Can what happened in Santa Barbara happen here?" asked Margaret Azevedo, referring to the giant oil bubble that is jeopardizing the Southern California coast.

"Absolutely," replied Commissioner Michael Praszker, an engineer.

Illustrating on a blackboard, Praszker explained that drilling can penetrate an earthquake fault at an angle and cause gas or oil to leak into the fault. Furthermore, extraction of gas or oil could cause imbalances and trigger an earthquake, warned Praszker. "Gas and oil drilling should stay away from built up areas!"

Solnit and Planning Director Paul C. Zucker warned that drilling in San Pablo Bay, even if it were outside Marin County waters, would pose the same hazard to Marin as well as the entire Bay Area. They said they would seek a similar resolution today from the Marin County Board of Supervisors, opposing drilling in the bay.

Drilling rigs have been proposed offshore in Solano and Contra Costa counties and public hearings by the State Lands Commission were scheduled today and tomorrow to discuss the proposed leases.

Two Women Booked For Taking Coat

Two 22-year-old women were booked into the Marin County Jail Friday afternoon after they allegedly shoplifted a $149 suede coat from Roos-Atkin at the Northgate Shopping Center, San Rafael police reported.

The two suspects Linda Jones of Los Angeles, and Maveleba Strong of San Francisco, were bailed on $315 each and were to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. today.

Point Reyes Camping Plans Are Applauded

The first tourist camp to serve overnight visitors to Point Reyes National Seashore won enthusiastic approval of the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday.

Larry H. Marks Jr. received unanimous approval on his plan to install facilities for overnight campers, tents and trailers on 14 acres along Shoreline Highway at Olema, just north of Bear Valley Road.

"We're delighted this plan is before us," said Chairman Hugh Dougherty. He said the facilities would encourage overnight stay by tourists and bring economic benefit to the entire county.

Marks will have 100 sites in all — 70 for tents and campers, 20 for trailers and camper-vehicles, and 10 primarily for trailers. He said he plans extensive landscaping, and possibly a swimming pool.

Marin County Planning Commission also:

NORTHBRIDGE APARTMENT — Continued until March 10 a request for apartment zoning of 2.5 acres of land on North San Pedro Road at East Meriam Drive, Santa Venetia. The property, owned by David Rosenberg and several partners, is now zoned limited agricultural. More than 50 residents of Northbridge headed by Louis A. Przetak, appeared before the commission and asked that the area be retained for one-family homes.

STREET ABANDONMENT — Agreed to abandon a strip of Cedar Avenue south of Harbor Drive and Grandview Avenue, Black Point, because the land is too steep for use as a county roadway.

LOT SPLIT — Upheld the county zoning administrator, permitting Armand Allegra of 724 Alta Vista Way, Tamalpais Valley, to split his 11,000-square-foot lot into two equal building sites.

APARTMENT DENSITY — Asked the planning staff to bring in specific suggestions on how the present apartment house ordinance can be tightened to cut down on density.

Industrial Park Sewer On Agenda

A proposed agreement for operation by the Corte Madera Sanitary District of the privately owned Fifer Industrial Park sewer system will be considered at the district's 7:30 p.m. board meeting today at 300 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera.

The system services the industrial park area and Redwood High School of the Tamalpais High School District. It would be upgraded by the sanitary district and its owners before transfer of the operation.

Access Road Is Set For Study

Plans for an access road to Marin City from Tennessee Valley will be discussed again by the Marin County Redevelopment Agency when it meets at 8:30 p.m. today in the Manzanita Center, Marin City.

The agency also will consider the nomination by the Marin City Homeowners and Improvement Association of its president, Mrs. Juanita Cobb, for the next vacancy on the agency board.

The Marin County Housing Authority, meeting at 7:30 p.m. at the Manzanita Center, will elect 1969 officers and will consider rental of commercial space in Building C-64 next to Hayden's Market in Marin City.

Agenda Is Light For Design Panel

The Fairfax Design Review board, meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Fairfax Women's Club, faces a light agenda which includes consideration of a report on street lighting fixtures requested by the city council.

The board will also receive routine reports from the city clerk on public hearing procedures for amendments to the zoning ordinance and the reappointment of Paul Steinmetz to the board.

Belvedere Favors Change In Dog Control System

A plan to squeeze more patrol time out of existing Marin Humane Society personnel, instead of adding five more men and trucks, was recommended last night by the Belvedere City Council.

The council agreed to suggest to the county that the existing staff save time by issuing citations to owners of offending dogs instead of hauling the dogs to the pound in Novato, thus increasing the number of hours available for patrol.

The plan, devised by Councilmen Edwin J. Dreschel and Sally G. Mathews, also suggested new staff be added one at a time if needed.

City Manager William L. Cavalli pointed out that after the new ordinance goes into effect, the number of loose dogs probably will diminish as owners receive citations and the number of dogcatchers needed would also be reduced.

In other business last night, the council learned the ark donated for a teen-age coffee house is homeless.

Northwestern Pacific Railroad denied the teens' request to place the ark on its property opposite the Tiburon ferry dock, reported Roger Felton, chairman of the city's park and recreation commission.

"The act of donating the ark was a generous one, but I'm sure Mrs. (Harry B.) Allen had no way of knowing the problems that would accrue," said Mayor Thomas S. Price.

Felton reported the frustrated young people are now looking for other sites. "They are learning about government," he said.

The Belvedere City Council also:

GOVERNMENT — Agreed to attend a meeting proposed by Supervisor John F. McInnis, a director of the Association of Bay Area Governments, on what form of regional government should be supported, but stipulated Belvedere would make its own decision after Mrs. Mathews expressed concern that a McInnis-led meeting would end up supporting ABAG.

BOATS — Authorized City Atty. William H. MacKay to prepare an ordinance regulating boats along Belvedere's waterfront, an action prompted by the unwanted appearance of a boat on the shore during the recent storms.

DRUG ABUSE — Appointed Timothy Harris and Kenneth G. Wells as the city's representatives to a Reed Union School District committee to study drug abuse.

VARIANCE — Denied a request from Samuel M. Haskins, 61 Acacia Avenue, to turn his garage into a room because he did not provide offstreet parking.

New Officers Seated By Marin Group

Novato Police Chief Robert J. DiGrazia was installed as first vice president; Lt. Raymond T. Bleasdale of the San Rafael Police Department, second vice president; Sheriff's Inspector Kenneth Irvine, secretary-treasurer; and Lt Col. Arthur Olson, a California Highway Patrol officer on leave, serving with the Air Force at Hamilton Air Force Base, sergeant-at-arms.

S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley, acting president of San Francisco State College, was given a "distinguished citizen" award, and highway patrol officer Robert A. Espagnolle of Novato was given the "outstanding peace officer" award for his rescue of a construction worker from a flaming culvert in Terra Linda last summer.

CHP Capt. Theodore Parnow, who headed the Marin district for 14 years until his recent appointment as assistant to the chief of staff of the highway patrol in Sacramento, was given an award of appreciation for his work in Marin.

David Vinning, a Humboldt State College student, was given an "outstanding citizen" award in absentia. He won the award by chasing off two men who had planted dynamite under the sheriff's substation at Marin City last October.

CHP Sgt. James C. Dukes was outgoing president.

Appeal Will Be Made On Parking

An appeal by restaurateur Sam Zakessian of a variance granted Edgewater Yacht Co. for off-site parking for a proposed new restaurant at Bridgeway and Turney streets will be heard by the Sausalito City Council when it meets at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

The council also will hear a planning commission report on the proposed 548-unit apartment development on the American Distillery Co. property, but a hearing on the commission's denial of needed permits has been set for the Feb. 18 council meeting.

New Zoning Advances On Houseboats

New zoning regulations to control houseboat marinas were approved by the Marin County Planning commissioners by split vote yesterday and forwarded to the Marin County Board of Supervisors for a public hearing.

Margaret Azevedo moved to adopt the new rules on "floating home marinas" and got a second from Dr. William F. Upton. The lone dissenting vote came from Walter F. Freitas, who objected to a provision which allows only one dwelling unit per vessel.

Michael Praszker abstained for two reasons: he missed the previous discussion two weeks ago and wants more information on use of water for human habitation before deciding.

Under the new rules, a floating home marina must have 50 per cent of the total area in open water, including fairways, which will be 35 feet wide. Only one dwelling unit will be allowed per vessel, and six feet of space must be allowed between floating homes. The distance must be 10 feet if either floating home is more than one story.

Existing houseboats that do not conform to the new regulations must apply for use permit within six months. All floating homes must comply within three years, except that the planning commission may grant extensions of up to two more years where justified by individual circumstances.

Defining a "transient vessel" proved to be a stickler, and the commissioners decided to drop that paragraph completely. At the suggestion of Niels Schultz Jr., the commissioners decided that the definition of a "floating home" would be sufficient.

The commissioners agreed that houseboats must float at plus five feet tide in order for the area to qualify as a floating home marina.

San Pablo Bay Drilling Probe Asked

No oil or gas drilling should be allowed anywhere in San Pablo Bay until a hearing is held in Marin to provide full information on possible hazards, Marin County Planning commissioners declared unanimously yesterday.

"Can what happened in Santa Barbara happen here?" asked Margaret Azevedo, referring to the giant oil bubble that is jeopardizing the Southern California coast.

"Absolutely," replied Commissioner Michael Praszker, an engineer.

Illustrating on a blackboard, Praszker explained that drilling can penetrate an earthquake fault at an angle and cause gas or oil to leak into the fault. Furthermore, extraction of gas or oil could cause imbalances and trigger an earthquake, warned Praszker. "Gas and oil drilling should stay away from built up areas!"

Solnit and Planning Director Paul C. Zucker warned that drilling in San Pablo Bay, even if it were outside Marin County waters, would pose the same hazard to Marin as well as the entire Bay Area. They said they would seek a similar resolution today from the Marin County Board of Supervisors, opposing drilling in the bay.

Drilling rigs have been proposed offshore in Solano and Contra Costa counties and public hearings by the State Lands Commission were scheduled today and tomorrow to discuss the proposed leases.

Two Women Booked For Taking Coat

Two 22-year-old women were booked into the Marin County Jail Friday afternoon after they allegedly shoplifted a $149 suede coat from Roos-Atkin at the Northgate Shopping Center, San Rafael police reported.

The two suspects Linda Jones of Los Angeles, and Maveleba Strong of San Francisco, were bailed on $315 each and were to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. today.

Point Reyes Camping Plans Are Applauded

The first tourist camp to serve overnight visitors to Point Reyes National Seashore won enthusiastic approval of the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday.

Larry H. Marks Jr. received unanimous approval on his plan to install facilities for overnight campers, tents and trailers on 14 acres along Shoreline Highway at Olema, just north of Bear Valley Road.

"We're delighted this plan is before us," said Chairman Hugh Dougherty. He said the facilities would encourage overnight stay by tourists and bring economic benefit to the entire county.

Marks will have 100 sites in all — 70 for tents and campers, 20 for trailers and camper-vehicles, and 10 primarily for trailers. He said he plans extensive landscaping, and possibly a swimming pool.

Marin County Planning Commission also:

NORTHBRIDGE APARTMENT — Continued until March 10 a request for apartment zoning of 2.5 acres of land on North San Pedro Road at East Meriam Drive, Santa Venetia. The property, owned by David Rosenberg and several partners, is now zoned limited agricultural. More than 50 residents of Northbridge headed by Louis A. Przetak, appeared before the commission and asked that the area be retained for one-family homes.

STREET ABANDONMENT — Agreed to abandon a strip of Cedar Avenue south of Harbor Drive and Grandview Avenue, Black Point, because the land is too steep for use as a county roadway.

LOT SPLIT — Upheld the county zoning administrator, permitting Armand Allegra of 724 Alta Vista Way, Tamalpais Valley, to split his 11,000-square-foot lot into two equal building sites.

APARTMENT DENSITY — Asked the planning staff to bring in specific suggestions on how the present apartment house ordinance can be tightened to cut down on density.

Industrial Park Sewer On Agenda

A proposed agreement for operation by the Corte Madera Sanitary District of the privately owned Fifer Industrial Park sewer system will be considered at the district's 7:30 p.m. board meeting today at 300 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera.

The system services the industrial park area and Redwood High School of the Tamalpais High School District. It would be upgraded by the sanitary district and its owners before transfer of the operation.

Access Road Is Set For Study

Plans for an access road to Marin City from Tennessee Valley will be discussed again by the Marin County Redevelopment Agency when it meets at 8:30 p.m. today in the Manzanita Center, Marin City.

The agency also will consider the nomination by the Marin City Homeowners and Improvement Association of its president, Mrs. Juanita Cobb, for the next vacancy on the agency board.

The Marin County Housing Authority, meeting at 7:30 p.m. at the Manzanita Center, will elect 1969 officers and will consider rental of commercial space in Building C-64 next to Hayden's Market in Marin City.

Agenda Is Light For Design Panel

The Fairfax Design Review board, meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Fairfax Women's Club, faces a light agenda which includes consideration of a report on street lighting fixtures requested by the city council.

The board will also receive routine reports from the city clerk on public hearing procedures for amendments to the zoning ordinance and the reappointment of Paul Steinmetz to the board.

fifth since he took office, and the second in four days dealing with the Mideast.

In Paris, meantime, Western diplomatic sources reported that the President will arrive in Paris in early March for talks with President Charles de Gaulle, who shares Nixon's deep concern about the Middle East.

Paris will be the first stop on Nixon's forthcoming tour of Europe, the sources said.

Even with the Mideast problem hanging heavy over the early days of his administration, Nixon tentatively plans a weekend trip to Florida Friday . Nixon continued making the rounds of various federal agencies for get-acquainted sessions yesterday. He dropped in on the Department of Housing and Urban Development and told HUD's top officials they must "maintain the character of American life in our cities."

He said public housing projects he had seen in his travels abroad suffered from a "gray dullness." He urged the HUD workers to "maintain some character —some sense of individuality" in their projects for this country.

HUD Secretary George Romney praised Nixon for "being a president with a deeper concern for urban problems than any president in history."

In a stop at the Agriculture Department Nixon said he had gicen Secretary Clifford M. Hardin a special responsibility to try to eliminate hunger and malnutrition in America.

He said he realized the department still had the "primary responsibility" for protecting the welfare of farmers. He called farm surpluses "a great bounty because we can deal effectively with hunger.

The planned Florida trip, to Nixon's compound at Key Biscayne, is to begin on Friday afternoon and end Sunday evening or early Monday. Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's national security adviser, is to accompany him on the trip to discuss foreign policy.

It will de Nixon's first break from work since he entered the White House.

Injuries Are Minor In Two Novato Mishaps

A pedestrian and a bicycle rider received minor injuries in separate accidents near Novato yesterday afternoon, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Scott Wreden, 7, of 440 Corte Escuela, Ignacio, was reported in good condition today at Novato General Hospital. The patrol said he was hit at 2:40 p.m. on Alameda De La Loma by a car driven by Audrey A. Beckman, 40, of 463 Via Del Plano, Ignacio. The boy had bruises on tne head, face and back. The patrol said he rode his bicycle into the street without watching for traffic.

Diana L. Davis, 15, of 557 McClay Road, Novato, was treated at Novato General Hospital for bruises after she was hit as she walked along the shoulder at 5:20 p.m. on Wilson Avenue by a truck driven by Steven J. Lambert, 17, of 642 Wilson Avenue.

Also expiring June 30 is the term of a third board member, Glen Robinson. Election is April 15.

Two East Bay Men Sentenced To Jail

Alvin Netherton, 23, of Concord and Hugh Eugene Bell, 24, of Pacheco, were sentenced yesterday in Marin Superior Court to 30 days in the county jail for possession of marijuana. The Contra Costans were also fined $100 each and placed on one year probation.

They were arrested by Mill Valley police on Aug. 14.

COLLEGE

year-round operation meant extension of the conventional academic year of 36 weeks to at least 48 weeks of instruction by the addition of a summer quarter.

The council also recommended extension of instruction to evenings and to Saturday mornings. This would increase enrollment ceilings another two-thirds, the council estimated.

Enrollment at Marin's Kentfield campus in 1967, according to the report, was 3,155. Projected enrollment to 1977 was 6,732, an increase of 78 per cent.

For the Sonoma campus at Santa Rosa, the 1967 enrollment was 3,155. Projected enrollment to 1977 was 5,664, an increase of 79 per cent.

"In all instances," the report stated, "the council staff has sought to take a point of view designed to insure the accommodating of anticipated enrollment demand within each segment of public higher education at the least cost to the public, whether the cost is met by state, local or federal agencies."

The report, which dealt with all higher education campuses throughout the state, should be updated in 1972, the council recommended. The 1972 report would be made to the 1973 legislature.

The report also concluded that no additional campuses will be needed for the University of California at least until after the council's 1973 report. One of the new campuses is to be in the Bay Area and the other in the Los Angeles area.

"It appears at this time authorization for the establishment of one of these campuses may be recommended by the coordinating council to the legislature in 1973 and recommendations for the second campus approximately in 1978," the report said.

Teen-Age Novato Girl Molested

A 17-year-old Novato girl was molested as she walked along Novato Boulevard near Boulevard Court at 10 p.m. yesterday, Novato police reported.

The girl said she noticed her attacker as he walked toward her on Novato Boulevard. The man grabbed her and made indecent passes at her, she reported.

She screamed and kicked him with her knee, she reported. He let go of her and she ran to a nearby home and called police.

The man was described as about 20 years of age, five feet, nine inches tall, of medium build, weighing about 155 pounds and having dark hair.

Volunteer Firemen Elect In Sausalito

John Maggiora was elected president for 1969 by the Sausalito Volunteer Firemen's Association last night. Robert Anderson was elected vice president, Gene Poole sergeant at arms, and William D. McDonald III was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The firemen also agreed to buy a vehicle to convert into a rescue truck. McDonald said a three-quarter-ton van or a similar vehicle would be sought.

PENALTY

of the majority required to pass most other bills.

"The death penalty is a barbaric and inhumane punishment which is not justified in modern times," Waxman declared. "The application of the death penalty seems to be reserved for the poor people and the black people who cannot afford the services of attorneys and investigators to properly handle their cases."

"We feel that we really don't know what the death penalty does in California — it's never been studied," Huneke said.

Last month, he said, he completed a study of the death penalty for the Presbytery of San Francisco, the governing body of Bay Area Presbyterian churches. "I found that it does not appear to work, but also that it needs more study."

His report, "Men in Trouble — The Death Penalty and Prisons," is to be published soon, he said.

The four-year study would be done by the University of California, according to his proposal, probably by the law and criminology departments. He had no estimate of its cost.

If the study found that the death penalty does not deter crime, Huneke said, then it should propose a system that will.

Huneke, to graduate in June, said his proposal was endorsed unanimously by students and faculty at the seminary in separate meetings on it Wednesday. About 80 of the 125 students were present, and 17 of the 20 faculty members, he said.

Huneke reported that his proposal also had the endorsement of Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Los Angeles, who introduced legislation last month to abolish the death penalty and to replace it with life imprisonment.

"The whole idea," said Huneke, "is that we're looking for some responsible way of not overreacting to a criminal, but to understand what we are doing when we execute."

Waxman's bill would provide that persons convicted of capital crimes be sentenced to life imprisonment without possibility of parole during the four-year moratorium.

Waxman's predecessor from his Los Angeles district was Assemblyman Lester A. McMillan, who for years led a futile fight to abolish the death penalty. Waxman defeated him in the Democratic primary.

Waxman said he expected the university study to confirm his opinion that the death penalty does not deter crime.

"Did you turn over your money to your mother?"

"Part of it."

Asked his age, Sirhan replied: "I'll be 25 next month."

He said he lived at home most of the time during the years in question.

She spent 18 minutes verifying her son's and her earnings over recent years.

Doctors To Talk On Smoking Role

Two Marin County physicians will participate in a daylong University of California seminar on smoking and health in dentistry to be held at the San Francisco Medical Center Saturday.

De Gerald Hill of San Rafael will speak on the pyschology of smoking and breaking the habit during the postgraduate session which is cosponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Dr. John V. Carbone of Kentfield will discuss smoking and heart disease during the meeting.

Carbone is a professor of medicine at the University's School of Medicine and Hill is chairman of the California Interagency Council on Smoking and Health.

Novato Parks Office Moves

The Novato Parks and Recreation Department yesterday moved from its quarters in the Novato city hall to the old Busher house adjacent to the police station on Sherman Avenue.

The city purchased the Busher house for $27,000 last fall and has remodeled and repainted the house for offices for the parks and recreation department.

The upstairs of the house will be used for storage, according to Edward W. Adams, parks and recreation director.

More Dates Ordered For Gas Chamber

Execution dates have been set for two more men on San Quentin's death row, bringing to four the number scheduled to die since the California Supreme Court upheld the death penalty in November.

Lawrence Modesto, 40, has been scheduled to die in the prison's gas chamber March 5, and Gerald Beivelman, 30, will be executed April 16.

Modesto was convicted in the sledgehammer slayings of two girls in October 1961 in Riverside County, according to Associate Warden James W. L. Park.

Park said Modesto has since had three complete new trials, all of them won on legal technicalities. It is the second time an execution date has been set.

Riverside Superior Court Judge John Neblett set Modesto's execution date.

Beivelman was convicted of first degree murder in the beating death of a Sacramento County liquor store owner in June 1967.

Earlier, he served time at San Quentin for selling narcotics, Park said.

His execution date, his first, was set by Judge W. M. Gallagher of Sacramento County Superior Court.

Death dates set last month scheduled Dorman F. Talbot, 28, to the gas chamber Feb. 18, and Robert L. Massie, 27, to die March 12.

Poll Favors Keeping S.F. State Open

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A majority of San Francisco State College students believes the campus should remain open despite strikes, a poll showed today.

The survey was made under American Association of University Professors auspices by A. Daniel Peck, an education teacher who sent questionaires to 1,195 students and got replies from 794.

To make his list of 1,195, the professor put the school's full list of 18,000 students through a computer.

Asked if the campus should be closed because of strikes called by the Black Students Union and the American Federation of Teachers, 57.7 per cent replied they did not believe so and 40.7 per cent said the school should be closed.

Asked if the believed the spring semester should be opened regardless of the strikes, 51.5 per cent said yes and 46.5 per cent said no.

If the semester is opened, 73.8 per cent said they would be enrolled and 19.8 per cent said they wouldn't.

had. It was defense only against a ship of equal stature, a small coastal transport with maybe 50 caliber machine guns . . . a small type of boat not normally heavily armed."

Earlier, an admiral said that after the Pueblo's capture two high-ranking Navy officials ordered a destroyer to prepare to go into a North Korean harbor to board it and tow it away if necessary.

Rear Adm. George L. Cassell detailed the order yesterday. But a further question, asking whether any actual attempt to rescue the Pueblo was ever carried out, was left unanswered.

There was no known actual attempt to remove the Pueblo from North Korean custody.

When the Pueblo was seized a little over a year ago, Cassell was assistant chief of staff for operations for the commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet, based in Hnonlulu.

He agreed with earlier witnesses that neither U.S. ships nor planes were close enough to help immediately but said recovery action was possible the next day.

Agent Shot In Dope Raid Still Critical

CONCORD (UPI)—A U.S. customs agent remained in critical condition today as legal troubles mounted for Lawrence A. Fassler, the narcotics suspect whose arrest touched off the shooting of the agent and two others.

George Gudbranson, one of three agents mistakenly shot by a Concord policeman at the climax of the 13-hour stakeout for Fassler, remained in critical condition at Concord Community Hospital. Gudbranson was shot in the head.

Two other agents, David Wilson and Leon Jaussaud, were also shot by Concord Policeman Donald A. McLennan. Both are in fair condition at the same hospital.

Fassler's wife, Dolores, 29, was arrested after Sunday's shootout at the Concord Inn and booked for possession of dangerous drugs.

Fassler, 26, Tucson, Ariz., was arraigned today and U.S. Commissioner Richard Goldsmith set bail at $100,000 for allegedly transporting 1,500 pounds of marijuana from Arizona and $50,000 for unlawful flight from the state.

Reason Is Given Behind Bolinas Auditing Switch

It was the replacement of Peter H. Behr and Thomas T. Storer on the Marin County Board of Supervisors which led to an agreement by Bolinas Harbor District trustees to hand over district financial records to the county auditor, Thomas J. Barfield, board president, said yesterday.

The board acted Thursday after noting that "resignation and the voters' action" had removed objections to auditing by the county.

Barfield said he felt the Independent-Journal report of that meeting implied that the departure of trustee Gene W. McDaniel from the board may have been a factor in the action, Barfield said, however, that was not the case.

Storer and Behr led supervisorial criticism of the district board last year and pushed through the scheduled March 11 election on dissolution of the district.

The board has used a private auditor since supervisorial criticism began peaking in 1966.

A co-defendant in the case, Kenneth Leland Little, 19, of Los Ranchitos earlier pleaded guilty to petty theft and also served the same jail term.

Panel Approves Plans For New Apartment Units

The Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee last night endorsed construction of a 12-unit apartment house at 915 East Blithedale Avenue, secretary Jeanne McLean reported.

Plans for the apartment, which is outside the city limits, were referred to the committee by the Marin County planning staff.

Committee members said they had no objections to the 12-unit density but did object to the extent of lot coverage and lack of landscaped open space, Mrs. McLean said.

The committee also asked the county to encourage planned-unit development rather than single-lot development, Mrs. McLean said.

A submittal by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. representatives of cost estimates for the Miller Avenue street lighting demonstration project was postponed to Feb. 17.

Brunson said that he is innocent of the charge and that he pleaded guilty after being told by his attorney and the district attorney's office that he would receive a light sentence. In the meantime, he said, he has been sentenced to state prison by another county, and wishes to be tried on the Marin charge.

Judge Harold J. Haley set a trial for March 3.

Marinites who choose Mount Tamalpais do so with the assurance that its beauty will grow with the years. The interest from a quarter-million dollar endowment fund—twice the legal requirement—is dedicated to the constant care and improvement of this 57-acre site.

Perhaps—like many Marin families—you wish to make your own final arrangements to spare others difficult decisions. If so, we invite your inquiry or a personal visit.

fifth since he took office, and the second in four days dealing with the Mideast.

In Paris, meantime, Western diplomatic sources reported that the President will arrive in Paris in early March for talks with President Charles de Gaulle, who shares Nixon's deep concern about the Middle East.

Paris will be the first stop on Nixon's forthcoming tour of Europe, the sources said.

Even with the Mideast problem hanging heavy over the early days of his administration, Nixon tentatively plans a weekend trip to Florida Friday. Nixon continued making the rounds of various federal agencies for get-acquainted sessions yesterday. He dropped in on the Department of Housing and Urban Development and told HUD's top officials they must "maintain the character of American life in our cities."

He said public housing projects he had seen in his travels abroad suffered from a "gray dullness." He urged the HUD workers to "maintain some character —some sense of individuality" in their projects for this country.

HUD Secretary George Romney praised Nixon for "being a president with a deeper concern for urban problems than any president in history."

In a stop at the Agriculture Department Nixon said he had gicen Secretary Clifford M. Hardin a special responsibility to try to eliminate hunger and malnutrition in America.

He said he realized the department still had the "primary responsibility" for protecting the welfare of farmers. He called farm surpluses "a great bounty because we can deal effectively with hunger.

The planned Florida trip, to Nixon's compound at Key Biscayne, is to begin on Friday afternoon and end Sunday evening or early Monday. Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's national security adviser, is to accompany him on the trip to discuss foreign policy.

It will de Nixon's first break from work since he entered the White House.

COLLEGE

year-round operation meant extension of the conventional academic year of 36 weeks to at least 48 weeks of instruction by the addition of a summer quarter.

The council also recommended extension of instruction to evenings and to Saturday mornings. This would increase enrollment ceilings another two-thirds, the council estimated.

Enrollment at Marin's Kentfield campus in 1967, according to the report, was 3,155. Projected enrollment to 1977 was 6,732, an increase of 78 per cent.

For the Sonoma campus at Santa Rosa, the 1967 enrollment was 3,155. Projected enrollment to 1977 was 5,664, an increase of 79 per cent.

"In all instances," the report stated, "the council staff has sought to take a point of view designed to insure the accommodating of anticipated enrollment demand within each segment of public higher education at the least cost to the public, whether the cost is met by state, local or federal agencies."

The report, which dealt with all higher education campuses throughout the state, should be updated in 1972, the council recommended. The 1972 report would be made to the 1973 legislature.

The report also concluded that no additional campuses will be needed for the University of California at least until after the council's 1973 report. One of the new campuses is to be in the Bay Area and the other in the Los Angeles area.

"It appears at this time authorization for the establishment of one of these campuses may be recommended by the coordinating council to the legislature in 1973 and recommendations for the second campus approximately in 1978," the report said.

PENALTY

of the majority required to pass most other bills.

"The death penalty is a barbaric and inhumane punishment which is not justified in modern times," Waxman declared. "The application of the death penalty seems to be reserved for the poor people and the black people who cannot afford the services of attorneys and investigators to properly handle their cases."

"We feel that we really don't know what the death penalty does in California — it's never been studied," Huneke said.

Last month, he said, he completed a study of the death penalty for the Presbytery of San Francisco, the governing body of Bay Area Presbyterian churches. "I found that it does not appear to work, but also that it needs more study."

His report, "Men in Trouble — The Death Penalty and Prisons," is to be published soon, he said.

The four-year study would be done by the University of California, according to his proposal, probably by the law and criminology departments. He had no estimate of its cost.

If the study found that the death penalty does not deter crime, Huneke said, then it should propose a system that will.

Huneke, to graduate in June, said his proposal was endorsed unanimously by students and faculty at the seminary in separate meetings on it Wednesday. About 80 of the 125 students were present, and 17 of the 20 faculty members, he said.

Huneke reported that his proposal also had the endorsement of Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Los Angeles, who introduced legislation last month to abolish the death penalty and to replace it with life imprisonment.

"The whole idea," said Huneke, "is that we're looking for some responsible way of not overreacting to a criminal, but to understand what we are doing when we execute."

Waxman's bill would provide that persons convicted of capital crimes be sentenced to life imprisonment without possibility of parole during the four-year moratorium.

Waxman's predecessor from his Los Angeles district was Assemblyman Lester A. McMillan, who for years led a futile fight to abolish the death penalty. Waxman defeated him in the Democratic primary.

Waxman said he expected the university study to confirm his opinion that the death penalty does not deter crime.

He said he lived at home most of the time during the years in question.

The upstairs of the house will be used for storage, according to Edward W. Adams, parks and recreation director.

More Dates Ordered For Gas Chamber

Execution dates have been set for two more men on San Quentin's death row, bringing to four the number scheduled to die since the California Supreme Court upheld the death penalty in November.

Lawrence Modesto, 40, has been scheduled to die in the prison's gas chamber March 5, and Gerald Beivelman, 30, will be executed April 16.

Modesto was convicted in the sledgehammer slayings of two girls in October 1961 in Riverside County, according to Associate Warden James W. L. Park.

Park said Modesto has since had three complete new trials, all of them won on legal technicalities. It is the second time an execution date has been set.

Riverside Superior Court Judge John Neblett set Modesto's execution date.

Beivelman was convicted of first degree murder in the beating death of a Sacramento County liquor store owner in June 1967.

Earlier, he served time at San Quentin for selling narcotics, Park said.

His execution date, his first, was set by Judge W. M. Gallagher of Sacramento County Superior Court.

Death dates set last month scheduled Dorman F. Talbot, 28, to the gas chamber Feb. 18, and Robert L. Massie, 27, to die March 12.

Earlier, an admiral said that after the Pueblo's capture two high-ranking Navy officials ordered a destroyer to prepare to go into a North Korean harbor to board it and tow it away if necessary.

Rear Adm. George L. Cassell detailed the order yesterday. But a further question, asking whether any actual attempt to rescue the Pueblo was ever carried out, was left unanswered.

There was no known actual attempt to remove the Pueblo from North Korean custody.

When the Pueblo was seized a little over a year ago, Cassell was assistant chief of staff for operations for the commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet, based in Hnonlulu.

He agreed with earlier witnesses that neither U.S. ships nor planes were close enough to help immediately but said recovery action was possible the next day.

Agent Shot In Dope Raid Still Critical

CONCORD (UPI)—A U.S. customs agent remained in critical condition today as legal troubles mounted for Lawrence A. Fassler, the narcotics suspect whose arrest touched off the shooting of the agent and two others.

George Gudbranson, one of three agents mistakenly shot by a Concord policeman at the climax of the 13-hour stakeout for Fassler, remained in critical condition at Concord Community Hospital. Gudbranson was shot in the head.

Two other agents, David Wilson and Leon Jaussaud, were also shot by Concord Policeman Donald A. McLennan. Both are in fair condition at the same hospital.

Fassler's wife, Dolores, 29, was arrested after Sunday's shootout at the Concord Inn and booked for possession of dangerous drugs.

Fassler, 26, Tucson, Ariz., was arraigned today and U.S. Commissioner Richard Goldsmith set bail at $100,000 for allegedly transporting 1,500 pounds of marijuana from Arizona and $50,000 for unlawful flight from the state.

Reason Is Given Behind Bolinas Auditing Switch

It was the replacement of Peter H. Behr and Thomas T. Storer on the Marin County Board of Supervisors which led to an agreement by Bolinas Harbor District trustees to hand over district financial records to the county auditor, Thomas J. Barfield, board president, said yesterday.

The board acted Thursday after noting that "resignation and the voters' action" had removed objections to auditing by the county.

Barfield said he felt the Independent-Journal report of that meeting implied that the departure of trustee Gene W. McDaniel from the board may have been a factor in the action, Barfield said, however, that was not the case.

Storer and Behr led supervisorial criticism of the district board last year and pushed through the scheduled March 11 election on dissolution of the district.

The board has used a private auditor since supervisorial criticism began peaking in 1966.

Youth To Jail For Petty Theft

Ronald David Halverson, 19, of San Rafael, yesterday was sentenced to seven days in the county jail for petty theft of items March 12, 1968 from a Northwestern Pacific Railroad car in San Rafael.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales commended the youth on readily admitting his part in the crime and taking blame for it. The district attorney had originally charged Halverson with burglary and possession of stolen property.

A co-defendant in the case, Kenneth Leland Little, 19, of Los Ranchitos earlier pleaded guilty to petty theft and also served the same jail term.

Jade Ring Stolen

A jade ring valued at $600 was taken Jan. 3 or 4 from his house at 576 Louis Drive, Novato, Donald Ward reported yesterday to Novato police.

Panel Approves Plans For New Apartment Units

The Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee last night endorsed construction of a 12-unit apartment house at 915 East Blithedale Avenue, secretary Jeanne McLean reported.

Plans for the apartment, which is outside the city limits, were referred to the committee by the Marin County planning staff.

Committee members said they had no objections to the 12-unit density but did object to the extent of lot coverage and lack of landscaped open space, Mrs. McLean said.

The committee also asked the county to encourage planned-unit development rather than single-lot development, Mrs. McLean said.

A submittal by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. representatives of cost estimates for the Miller Avenue street lighting demonstration project was postponed to Feb. 17.

Plea Switched In Check Case

Leo Brunson, 30, of Vallejo who pleaded guilty in December in Marin Superior Court to a charge that he had stolen money order in his possession on Sept. 24, 1967, yesterday said that he was misled into making this plea.

Brunson said that he is innocent of the charge and that he pleaded guilty after being told by his attorney and the district attorney's office that he would receive a light sentence. In the meantime, he said, he has been sentenced to state prison by another county, and wishes to be tried on the Marin charge.

Judge Harold J. Haley set a trial for March 3.

Officers Named In Loma Verde

Bruce B. Robinson was elected president last night of the Loma Verde Homeowners Association, according to Mrs. John Tindell, publicity chairman.

Elected with him were: Murray C. Carter, vice president; Mrs. Richard W. Williams, recording secretary; Mrs. Murray W. Carter, corresponding secretary and David E. Perotti, treasurer.

District representatives elected were: John S. Bratina, Donald W. Allison, David H. Lincoln, Walter V. Kane and Robert W. Pingel.

The winter rains have slowed down work on the Lois Curtin tot lot, but it should be completed in April, Mrs. Tindell reported.

CHARLES H. JORDAN

Charles Howard Jordan, 52, of San Rafael, died last night after collapsing in an elevator at Marin General Hospital where he had been taken by his son after complaining of shortness of breath.

The Marin County coroner's office said the death was apparently of natural causes and scheduled an autopsy for today.

Jordan had been in poor health for some time and suffered a stroke a year ago, according to his son.

He had lived in Marin County for eight years and had been custodian at St. Isabella's Church in Terra Linda the last 18 months. Earlier, he was a custodian in the Dixie School District for five years.

A native of Lynchburg, Va., Jordan lived with his wife, Rose, at 260 Merrydale Road in San Rafael. He is also survived by a son, Charles, and a daughter, Mrs. Diane Kinder of Novato.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY in the Heart of our County

Marin pioneers chose a site in the heart of our county as a final resting place for their families. Today this location—at the west end of Fifth Avenue in San Rafael—is still convenient to all Marin points.

Marinites who choose Mount Tamalpais do so with the assurance that its beauty will grow with the years. The interest from a quarter-million dollar endowment fund—twice the legal requirement—is dedicated to the constant care and improvement of this 57-acre site.

Perhaps—like many Marin families—you wish to make your own final arrangements to spare others difficult decisions. If so, we invite your inquiry or a personal visit.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Feb. 4th the 35th day of 1969 with 330 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1901, a campaign was started by Maj. William Gorgas of the U.S. Army to wipe out yellow fever in Cuba.

In 1938 Adolf Hitler seized control of the German Army, putting Nazi officers in key posts.

In 1948 Ceylon became a free and self-governing dominion of Great Britain.

In 1966 President Lyndon Johnson flew to Hawaii for a conference on the Vietnam war.

A thought for the day: William Penn said, "Passion is a sort of fever in the mind which never leaves us weaker than it found us."

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

From Each Disaster, Player Should Learn Useful Lesson

One way of dealing with misfortune is to search for the right lucky charm. Another way is to reach for a lesson. How could you have foretold disaster was about to strike?

RETURNS CLUBS

East took the king of hearts and returned the 10 of clubs. West took two club tricks and then led another club to South's king.

South promptly led out the ace and king of diamonds. The queen didn't fall, and the opponents took a diamond, the ace of hearts and two more clubs.

The average declarer would sigh about his luck and would walk around his chair. Others would sit on a handkerchief to ward off this kind of hard luck.

The practical way to deal with this misfortune is learn from it. How could you tell that the diamonds were not going to break evenly?

THINK BACK

Think back to the opening lead of the deuce of hearts. Surely this showed a four-card suit. If West held five hearts he would have bid that suit; if East held five hearts he would have returned a heart instead of switching to clubs.

Subsequently, West took two club tricks and led a third club, on which East discarded a spade. Clearly, therefore, West started with five clubs.

South should take the ace of diamonds and cash three spade tricks before leading the next diamond from dummy. By then the count of West's hand would be complete: five clubs, four hearts and three spades. Hence only one diamond.

IS WARNED

South is warned about the 3-1 break in diamonds and takes a finesse to make his contract. A player who learns to count after a hand like this has forged a weapon that will ward off many disasters.

DAILY QUESTION

You have opened with one diamond, and partner has responded one heart.

It is up to you again, holding:

♠ Q 10 9
♥ 10 9
♦ A K 10 9 4
♣ K J 6

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one no-trump. You have minimum high-card strength for your opening bid, together with some kind of strength in the unbid suits. The rebid of one no-trump describes your hand perfectly. A rebid of two diamonds would permit your partner to hope that you held some extra strength.

Council Selects Two New Commissioners

San Rafael City Council last night appointed two planning commissioners, and accepted the resignation of a veteran fire commissioner.

James Dougan of 40 Knoll Road, former Bolinas civic leader, was appointed to the planning commission by a 3-2 vote. Councilmen Frederick C. Robbins Jr. and John A. Miskimen dissented but did not say why.

Dougan, orginally an applicant for the vacant council seat which was filled by Robbins, apparently lacked the residency requirement to serve on the council. He later indicated interest in the commission seat.

The second planning seat went to Lawrence E. Mulyran of 74 Upper Oak Drive, a San Francisco attorney, by a unanimous vote.

Mulyran has served as president of the Mont Marin Homeowners Association and chairman of the 1968 finance study committee of the Dixie School District.

Dougan was appointed to complete Robbins' term on the planning commission which ends June 30, 1971, and Mulyran to complete the term of Carl S. Brown, which ends this June 30.

Councilmen Fred E. Jensen said that one of the planning posts should go to someone in the construction industry. "There is no fast rule, but we've always had one," he said.

Brown, who resigned last November, was secretary-manager of Associated Home Builders Inc., considered a representative of the construction industry.

James D. Mahoney of 5 Sierra Circle argued for appointment of a construction representative, after the vote was taken. He advocated someone who not only lived in the city, but worked in San Rafael and was "close to the pulse."

Mahoney pointed out that Louis M. Della Valle, manager of Shamrock Materials, was strongly recommended for the seat.

The council received the resignation of William C. Herup, who has been a member of the fire commission since 1958, and at one time served on the city council.

The council posponed until Feb. 17 appointing someone to fill the vacant seat on the parks and recreation commission, created when Councilman Louis H. Baar was elected county supervisor.

Jensen nominated Roy R. Rhodes of 31 Grove Street, a director of Goldenaires, a senior citizen group, but there was no second. Mayor C. Paul Bettini said there were other applicants to be considered.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

NEW SNORKEL — Called for bids on a snorkel ladder fire truck, estimated to cost $70,000, to be opened at 2 p.m. March 12 at city hall.

CIRCUS PERMITS — Adopted an ordinance amendment to delete circuses and carnivals from uses for which a use permit is required, since applicants must come to the council for approval on bonding.

NORTHGATE CONTROL — Gave first approval to an ordinance which will give the city authority to enforce the vehicle code at Northgate Shopping Center One.

NEW STREET — Approved plans by the State Division of Highways to construct a 200-foot section of new street off Paloma Avenue, in connection with the Highway 101 widening project, to provide access to three parcels which would be cut off by the project.

PARKING AGREEMENT — Approved and agreement with Marin County whereby the county will pay $1,000 toward a $4,000 study by D. Jackson Faustman, Sacramento consultant, on a parking plan for downtown San Rafael, including the courthouse square.

VICE PRESIDENT — Unanimously elected Fred E. Jensen as vice president of the council.

HIRING — Authorized hiring of Cecilia M. Labagh and Sandra Jean Testa as parking enforcement officers at $476 a month, and Howard C. Gold as a fireman at $670 a month.

135 Receive Guide Dog Aid

Guide Dogs for the Blind has reported 135 men and women graduated from the free-28 day training program last year.

Although the school is undergoing reconstruction, said executive director William F. Johns, the training program has not been interrupted.

The school completed a new kennel program last year and construction has now started for a new student dormitory. The present student building will be in use until completion of the new structure, said Johns.

The dormitory will house 16 students and another wing is planned at a latter date to accommodate an additional 16 students.

The non-profit organization is planning an annual membership campaign to help pay for these new buildings, added Johns.

Richmond Schools Put On Blacklist

BURLINGAME (AP) — The 44,000-pupil Richmond Unified School District has been put under statewide sanction by the 165,000 - member California Teachers Association.

The CTA says that its members are being notified that "unsatisfactory educational and teaching conditions" exist in the district.

Harry Fosdick, CTA assistant executive director, declared:

"Richmond is under sanctions because it has failed abysmally to provide adequate financing for its schools. The purpose of this blacklist is to underscore the plight of the Richmond schools and focus community attention on the economic plight of the schools."

The district, which has about 1,900 teachers, has been under local sanctions since December.

Marin GOP Council Slates Dinner Dance

The Marin Republican Council will hold its annual membership dinner dance at 8 p.m. on Saturday at the Meadow Club, Fairfax.

Music will be by Bob Olney and his orchestra.

Two Charter Changes Due April 15 Vote

San Rafael City Council last night proposed two charter amendments, one to extend on the term of the mayor and the other to expand membership on two commissions and one city board.

Councilmen voted unanimously to put the proposed amendments on the ballot at the April 15 municipal election.

One would extend the term of the mayor from two to four years.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said the two year term wasn't long enough for a mayor to accomplish programs and that it was expensive to campaign every two years.

The other would increase from five to seven the number of members on the park and recreation commission, fire commission and library board. The planning commission now has seven members.

Councilmen can serve voluntarily on the park and recreation commission, the fire commission and the library board. Councilmen John A. Miskimen said, however, that this eliminates a member of the public from serving.

Also on the blllot will be separate charger amendments to permit the council to appoint the police chief, city attorney, city clerk and city attorney, who are now elected.

Jury Trial Slated In Pot Possession

Jury trial for David Woeller, 38, of Sausalito, accused of possessing marijuana for sale and possessing LSD, is scheduled to open Wednesday in Marin Superior Court.

Woeller was arrested in February, 1968.

Voters To Say Whether City Will Get Golf Course

San Rafael voters will have a chance to decide whether the city should operate a municipal golf course under a 40-year lease-purchase plan.

City councilmen voted 3-2 last night in fovor of a referendum, with Mayor C. Paul Bettini and Councilman John A. Miskimen dissenting.

As originally proposed the decision would have been made by the council, and since no bond measure is involved, there would have been no vote by the people.

No date was set for the vote, but it won't be April 15, the council decided. Neither will there be a vote then on bond proposals for sewer improvements and construction of a fire station and recreation center.

The golf course vote was a victory for Councilman Fred E. Jensen, who for months has strongly opposed entering into a contract for lease-purchase of a golf course without the voters having a say.

As proposed the city would enter into a contract with San Rafael Municipal Facilities Corp., a nonprofit corporation, for lease-purchase of a proposed 18-hole golf course on Smith Brothers ranch north of Gallinas Creek.

Jensen said the city would have to pay from $96,000 to $100,000 a year in lease payments and if revenues failed to raise that amount, the taxpayers would have to make up the difference.

"This is such an immense project that the people should have their say," Jensen asserted. He described a nonprofit corporation as a gimmick which "takes away the right of the people to decide."

The council is reviewing feasibility studies of the proposal, including expected revenue and operating costs. The non-profit corporation would construct the course, estimated to cost $1.3 million, through bonds.

Councilmen agreed there wasn't enough information available to put the golf course question or bond proposals for sewer system improvements and construction of a recreation center and fire station on the April 15 municipal election ballot.

Miskimen said it would be advisable to put both bond measures and the golf course question to the voters at the same time "because there is a choice involved."

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen reported that 50 per cent matching funds might be available from the Department of Housing and Urban Development to repair the sewer system.

The council authorized Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles to make preliminary application for the unds.

It has been estimated that it would cost $1.2 million to put the sewer system in the older part of the city in proper shape, and another $625,000 for cleaning, sealing and testing lines, for a total cost of $1.85 million.

Rawles said he would apply for a $2 million project, on the theory that inflation would increase the costs by the time work got underway.

Gumps Open After $2 Million Inferno

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gumps, internationally known fine arts store, has reopened after being closed since Dec. 22 by a fire that damaged four stores on Post Street in downtown San Francisco.

Yesterday, Gumps estimated damage at $2 million. The most serious losses were in the jewelry department and the jade room, said Richard Gump.

Appointee To Overhaul Military Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird appointed today a new defense manpower specialist who will be assigned to take "decisive action" in modernizing the military pay system.

The new appointee is Roger T. Kelley, now with Caterpillar Tractor Co. of Peoria, Ill., who will be assistant secretary of defense for manpower and reserve affairs.

Laird said Kelley, 50, has directed worldwide personnel programs for Caterpillar Tractor. He served as a Navy officer in World War II.

As soon as Kelley's appointment is confirmed by the Senate he will be charged with a "high priority responsibility for decisive action to modernize our military compensation structure," Laird said.

The defense chief said military compensation needs to be brought more in line with other government jobs. And he said the improvement of military pay scales would be a first step towards reducing reliance on the draft.

Rare Parrot Is Returned Safely

The rare Red Mollucan Lorie parrot which was taken from its perch at Aquarium Beautiful, 1409 Fourth Street, San Rafael, has returned as mysteriously as it disappeared.

Store owner Robert Bancroft said the parrot, a four-month-old bird which needs special food and care, was set on a perch in the store sometime Friday and it was several hours before he discovered it.

He had offered a $50 reward for the return of the parrot he valued at $200.

Target Board Election To Be Held On Friday

New representatives to the Economic Opportunity Council's Marin City Target Area Board will be elected Friday at a community-wide fish fry starting at 11 a.m. Friday at the Manzanita Center, Marin City, area director Reginald Tolbert announced today.

The fish fry will also be a community forum. Marin City residents will be able to give their views and opinions over a public address system, and Marin City's governmental and quasigovernmental agencies will be there to hear the community expressions, Tolbert said. The Marin City Community Services District board, Marin City Council, EOC staff and members of the Development Corporation of Marin City are to attend.

Several speakers and entertainers have been scheduled, and volunteers from the community's churches will serve the food, Tolbert said.

Candidates for the target area board, who must be Marin City residents, may present petitions with 15 signatures at the EOC office in the Manzanita Center.

From Each Disaster, Player Should Learn Useful Lesson

One way of dealing with misfortune is to search for the right lucky charm. Another way is to reach for a lesson. How could you have foretold disaster was about to strike?

RETURNS CLUBS

East took the king of hearts and returned the 10 of clubs. West took two club tricks and then led another club to South's king.

South promptly led out the ace and king of diamonds. The queen didn't fall, and the opponents took a diamond, the ace of hearts and two more clubs.

The average declarer would sigh about his luck and would walk around his chair. Others would sit on a handkerchief to ward off this kind of hard luck.

The practical way to deal with this misfortune is learn from it. How could you tell that the diamonds were not going to break evenly?

THINK BACK

Think back to the opening lead of the deuce of hearts. Surely this showed a four-card suit. If West held five hearts he would have bid that suit; if East held five hearts he would have returned a heart instead of switching to clubs.

Subsequently, West took two club tricks and led a third club, on which East discarded a spade. Clearly, therefore, West started with five clubs.

South should take the ace of diamonds and cash three spade tricks before leading the next diamond from dummy. By then the count of West's hand would be complete: five clubs, four hearts and three spades. Hence only one diamond.

IS WARNED

South is warned about the 3-1 break in diamonds and takes a finesse to make his contract. A player who learns to count after a hand like this has forged a weapon that will ward off many disasters.

DAILY QUESTION

You have opened with one diamond, and partner has responded one heart.

It is up to you again, holding:
♠ Q 10 9
♥ 10 9
♦ A K 10 9 4
♣ K J 6

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one no-trump.

You have minimum high-card strength for your opening bid, together with some kind of strength in the unbid suits. The rebid of one no-trump describes your hand perfectly. A rebid of two diamonds would permit your partner to hope that you held some extra strength.

New Dubbing Plan

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A film distribution company here plans to dub foreign films in African languages including Zulu, Xhosa and South Sotho.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Feb. 4th the 35th day of 1969 with 330 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1901, a campaign was started by Maj. William Gorgas of the U.S. Army to wipe out yellow fever in Cuba.

In 1938 Adolf Hitler seized control of the German Army, putting Nazi officers in key posts.

In 1948 Ceylon became a free and self-governing dominion of Great Britain.

In 1966 President Lyndon Johnson flew to Hawaii for a conference on the Vietnam war.

A thought for the day: William Penn said, "Passion is a sort of fever in the mind which never leaves us weaker than it found us."

MICHAEL A. PEPARO
Didn't reach Cuba

Hijacker Is Persuaded To Give Up

But Peparo, who was accompanied by his girlfriend, was foiled in his attempt to become the 13th hijacker of the year by the smooth-talking National crew. The plane landed safely in Miami.

Peparo and the girl, Tamsin R. Fitzgerald, 18, of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., were lodged in the Dade County Jail under $100,000 bond each facing charges of air piracy.

Just hours earlier, four Cubans successfully diverted an Eastern Air Lines Miami jetliner with 93 persons aboard to Havana.

The Eastern hijackers were later identified as J. Babin and W. Hernandez, who was accompanied by his wife and teen-aged daughter.

Capt. Jack W. Moore, the Eastern pilot on his second hijacking trip of the year, was allowed to bring the crew and plane back to Miami in the later afternoon, but the passengers had to wait on a propjet ferry flight back last night.

Knives were used in both incidents.

Peparo, who attended Duchess Community College in Poughkeepsie, N.Y. also had a mosquito spray can which he tried to pass off as a bomb.

91 Per Cent Of Scout Council Funds Collected

The Marin Boy Scout Council came within $3,600 of reaching its goal of $40,500 for sustaining membership in 1968, according to the council's annual report.

The report listed contributions and pledges of $36,910 — or 91 per cent of the goal, compared to 72 per cent of the goal in 1967.

The council said it had $105,831 in income during 1968 and estimated expenses for 1969 totaling $108,000.

The annual report also showed a membership increase last year of 300 boys —nearly 6 per cent — over 1967.

In reviewing the year's activities, the report said the Scout-o-rama drew 15,000 people to Dominican College last year, netting $11,806. This year's Scout-o-rama is scheduled for May 24.

Safety Building To Be Discussed

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission, meeting at 8 p.m. today will consider a report recommending construction of a new public safety building at the site of the city's present police and fire facilities.

The recommendation will be made, along with presentation of preliminary plans for the multi-purpose building, by the commission's committee for site selection for new city facilities.

No cost estimates for the project will be presented by the committee.

Assembly Asked To Revive Constitutional Revisions

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An ad hoc Assembly committee says Proposition 1, the constitutional revision plan defeated in the Nov. 5 election, should be re-examined to determine if it should be resubmitted to the voters.

The suggestion was included in a special report by the Assembly Interim Committee on Constitutional Amendments submitted to the Legislature yesterday by Assemblyman Paul Priolo, R-Santa Monica, the new chairman of the Assembly Committee on Elections ond Constitutional Amendments.

The report contained findings and recommendations concerning the California Constitutional Revision Commission and the future of the revision project.

"The committee agreed," Priolo said, "that the defeat of Proposition 1 at the November election does not reflect a general interest among California's citizens in the termination of the revision project or the abolition of the revision committee."

Priolo said the committee feels the contents of Proposition 1 should be restudied by the legislature to see if all of it or part of the plan should be put to another vote.

The interim committee's report asked the legislature to give a vote of confidence to the revision commission and urged Priolo's Assembly committee to hold public hearings throughout the state on the commission's future recommendations.

"Many thousands of man-hours have been contributed to this important project by the members of the legislature and the commission," Priolo said. "The culmination of all these efforts represents a vast expenditure of time, talent and funds that can ill afford to be wasted by the legislature of the people."

Bench Offer Charged By Demo Lawmaker

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Democratic assemblyman says Gov. Ronald Reagan dangled a judgeship in front of him as bait in an attempt to persuade him to give up his Assembly seat and make way for a Republican replacement.

Assemblyman Harvy Johnson, D-El Monte, said yesterday the governor is afraid GOP Assemblyman John Veneman will accept an offer to become the No. 2 man in the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and jeopardize Republican control of the Assembly.

Johnson said Reagan sent a Republican assemblyman to "make a deal with me" about a vacant judgeship in the El Monte Municipal Court. He said he rejected the alleged offer. He did not identify the Republican assemblyman.

"The governor apparently will go to any lengths to make sure a 40-40 tie among Republicans and Democrats does not develop in the Assembly," he said.

Reagan's press aide, Paul Beck, denied Johnson's charges. "No one has been authorized to act on behalf of the governor to make appointments or offer such jobs," he said.

The Democrat called Reagan's alleged offer "an obvious attempt to shore up the sagging fortunes of the Republican party," and said the governor should "climb down off his high-horse of hypocrisy."

Within an hour after Johnson made his accusations in a written statement, Reagan's office announced the appointment of Los Angeles County Deputy Dist. Atty. Roy L. Norman to the vacant judgeship. Norman is a Democrat.

Council Selects Two New Commissioners

San Rafael City Council last night appointed two planning commissioners, and accepted the resignation of a veteran fire commissioner.

James Dougan of 40 Knoll Road, former Bolinas civic leader, was appointed to the planning commission by a 3-2 vote. Councilmen Frederick C. Robbins Jr. and John A. Miskimen dissented but did not say why.

Dougan, orginally an applicant for the vacant council seat which was filled by Robbins, apparently lacked the residency requirement to serve on the council. He later indicated interest in the commission seat.

The second planning seat went to Lawrence E. Mulyran of 74 Upper Oak Drive, a San Francisco attorney, by a unanimous vote.

Mulyran has served as president of the Mont Marin Homeowners Association and chairman of the 1968 finance study committee of the Dixie School District.

Dougan was appointed to complete Robbins' term on the planning commission which ends June 30, 1971, and Mulyran to complete the term of Carl S. Brown, which ends this June 30.

Councilmen Fred E. Jensen said that one of the planning posts should go to someone in the construction industry. "There is no fast rule, but we've always had one," he said.

Brown, who resigned last November, was secretary-manager of Associated Home Builders Inc., considered a representative of the construction industry.

James D. Mahoney of 5 Sierra Circle argued for appointment of a construction representative, after the vote was taken. He advocated someone who not only lived in the city, but worked in San Rafael and was "close to the pulse."

Mahoney pointed out that Louis M. Della Valle, manager of Shamrock Materials, was strongly recommended for the seat.

The council received the resignation of William C. Herup, who has been a member of the fire commission since 1958, and at one time served on the city council.

The council posponed until Feb. 17 appointing someone to fill the vacant seat on the parks and recreation commission, created when Councilman Louis H. Baar was elected county supervisor.

Jensen nominated Roy R. Rhodes of 31 Grove Street, a director of Goldenaires, a senior citizen group, but there was no second. Mayor C. Paul Bettini said there were other applicants to be considered.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

NEW SNORKEL — Called for bids on a snorkel ladder fire truck, estimated to cost $70,000, to be opened at 2 p.m. March 12 at city hall.

CIRCUS PERMITS — Adopted an ordinance amendment to delete circuses and carnivals from uses for which a use permit is required, since applicants must come to the council for approval on bonding.

NORTHGATE CONTROL — Gave first approval to an ordinance which will give the city authority to enforce the vehicle code at Northgate Shopping Center One.

NEW STREET — Approved plans by the State Division of Highways to construct a 200-foot section of new street off Paloma Avenue, in connection with the Highway 101 widening project, to provide access to three parcels which would be cut off by the project.

PARKING AGREEMENT — Approved and agreement with Marin County whereby the county will pay $1,000 toward a $4,000 study by D. Jackson Faustman, Sacramento consultant, on a parking plan for downtown San Rafael, including the courthouse square.

VICE PRESIDENT — Unanimously elected Fred E. Jensen as vice president of the council.

HIRING — Authorized hiring of Cecilia M. Labagh and Sandra Jean Testa as parking enforcement officers at $476 a month, and Howard C. Gold as a fireman at $670 a month.

135 Receive Guide Dog Aid

Guide Dogs for the Blind has reported 135 men and women graduated from the free-28 day training program last year.

Although the school is undergoing reconstruction, said executive director William F. Johns, the training program has not been interrupted.

The school completed a new kennel program last year and construction has now started for a new student dormitory. The present student building will be in use until completion of the new structure, said Johns.

The dormitory will house 16 students and another wing is planned at a latter date to accommodate an additional 16 students.

The non-profit organization is planning an annual membership campaign to help pay for these new buildings, added Johns.

Marin GOP Council Slates Dinner Dance

The Marin Republican Council will hold its annual membership dinner dance at 8 p.m. on Saturday at the Meadow Club, Fairfax.

Music will be by Bob Olney and his orchestra.

Richmond Schools Put On Blacklist

BURLINGAME (AP) — The 44,000-pupil Richmond Unified School District has been put under statewide sanction by the 165,000 - member California Teachers Association.

The CTA says that its members are being notified that "unsatisfactory educational and teaching conditions" exist in the district.

Harry Fosdick, CTA assistant executive director, declared:

"Richmond is under sanctions because it has failed abysmally to provide adequate financing for its schools. The purpose of this blacklist is to underscore the plight of the Richmond schools and focus community attention on the economic plight of the schools."

The district, which has about 1,900 teachers, has been under local sanctions since December.

Two Charter Changes Due April 15 Vote

San Rafael City Council last night proposed two charter amendments, one to extend on the term of the mayor and the other to expand membership on two commissions and one city board.

Councilmen voted unanimously to put the proposed amendments on the ballot at the April 15 municipal election.

One would extend the term of the mayor from two to four years.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said the two year term wasn't long enough for a mayor to accomplish programs and that it was expensive to campaign every two years.

The other would increase from five to seven the number of members on the park and recreation commission, fire commission and library board. The planning commission now has seven members.

Councilmen can serve voluntarily on the park and recreation commission, the fire commission and the library board. Councilmen John A. Miskimen said, however, that this eliminates a member of the public from serving.

Also on the blllot will be separate charger amendments to permit the council to appoint the police chief, city attorney, city clerk and city attorney, who are now elected.

Jury Trial Slated In Pot Possession

Jury trial for David Woeller, 38, of Sausalito, accused of possessing marijuana for sale and possessing LSD, is scheduled to open Wednesday in Marin Superior Court.

Woeller was arrested in February, 1968.

Voters To Say Whether City Will Get Golf Course

San Rafael voters will have a chance to decide whether the city should operate a municipal golf course under a 40-year lease-purchase plan.

City councilmen voted 3-2 last night in fovor of a referendum, with Mayor C. Paul Bettini and Councilman John A. Miskimen dissenting.

As originally proposed the decision would have been made by the council, and since no bond measure is involved, there would have been no vote by the people.

No date was set for the vote, but it won't be April 15, the council decided. Neither will there be a vote then on bond proposals for sewer improvements and construction of a fire station and recreation center.

The golf course vote was a victory for Councilman Fred E. Jensen, who for months has strongly opposed entering into a contract for lease-purchase of a golf course without the voters having a say.

As proposed the city would enter into a contract with San Rafael Municipal Facilities Corp., a nonprofit corporation, for lease-purchase of a proposed 18-hole golf course on Smith Brothers ranch north of Gallinas Creek.

Jensen said the city would have to pay from $96,000 to $100,000 a year in lease payments and if revenues failed to raise that amount, the taxpayers would have to make up the difference.

"This is such an immense project that the people should have their say," Jensen asserted. He described a nonprofit corporation as a gimmick which "takes away the right of the people to decide."

The council is reviewing feasibility studies of the proposal, including expected revenue and operating costs. The non-profit corporation would construct the course, estimated to cost $1.3 million, through bonds.

Councilmen agreed there wasn't enough information available to put the golf course question or bond proposals for sewer system improvements and construction of a recreation center and fire station on the April 15 municipal election ballot.

Miskimen said it would be advisable to put both bond measures and the golf course question to the voters at the same time "because there is a choice involved."

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen reported that 50 per cent matching funds might be available from the Department of Housing and Urban Development to repair the sewer system.

The council authorized Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles to make preliminary application for the unds.

It has been estimated that it would cost $1.2 million to put the sewer system in the older part of the city in proper shape, and another $625,000 for cleaning, sealing and testing lines, for a total cost of $1.85 million.

Rawles said he would apply for a $2 million project, on the theory that inflation would increase the costs by the time work got underway.

Gumps Open After $2 Million Inferno

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gumps, internationally known fine arts store, has reopened after being closed since Dec. 22 by a fire that damaged four stores on Post Street in downtown San Francisco.

Yesterday, Gumps estimated damage at $2 million. The most serious losses were in the jewelry department and the jade room, said Richard Gump.

Appointee To Overhaul Military Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird appointed today a new defense manpower specialist who will be assigned to take "decisive action" in modernizing the military pay system.

The new appointee is Roger T. Kelley, now with Caterpillar Tractor Co. of Peoria, Ill., who will be assistant secretary of defense for manpower and reserve affairs.

Laird said Kelley, 50, has directed worldwide personnel programs for Caterpillar Tractor. He served as a Navy officer in World War II.

As soon as Kelley's appointment is confirmed by the Senate he will be charged with a "high priority responsibility for decisive action to modernize our military compensation structure," Laird said.

The defense chief said military compensation needs to be brought more in line with other government jobs. And he said the improvement of military pay scales would be a first step towards reducing reliance on the draft.

Rare Parrot Is Returned Safely

The rare Red Mollucan Lorie parrot which was taken from its perch at Aquarium Beautiful, 1409 Fourth Street, San Rafael, has returned as mysteriously as it disappeared.

Store owner Robert Bancroft said the parrot, a four-month-old bird which needs special food and care, was set on a perch in the store sometime Friday and it was several hours before he discovered it.

He had offered a $50 reward for the return of the parrot he valued at $200.

Target Board Election To Be Held On Friday

New representatives to the Economic Opportunity Council's Marin City Target Area Board will be elected Friday at a community-wide fish fry starting at 11 a.m. Friday at the Manzanita Center, Marin City, area director Reginald Tolbert announced today.

The fish fry will also be a community forum. Marin City residents will be able to give their views and opinions over a public address system, and Marin City's governmental and quasigovernmental agencies will be there to hear the community expressions, Tolbert said. The Marin City Community Services District board, Marin City Council, EOC staff and members of the Development Corporation of Marin City are to attend.

Several speakers and entertainers have been scheduled, and volunteers from the community's churches will serve the food, Tolbert said.

Candidates for the target area board, who must be Marin City residents, may present petitions with 15 signatures at the EOC office in the Manzanita Center.

North Carolina entered the Union Nov. 21, 1789.

Home Owners Halt Corte Madera Plan To Annex 29-Acre Parcel

A visibly miffed Corte Madera Town Council last night failed in its effort to annex a 29-acre parcel on Meadowsweet Drive.

Confronted during a public hearing on the proposed annexation with sufficient protests by property owners to kill the issue, the council resignedly passed a resolution ending the effort.

On Jan. 6, it had passed a resolution to hold a special election for the annexation, but last night's hearing was a necessary step toward that end.

Protest by property owners representing over 50 per cent of the parcel's land value of $122,015 was enough to halt the annexation. Last night saw protest letters received from 12 owners representing $81,995 in property value, or $20,987 more than required.

About 15 owners also appeared in person to voice their objections, which centered mostly on the contention that annexing to Corte Madera would cost more in additional taxes than benefits would be worth.

The council made several efforts before conceding. Twon Mgr. Ronald L. Usher said the area, west of Meadowsweet Drive and including Marin Joe's restaurant and the Casa Buena motel, is surrounded by the Corte Madera boundary and by location alone should fit with the town.

He claimed to no avail that better police and fire protection can be provided by Corte Madera than by the county, which presently has jurisdiction over the parcel. He also said rumors that the property owners must share in back bonded indebtedness for the city was untrue, and that town taxes would not be effective until December 1970.

A new annexation hearing cannot be held for another year.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

PARKING — Granted the request of William W. Wood for a 10-foot "no parking" zone on the south side of his driveway at 346 Corte Madera Avenue.

DOGS — Adopted the proposed amendments of the City-County Services Committee to a county-wide animal control ordinance. Amendments would include the possibility of citing the owner of a dog not under control, and the raising of pound fees.

PERMITS — Approved the requests by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Finlay for a home occupation permit to distribute Holiday Magic cosmetics at 42 Prince Royal Passage, and by Roger Starkey for a similar permit to operate a station wagon commuter service office at 225 Uplands Circle.

LOT CHANGE — Granted a lot line change request by Councilman Robert P. Simmons to add 150 square feet of land from a parcel at 138 Edison Avenue to an adjacent non-conforming parcel. Simmons abstained from voting because he was the applicant.

ORDINANCE — Adopted an interim ordinance making new service stations apply for use permits in all commercial zones. A proposed permanent ordinance is being created. The measure is to give the town closer control of stations.

STREET NUMBERS — Informally agreed to a suggestion by the Corte Madera Volunteer Fire Department that street house numbers should be painted on curbs to make location of residences easier. The public works department was asked to determine the best procedure and report back to the council at its next regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 17.

TREES — Informally agreed to planting 22 trees around the Village Square, but delayed action pending more study.

STREET BIDS — Ageed to call for bids on the construction phase of San Clemente Drive, which connects Tamalpais Drive with Paradise Drive. The half-mile stretch of construction is expected to cost $95,505 with a total cost of $218,751 including right-of-way. Bids will be opened at 2 p.m. Feb. 28.

REGIONAL GOVERNMENT — Agreed with the county board of supervisors that more time is needed for consideration of a proposed formation of a Bay Area Regional Organization. A joint legislative committee sought comments by the board and city councils by last Jan. 24.

Guidelines To Be Reviewed

Further work on the policies and procedures guide for the new Shoreline Unified School District will be discussed by the board when it meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the district administration office at Tomales Elementary School.

The board has been working with Supt. Charles E. McCully compiling guidelines.

The board will hire a district secretary and hear a report from the superintendent on progress in organizing the district which on July 1 will replace Tomales High School and elementary districts within its boundaries.

Transit Discussion

Seymour Kashin, manager of the Marin Transit District, will discuss Marin County's transportation situation at a noon board meeting of the Novato Chamber of Commerce board Thursday at Cloud Five, according to George A. Barnwell, chamber president.

Park Finances To Be Studied

The Petaluma Recreation, Music and Parks Comission will discuss ways to finance development of Lucchesi Park at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at city hall.

Landscape architect Sidney M. Lewin of San Rafael has suggested consideration of a special bond issue to provide funds for the 31-acre park. No price tag has been placed on the recreation site.

The commission will also receive a status report on plans for a Vietnam memorial at Walnut Park.

MICHAEL A. PEPARO
Didn't reach Cuba

Hijacker Is Persuaded To Give Up

But Peparo, who was accompanied by his girlfriend, was foiled in his attempt to become the 13th hijacker of the year by the smooth-talking National crew. The plane landed safely in Miami.

Peparo and the girl, Tamsin R. Fitzgerald, 18, of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., were lodged in the Dade County Jail under $100,000 bond each facing charges of air piracy.

Just hours earlier, four Cubans successfully diverted an Eastern Air Lines Miami jetliner with 93 persons aboard to Havana.

The Eastern hijackers were later identified as J. Babin and W. Hernandez, who was accompanied by his wife and teenaged daughter.

Capt. Jack W. Moore, the Eastern pilot on his second hijacking trip of the year, was allowed to bring the crew and plane back to Miami in the later afternoon, but the passengers had to wait on a propjet ferry flight back last night.

Knives were used in both incidents.

Peparo, who attended Duchess Community College in Poughkeepsie, N.Y. also had a mosquito spray can which he tried to pass off as a bomb.

91 Per Cent Of Scout Council Funds Collected

The Marin Boy Scout Council came within $3,600 of reaching its goal of $40,500 for sustaining membership in 1968, according to the council's annual report.

The report listed contributions and pledges of $36,910 — or 91 per cent of the goal, compared to 72 per cent of the goal in 1967.

The council said it had $105,831 in income during 1968 and estimated expenses for 1969 totaling $108,000.

The annual report also showed a membership increase last year of 300 boys —nearly 6 per cent — over 1967.

In reviewing the year's activities, the report said the Scout-o-rama drew 15,000 people to Dominican College last year, netting $11,806. This year's Scout-o-rama is scheduled for May 24.

Safety Building To Be Discussed

Assembly Asked To Revive Constitutional Revisions

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An ad hoc Assembly committee says Proposition 1, the constitutional revision plan defeated in the Nov. 5 election, should be re-examined to determine if it should be resubmitted to the voters.

The suggestion was included in a special report by the Assembly Interim Committee on Constitutional Amendments submitted to the Legislature yesterday by Assemblyman Paul Priolo, R-Santa Monica, the new chairman of the Assembly Committee on Elections and Constitutional Amendments.

The report contained findings and recommendations concerning the California Constitutional Revision Commission and the future of the revision project.

"The committee agreed," Priolo said, "that the defeat of Proposition 1 at the November election does not reflect a general interest among California's citizens in the termination of the revision project or the abolition of the revision committee."

Priolo said the committee feels the contents of Proposition 1 should be restudied by the legislature to see if all of it or part of the plan should be put to another vote.

The interim committee's report asked the legislature to give a vote of confidence to the revision commission and urged Priolo's Assembly committee to hold public hearings throughout the state on the commission's future recommendations.

"Many thousands of man-hours have been contributed to this important project by the members of the legislature and the commission," Priolo said. "The culmination of all these efforts represents a vast expenditure of time, talent and funds that can ill afford to be wasted by the legislature of the people."

Grant Honors Claudia O'Connor

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

"It's almost a disgrace to be honored for doing something you do to please yourself. It doesn't seem quite fair."

So says Mrs. R. S. O'Connor of Mill Valley, who has just had a $500 international fellowship grant named for her.

The Mill Valley branch of the American Association of University Women has named the grant the Claudia O'Connor grant in recognition of the former president's outstanding service to the branch and organization and her leadership in community and county affairs.

After joining the branch in 1952, about four years after it was founded, Claudia immediately started assuming responsibilities, serving her first two years as chairman for radio, television and movies.

She served twice as president — in 1958-59 and 1961-62. Talented in art, she was section chairman for painting in 1956 to 1958. Her most recent service has been as area representative for community problems last year and area representative for world problems for five years before that.

Speaking of the name grants, she explained, "They are used mainly to supplement the $1,500 fellowships." She noted that 54 awards were given to American women last year out of 369 applicants in the United States, and 44 international awards were given to women from foreign countries out of 314 applicants from 66 countries. Total money contributed to fellowships last year by members of the organization was $719,000.

"Over the years I have had a great deal of intellectual stimulation from AAUW in different fields at different times," she says. "The organization has such a broad spectrum of interests."

Born in Pismo Beach, Claudia was graduated from high school in Arroyo and from San Jose State College with a bachelor's degree in fine arts.

"I was mainly interested in art at this time," she recalls. "I wanted to be a painter, but I'm a vocal person, and I don't really have anything in a picture form to express myself. I don't believe real artists are vocal. If you can express yourself in words, you don't need to do it in any other way.

"I attended the California School of Fine Arts, but I'm a sometime painter now — when I don't have anything else to do."

After her marriage to Mr. O'Connor, who is a driver for the Gray Line Company, Claudia worked four years as a draftsman during World War II for the Southern Pacific Company in the motive power department. She received her training for this in a drafting class sponsored by Stanford University and given at Cogswell Technical Institute in San Francisco.

Claudia has also somehow found time in her busy life as mother of two children — Moira, now 22 and employed in the insurance business in San Francisco, and Robert, 17, a senior at Tamalpais High School, to be active in the community.

She has been a Parent-Teacher Association president, and in 1962 she was appointed the AAUW Mill Valley branch representative to the Fall Arts Festival and ended up as its chairman.

"I'll never forget that," she laughs. "It was the year we had a lot of rain, and we couldn't even get a weather report because the World Series was going on in San Francisco, and they didn't want to give out any local reports that might affect attendance. We finally got one issued for farmers out of Sacramento."

Claudia served on the Arts Festival board one year and has continued her interest in it but has now become more involved in Fair Marin on the county level.

Appointed representative for all three Marin branches of the AAUW, she became a member of the organizing committee and is now chairman of the committee in charge of the dedication of the new Veterans Auditorium now under construction at the Civic Center.

"I'm very happy with the progress the board is making," she said. "The dedication will probably take place before Christmas."

MRS. R. S. O'Connor, who has worked as a draftsman herself, checks a plot plan of the Veterans Auditorium now under construction at the Marin Civic Center while she works as chairman of the dedication committee on ideas for the dedication ceremonies. Her leadership in community projects is one of the reasons that a $500 AAUW fellowship grant has been named for her. (Independent-Journal photo)

Cardin Brings On 'Total Look' Show

By LUCIE NOEL

PARIS (AP) — Pierre Cardin opened his spring collection Friday in the Hotel Bristol salons instead of his own premises.

Cardin's collection stepped fourth at terrific pace in groups of five and six at a time. A further mistake was made by showing all the ideas he has ever produced, because this gave the impression of a follies finale.

Weeded out, however are the following new trends:

Half-circles or quarter-crescent moons appear as only one cape sleeve is lifted, the second arm is treated to a long tight slbyhu. A charming navy wool afternoon dress has two large circles forming the skirt, one in the back, one in front and joined at the sides.

FOR DAY, in a short length, and for evening, in floor length, in white crepe, he does a beautiful diagonal draped band, assymetrically slanted across one shoulder and most of the torso. It's in the slave mood and further emphasized by a Roman slave running onstage dressed in a brief hipster miniskirt, belt and bra all in jeweled gold.

There are many versions of the sarong skirt with a top attached by a panel or buttoned on tabs. An entire group featuring this trend also included criss-cross lacing in white vinyl, or black, contrasting with the dress.

There are many overdress effects, one slashed down one side over nothing.

Among all this variety and creative ideas, Cardin has a basic layer of good clothes that make good sense and will please most everyone. Excellent coats, some with exaggerated back swing, others with simple chic touches step forth in spring wools, in both one color and bicolor contrasts.

BECAUSE CARDIN believes strongly in the total look and the accessories he calls "fashion environment," he has designed a collection of gloves, made by Aris and coordinated with his custommade collection.

He endorses modernistic geometric decor. A long pair of black gloves are elbow length and have inserted vinyl diamond triangles stepping up the arm. Similar motifs are worked out in shorties and wrist length. They run round the clock and are shown in leather and fabric from sports to evening wear.

Cardin says they will be available with his models and delivered simultaneously.

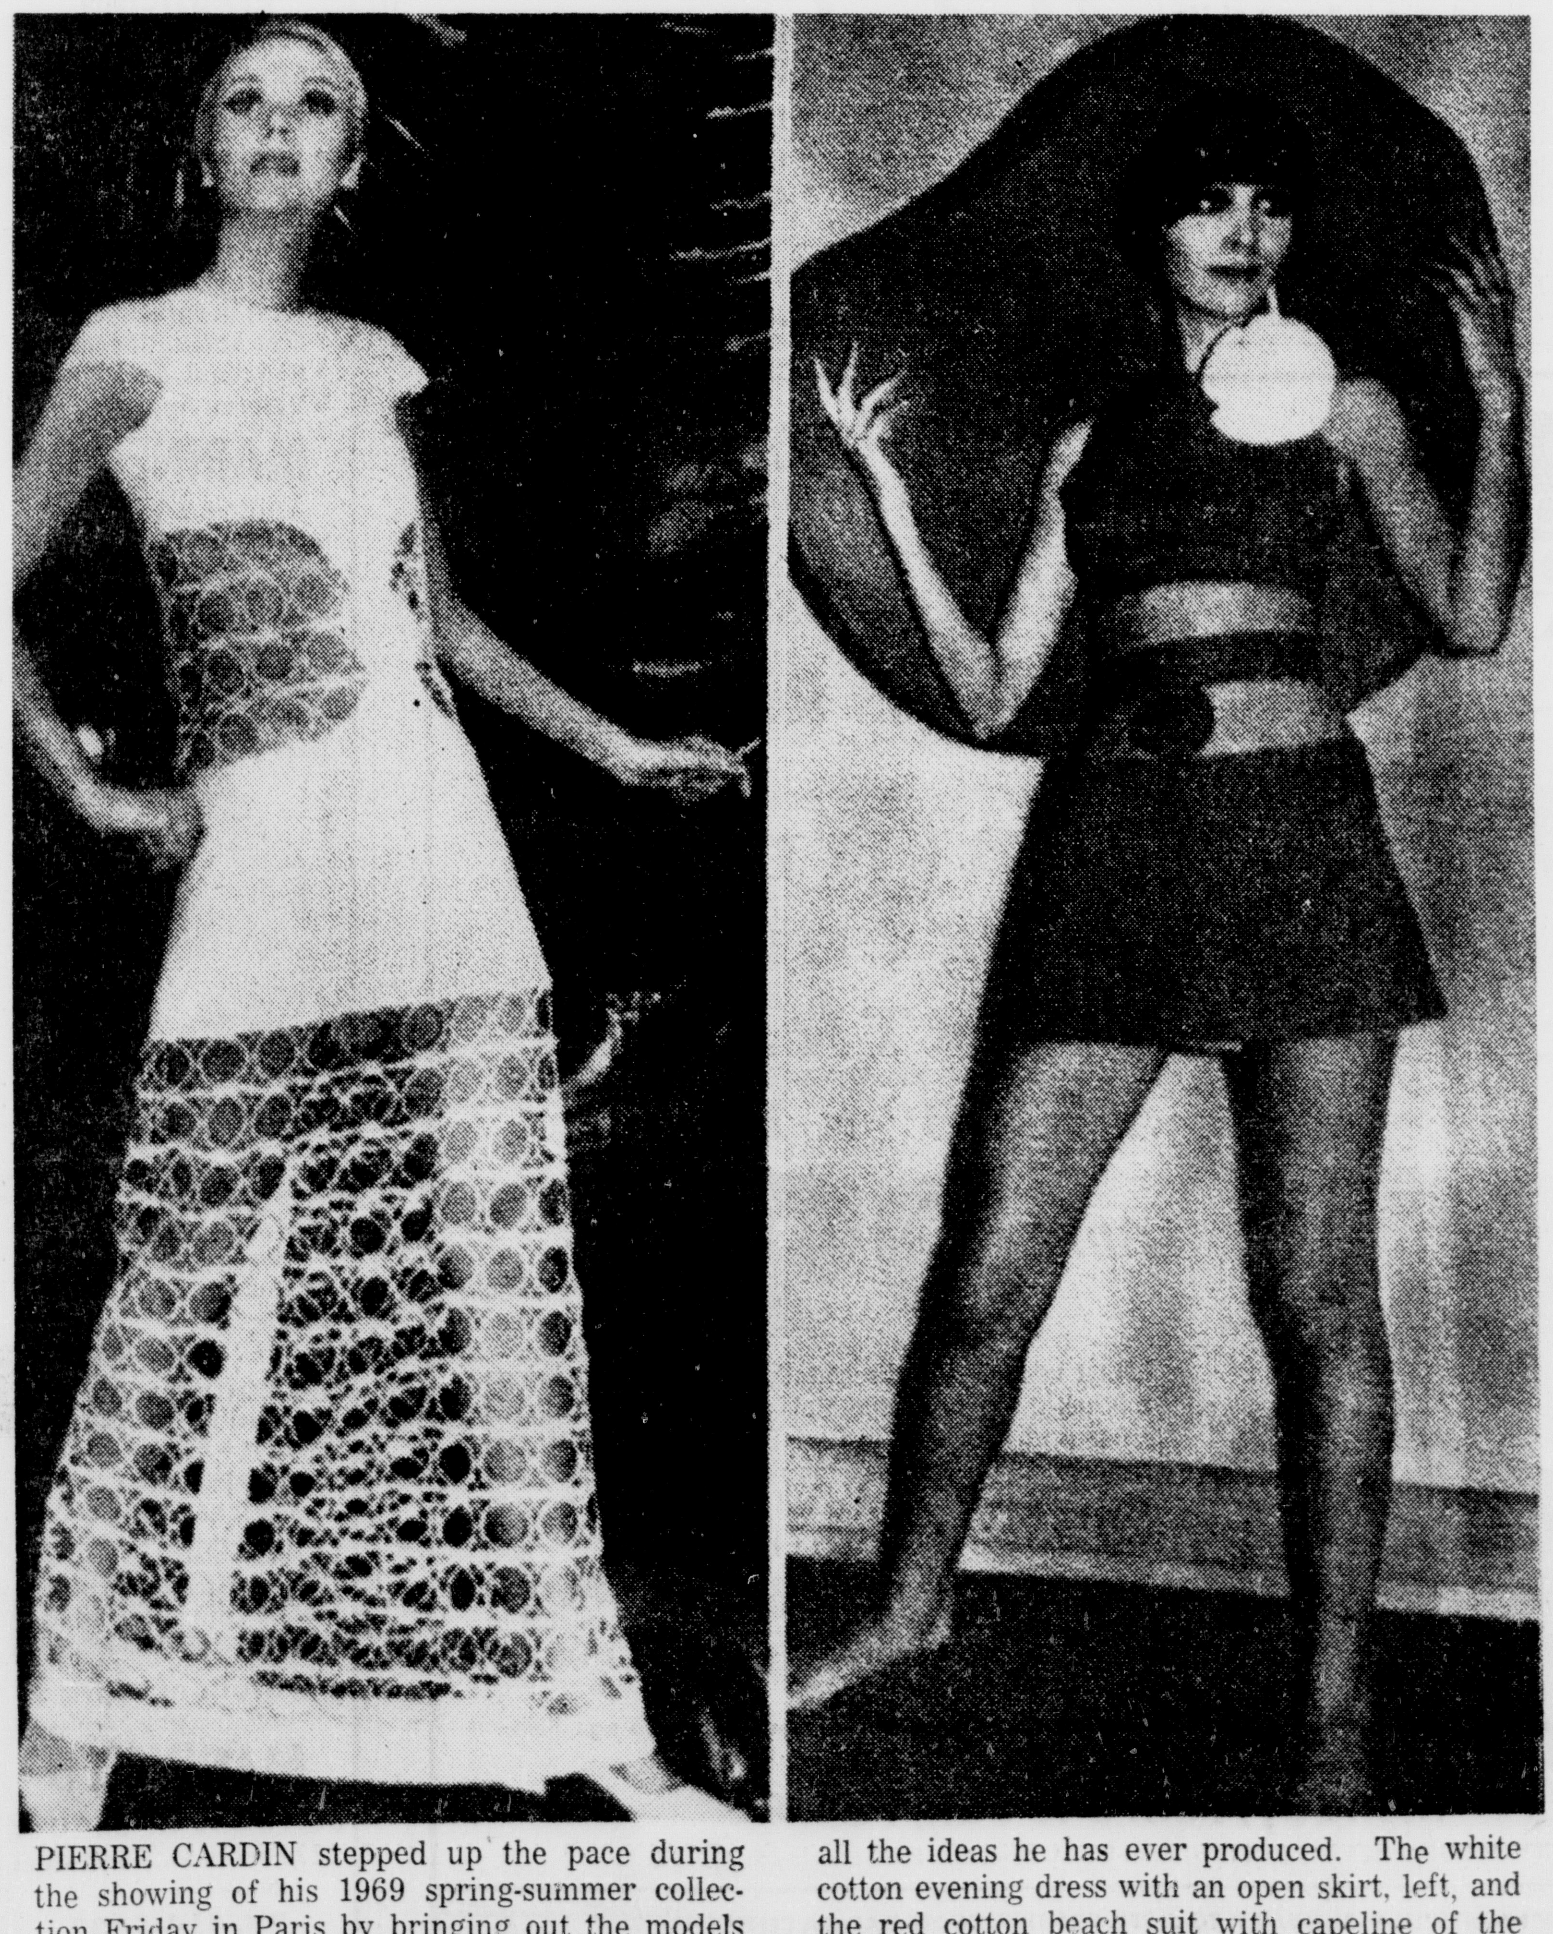
THERE ARE RUMORS that this may be the last haute couture collection Cardin will show. He reportedly dreams of one a year in May with his ready to wear line, only.



PIERRE CARDIN stepped up the pace during the showing of his 1969 spring-summer collection Friday in Paris by bringing out the models five and six at a time. According to fashion writers attending the showing he erred in bringing out all the ideas he has ever produced. The white cotton evening dress with an open skirt, left, and the red cotton beach suit with capeline of the same material, right, were two of his new ideas. (AP Wirephoto)

Bench Offer Charged By Demo Lawmaker

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Democratic assemblyman says Gov. Ronald Reagan dangled a judgeship in front of him as bait in an attempt to persuade him to give up his Assembly seat and make way for a Republican replacement.

Assemblyman Harvy Johnson, D-El Monte, said yesterday the governor is afraid GOP Assemblyman John Veneman will accept an offer to become the No. 2 man in the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and jeopardize Republican control of the Assembly.

Johnson said Reagan sent a Republican assemblyman to "make a deal with me" about a vacant judgeship in the El Monte Municipal Court. He said he rejected the alleged offer. He did not identify the Republican assemblyman.

"The governor apparently will go to any lengths to make sure a 40-40 tie among Republicans and Democrats does not develop in the Assembly," he said.

Reagan's press aide, Paul Beck, denied Johnson's charges. "No one has been authorized to act on behalf of the governor to make appointments or offer such jobs," he said.

The Democrat called Reagan's alleged offer "an obvious attempt to shore up the sagging fortunes of the Republican party," and said the governor should "climb down off his high-horse of hypocrisy."

Within an hour after Johnson made his accusations in a written statement, Reagan's office announced the appointment of Los Angeles County Deputy Dist. Atty. Roy L. Norman to the vacant judgeship. Norman is a Democrat.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'Liberated' Sister Causes Brother Much Embarrassment

DEAR HELEN:

I guess my problem is a liberated sister, at least that's what she jokingly calls herself. She's liberated from all the things women have to go through to be women—cosmetics (she's pretty enough without them), curlers, hairspray, woman's magazines — she prefers the Playboy type — girdles, etc.

This wouldn't matter, except that I am her "kid brother," and since I started college, I share her apartment. We get along fine, and it's a very economical arrangement, but the way she dresses — or doesn't dress — embarrasses me. At home that is. She gussies up for dates.

I'll be specific. The other night she invited one of her girlfriends over for dinner. I kept asking when she was going to change her clothes, but she just shrugged. She entertained in short shorts and a heavy pullover sweatshirt, but nothing on underneath, and this was very apparent as her figure is a knockout — around 38-24-35.

When I talked to her later she apologized and said she was amazed that I was upset. After all, she was just entertaining another woman and her own brother, and she wasn't indecent She just doesn't care about wearing undergarments. I'll admit she never wears see-through clothes and she covers herself properly, but Helen, even though I'm her brother, I'm a man and, in the presence of her woman friends, I'm apt to blush. Also, I'd like to invite girls over to the apartment to study, but they might be embarrassed.
—PUZZLED BROTHER

DEAR BROTHER:

Wouldn't you be better off in a bachelor apartment shared with other college men? Your sister likes her way of life — and this is fine for relaxed feminine living: Most single girls dress down at home and don't dress up for female company. But I can see where it would embarrass you, just as she would be irked if you appeared shirtless in front of her boy friends.

You'll be close friends if you split up. Right?—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am a male college student and need extra cash but can't hack a steady, eight-hour job. I am interested in modeling clothes for male magazines that have fashion pages. I believe I have the proper qualifications. How do I go about getting jobs?
—B.R., NEW JERSEY

DEAR B:

Inquire at a model agency, preferably in New York (though most large cities have good agencies). If the director here thinks you stack up favorably against the competition, he will make arrangements to produce a photo "composite" which will be sent to photographers, magazine editors, etc. This is all at your own expense, and it isn't exactly cheap. But it often produces results.

Good luck.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

My dad is always saying things like, "Straighten up or leave the table!" or "If you aren't going to work, get out of the house!" The other day I got out of the house when he said that, and when I came back he grounded me for a month for being disobedient. I did just what he said. Why don't parents say what they mean?—NICK

DEAR NICK:

I'll bet your father will, next time. And watch out — because he'll mean what he says, too! (Okay Pop — admit it — you goofed! —H.

New Relaxed Rules For The Second Time Around

AP Newsfeature

Thanks to the "do your own thing" approach which has modified, if not abolished, etiquette rules everywhere, the second time around bride need no longer hide in the shadows.

Although newly-relaxed rules permit much more freedom in planning a second wedding, most likely a second-time bride will not want to imitate the bride who's saying her first "I do." The elaborate white dress, the long train and veil are all part of the first nuptial ritual — but that doesn't preclude the second-time bride from wearing white again. A white or pastel gown, long or short, traditional or up-to-the-minute sans train and veil is perfect. A very young second-time bride may prefer the more elaborate trappings of a first-time ritual — (train, elaborate gown, etc.) and if the groom-to-be doesn't object, there's no reason why anyone else should.

SECOND WEDDING plans are often pared down — but they needn't be — as long as everything is in good taste. The processional can be eliminated because this time the bride doesn't have to be given away. Two honor attendants on each side are all that are needed. Children of a first marriage shouldn't be forced into flower girl or ring bearer roles. They'll most likely be happier as guests than as members of the wedding party. However, if they wish to be included, making them a flower girl or ring-bearer adds a nice touch.

The wedding site is up to the bride, but a home or garden ceremony is especially suited for second marriages. You should know what you want in a wedding, so why not plan one that's your own creation? Doing it yourself may mean a canopy of roses in the garden and a patio buffet or a daisy-lined living room and champagne and cake. It's your choice. Just be sure it's as meaningful and memorable as the vows it celebrates.

ONE OTHER POINT — if the bride has never been married before even though the bridegroom has, the wedding may be as elaborate and as lavish as for any other first-time bride.

Home Owners Halt Corte Madera Plan To Annex 29-Acre Parcel

A visibly miffed Corte Madera Town Council last night failed in its effort to annex a 29-acre parcel on Meadowsweet Drive.

Confronted during a public hearing on the proposed annexation with sufficient protests by property owners to kill the issue, the council resignedly passed a resolution ending the effort.

On Jan. 6, it had passed a resolution to hold a special election for the annexation, but last night's hearing was a necessary step toward that end.

Protest by property owners representing over 50 per cent of the parcel's land value of $122,015 was enough to halt the annexation. Last night saw protest letters received from 12 owners representing $81,995 in property value, or $20,987 more than required.

About 15 owners also appeared in person to voice their objections, which centered mostly on the contention that annexing to Corte Madera would cost more in additional taxes than benefits would be worth.

The council made several efforts before conceding. Twon Mgr. Ronald L. Usher said the area, west of Meadowsweet Drive and including Marin Joe's restaurant and the Casa Buena motel, is surrounded by the Corte Madera boundary and by location alone should fit with the town.

He claimed to no avail that better police and fire protection can be provided by Corte Madera than by the county, which presently has jurisdiction over the parcel. He also said rumors that the property owners must share in back bonded indebtedness for the city was untrue, and that town taxes would not be effective until December 1970.

A new annexation hearing cannot be held for another year.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

PARKING — Granted the request of William W. Wood for a 10-foot "no parking" zone on the south side of his driveway at 346 Corte Madera Avenue.

DOGS — Adopted the proposed amendments of the City-County Services Committee to a county-wide animal control ordinance. Amendments would include the possibility of citing the owner of a dog not under control, and the raising of pound fees.

PERMITS — Approved the requests by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Finlay for a home occupation permit to distribute Holiday Magic cosmetics at 42 Prince Royal Passage, and by Roger Starkey for a similar permit to operate a station wagon commuter service office at 225 Uplands Circle.

LOT CHANGE — Granted a lot line change request by Councilman Robert P. Simmons to add 150 square feet of land from a parcel at 138 Edison Avenue to an adjacent non-conforming parcel. Simmons abstained from voting because he was the applicant.

ORDINANCE — Adopted an interim ordinance making new service stations apply for use permits in all commercial zones. A proposed permanent ordinance is being created. The measure is to give the town closer control of stations.

STREET NUMBERS — Informally agreed to a suggestion by the Corte Madera Volunteer Fire Department that street house numbers should be painted on curbs to make location of residences easier. The public works department was asked to determine the best procedure and report back to the council at its next regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 17.

TREES — Informally agreed to planting 22 trees around the Village Square, but delayed action pending more study.

STREET BIDS — Ageed to call for bids on the construction phase of San Clemente Drive, which connects Tamalpais Drive with Paradise Drive. The half-mile stretch of construction is expected to cost $95,505 with a total cost of $218,751 including right-of-way. Bids will be opened at 2 p.m. Feb. 28.

REGIONAL GOVERNMENT — Agreed with the county board of supervisors that more time is needed for consideration of a proposed formation of a Bay Area Regional Organization. A joint legislative committee sought comments by the board and city councils by last Jan. 24.

Guidelines To Be Reviewed

Further work on the policies and procedures guide for the new Shoreline Unified School District will be discussed by the board when it meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the district administration office at Tomales Elementary School.

The board has been working with Supt. Charles E. McCully compiling guidelines.

The board will hire a district secretary and hear a report from the superintendent on progress in organizing the district which on July 1 will replace Tomales High School and elementary districts within its boundaries.

Transit Discussion

Seymour Kashin, manager of the Marin Transit District, will discuss Marin County's transportation situation at a noon board meeting of the Novato Chamber of Commerce board Thursday at Cloud Five, according to George A. Barnwell, chamber president.

Park Finances To Be Studied

The Petaluma Recreation, Music and Parks Comission will discuss ways to finance development of Lucchesi Park at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at city hall.

Landscape architect Sidney M. Lewin of San Rafael has suggested consideration of a special bond issue to provide funds for the 31-acre park. No price tag has been placed on the recreation site.

The commission will also receive a status report on plans for a Vietnam memorial at Walnut Park.

Size Important

Buying tips: Size is important in selecting root vegetables, says the Consumer and Marketing Service. Very large carrots may have woody cores. Oversized radishes may be pithy. Oversized turnips, beets and parnips may be woody. Size and condition of the tops on these vegetables do not necessarily indicate the eating quality.

PARISIAN VEIL

Flowing white organdy rings gives this wedding dress of organdy a distinctive touch. It was designed by J. Pinturier for the spring and summer collection of Molyneaux, shown in Paris. (UPI Cablephoto)

Government Buys Surplus

The United States Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service spent nearly $160 million last fiscal year to buy more than half a billion pounds of meat, poultry, eggs, oils, fruits, vegetables, and dairy and grain products.

As a result, producers of these products got better prices — and the products helped to improve the diets of many persons including those in needy families, schools and institutions.

The purchases were made under authority of "Section 32" of Public Law 74-320 — a little known program designed to give price assistance mainly to perishable farm products which are in temporary oversupply.

Another use of the "Section 32" program last fiscal year was a broad diversion program to help potato producers faced with disastrously low prices. Farmers, under the program, were paid premiums to sell potatoes to low-price outlets, such as livestock feed or starch manufacturers.

Elegant Pants

Pale green silk worsted shaped an elegant pants silhouette in the Ben Reig collection for spring. For at home or going out, the evening jumpsuit featured a wide jewelled band to cinch the waist, a high rolled collar and hidden pockets.

Grant Honors Claudia O'Connor

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

"It's almost a disgrace to be honored for doing something you do to please yourself. It doesn't seem quite fair."

So says Mrs. R. S. O'Connor of Mill Valley, who has just had a $500 international fellowship grant named for her.

The Mill Valley branch of the American Association of University Women has named the grant the Claudia O'Connor grant in recognition of the former president's outstanding service to the branch and organization and her leadership in community and county affairs.

After joining the branch in 1952, about four years after it was founded, Claudia immediately started assuming responsibilities, serving her first two years as chairman for radio, television and movies.

She served twice as president — in 1958-59 and 1961-62. Talented in art, she was section chairman for painting in 1956 to 1958. Her most recent service has been as area representative for community problems last year and area representative for world problems for five years before that.

Speaking of the name grants, she explained, "They are used mainly to supplement the $1,500 fellowships." She noted that 54 awards were given to American women last year out of 369 applicants in the United States, and 44 international awards were given to women from foreign countries out of 314 applicants from 66 countries. Total money contributed to fellowships last year by members of the organization was $719,000.

"Over the years I have had a great deal of intellectual stimulation from AAUW in different fields at different times," she says. "The organization has such a broad spectrum of interests."

Born in Pismo Beach, Claudia was graduated from high school in Arroyo and from San Jose State College with a bachelor's degree in fine arts.

"I was mainly interested in art at this time," she recalls. "I wanted to be a painter, but I'm a vocal person, and I don't really have anything in a picture form to express myself. I don't believe real artists are vocal. If you can express yourself in words, you don't need to do it in any other way.

"I attended the California School of Fine Arts, but I'm a sometime painter now — when I don't have anything else to do."

After her marriage to Mr. O'Connor, who is a driver for the Gray Line Company, Claudia worked four years as a draftsman during World War II for the Southern Pacific Company in the motive power department. She received her training for this in a drafting class sponsored by Stanford University and given at Cogswell Technical Institute in San Francisco.

Claudia has also somehow found time in her busy life as mother of two children — Moira, now 22 and employed in the insurance business in San Francisco, and Robert, 17, a senior at Tamalpais High School, to be active in the community.

She has been a Parent-Teacher Association president, and in 1962 she was appointed the AAUW Mill Valley branch representative to the Fall Arts Festival and ended up as its chairman.

"I'll never forget that," she laughs. "It was the year we had a lot of rain, and we couldn't even get a weather report because the World Series was going on in San Francisco, and they didn't want to give out any local reports that might affect attendance. We finally got one issued for farmers out of Sacramento."

Claudia served on the Arts Festival board one year and has continued her interest in it but has now become more involved in Fair Marin on the county level.

Appointed representative for all three Marin branches of the AAUW, she became a member of the organizing committee and is now chairman of the committee in charge of the dedication of the new Veterans Auditorium now under construction at the Civic Center.

"I'm very happy with the progress the board is making," she said. "The dedication will probably take place before Christmas."

MRS. R. S. O'Connor, who has worked as a draftsman herself, checks a plot plan of the Veterans Auditorium now under construction at the Marin Civic Center while she works as chairman of the dedication committee on ideas for the dedication ceremonies. Her leadership in community projects is one of the reasons that a $500 AAUW fellowship grant has been named for her. (Independent-Journal photo)

Cardin Brings On 'Total Look' Show

By LUCIE NOEL

PARIS (AP) — Pierre Cardin opened his spring collection Friday in the Hotel Bristol salons instead of his own premises.

Cardin's collection stepped fourth at terrific pace in groups of five and six at a time. A further mistake was made by showing all the ideas he has ever produced, because this gave the impression of a follies finale.

Weeded out, however are the following new trends:

Half-circles or quarter-crescent moons appear as only one cape sleeve is lifted, the second arm is treated to a long tight slbyhu. A charming navy wool afternoon dress has two large circles forming the skirt, one in the back, one in front and joined at the sides.

FOR DAY, in a short length, and for evening, in floor length, in white crepe, he does a beautiful diagonal draped band, assymetrically slanted across one shoulder and most of the torso. It's in the slave mood and further emphasized by a Roman slave running onstage dressed in a brief hipster miniskirt, belt and bra all in jeweled gold.

There are many versions of the sarong skirt with a top attached by a panel or buttoned on tabs. An entire group featuring this trend also included criss-cross lacing in white vinyl, or black, contrasting with the dress.

There are many overdress effects, one slashed down one side over nothing.

Among all this variety and creative ideas, Cardin has a basic layer of good clothes that make good sense and will please most everyone. Excellent coats, some with exaggerated back swing, others with simple chic touches step forth in spring wools, in both one color and bicolor contrasts.

BECAUSE CARDIN believes strongly in the total look and the accessories he calls "fashion environment," he has designed a collection of gloves, made by Aris and coordinated with his custommade collection.

He endorses modernistic geometric decor. A long pair of black gloves are elbow length and have inserted vinyl diamond triangles stepping up the arm. Similar motifs are worked out in shorties and wrist length. They run round the clock and are shown in leather and fabric from sports to evening wear.

Cardin says they will be available with his models and delivered simultaneously.

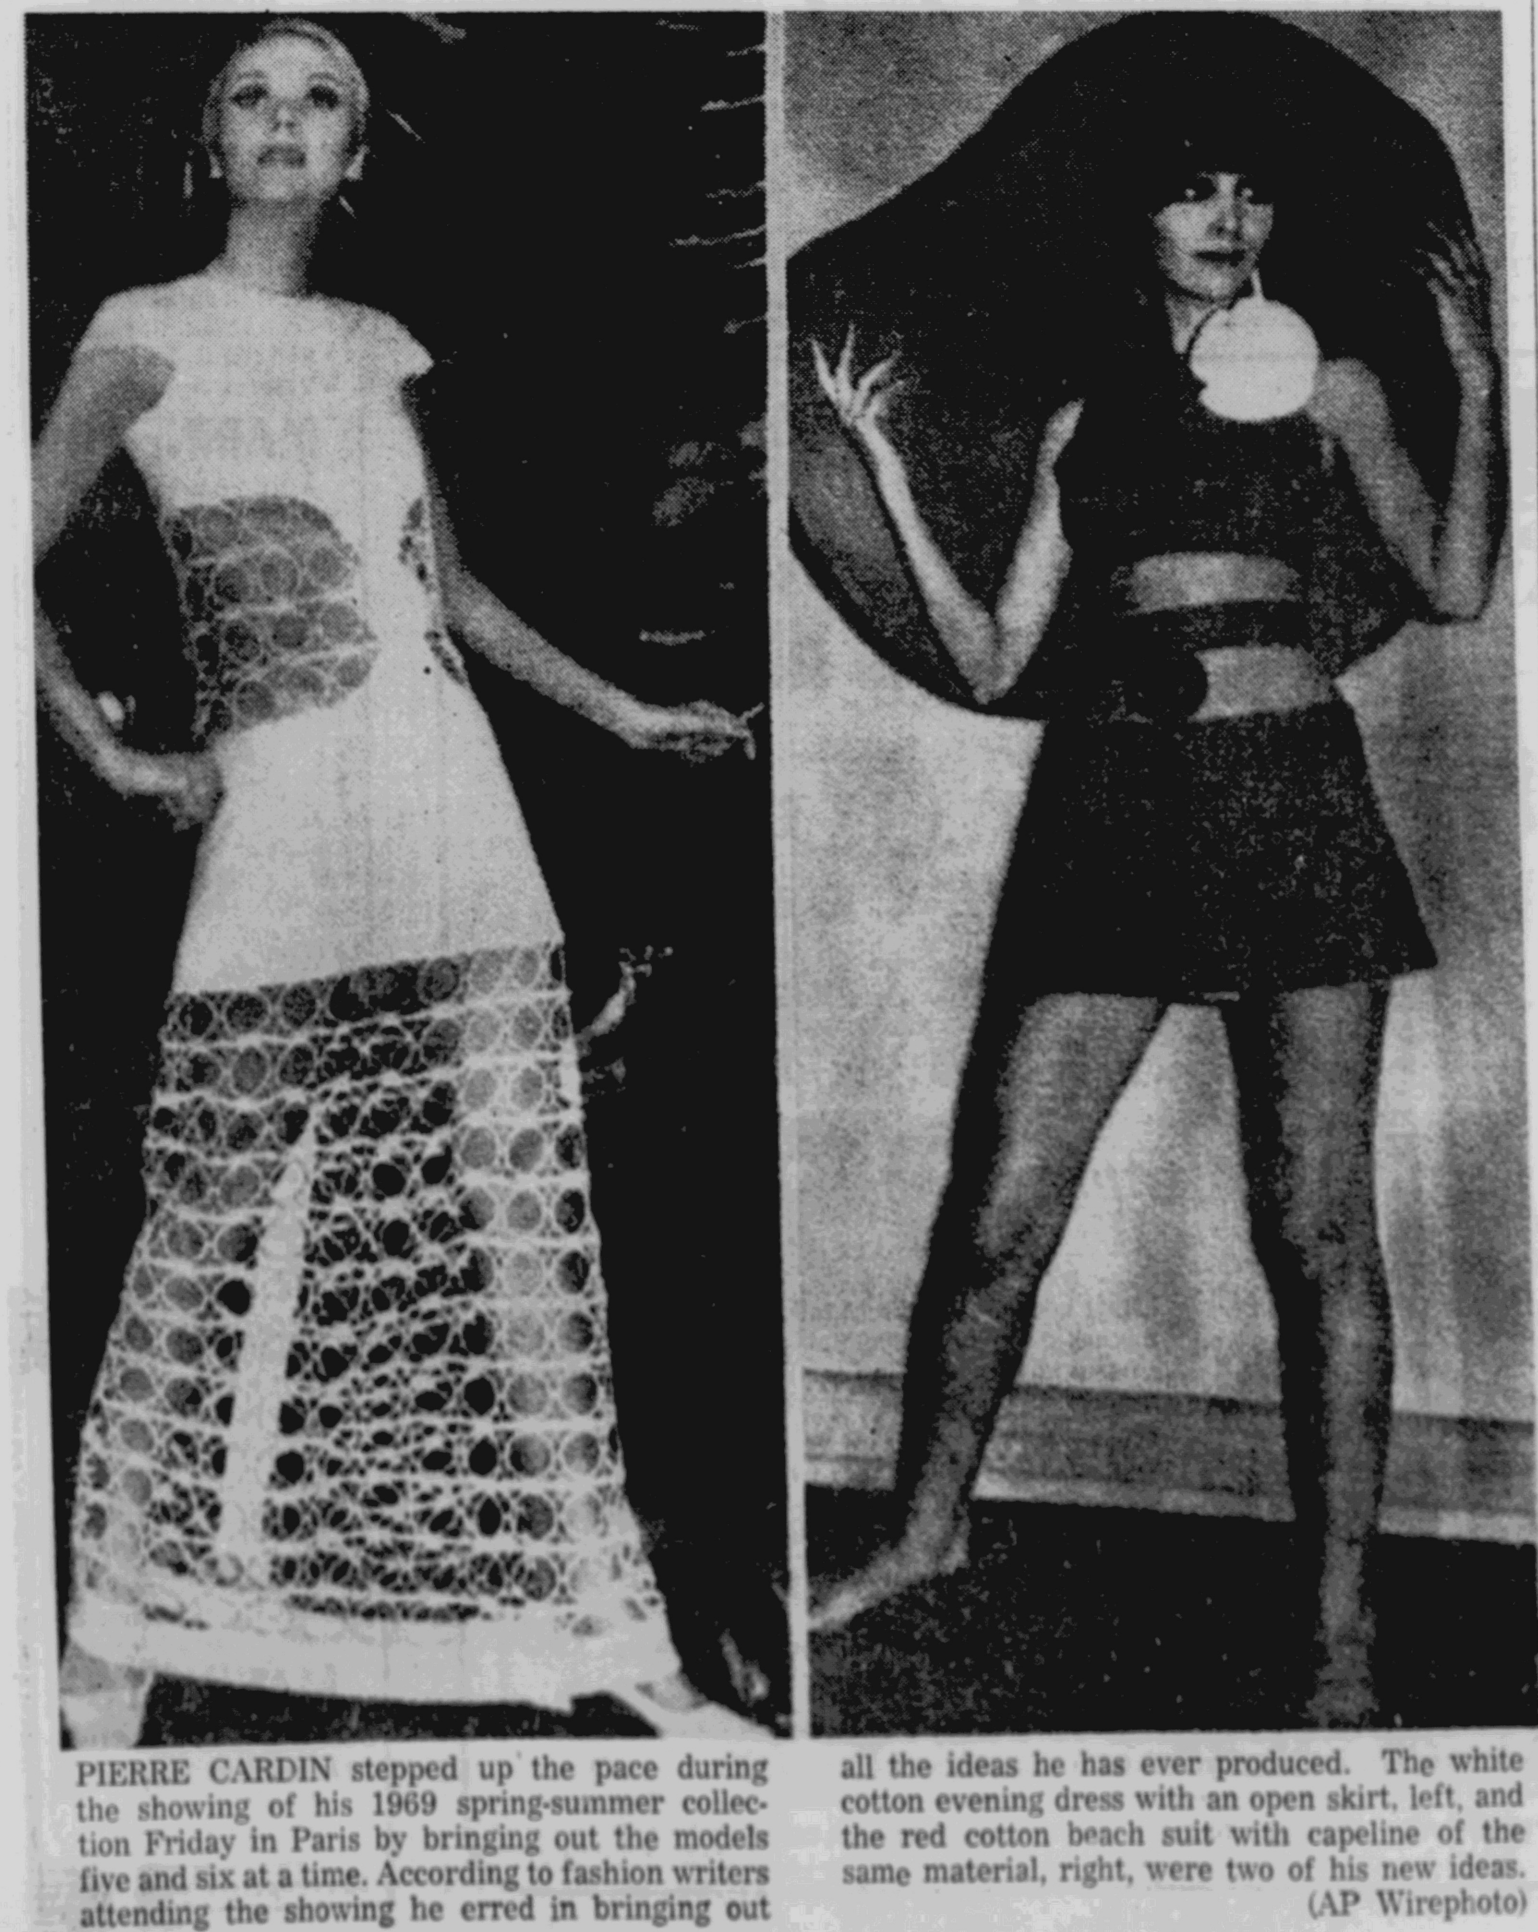
THERE ARE RUMORS that this may be the last haute couture collection Cardin will show. He reportedly dreams of one a year in May with his ready to wear line, only.



PIERRE CARDIN stepped up the pace during the showing of his 1969 spring-summer collection Friday in Paris by bringing out the models five and six at a time. According to fashion writers attending the showing he erred in bringing out all the ideas he has ever produced. The white cotton evening dress with an open skirt, left, and the red cotton beach suit with capeline of the same material, right, were two of his new ideas. (AP Wirephoto)

By MOLLY MARIN

Following the adjudication of the Marin Civic Ballet Sunday evening, Mrs. Max Thelen Jr. and Mrs. Caesar Taverna entertained board members and guests at a cocktail buffet in honor of Mrs. Martha Hill Davies, head of the dance department at the Julliard School of Music in New York City. Mrs. Davies had flown out from New York to judge the Marin Company for a dance festival to be presented at the end of May in San Diego.

Other guests from the world of dance were Dennis Carey, ballet master for the San Francisco Ballet, who created one of the ballets performed by the Marin Ballet Company; Bruce Bain, soloist with the San Francisco Ballet and guest soloist in Mr. Carey's ballet; Charles Perrier; Mrs. Leona Norman, director of the MCB Company; and her musical director, Daniel Scarlett, and his wife.

Ron Guidi, choreographer and ballet director from the University of California, joined the party after dancing in a work created by him for the Marin Company and seen for the first time that night. Set and costume designer, Charles Hoeppner also attended, as did the Ralph Whites. Mrs. White is the director of the apprentice group to the Marin Civic Ballet.

Civic Ballet board members and their husbands attending were Drs. and Mmes. Kenneth McKinnon and Thomas McCormick, and Messrs. and Mmes. Paul Erickson, Alan Gizzi, Robert Stearns, Phillips Goodenough, Kirk Frederick and Caesar Taverna.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'Liberated' Sister Causes Brother Much Embarrassment

DEAR HELEN:

I guess my problem is a liberated sister, at least that's what she jokingly calls herself. She's liberated from all the things women have to go through to be women—cosmetics (she's pretty enough without them), curlers, hairspray, woman's magazines — she prefers the Playboy type — girdles, etc.

This wouldn't matter, except that I am her "kid brother," and since I started college, I share her apartment. We get along fine, and it's a very economical arrangement, but the way she dresses — or doesn't dress — embarrasses me. At home that is. She gussies up for dates.

I'll be specific. The other night she invited one of her girlfriends over for dinner. I kept asking when she was going to change her clothes, but she just shrugged. She entertained in short shorts and a heavy pullover sweatshirt, but nothing on underneath, and this was very apparent as her figure is a knockout — around 38-24-35.

When I talked to her later she apologized and said she was amazed that I was upset. After all, she was just entertaining another woman and her own brother, and she wasn't indecent She just doesn't care about wearing undergarments. I'll admit she never wears see-through clothes and she covers herself properly, but Helen, even though I'm her brother, I'm a man and, in the presence of her woman friends, I'm apt to blush. Also, I'd like to invite girls over to the apartment to study, but they might be embarrassed.
—PUZZLED BROTHER

DEAR BROTHER:

Wouldn't you be better off in a bachelor apartment shared with other college men? Your sister likes her way of life — and this is fine for relaxed feminine living: Most single girls dress down at home and don't dress up for female company. But I can see where it would embarrass you, just as she would be irked if you appeared shirtless in front of her boy friends.

You'll be close friends if you split up. Right?—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am a male college student and need extra cash but can't hack a steady, eight-hour job. I am interested in modeling clothes for male magazines that have fashion pages. I believe I have the proper qualifications. How do I go about getting jobs?
—B.R., NEW JERSEY

DEAR B:

Inquire at a model agency, preferably in New York (though most large cities have good agencies). If the director here thinks you stack up favorably against the competition, he will make arrangements to produce a photo "composite" which will be sent to photographers, magazine editors, etc. This is all at your own expense, and it isn't exactly cheap. But it often produces results.

Good luck.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

My dad is always saying things like, "Straighten up or leave the table!" or "If you aren't going to work, get out of the house!" The other day I got out of the house when he said that, and when I came back he grounded me for a month for being disobedient. I did just what he said. Why don't parents say what they mean?—NICK

DEAR NICK:

I'll bet your father will, next time. And watch out — because he'll mean what he says, too! (Okay Pop — admit it — you goofed! —H.

New Relaxed Rules For The Second Time Around

AP Newsfeature

Thanks to the "do your own thing" approach which has modified, if not abolished, etiquette rules everywhere, the second time around bride need no longer hide in the shadows.

Although newly-relaxed rules permit much more freedom in planning a second wedding, most likely a second-time bride will not want to imitate the bride who's saying her first "I do." The elaborate white dress, the long train and veil are all part of the first nuptial ritual — but that doesn't preclude the second-time bride from wearing white again. A white or pastel gown, long or short, traditional or up-to-the-minute sans train and veil is perfect. A very young second-time bride may prefer the more elaborate trappings of a first-time ritual — (train, elaborate gown, etc.) and if the groom-to-be doesn't object, there's no reason why anyone else should.

SECOND WEDDING plans are often pared down — but they needn't be — as long as everything is in good taste. The processional can be eliminated because this time the bride doesn't have to be given away. Two honor attendants on each side are all that are needed. Children of a first marriage shouldn't be forced into flower girl or ring bearer roles. They'll most likely be happier as guests than as members of the wedding party. However, if they wish to be included, making them a flower girl or ring-bearer adds a nice touch.

The wedding site is up to the bride, but a home or garden ceremony is especially suited for second marriages. You should know what you want in a wedding, so why not plan one that's your own creation? Doing it yourself may mean a canopy of roses in the garden and a patio buffet or a daisy-lined living room and champagne and cake. It's your choice. Just be sure it's as meaningful and memorable as the vows it celebrates.

ONE OTHER POINT — if the bride has never been married before even though the bridegroom has, the wedding may be as elaborate and as lavish as for any other first-time bride.

SIXTH GRADE SCIENCE — Students at Santa Venetia Middle School conduct microscopic studies under the supervision of James A. LeCzel, sixth grade science teacher. Taking advantage of the middle school system, which includes sixth, seventh and eighth graders and allows sixth graders to have specialized instruction rather than spending the entire day in the same classroom with the same teacher, are (from the left) Mikoto Middleton, Geff M. SCHOOL BONDS

$2.1 Million Needed To Permit Switch To Middle School Plan

(Second of four articles)

San Rafael Elementary School District's $2.1 million bond election Feb. 18 involves not only a building program but an educational concept.

The idea is to group sixth, seventh and eighth graders in what educators have termed middle schools.

Santa Venetia Middle School has been operating under this system since 1966, but if the bonds are passed there will be three middle schools.

Davidson Junior High School would become a middle school and the proposed new school at Glenwood would be a middle school.

Sixth graders in neighborhood schools would be switched to the middle schools, freeing 14 classrooms for use by kindergarten through fifth grade.

Your Elementary Schools Committee, the district's bond campaign committee, views the middle school "as a transitional phase between the self-contained classroom of the neighborhood elementary school and the varied, departmentalized environment of the high school." This is the same concept as in the junior high school.

The three-year grouping starting with sixth grade is currently fashionable among educators.

Supt. John F. Plank said opening of a new middle school, combined with switching of sixth graders, would "add room in the district for 900 pupils."

It would provide permanent classrooms for 425 pupils now housed in portable classrooms and space to meet the expected growth in the next four to five years, about 100 pupils a year, he said.

Plank conceded that not all the space opened up in elementary schools would be needed immediately, but contended the district would not be overbuilding.

The space would be used for expanded libraries, science areas, language and audio-visual centers or art centers until needed for classrooms, he said.

If enrollment growth were uneven and other space were available, it could be used for special education classes that "are meeting all over" or by psychologists "who are interviewing in closets," Plank said.

All 23 classrooms constructed with funds from a $3.3 million bond measure in 1964 are filled, except two rooms at Gallinas School, which sends sixth graders to Santa Venetia Middle School. Four would be unused until future growth of enrollment.

Coleman School would gain three classrooms; Laurel Dell Intermediate, three; San Pedro, three; Glenwood, two, and Bahia Vista, Sun Valley and West End schools, one each.

Proposed uses for the space are:

Coleman School, one room to replace a portable, one for an expanded library, leaving one for future growth.

Laurel Dell Intermediate, one room for special education programs, with two left for growth.

San Pedro, to replace three portables and provide library facilities.

Bahia Vista, one room for a language and audio-visual center, science area or arts area.

West End, one room will be released for remodeling of the central portion of the main building.

The middle school experiment at Santa Venetia has met with approval from teachers, parents and pupils, according to a poll, the YES committee reported.

Parents, according to the committee, wrote that the middle school system gave their children more opportunity to develop their potential, and teachers said it provided sixth graders access to special teachers for specialized subjects.

One of the questions expected to be raised by parents is whether sixth graders are socially ready to mingle with the junior high group. The committee contends there is no evidence that placing a sixth grader in a middle school will push him too fast socially.

For those who believe the middle school is a new idea, the committee reported that "grouping of sixth, seventh and eighth grades in San Rafael existed in 1922. It was later changed when seventh and eighth grade students were moved to another building to provide additional space."

In a middle school the sixth grader spends much of his time in a self-contained classroom, but has a chance to work in foreign languages, art and music with specialists.

In the seventh grade students work in larger time blocks with two or more teachers, and eight grade approaches the high school format with shorter blocks of time and more electives, Plank explained.

(Part Three tomorrow: Glenwood Middle School.)

Contractor Faces Loss Of $7,640

The Lagunitas School District board voted last night to withhold $7,640 from the final payment for construction on the new San Geronimo Valley Elementary School for several unfinished items.

The contractor for the new school, which opened Nov. 18, is E. H. Chapman of San Rafael. Supt. Marshall J. McCuniff said if the work is not finished within 30 days, new contracts for the remaining work will be let.

Unfinished items include installation of electrical fixtures and replacement of faulty skylights, McCuniff said.

The board had been scheduled to begin consideration of its 1969-70 budget but postponed that until next Monday because of the press of other business. No preliminary budget figures are yet available.

In other action, the board announced that the dedication of the San Geronimo Valley School will be at 1 p.m., March 1, and set next Monday's meeting for a public hearing on the proposed transfer of ownership of two small tracts of land near the school.

Jail Term On Driving Count

Christopher C. Leslie, 28, of Piedmont, was sentenced yesterday in Marin Superior Court to 90 days in the county jail for drunken driving which resulted in a head-on collision on Golden Gate Bridge on Sept. 28, 1967.

Leslie, who formerly lived in Sausalito, was also ordered to pay a $500 fine by Judge Harold J. Haley.

Probation officers said that Leslie, who was himself seriously injured in the accident, no longer drinks. They added that the other persons injured in the accident have recovered.

Peak Traffic No-Parking Lane Voted

The San Anselmo Planning Commission by a 4-1 vote yesterday recommended to the city council that a Sir Francis Drake Boulevard parking lane be used for westbound traffic during peak commuter evening traffic.

Proposed was that parking on the lane from El Cerrito Avenue to Butterfield Road, be banned from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. daily. A similar plan is in operation on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from the Hub intersection to El Cerrito.

City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell said the commission majority felt the extension would only be a short-term solution to the heavy traffic problem, however, and that it would be an undesirable change for the neighborhood.

Commissioner Allen J. Creighton voted against the recommendation. Commissioner Philip S. Heinecke abstained, and Commissioner Joseph Gue was absent.

The council had requested a recommendation.

The San Anselmo Planning Commission also:

LOT LINE — Approved revision of a lot line on property owned by Richard Shortall and Rosalind Watkin to make two lots out of three existing lots.

USE PERMIT — Held a six-month review of a use permit granted the Bon Vin Restaurant at 112 Spaulding Street and concluded there is no reason to alter permit conditions.

Workshop Tonight

Edward W. Johnson, general chairman of the Redwood Shade Garden Club, will conduct a workshop on pruning fuchsias at 8 p.m. today at Whitaker Hall, St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Golden Gate and Bay View Avenue, Belvedere.

WILLIAM B. LEWIS
15 years on board

W. B. Lewis Resigns Tam Trustee Job

William B. Lewis of San Anselmo resigned last night as trustee of the Tamalpais High School District. He had served on the board 15 years.

Lewis, not present at the meeting, wrote that his work took him out of town too frequently to continue serving on the board.

Lewis, an insurance company representantive, and his wife, who reside at 1623 San Anselmo Avenue, have three daughters, all of whom were graduated from Drake High School.

Trustees will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m., Feb. 13, at the district office to appoint and interview trustee candidates to fill the vacancy. They set Monday as the deadline for interested parties to submit their names to the Superintendent's office.

To Review Budget

The Fairfax School District trustees will meet 7:45 p.m. next Tuesday at the district office to discuss the 1969-70 budget and the sixth grade camping program.

Tam Teachers' Pay Boosts Challenged In Budget Study

Trustee Bette C. Wallace noted that the tentative amount for teachers, salaries — $592,000 — was three times what it is in the current budget, $217,000, and far above the 1966-67 figure, $185,000. She asked why.

Frank A. Cassou, district business director, explained that the $592,000 represented only the sum proposed by the Tamalpais District Teachers Association, including fringe benefits.

The new budget — for which only preliminary figures were prepared last night — does include hiring of five new teachers, however.

Total 1968-69 budget is $9,181,336. The total 1969-70 budget has not been set but the Proposed 1969-70 operating budget is $8,562,408 compared with the current figure of $8,879,084. No tax rate was discussed last night.

Mrs. Wallace noted that the preliminary budget showed that spending exceeded income by $400,000.

Cassou explained that, for the first time, balancing was done by program — not by dollars. "You assign priorities to your program so that everything most essential is built within the resources of the district," he said. Ring appeared a bit skeptical at this but it was agreed that the format would continue to be used with the final budget to be presented also in the regular state form.

Trsstee David D. Ring, noting that the cost of in-service training for teachers is projected at $7,349, asked for more details on where money was being spent in other parts of the budget on such training. He indicated the sum was very low for such an important item.

Tamalpais High School District Board Also:

MEETINGS — Set a closed session at 4 p.m. Monday, at the district office to select a board member to meet with the Teachers Negotiation Council. It set a special meeting Feb. 13 at 8 p.m. to appoint and interview board candidates to fill the vacancy of trustee William B. Lewis, and canceled its regular Feb. 17 meeting.

OPPORTUNITY SCHOOL — Authorized hiring a team leader for the proposed Opportunity School, a school which is to give special training to potential dropouts. The job is to run to June 30. Salary is to be determined by the candidate's placement on the salary schedule. Supt. Chester G. Carlisle said that, if and when the school is approved, he will ask the board for a 2-cent override tax to finance it.

DRUG ABUSE — Trustee Ring asked for a summary of district policies and practices on handling drug abuse to be submitted Mar. 3.

CALENDAR — Approved the 1969-70 school calendar of 176 school days from Sept. 8 to June 12.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations of Brooks H. Dutt, photography teacher, Drake High School, who is retiring June 30 and Mrs. Joan Bandes, librarian, Tamalpais High, now on leave, who is taking a job at the University of Idaho, Pocatello.

NEW TEACHERS — Agreed to hire until June 30 Mrs. Vida Ray H. Freeman of San Anselmo, as substitute mathematics teacher, Drake High, replacing Larry Dickey who died last December and Jens L. Lund of Berkeley for the year 1969-70, to take Mrs. Freeman's position July 1. Salaries were not disclosed.

Guilty Plea To Pot Possession

Garth J. B. Upton, 24, of San Anselmo pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of possessing marijuana in San Rafael on Nov. 18, 1966.

Upton, however, denied that the amount of the drug was the large quantity which police claimed they found in the trunk of his car. Officers had said that he had a $20,000 cache of the drug.

His case had been held up until a decision last year by the California District Court of Appeals overturned an illegal search ruling.

Upton was ordered by Judge Halold J. Haley to return to Court March 10 for sentencing.

Guilty Plea To Theft Of Auto

Richard Bruce Schwartz, 24, of Gate Six near Sausalito, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to two charges of car theft, one charge of possessing a bad check with intent to defraud and possessing a hypodermic needle.

Judge Harold J. Haley suspended proceedings in the case, however, until it is determined whether Schwartz is addicted to drugs or in danger of becoming so.

It means that every year you lug 2,000 pounds 40 miles in round trips from house to clothesline. You pinch and unpinch about 10,000 clothespins. And you spend needless hours ironing the press back into permanent press clothes. So why fight it? See your appliance dealer about a new clothes dryer.

Size Important

Buying tips: Size is important in selecting root vegetables, says the Consumer and Marketing Service. Very large carrots may have woody cores. Oversized radishes may be pithy. Oversized turnips, beets and parnips may be woody. Size and condition of the tops on these vegetables do not necessarily indicate the eating quality.

Government Buys Surplus

The United States Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service spent nearly $160 million last fiscal year to buy more than half a billion pounds of meat, poultry, eggs, oils, fruits, vegetables, and dairy and grain products.

As a result, producers of these products got better prices — and the products helped to improve the diets of many persons including those in needy families, schools and institutions.

The purchases were made under authority of "Section 32" of Public Law 74-320 — a little known program designed to give price assistance mainly to perishable farm products which are in temporary oversupply.

Another use of the "Section 32" program last fiscal year was a broad diversion program to help potato producers faced with disastrously low prices. Farmers, under the program, were paid premiums to sell potatoes to low-price outlets, such as livestock feed or starch manufacturers.

'We Have Nothing To Hide' (As Of Oct. 22, 1968)

The San Rafael Board of Education devoted long discussion one night last summer to how to increase communication between board and community.

One after another, the board members bemoaned lack of public interest and participation in the affairs of the city's elementary and high school districts.

"There is a lack of communication between the board and the community, and I don't place the blame anywhere," said board member Herman L. Childress Jr.

The board, in an effort to do something about it, authorized Supt. John F. Plank to issue periodical reports to the public, to be printed and distributed at public expense.

That was on July 9.

LITTLE OVER A MONTH later, the board scheduled a meeting to discuss elementary and high school building plans, to be held in the office of Marshall Bowles and Associates, architects, in San Francisco. Only after Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino called to the superintendent's attention that a meeting outside the school district would be illegal, was the discussion of plans which led eventually to the bond issue before voters on Feb. 18 moved to San Rafael High School, to give citizens a chance to attend.

Not many attended.

THE NEED for better communication with the public was still present in October. On Oct. 22, Mrs. E. M. Cole appeared at the board meeting to voice her displeasure over hearing that report cards were being done away with and to ask if it were true, as she had heard rumored, that San Rafael was going to put in non-graded schools.

Superintendent Plank assured her that report cards were not being abolished. As to non-graded schools, he said, Glenwood, Sun Valley and Coleman Schools "are started in that direction," and plans for the expanded Short School were for non-graded classrooms.

Mrs. Cole said she thought plans for such a change should be imparted to parents. Board members agreed.

"We have nothing to hide," said Childress.

When Superintendent Plank presented the material for his first printed report to the public, board chairman Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. criticized it for not containing enough specific information. The superintendent had to do it over.

NOT IN EVERYTHING, however, is the San Rafael Board of Education so eager to "share with you," as the teachers say.

Early this month, the board scheduled a closed session to "evaluate" Superintendent Plank, whose four-year contract has two years to run. Implicit in such "evaluation" was and is a probable pay raise.

However, at the Jan. 14 meeting, at which the closed evaluation session was scheduled, Plank informed the board that he had been advised by Godino that it would be illegal.

At last week's board meeting, Kramer declared:

"I can't believe that even the Brown Act wants us to dissect whatever bad points there may be in front of the whole world."

Childress agreed. This time he did not say, "We have nothing to hide."

SHARING, PERHAPS, is only for the good things?

Come, come, gentlemen! John Plank is perfectly capable of defending himself, in public or private.

McCarthy's Chance To Succeed Burns Discounted At Capitol

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Sen. John F. McCarthy's pronouncement last week that he will be a candidate for the most powerful position in the Senate, president pro tempore, if the GOP gets a 21-19 edge by winning the special election in Contra Costa County, was greeted with unanimous disbelief by this writer's capitol sources.

All agreed with McCarthy that he would need Democratic support, but none saw him getting it. The same eight or nine Democratic senators who want to dump the present pro tem, Sen. Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, won't go for McCarthy as an alternative because he is as much a bulwark of the Senate's bipartisan old guard, as Burns, they said.

A more likely Republican candidate would be Sen. Howard Way, of Exeter, according to these sources.

Ironically, strong pressure is reported in the Republican Senate caucus to bounce McCarthy as a member of the rules committee, of which he is the vice chairman and Burns chairman. The pressure comes from GOP senators who want a stronger voice on the committee, which is dominated, 3-2, by Democrats.

McCarthy's motive for his pronouncement simply may have been to quiet Republicans who think party loyalty is more important than perpetuating the old guard in the Senate.

His challenge also is good for consumption on the local front — assuming McCarthy will run again next year.

AS FOR THE special election next month for the seat vacated by the death of Democratic Sen. George Miller Jr. of Martinez, Republican registration has increased with the growth of suburbs in Contra Costa.

Also, special elections in California almost always have been won by Republicans. Voters easily cross party lines because there is only one ballot in special elections, and California Democrats often turn out to be Republicans anyway.

So McCarthy may have a chance to make good on his challenge.

ASSEMBLY SPEAKER Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, declared a "general policy" at the beginning of the legislative session that committee chairmen would serve on only one other committee besides his own.

But after Monagan had gone through the elaborate process of making assignments, he found two GOP assemblymen on two other committees. The two are his political allies, William T. Bagley of San Rafael and John G. Veneman of Modesto. Bagley even was on a third, but was dropped from it.

So much for policies that don't turn out to match the speaker's own needs.

Schoolmen Up Tight On Snowball Fight

Ever since high school physics I was under the impression that one should not operate a steam boiler without a safety valve. Later, in psychology class we were told that humans, too, need a relief valve once in a while, teenagers particularly.

Reading your article today (Jan. 30) about the anti-snowball fight school officials of Redwood High, and having grown up in areas blessed with plenty of snow, I remembered with nostalgia the many happy and envigorating snowball fights of my school years.

Our teachers usually encouraged a good, healthy, clean workout in the snow and sometimes even joined our friendly battles. But then, they preferred this type of blow-off valve to absenteeism, militancy and drugs.

Editorial Ignores Basis For Unrest

Your editorial of Feb. 1, "Disrupters on Campus: Revolution's Vanguard," is another example of your insensitivity to the underlying issues of the strikes at San Francisco State and elsewhere. It would seem that there are some legitimate demands in the strike. Your editorials do little to clarify the situation when they focus on anarchy and irresponsibility rather than suggesting ways in which the college system might meet the needs of all citizens — the poor and minorities as well as middle class whites.

General questions which students are raising are: (1) Why does the university only study social issues, without making any effort to overcome unjust situations: What sense does the study of democracy make, for instance, if those who try to participate are suppressed, as happened at the Democratic convention? (2) Why must universities concentrate on defense-related technology at the expense of the humanities and the arts: What does it mean for technical man to be human? (3) Is the only purpose of education to obtain a degree and a job?

Specifically, at San Francisco State, those black students who have discovered that "Black is beautiful," those who have begun to find their identity as worthwhile human beings, are demanding a black studies department. History teaching in this country has never recognized the background or identity of the black man. Are we to be surprised that blacks demand department? . . .

Your editorial of Dec. 17, "To Restore Responsibility, Bring Back Woodshed," suggested that student rebels were incapable of benefitting from college educations. In fact, student rebels are often among the better students. . . . It is those that hold the power that force the radicalization of the protestors, for if the needs of the students were being met, the protest would not have grown to such proportions.

Education Needs Support Of All

Several points should be clarified regarding the debate between Mr. Tom Hayden and myself at the College of Marin. The basis on which the SDS movement obtains its support lies in its criticism of society for its immorality, its misuse of power, etc. SDS, however, is far more immoral than the society which it attacks, since its program is one of destruction, i.e., revolution, without any attempt at a basis for reconstruction. If SDS were successful in its attempts to destroy government as such, the resulting chaos would inevitably be followed by a form of dictatorship. History demonstrates this situation time and again.

I attempted to show that the better way to improve society is to work for those corrections and modifications to improve its function and direction. . .

I must correct one statement in your review regarding my membership in the AFT. I resigned over two years ago due to a serious disagreement with the policies, goals and methods of operation. . .

In addition to the power struggle mentioned above, higher education is under severe attack by the "establishment" who fear the natural consequences of its legitimate purpose. We also are under attack by those who wish to restrict the financial support of public education.

I cannot honestly ask for your blanket approval of higher education, since we too have our deficiencies, our excesses, our misuse of trust and responsibility. Despite the admission of shortcomings of higher education, the great majority of us are working desperately to improve the quality and performance of higher education and its service to all segments of society.

We have an abundance of enemies. What we need is support.

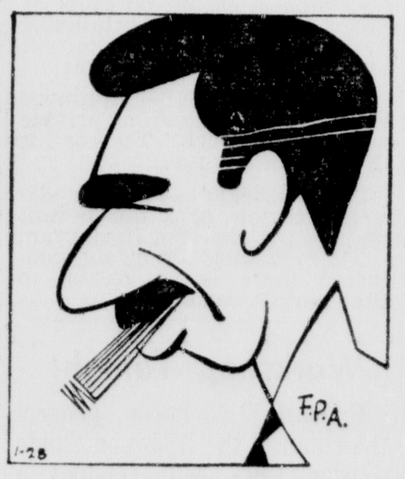
A REVEREND asked one day in a paid advertisement, "Does civilization pay?" Columnist Franklin P. Adams answered, "Yes — but only about 10 cents on the dollar!"

Another time, asked whether he knew 6-foot 7-inch playwright Robert Sherwood, Adams climbed on a chair, extended his arm full length toward the ceiling, and boomed, "Man, I've known Bob Sherwood since he was this high!"



Overheard on the golf-links:

1. "This shot just has to be good. That's my mother-in-law over there watching."

"You'll never make it. She's fully 400 yards away."

2. "Zowie, Caddy! Look at that ball go! About time, too, after three whiffs on the tee."

Strikers Call Shots For College Heads

By JOHN W. GILBAUGH
Professor of Education
San Jose State College

Imagine organized labor gaining control of the management function of business or industry! That is precisely what has happened in the California state colleges.

Obviously, college administrators, as an arm of management, cannot morally sit on the labor side of the negotiating table in efforts to resolve issues in dispute. Yet, this presposterous arrangement has continued unchecked during the college teachers strike.

NOT ONLY have some department heads refused to report absences from teaching assignments by striking professors, but they have joined them on the picket lines. Though a portion of their salaries are paid to perform departmental management functions, some department heads have served as strike leaders.

Furthermore, while state law mandates that any state employee has resigned if he absents himself without leave for five consecutive days, one college president has already set machinery into motion to rehire some of the fired professors. This may circumvent the spirit of the law, and possibly the letter of the law as well. A loophole in the law, though contrary to legislative intent, may provide the basis to restore the jobs of all the professors who have been purged from the state's payroll. The law does not stipulate the length of the period during which a fired professor remains ineligible for re-employment. Consequently, college administrators, some of whom owe their jobs to the striking professors, will leave no stone unturned in their determination to reinstate the fired dissidents

AT NO OTHER time during recent history has the public had such a strategic opportunity to rid the faculties of its tax-supported institutions of the activist and revolutionist professors. Not only should the striking professors be replaced, but their faculty-elected administrative accomplices from department chairman to college president, who conspire to circumvent the letter or spirit of the law, should also be removed for dereliction of duty.

While missing their classes, in addition to setting a reprehensible example for college youth, striking professors expect the taxpayers to close their eyes, grit their teeth, and enthusiastically bear the burden of paying their unearned salaries. Some of the faculty members, claiming to be on strike, meet classes in a physical sense to avoid the five-day law, which would qualify them for dismissal. According to strike standards of organized labor, this is tantamount to "scabbing" on their own union.

Even without invoking the five-day absence provision, those faculty members who accept pay without having fully performed their employment obligations are subject to dismissal for inadequate discharge of thier duties. No faculty-elected administrator, however, would jeopardize his own position by enforcing such a regulation.

HOW ORGANIZED labor can affiliate and support the tactics of subversive college professors who are turning the college campuses into battlefields of revolution is beyond the comprehension of every peace-loving, law-abiding citizen. If organized labor, which has done so much to bring about better standards of living for most of the nation's working men, persists in backing these academic spoilers, it may experience a public opinion backlash which could ring the death knell for the entire labor movement.

During the strike, a city thoroughfare which runs across the central part of the San Jose State College campus has been turned into a virtual Seventh Street Sodom. There, during daily, midday and afternoon gatherings, any observer may hear obscenities spewed by disheveled, bearded, hippy-type, dissident, college professors and their placard-carrying, four-letter-lewd-word-displaying student followers. All this in support of the phony strike by the American Federation of Teachers!

Here, we have a strike in which the issues are as spurious as the professors who daily circle the campus perimeter to disrupt classes by bellowing through bullhorns. Their raucous message is designed to influence other professors and students, who choose to preserve, rather than to destroy, a responsible academic climate.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Control Court Or Face Curbs, Warren Cautioned

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Chief Justice Earl Warren is confronted with a new demand that the Supreme Court tighten its rules of procedure so as to preclude "arbitrary and capricious" decrees by its members.

Unless the tribunal itself institutes such corrective measures, legislation imposing curbs will be sought in Congress, Warren has been warned by Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La.

THE INFLUENTIAL legislator's ire was aroused by stays granted by Justice William O. Douglas blocking the sending of National Guardsmen and reservists to Vietnam. In every instance, such restraining orders had previously been denied by lower federal courts and other members of the Supreme Court — including the chief justice and Justices Black, Brennan, Harlan and White.

"Justice Douglas' action, then and since," Hebert wrote Warren, "has reflected a complete and utter lack of judicial restraint, and in my view was prompted solely by his sense of political activism — in short, his apparent opposition to the war in Vietnam."

HEBERT complained last fall when Douglas granted a stay to a company of Maryland guardsmen after they were repeatedly rebuffed by lower courts and several Supreme Court members. In that letter, Hebert bluntly told Warren that "bizarre circumstances surrounded the issuing of this stay which in my view clearly indicate that Justice Douglas was either unmindful of the implications of his actions, or worse, chose to disregard them entirely."

Hebert urged that the Supreme Court itself take steps to crack down on such procedural free-wheeling. He warned that unless that was done, Congress would be strongly impelled to act.

Warren's reply was noncommittal.

He ignored the issue of tightening the court's rules of procedure, but did say Douglas' controversial stay would be promptly considered. It was, and was thrown out. The balking guardsmen had to go to Vietnam.

In Hebert's latest letter he makes it pointedly clear that he does not intend to let the matter rest. His five-pgae letter to Warren details specific instances in which the liberal Douglas granted stays after they had been denied by other federal courts and jurists.

POINTEDLY noting that Warren ducked the procedural question Hebert raised several months ago, the latter insisted on an explicit reply.

"Since this question is no less pertinent today," wrote Hebert, "I solicit your advice on whether the court itself can within its own organization and authority establish rules of procedure which will preclude a repetition of these unfortunate circumstances in the future. Or, whether Congress may be required to legislate on this subject?"

Two New Groups Enliven Political Picture In Petaluma

Two new organizations aimed at gaining the ear of public officials have been formed in the past two weeks in Petaluma.

The group which has won the most support so far is a new taxpayer group for residents of the east side of Highway 101.

Lack of representation on the city council has long been a compalnt of residents there. All seven members of the council live on the west side. When elected, Councilman Robert S. Lipman resided in an east side tract home, but he moved to the other side of town shortly after taking office.

THE ORGANIZATION already has specific problems it would like to bring before council as a group. A second freeway overpass, possibly at Caulfield Lane, will be sought to alleviate congestion on the East Washington Street overpass.

Also high on the list of gripes is the intersection of East Washington Street and McDowell Boulevard, which residents have called extremely dangerous at peak traffic hours. City officials have been aware of the situation and have been attempting to purchase rights of way to enlarge the interesection and install a traffic signal.

City Engineer David Young, a member of the taxpayer group, said the enlarged intersection has been completely engineered, with only finances and land purchase holding up construction. Most city funds for major street improvements have been earmarked for the higher - priority Washington Street Bridge project, and for enlargement of the intersection of Washington Street and Petaluma Boulevard North, on the west side of town.

THE ORGANIZATION has chosen an auspicious time to form and be heard, with four city council seats up for election on June 10. The terms of Mayor Helen Putnam, Councilmen Phillip S. Joerger, Kenneth C. Colin and Lipman will expire.

Joerger has said informally that he intends to seek re-election, but Lipman said he will give up his seat. Mrs. Putnam and Vice Mayor Colin both claim to be undecided.

Also to be considered is the county supervisor's seat from the Southern Sonoma district from which incumbent Leigh S. Shoemaker intends to retire in January.

Although the organization stated it will not nominate candidates as a group, it may indeed be a strong supporter of persons from the east side.

The East Side Taxpayers will meet today at 8 p.m. at the Bernard E. Eldredge School to make further plans.

THE SECOND organization is being formed to fight sex education in Petaluma schools. Called "Citizens for Quality Education," it is led by Mrs. Kenneth Styles, who until she moved recently to the Petaluma school district was a strong voice against the "Time of Your Life" film series being shown in the Old Adobe School District on the eastern edge of town.

Mrs. Styles, whose husband served on the Old Adobe School board for six years, complains that boards are generally unresponsive to the desires of parents and almost automatically accept recommendations from administrators.

In the next few months, when the members of the board of education are weighing Supt. Lesly H. Meyer's recommendation to use the controversial film series, Mrs. Styles says she hopes her group will be well enough organized to successfully oppose the plan.

The organizational meeting will be held at Mrs. Styles's home at 1080 Petaluma Boulevard North tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

No Wonder Crime Rate Rises —The Way We Coddle Victims

WASHINGTON — There is so much talk about crime in the streets and the rights of the criminal that little attention is being paid to the victims of crime. But there is a current of opinion that our courts are being too soft on the victims, and many of them are going unpunished for allowing a crime to be committeed against them. One man who feels that unless the police start cracking down on the victims of criminal acts, the crime rate in this country will continue to rise.

"The people who are responsible for crime in this country are the victims. If they didn't allow themselves to be robbed, the problem of crime in this country would be solved," Applebaum said.

"THAT MAKES sense, professor. Why do you think the courts are soft on victims of crimes?"

"We're living in a permissive society and anything goes," Applebaum replied. "Victims of crimes don't seem to be concerned about the consequences of their acts. They walk down a street after dark, or they display jewelry in their store windows, or they have their cash registers right out where everyone can see them. They seem to think that they can do this in the United States and get away with it."

"They should know better," I said.

"Look at the way we pamper the victims of crime in this country. As soon as they're hit over the head we call an ambulance and taken them to a hospital. If they've got Blue Cross or a hospital insurance plan, most of their bills will be paid. They know they'll get workmen's compensation while they're recovering. What have they got to lose by becoming victims of a crime?"

"YOU SPEAK as if all the legal machinery in this country was weighted in favor of the victim, instead of the person who committed the crime."

"It is," Applebaum said. "While everyone is worried about the victim, the poor criminal is dragged down to the police station, booked and arraigned, and if he's lucky he'll be let out on bail. He may lose his job if his boss hears about it, and there is even a chance that if he has a police record it may prejudice the judge when he's sentenced."

"I guess in this country people always feel sorrier for the victim than they do for the person who committed the crime."

"You can say that again. Do you know that in some states they are even compensating victims of crimes?"

"IT'S HARD to believe," I said.

"Well, it's true. The dogooders and the bleeding hearts all feel that victims of crimes are misunderstood and if they were treated better they would stop being victims. But the statistics don't bear this out. The easier you are on the victims, the higher the crime rate becomes."

"What is the solution, professor?"

"I say throw the book at anybody who's been robbed. They knew what they were getting into when they decided to be robbed, and they should pay the penalty for it. Once a person has been a victim of crime and realizes he can't get away with it, the chances of his becoming a victim again will be slim."

"WHY DO PEOPLE want to become victims of crime, professor?"

"Who knows? They're probably looking for thrills. Boredom plays a part, but I would think the biggest factor is that victims think they can still walk around the streets of their cities and get away with it. Once they learn they can't, you'll see a big drop in crime statistics."

"You make a lot of sense, professor. Do you believe the American people are ready to listen to you?

"They'd better be, because the criminal element is getting pretty fed up with all the permissive coddling of victims that is going on in this country."

Recent Rains Prompt Street Clarification

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Sonoma County supervisors yesterday were asked to remove a short Petaluma street from the list of county maintained roads.

Donald Head, road commissioner, said he thought that Ellis Street, north of East Madison Street, had been included in the list of county roads through a clerical error made many years ago. He noted reports by long-time county road employees showed the county had never done any work on the one-tenth-mile strip of roadway.

Head said the question came up about two weeks ago when heavy rains washed away a private bridge on the street. He said county crews barricaded the bridge to prevent an accident and also worked several days to provide another access for two families living in the area.

Head said the work was done on an emergency basis since most of the residents were aged and included several invalids who needed to be assured of access to medical facilities. The commissioner said the street has not been annexed by the City of Petaluma.

A resolution to delete the street from the county list will be proposed at a supervisors' meeting in May.

The Sonoma County supervisors also:

RIOT CONTROL — Heard request from Sheriff John A. Ellis that $1,526 be appropriated to purchase equipment for the new riot control squad. He said the funds would be used to purchase gloves, batons, fog-making machines and helmet visors for the 15 deputies who have been training for a month.

NAME CHANGE — Delayed changing the name of Peterson Road in Petaluma to Petersen Road because the change has not been properly advertised.

Dance Group Will Offer Scholarships

The Marin Dance Council is offering folk dance camp scholarships to any Marin resident at least 26 years old.

Winners will be given a choice of attending folk dance camps in Mendicino, Stockton, Idlywild or Santa Barbara.

Race Is Not Major Issue, Mother Says

Racial prejudice, if it exists in the Lucas Valley-Marinwood area, does not extend to Santa Venetia, a Santa Venetia mother said yesterday.

Mrs. Joseph P. Belle, a Marin resident for 25 years, the last four in Santa Venetia, told the Independent-Journal she thought the I-J's recent series on racial problems created the impression there are such problems in Santa Venetia.

"We have never had any trouble in the area," said Mrs. Belle, a Negro. Disagreements which may arise are not due to prejudice, but to personality conflicts, she said.

For example, Mrs. Belle said, an incident involving her son, reported in the series on race relations, was misunderstood.

Her son, 17-year-old Joseph E. Belle, was not beaten to the ground by white youths in a racial incident as stated in the I-J, she said. He was having a long-standing disagreement with two youths, but the color difference was not the problem, she said.

"We enjoy our peace and quiet," said Mrs. Belle who has been active in Santa Venetia activities with her white neighbors.

served as publicity chairman of John MacPhail School and is a deacon at the Presbyterian Church of Santa Venetia.

$2.1 Million Needed To Permit Switch To Middle School Plan

(Second of four articles)

San Rafael Elementary School District's $2.1 million bond election Feb. 18 involves not only a building program but an educational concept.

The idea is to group sixth, seventh and eighth graders in what educators have termed middle schools.

Santa Venetia Middle School has been operating under this system since 1966, but if the bonds are passed there will be three middle schools.

Davidson Junior High School would become a middle school and the proposed new school at Glenwood would be a middle school.

Sixth graders in neighborhood schools would be switched to the middle schools, freeing 14 classrooms for use by kindergarten through fifth grade.

Your Elementary Schools Committee, the district's bond campaign committee, views the middle school "as a transitional phase between the self-contained classroom of the neighborhood elementary school and the varied, departmentalized environment of the high school." This is the same concept as in the junior high school.

The three-year grouping starting with sixth grade is currently fashionable among educators.

Supt. John F. Plank said opening of a new middle school, combined with switching of sixth graders, would "add room in the district for 900 pupils."

It would provide permanent classrooms for 425 pupils now housed in portable classrooms and space to meet the expected growth in the next four to five years, about 100 pupils a year, he said.

Plank conceded that not all the space opened up in elementary schools would be needed immediately, but contended the district would not be overbuilding.

The space would be used for expanded libraries, science areas, language and audio-visual centers or art centers until needed for classrooms, he said.

If enrollment growth were uneven and other space were available, it could be used for special education classes that "are meeting all over" or by psychologists "who are interviewing in closets," Plank said.

All 23 classrooms constructed with funds from a $3.3 million bond measure in 1964 are filled, except two rooms at Gallinas School, which sends sixth graders to Santa Venetia Middle School. Four would be unused until future growth of enrollment.

Coleman School would gain three classrooms; Laurel Dell Intermediate, three; San Pedro, three; Glenwood, two, and Bahia Vista, Sun Valley and West End schools, one each.

Proposed uses for the space are:

Coleman School, one room to replace a portable, one for an expanded library, leaving one for future growth.

Laurel Dell Intermediate, one room for special education programs, with two left for growth.

San Pedro, to replace three portables and provide library facilities.

Glenwood, one room to replace a portable, leaving one for growth.

Bahia Vista, one room for a language and audio-visual center, science area or arts area.

West End, one room will be released for remodeling of the central portion of the main building.

The middle school experiment at Santa Venetia has met with approval from teachers, parents and pupils, according to a poll, the YES committee reported.

Parents, according to the committee, wrote that the middle school system gave their children more opportunity to develop their potential, and teachers said it provided sixth graders access to special teachers for specialized subjects.

One of the questions expected to be raised by parents is whether sixth graders are socially ready to mingle with the junior high group. The committee contends there is no evidence that placing a sixth grader in a middle school will push him too fast socially.

For those who believe the middle school is a new idea, the committee reported that "grouping of sixth, seventh and eighth grades in San Rafael existed in 1922. It was later changed when seventh and eighth grade students were moved to another building to provide additional space."

In a middle school the sixth grader spends much of his time in a self-contained classroom, but has a chance to work in foreign languages, art and music with specialists.

In the seventh grade students work in larger time blocks with two or more teachers, and eight grade approaches the high school format with shorter blocks of time and more electives, Plank explained.

Contractor Faces Loss Of $7,640

The Lagunitas School District board voted last night to withhold $7,640 from the final payment for construction on the new San Geronimo Valley Elementary School for several unfinished items.

The contractor for the new school, which opened Nov. 18, is E. H. Chapman of San Rafael. Supt. Marshall J. McCuniff said if the work is not finished within 30 days, new contracts for the remaining work will be let.

Unfinished items include installation of electrical fixtures and replacement of faulty skylights, McCuniff said.

The board had been scheduled to begin consideration of its 1969-70 budget but postponed that until next Monday because of the press of other business. No preliminary budget figures are yet available.

In other action, the board announced that the dedication of the San Geronimo Valley School will be at 1 p.m., March 1, and set next Monday's meeting for a public hearing on the proposed transfer of ownership of two small tracts of land near the school.

Jail Term On Driving Count

Christopher C. Leslie, 28, of Piedmont, was sentenced yesterday in Marin Superior Court to 90 days in the county jail for drunken driving which resulted in a head-on collision on Golden Gate Bridge on Sept. 28, 1967.

Leslie, who formerly lived in Sausalito, was also ordered to pay a $500 fine by Judge Harold J. Haley.

Probation officers said that Leslie, who was himself seriously injured in the accident, no longer drinks. They added that the other persons injured in the accident have recovered.

Peak Traffic No-Parking Lane Voted

The San Anselmo Planning Commission by a 4-1 vote yesterday recommended to the city council that a Sir Francis Drake Boulevard parking lane be used for westbound traffic during peak commuter evening traffic.

Proposed was that parking on the lane from El Cerrito Avenue to Butterfield Road, be banned from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. daily. A similar plan is in operation on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from the Hub intersection to El Cerrito.

City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell said the commission majority felt the extension would only be a short-term solution to the heavy traffic problem, however, and that it would be an undesirable change for the neighborhood.

Commissioner Allen J. Creighton voted against the recommendation. Commissioner Philip S. Heinecke abstained, and Commissioner Joseph Gue was absent.

The council had requested a recommendation.

The San Anselmo Planning Commission also:

LOT LINE — Approved revision of a lot line on property owned by Richard Shortall and Rosalind Watkin to make two lots out of three existing lots.

USE PERMIT — Held a six-month review of a use permit granted the Bon Vin Restaurant at 112 Spaulding Street and concluded there is no reason to alter permit conditions.

Workshop Tonight

Edward W. Johnson, general chairman of the Redwood Shade Garden Club, will conduct a workshop on pruning fuchsias at 8 p.m. today at Whitaker Hall, St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Golden Gate and Bay View Avenue, Belvedere.

WILLIAM B. LEWIS
15 years on board

W. B. Lewis Resigns Tam Trustee Job

William B. Lewis of San Anselmo resigned last night as trustee of the Tamalpais High School District. He had served on the board 15 years.

Lewis, not present at the meeting, wrote that his work took him out of town too frequently to continue serving on the board.

Lewis, an insurance company representantive, and his wife, who reside at 1623 San Anselmo Avenue, have three daughters, all of whom were graduated from Drake High School.

Trustees will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m., Feb. 13, at the district office to appoint and interview trustee candidates to fill the vacancy. They set Monday as the deadline for interested parties to submit their names to the Superintendent's office.

To Review Budget

The Fairfax School District trustees will meet 7:45 p.m. next Tuesday at the district office to discuss the 1969-70 budget and the sixth grade camping program.

Tam Teachers' Pay Boosts Challenged In Budget Study

Trustee Bette C. Wallace noted that the tentative amount for teachers, salaries — $592,000 — was three times what it is in the current budget, $217,000, and far above the 1966-67 figure, $185,000. She asked why.

Frank A. Cassou, district business director, explained that the $592,000 represented only the sum proposed by the Tamalpais District Teachers Association, including fringe benefits.

The new budget — for which only preliminary figures were prepared last night — does include hiring of five new teachers, however.

Total 1968-69 budget is $9,181,336. The total 1969-70 budget has not been set but the Proposed 1969-70 operating budget is $8,562,408 compared with the current figure of $8,879,084. No tax rate was discussed last night.

Mrs. Wallace noted that the preliminary budget showed that spending exceeded income by $400,000.

Cassou explained that, for the first time, balancing was done by program — not by dollars. "You assign priorities to your program so that everything most essential is built within the resources of the district," he said. Ring appeared a bit skeptical at this but it was agreed that the format would continue to be used with the final budget to be presented also in the regular state form.

Trsstee David D. Ring, noting that the cost of in-service training for teachers is projected at $7,349, asked for more details on where money was being spent in other parts of the budget on such training. He indicated the sum was very low for such an important item.

Tamalpais High School District Board Also:

MEETINGS — Set a closed session at 4 p.m. Monday, at the district office to select a board member to meet with the Teachers Negotiation Council. It set a special meeting Feb. 13 at 8 p.m. to appoint and interview board candidates to fill the vacancy of trustee William B. Lewis, and canceled its regular Feb. 17 meeting.

OPPORTUNITY SCHOOL — Authorized hiring a team leader for the proposed Opportunity School, a school which is to give special training to potential dropouts. The job is to run to June 30. Salary is to be determined by the candidate's placement on the salary schedule. Supt. Chester G. Carlisle said that, if and when the school is approved, he will ask the board for a 2-cent override tax to finance it.

DRUG ABUSE — Trustee Ring asked for a summary of district policies and practices on handling drug abuse to be submitted Mar. 3.

CALENDAR — Approved the 1969-70 school calendar of 176 school days from Sept. 8 to June 12.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations of Brooks H. Dutt, photography teacher, Drake High School, who is retiring June 30 and Mrs. Joan Bandes, librarian, Tamalpais High, now on leave, who is taking a job at the University of Idaho, Pocatello.

NEW TEACHERS — Agreed to hire until June 30 Mrs. Vida Ray H. Freeman of San Anselmo, as substitute mathematics teacher, Drake High, replacing Larry Dickey who died last December and Jens L. Lund of Berkeley for the year 1969-70, to take Mrs. Freeman's position July 1. Salaries were not disclosed.

Guilty Plea To Pot Possession

Garth J. B. Upton, 24, of San Anselmo pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of possessing marijuana in San Rafael on Nov. 18, 1966.

Upton, however, denied that the amount of the drug was the large quantity which police claimed they found in the trunk of his car. Officers had said that he had a $20,000 cache of the drug.

His case had been held up until a decision last year by the California District Court of Appeals overturned an illegal search ruling.

Upton was ordered by Judge Halold J. Haley to return to Court March 10 for sentencing.

Guilty Plea To Theft Of Auto

Richard Bruce Schwartz, 24, of Gate Six near Sausalito, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to two charges of car theft, one charge of possessing a bad check with intent to defraud and possessing a hypodermic needle.

Judge Harold J. Haley suspended proceedings in the case, however, until it is determined whether Schwartz is addicted to drugs or in danger of becoming so.

Schwartz was arrested Jan. 16 by Mill Valley police.

Don't fight it.

It means that every year you lug 2,000 pounds 40 miles in round trips from house to clothesline. You pinch and unpinch about 10,000 clothespins. And you spend needless hours ironing the press back into permanent press clothes. So why fight it? See your appliance dealer about a new clothes dryer.

'We Have Nothing To Hide' (As Of Oct. 22, 1968)

The San Rafael Board of Education devoted long discussion one night last summer to how to increase communication between board and community.

One after another, the board members bemoaned lack of public interest and participation in the affairs of the city's elementary and high school districts.

"There is a lack of communication between the board and the community, and I don't place the blame anywhere," said board member Herman L. Childress Jr.

The board, in an effort to do something about it, authorized Supt. John F. Plank to issue periodical reports to the public, to be printed and distributed at public expense.

That was on July 9.

LITTLE OVER A MONTH later, the board scheduled a meeting to discuss elementary and high school building plans, to be held in the office of Marshall Bowles and Associates, architects, in San Francisco. Only after Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino called to the superintendent's attention that a meeting outside the school district would be illegal, was the discussion of plans which led eventually to the bond issue before voters on Feb. 18 moved to San Rafael High School, to give citizens a chance to attend.

Not many attended.

THE NEED for better communication with the public was still present in October. On Oct. 22, Mrs. E. M. Cole appeared at the board meeting to voice her displeasure over hearing that report cards were being done away with and to ask if it were true, as she had heard rumored, that San Rafael was going to put in non-graded schools.

Superintendent Plank assured her that report cards were not being abolished. As to non-graded schools, he said, Glenwood, Sun Valley and Coleman Schools "are started in that direction," and plans for the expanded Short School were for non-graded classrooms.

Mrs. Cole said she thought plans for such a change should be imparted to parents. Board members agreed.

"We have nothing to hide," said Childress.

When Superintendent Plank presented the material for his first printed report to the public, board chairman Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. criticized it for not containing enough specific information. The superintendent had to do it over.

NOT IN EVERYTHING, however, is the San Rafael Board of Education so eager to "share with you," as the teachers say.

Early this month, the board scheduled a closed session to "evaluate" Superintendent Plank, whose four-year contract has two years to run. Implicit in such "evaluation" was and is a probable pay raise.

However, at the Jan. 14 meeting, at which the closed evaluation session was scheduled, Plank informed the board that he had been advised by Godino that it would be illegal.

At last week's board meeting, Kramer declared:

"I can't believe that even the Brown Act wants us to dissect whatever bad points there may be in front of the whole world."

Childress agreed. This time he did not say, "We have nothing to hide."

SHARING, PERHAPS, is only for the good things?

Come, come, gentlemen! John Plank is perfectly capable of defending himself, in public or private.

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Sen. John F. McCarthy's pronouncement last week that he will be a candidate for the most powerful position in the Senate, president pro tempore, if the GOP gets a 21-19 edge by winning the special election in Contra Costa County, was greeted with unanimous disbelief by this writer's capitol sources.

All agreed with McCarthy that he would need Democratic support, but none saw him getting it. The same eight or nine Democratic senators who want to dump the present pro tem, Sen. Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, won't go for McCarthy as an alternative because he is as much a bulwark of the Senate's bipartisan old guard, as Burns, they said.

A more likely Republican candidate would be Sen. Howard Way, of Exeter, according to these sources.

Ironically, strong pressure is reported in the Republican Senate caucus to bounce McCarthy as a member of the rules committee, of which he is the vice chairman and Burns chairman. The pressure comes from GOP senators who want a stronger voice on the committee, which is dominated, 3-2, by Democrats.

McCarthy's motive for his pronouncement simply may have been to quiet Republicans who think party loyalty is more important than perpetuating the old guard in the Senate.

His challenge also is good for consumption on the local front — assuming McCarthy will run again next year.

AS FOR THE special election next month for the seat vacated by the death of Democratic Sen. George Miller Jr. of Martinez, Republican registration has increased with the growth of suburbs in Contra Costa.

Also, special elections in California almost always have been won by Republicans. Voters easily cross party lines because there is only one ballot in special elections, and California Democrats often turn out to be Republicans anyway.

So McCarthy may have a chance to make good on his challenge.

ASSEMBLY SPEAKER Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, declared a "general policy" at the beginning of the legislative session that committee chairmen would serve on only one other committee besides his own.

But after Monagan had gone through the elaborate process of making assignments, he found two GOP assemblymen on two other committees. The two are his political allies, William T. Bagley of San Rafael and John G. Veneman of Modesto. Bagley even was on a third, but was dropped from it.

So much for policies that don't turn out to match the speaker's own needs.

Schoolmen Up Tight On Snowball Fight

Ever since high school physics I was under the impression that one should not operate a steam boiler without a safety valve. Later, in psychology class we were told that humans, too, need a relief valve once in a while, teenagers particularly.

Reading your article today (Jan. 30) about the anti-snowball fight school officials of Redwood High, and having grown up in areas blessed with plenty of snow, I remembered with nostalgia the many happy and envigorating snowball fights of my school years.

Our teachers usually encouraged a good, healthy, clean workout in the snow and sometimes even joined our friendly battles. But then, they preferred this type of blow-off valve to absenteeism, militancy and drugs.

Editorial Ignores Basis For Unrest

Your editorial of Feb. 1, "Disrupters on Campus: Revolution's Vanguard," is another example of your insensitivity to the underlying issues of the strikes at San Francisco State and elsewhere. It would seem that there are some legitimate demands in the strike. Your editorials do little to clarify the situation when they focus on anarchy and irresponsibility rather than suggesting ways in which the college system might meet the needs of all citizens — the poor and minorities as well as middle class whites.

General questions which students are raising are: (1) Why does the university only study social issues, without making any effort to overcome unjust situations: What sense does the study of democracy make, for instance, if those who try to participate are suppressed, as happened at the Democratic convention? (2) Why must universities concentrate on defense-related technology at the expense of the humanities and the arts: What does it mean for technical man to be human? (3) Is the only purpose of education to obtain a degree and a job?

Specifically, at San Francisco State, those black students who have discovered that "Black is beautiful," those who have begun to find their identity as worthwhile human beings, are demanding a black studies department. History teaching in this country has never recognized the background or identity of the black man. Are we to be surprised that blacks demand department? . . .

Your editorial of Dec. 17, "To Restore Responsibility, Bring Back Woodshed," suggested that student rebels were incapable of benefitting from college educations. In fact, student rebels are often among the better students. . . . It is those that hold the power that force the radicalization of the protestors, for if the needs of the students were being met, the protest would not have grown to such proportions.

Education Needs Support Of All

Several points should be clarified regarding the debate between Mr. Tom Hayden and myself at the College of Marin. The basis on which the SDS movement obtains its support lies in its criticism of society for its immorality, its misuse of power, etc. SDS, however, is far more immoral than the society which it attacks, since its program is one of destruction, i.e., revolution, without any attempt at a basis for reconstruction. If SDS were successful in its attempts to destroy government as such, the resulting chaos would inevitably be followed by a form of dictatorship. History demonstrates this situation time and again.

I attempted to show that the better way to improve society is to work for those corrections and modifications to improve its function and direction. . .

I must correct one statement in your review regarding my membership in the AFT. I resigned over two years ago due to a serious disagreement with the policies, goals and methods of operation. . .

In addition to the power struggle mentioned above, higher education is under severe attack by the "establishment" who fear the natural consequences of its legitimate purpose. We also are under attack by those who wish to restrict the financial support of public education.

I cannot honestly ask for your blanket approval of higher education, since we too have our deficiencies, our excesses, our misuse of trust and responsibility. Despite the admission of shortcomings of higher education, the great majority of us are working desperately to improve the quality and performance of higher education and its service to all segments of society.

We have an abundance of enemies. What we need is support.

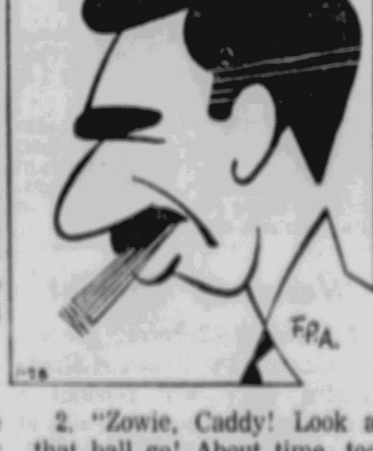
TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A REVEREND asked one day in a paid advertisement, "Does civilization pay?" Columnist Franklin P. Adams answered, "Yes — but only about 10 cents on the dollar!"

Another time, asked whether he knew 6-foot 7-inch playwright Robert Sherwood, Adams climbed on a chair, extended his arm full length toward the ceiling, and boomed, "Man, I've known Bob Sherwood since he was this high!"



Overheard on the golf-links:

1. "This shot just has to be good. That's my mother-in-law over there watching."

"You'll never make it. She's fully 400 yards away."

2. "Zowie, Caddy! Look at that ball go! About time, too, after three whiffs on the tee."

"Sorry, sir. That's not the ball. That's your wrist-watch."

AN EDUCATOR'S VIEW

Strikers Call Shots For College Heads

By JOHN W. GILBAUGH
Professor of Education
San Jose State College

Imagine organized labor gaining control of the management function of business or industry! That is precisely what has happened in the California state colleges.

Obviously, college administrators, as an arm of management, cannot morally sit on the labor side of the negotiating table in efforts to resolve issues in dispute. Yet, this presposterous arrangement has continued unchecked during the college teachers strike.

NOT ONLY have some department heads refused to report absences from teaching assignments by striking professors, but they have joined them on the picket lines. Though a portion of their salaries are paid to perform departmental management functions, some department heads have served as strike leaders.

Furthermore, while state law mandates that any state employee has resigned if he absents himself without leave for five consecutive days, one college president has already set machinery into motion to rehire some of the fired professors. This may circumvent the spirit of the law, and possibly the letter of the law as well. A loophole in the law, though contrary to legislative intent, may provide the basis to restore the jobs of all the professors who have been purged from the state's payroll. The law does not stipulate the length of the period during which a fired professor remains ineligible for re-employment. Consequently, college administrators, some of whom owe their jobs to the striking professors, will leave no stone unturned in their determination to reinstate the fired dissidents

AT NO OTHER time during recent history has the public had such a strategic opportunity to rid the faculties of its tax-supported institutions of the activist and revolutionist professors. Not only should the striking professors be replaced, but their faculty-elected administrative accomplices from department chairman to college president, who conspire to circumvent the letter or spirit of the law, should also be removed for dereliction of duty.

While missing their classes, in addition to setting a reprehensible example for college youth, striking professors expect the taxpayers to close their eyes, grit their teeth, and enthusiastically bear the burden of paying their unearned salaries. Some of the faculty members, claiming to be on strike, meet classes in a physical sense to avoid the five-day law, which would qualify them for dismissal. According to strike standards of organized labor, this is tantamount to "scabbing" on their own union.

Even without invoking the five-day absence provision, those faculty members who accept pay without having fully performed their employment obligations are subject to dismissal for inadequate discharge of thier duties. No faculty-elected administrator, however, would jeopardize his own position by enforcing such a regulation.

HOW ORGANIZED labor can affiliate and support the tactics of subversive college professors who are turning the college campuses into battlefields of revolution is beyond the comprehension of every peace-loving, law-abiding citizen. If organized labor, which has done so much to bring about better standards of living for most of the nation's working men, persists in backing these academic spoilers, it may experience a public opinion backlash which could ring the death knell for the entire labor movement.

During the strike, a city thoroughfare which runs across the central part of the San Jose State College campus has been turned into a virtual Seventh Street Sodom. There, during daily, midday and afternoon gatherings, any observer may hear obscenities spewed by disheveled, bearded, hippy-type, dissident, college professors and their placard-carrying, four-letter-lewd-word-displaying student followers. All this in support of the phony strike by the American Federation of Teachers!

Here, we have a strike in which the issues are as spurious as the professors who daily circle the campus perimeter to disrupt classes by bellowing through bullhorns. Their raucous message is designed to influence other professors and students, who choose to preserve, rather than to destroy, a responsible academic climate.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Control Court Or Face Curbs, Warren Cautioned

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Chief Justice Earl Warren is confronted with a new demand that the Supreme Court tighten its rules of procedure so as to preclude "arbitrary and capricious" decrees by its members.

Unless the tribunal itself institutes such corrective measures, legislation imposing curbs will be sought in Congress, Warren has been warned by Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La.

THE INFLUENTIAL legislator's ire was aroused by stays granted by Justice William O. Douglas blocking the sending of National Guardsmen and reservists to Vietnam. In every instance, such restraining orders had previously been denied by lower federal courts and other members of the Supreme Court — including the chief justice and Justices Black, Brennan, Harlan and White.

Every one of Douglas' stays was subsequently thrown out by the Supreme Court as a whole.

"Justice Douglas' action, then and since," Hebert wrote Warren, "has reflected a complete and utter lack of judicial restraint, and in my view was prompted solely by his sense of political activism — in short, his apparent opposition to the war in Vietnam."

HEBERT complained last fall when Douglas granted a stay to a company of Maryland guardsmen after they were repeatedly rebuffed by lower courts and several Supreme Court members. In that letter, Hebert bluntly told Warren that "bizarre circumstances surrounded the issuing of this stay which in my view clearly indicate that Justice Douglas was either unmindful of the implications of his actions, or worse, chose to disregard them entirely."

Hebert urged that the Supreme Court itself take steps to crack down on such procedural free-wheeling. He warned that unless that was done, Congress would be strongly impelled to act.

Warren's reply was noncommittal.

He ignored the issue of tightening the court's rules of procedure, but did say Douglas' controversial stay would be promptly considered. It was, and was thrown out. The balking guardsmen had to go to Vietnam.

In Hebert's latest letter he makes it pointedly clear that he does not intend to let the matter rest. His five-pgae letter to Warren details specific instances in which the liberal Douglas granted stays after they had been denied by other federal courts and jurists.

POINTEDLY noting that Warren ducked the procedural question Hebert raised several months ago, the latter insisted on an explicit reply.

"Since this question is no less pertinent today," wrote Hebert, "I solicit your advice on whether the court itself can within its own organization and authority establish rules of procedure which will preclude a repetition of these unfortunate circumstances in the future. Or, whether Congress may be required to legislate on this subject?"

Two New Groups Enliven Political Picture In Petaluma

Two new organizations aimed at gaining the ear of public officials have been formed in the past two weeks in Petaluma.

The group which has won the most support so far is a new taxpayer group for residents of the east side of Highway 101.

Lack of representation on the city council has long been a complaint of residents there. All seven members of the council live on the west side. When elected, Councilman Robert S. Lipman resided in an east side tract home, but he moved to the other side of town shortly after taking office.

THE ORGANIZATION already has specific problems it would like to bring before council as a group. A second freeway overpass, possibly at Caulfield Lane, will be sought to alleviate congestion on the East Washington Street overpass.

Also high on the list of gripes is the intersection of East Washington Street and McDowell Boulevard, which residents have called extremely dangerous at peak traffic hours. City officials have been aware of the situation and have been attempting to purchase rights of way to enlarge the interesection and install a traffic signal.

City Engineer David Young, a member of the taxpayer group, said the enlarged intersection has been completely engineered, with only finances and land purchase holding up construction. Most city funds for major street improvements have been earmarked for the higher - priority Washington Street Bridge project, and for enlargement of the intersection of Washington Street and Petaluma Boulevard North, on the west side of town.

THE ORGANIZATION has chosen an auspicious time to form and be heard, with four city council seats up for election on June 10. The terms of Mayor Helen Putnam, Councilmen Phillip S. Joerger, Kenneth C. Colin and Lipman will expire.

Joerger has said informally that he intends to seek re-election, but Lipman said he will give up his seat. Mrs. Putnam and Vice Mayor Colin both claim to be undecided.

Also to be considered is the county supervisor's seat from the Southern Sonoma district from which incumbent Leigh S. Shoemaker intends to retire in January.

Although the organization stated it will not nominate candidates as a group, it may indeed be a strong supporter of persons from the east side.

The East Side Taxpayers will meet today at 8 p.m. at the Bernard E. Eldredge School to make further plans.

THE SECOND organization is being formed to fight sex education in Petaluma schools. Called "Citizens for Quality Education," it is led by Mrs. Kenneth Styles, who until she moved recently to the Petaluma school district was a strong voice against the "Time of Your Life" film series being shown in the Old Adobe School District on the eastern edge of town.

Mrs. Styles, whose husband served on the Old Adobe School board for six years, complains that boards are generally unresponsive to the desires of parents and almost automatically accept recommendations from administrators.

In the next few months, when the members of the board of education are weighing Supt. Lesly H. Meyer's recommendation to use the controversial film series, Mrs. Styles says she hopes her group will be well enough organized to successfully oppose the plan.

The organizational meeting will be held at Mrs. Styles's home at 1080 Petaluma Boulevard North tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

No Wonder Crime Rate Rises –The Way We Coddle Victims

WASHINGTON — There is so much talk about crime in the streets and the rights of the criminal that little attention is being paid to the victims of crime. But there is a current of opinion that our courts are being too soft on the victims, and many of them are going unpunished for allowing a crime to be committeed against them. One man who feels that unless the police start cracking down on the victims of criminal acts, the crime rate in this country will continue to rise.

"The people who are responsible for crime in this country are the victims. If they didn't allow themselves to be robbed, the problem of crime in this country would be solved," Applebaum said.

"THAT MAKES sense, professor. Why do you think the courts are soft on victims of crimes?"

"We're living in a permissive society and anything goes," Applebaum replied. "Victims of crimes don't seem to be concerned about the consequences of their acts. They walk down a street after dark, or they display jewelry in their store windows, or they have their cash registers right out where everyone can see them. They seem to think that they can do this in the United States and get away with it."

"They should know better," I said.

"Look at the way we pamper the victims of crime in this country. As soon as they're hit over the head we call an ambulance and taken them to a hospital. If they've got Blue Cross or a hospital insurance plan, most of their bills will be paid. They know they'll get workmen's compensation while they're recovering. What have they got to lose by becoming victims of a crime?"

"YOU SPEAK as if all the legal machinery in this country was weighted in favor of the victim, instead of the person who committed the crime."

"It is," Applebaum said. "While everyone is worried about the victim, the poor criminal is dragged down to the police station, booked and arraigned, and if he's lucky he'll be let out on bail. He may lose his job if his boss hears about it, and there is even a chance that if he has a police record it may prejudice the judge when he's sentenced."

"I guess in this country people always feel sorrier for the victim than they do for the person who committed the crime."

"You can say that again. Do you know that in some states they are even compensating victims of crimes?"

"IT'S HARD to believe," I said.

"Well, it's true. The do-gooders and the bleeding hearts all feel that victims of crimes are misunderstood and if they were treated better they would stop being victims. But the statistics don't bear this out. The easier you are on the victims, the higher the crime rate becomes."

"What is the solution, professor?"

"I say throw the book at anybody who's been robbed. They knew what they were getting into when they decided to be robbed, and they should pay the penalty for it. Once a person has been a victim of crime and realizes he can't get away with it, the chances of his becoming a victim again will be slim."

"WHY DO PEOPLE want to become victims of crime, professor?"

"Who knows? They're probably looking for thrills. Boredom plays a part, but I would think the biggest factor is that victims think they can still walk around the streets of their cities and get away with it. Once they learn they can't, you'll see a big drop in crime statistics."

"You make a lot of sense, professor. Do you believe the American people are ready to listen to you?

"They'd better be, because the criminal element is getting pretty fed up with all the permissive coddling of victims that is going on in this country."

Recent Rains Prompt Street Clarification

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Sonoma County supervisors yesterday were asked to remove a short Petaluma street from the list of county maintained roads.

Donald Head, road commissioner, said he thought that Ellis Street, north of East Madison Street, had been included in the list of county roads through a clerical error made many years ago. He noted reports by long-time county road employees showed the county had never done any work on the one-tenth-mile strip of roadway.

Head said the question came up about two weeks ago when heavy rains washed away a private bridge on the street. He said county crews barricaded the bridge to prevent an accident and also worked several days to provide another access for two families living in the area.

Head said the work was done on an emergency basis since most of the residents were aged and included several invalids who needed to be assured of access to medical facilities. The commissioner said the street has not been annexed by the City of Petaluma.

A resolution to delete the street from the county list will be proposed at a supervisors' meeting in May.

The Sonoma County supervisors also:

RIOT CONTROL — Heard request from Sheriff John A. Ellis that $1,526 be appropriated to purchase equipment for the new riot control squad. He said the funds would be used to purchase gloves, batons, fog-making machines and helmet visors for the 15 deputies who have been training for a month.

NAME CHANGE — Delayed changing the name of Peterson Road in Petaluma to Petersen Road because the change has not been properly advertised.

Dance Group Will Offer Scholarships

The Marin Dance Council is offering folk dance camp scholarships to any Marin resident at least 26 years old.

Winners will be given a choice of attending folk dance camps in Mendicino, Stockton, Idlywild or Santa Barbara.

Race Is Not Major Issue, Mother Says

Racial prejudice, if it exists in the Lucas Valley-Marinwood area, does not extend to Santa Venetia, a Santa Venetia mother said yesterday.

Mrs. Joseph P. Belle, a Marin resident for 25 years, the last four in Santa Venetia, told the Independent-Journal she thought the I-J's recent series on racial problems created the impression there are such problems in Santa Venetia.

"We have never had any trouble in the area," said Mrs. Belle, a Negro. Disagreements which may arise are not due to prejudice, but to personality conflicts, she said.

For example, Mrs. Belle said, an incident involving her son, reported in the series on race relations, was misunderstood.

Her son, 17-year-old Joseph E. Belle, was not beaten to the ground by white youths in a racial incident as stated in the I-J, she said. He was having a long-standing disagreement with two youths, but the color difference was not the problem, she said.

"We enjoy our peace and quiet," said Mrs. Belle who has been active in Santa Venetia activities with her white neighbors.

served as publicity chairman of John MacPhail School and is a deacon at the Presbyterian Church of Santa Venetia.

Preliminary Hearing Slated On Marijuana

A preliminary hearing was set for March 3 for Peter Robert Harris, 21, of San Francisco, who is accused of possession of marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

He was arrested Dec. 28 near Point Reyes Station.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Flying presents No Problems With Most Chronic Diseases

VAN DELLEN

When the wintry blasts begin, many northerners get ready for their vacation in the south. Some drive; others go by bus or train. When it comes to flying, persons with heart trouble, high blood pressure, emphysema, or the residuals of a stroke may hesitate.

There usually is no basis for their concern because almost everyone can fly in planes equipped with pressurized cabins.

IF THE INDIVIDUAL can walk down the street or up a flight of stairs without discomfort, he can travel by air. But if he is dropsical or so short of breath, he pants even when lying down, plane travel is out.

The victim of coronary thrombosis should postpone his trip for a minimum of six weeks after the attack because this is how long it takes for the heart to heal.

A wheelchair is available for any one who cannot manage the walk to the boarding ramp.

MAKING THE TRIP in a pressurized cabin will not raise blood pressure but the excitement of traveling and the anxiety of flying might have this effect on the hypertensive. Air sickness may do the same.

Pregnant women beyond the eighth month should not travel by air. The same applies to women who habitually mis-carry, to infants under 14 days of age, to persons with marked anemia, and to diabetics who cannot administer their own insulin or who are subject to unusual reactions or coma.

Flying may aggravate any active lung disease, as well as nasal congestion, colds, and other upper respiratory disorders.

IN THESE instances, altitudes may encourage spread of the infection to the ears and sinuses. Persons with a contagious disease are forbidden to travel by air, not because it affects the illness, but because the disease may be transmitted to others.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

REDUCING CHOLESTEROL

B. C. writes: Is corn oil the only way to keep the blood cholesterol down? My father has gained a lot of weight since he started taking it and the added poundage is not good for his high blood pressure.

REPLY

The level of cholesterol in the blood also can be reduced via low-fat diet, the use of niacin, thyroid extract, or a vegetable steroid like sitosterol. The latest is Atromid-S, which appears to be the most effective to date.

NOISY NECK

A reader writes: Can anything be done about grating of the vertebrae in the neck?

REPLY

Yes. Grating usually is due to a rheumatic condition. Heat, massage, and the usual neck exercises help make the affected tissues more supple. Our leaflet on these exercises can be obtained by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

MISSING SPINAL PART

Mrs. C. T. Writes: Can anything be done for a newborn with apina bifida?

REPLY

In this developmental defect, the bone fails to cover the spinal cord. When strongly marked, nerve tissues may protrude from the back like a large cyst, and surgery is required. Nothing need be done unless the spinal cord is affected.

HORMONES AND HAIR

Miss L. writes: Do hormone shots for the menopause, injected into the hips, cause hair on the face?

REPLY

Not if these are female sex hormones. Age and the change of life are more common causes.

PARKINSONISM CHRONIC

A. R. B. writes: My mother has shaking palsy and has used every new drug that comes out, but she still has the symptom. Is there a cure?

REPLY

No. Parkinson's disease is chronic, but the tremor often can be controled via medication and physical therapy. L-dopa, an experimental drug, is the latest remedy for parkinsonism. And, although the drug does not cure, improvement ranging from modest to dramatic has been seen in those tested. Surgical procedures also are used successfully to stop the shaking and muscle rigidity. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on this disorder.

HE'S LOW

A reader writes: Does a person with low blood pressure usually have a low temperature?

REPLY

Yes, and in addition, the basal metabolsim also may be low.

AGE FOR DECAY

Mrs. P. D. writes: Is there a special age at which children seem to develop cavities?

REPLY

Yes; between ages 5 and 8 and from 12 to 18.

SHOCKED INTO MENOPAUSE

Mrs. E. writes: Could a mental shock bring on an early change? My mother died suddenly and my periods became sporadic. Now its been seven months since my last period. I'm 34 years old.

REPLY

This is unlikely but mental shock can affect the entire glandular system and lead to irregularity in the menstrual cycle.

Underground Paper Salesmen Arrested

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Mayor Joseph Alioto complained to police Monday that he had been "obnoxiously solicited" to buy the Berkeley Barb, an underground newspaper, outside the St. Francis Hotel.

Two peddlers of the paper, Robert P. Lee, 19, and James E. Bowman, 19, both of San Francisco, were arrested and booked as public nuisances and obstructing the sidewalk.

Rohnert Park Sets Date On Road Bidding

The Rohnert Park City Council called last night for bids March 17 for road construction along Highway 101, estimated to cost $414,000.

City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan said the first phase of the project would be realignment of the frontage road on the west side of Highway 101, so that it veers west from the freeway.

He told the council this would prepare the road as an entry to the ramps the state Department of Highways plans to build this year off the freeway.

Callinan said the $414,000 cost also includes land purchase and engineering.

The Rohnert Park City Council also:
zsasuee

COMMISSIONER — Appointed Nore Theisfeld, planning and building coordinator for Sonoma State College, to the city recreation commission.

PREZONED — Approved prezoning of 13 acres on the future Arthur Avenue and Santa Alicia Drive from agricultural to multifamily residential.

DANCE HALLS — Adopted an ordinance requested by Bradley Koch, public safety director, to regulate dances and dance halls.

EASEMENTS — Introduced an ordinance that will require dedication of easements for drainage improvements in connection with lot splits or minor subdivisions.

SALARY — Granted a 5 per cent salary increase to Callinan, raising his monthly salary to $1,365.

GOLF COURSE — Set Feb. 15 for the 1969 opening of the municipal golf course and approved an across-the-board increase of 50 cents in greens fees.

SCOUTS — Observed Boy Scouts from troops 23 and 81 conduct a mock council session in which they discussed bicycle safety.

Homeowners Elect Plambeck As President

Kentfield dentist Ronald O. Plambeck Monday night was elected president of the Greenbrae Property Owners Association.

Elected to one-year terms with Plambeck were Thomas A. Ring, vice president, Robert A. Geurts, treasurer, and Mrs. Raymond S. Rielly, secretary.

The association also reaffirmed its demand that the county construct a protective guard rail along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The group recently turned down the county's offer to contribute part of the cost, because Greenbrae property owners would have to pick up a quarter of the tab.

The property owners have pushed for safety improvements on the boulevard since last June a Greenbrae 12-year-old was killed when his bicycle swerved into the path of a truck.

The association also heard Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. discuss property taxes and the commuter problem during the short meeting.

Hit-Run Reported

William R. Cannon, 30, of 912 Fifth Street, San Rafael, told police that he was the victim of a hit-and-run driver at about 11 p.m. Sunday while walking near Third and A streets. He was treated at Marin General Hospital and released for a cut left elbow.

Extension Approved For Sycamore Avenue

Plans for a 1,000-foot extension of Sycamore Avenue, which will cost approximately $100,000 and dead-end one block away from Camino Alto, were approvel last night by the Mill Valley City Council.

Included in construction cost estimates are $52,000 for the 40-foot roadway, center islands, curb and gutters, $58,000 for undergrounding utilities and $10,000 for landscaping and light standards.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer said road construction costs will be financed by the city's share of state gas tax funds and a portion of the undergrounding costs will be offset by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. donations, leaving some $40,000 for landscaping, light standards and a portion of the undergrounding — to be financed from the city's general fund.

The road will extend from Camino Alto to the Northwestern Pacific railroad tracks serving the new middle school on Project 17, the city sewage treatment plant and the Mill Valley Methodist Church. In future years, it will be further extended to serve the proposed yacht harbor and eventually to connect with Highway 101 near Sabella's retsaurant.

Balmer told the council the city would have the option of recouping up to $30,000 of its $40,000 share of the road project since PG&E has agreed to give the city cash rebates on its annual undergrounding allocations through 1972 to cover the total undergrounding costs of the project.

Thus, said Balmer, if the council wanted to delay other undergrounding projects until after 1972, the city will only spend $10,000 on the extension project.

The council's unanimous vote, with Mayor Dean N. Meyer absent, came after more than an hour of debate in which the council agonized over the big investment for the short section of road, which Councilman Robert H. Andresen termed a "$100,000 road to sewer plant."

One proposal to construct a road without center islands, landscaping or underground utilities was rejected after long debate and several votes. At one point, the council even toyed with a suggestion from the audience that the city pave a minimum road of 18 feet, leaving the more expensive improvements for "future generations to pay for."

The final decision came after Councilman Jerome C. Hauke reminded the council that only a few weeks before it had chastized the school board for trying to cut corners on the middle school landscaping. "We asked the school to do a quality job, now we have to do the same thing," he said.

However, the council hedged a bit at the end, declaring it would postpone the $8,000 in landscaping to some future time.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

DENSITY — Agreed to hold a study session at 1 p.m. Saturday in city hall on a request by Manuel Gomez for a density increase for property on northwest of the Christian Science Church on Camino Alto.

PARKING ZONE — Approved a green parking zone for two spaces on Sunnyside Avenue at East Blithedale Avenue across from the post office.

APPOINTMENTS — Postponed to Feb. 17 appointments to the city's parks and recreation commission.

CONTEST — Appropriated $250 toward a fund to send Jan Mountjoy to Washington, D.C. to receive a distinguished achievement award from the National Clean-up Bureau for the city's paint-up, clean-up project.

BACKYARD BURNING — Reaffirmed its policy that the city will support a ban on backyard burning only when the county provides an adequate dump for garden cuttings.

REGIONAL GOVERNMENT — Named Councilman Rodric L. Robinson to study and report on Feb. 17 on recommendations of the Joint Legislative Committee on Bay Area Regional Organization.

CARMELITA AVENUE — Postponed to Feb. 17 discussion of improvements to Carmelita Avenue because of the lateness of the hour.

DIPSEA TRAIL — Heard a request from residents on Hazel Avenue that the section of the Dipsea Trail between Hazel and Edgewood avenues be repaired.

MUIR WOODS — Agreed to request the federal government to construct a bridge on the Dipsea Trail where it crosses a creek in Muir Woods.

Indian Bones — Heard a request from Asst. City Clerk Lucretia Little that the city establish an exhibit, perhaps at the library, of the indian bones discovered Sunday in Scott Valley.

County Education Board Backs Child Center Plan

A resolution to attempt to establish a Child Development Center for Handicapped Minors at Dominican College of San Rafael, was passed yesterday by the Marin County Board of Education.

The center operating would be in conjunction with the college, and would bring centers presently at Christ Presbyterian Church in Terra Linda and at 71 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, into a single center.

Robert E. Spain, director of administrative services, county schools office, said if the joint venture with the college is approved, the center probably would use portable buildings and could be operating by September.

Marin County Board Of Education Also:

COMMITTEES — Named new board members James A. Swenson and Marilyn Rakow Crowell to the Special Education Committee and to the Educational Services Committee.

WORKSHOP — Reported that a countywide workshop for candidates for school district boards will be held from 9 a.m. to noon March 1 at the county schools office, 201 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera. Sponsored by the county schools office and the Marin County School Boards Association, the workshop will be to acquaint candidates with the role of the board member. Incumbents are invited.

HANDICAPPED — Discussed but took no action on a proposal to establish a special school in Marin for aphasic minors, pupils with special problems in reading, writing, or speaking.

BIDS — Selected 13 firms for a recommendation list to school districts for purchase of school supplies.

EMPLOYMENT — Hired Ellen Bussman as a bus driver for $2.54 an hour; Sally Joe as a senior typist at $498 a month; Elizabeth Zibilich as instructional aide at $2.42 an hour; and Arley Atwell, work training coordinator, at $683 a month.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Judith Brown as a computer operator in data processing, effective immediately.

Dr. Ripley Hunter To Be Lecturer

Advice on how to feel better and avoid strokes will be offered today by Dr. Ripley Hunter of San Rafael in a free public lecture at the San Rafael High School Auditorium.

The 8:15 p.m. lecture is the second in a series sponsored by the Marin County Heart Association and the College of Marin on how to reduce the risk of heart attacks.

A line dropped by the composing room in yesterday's Independent-Journal omitted Dr. Hunter's name.

Auto Stereo Theft Reported In Larkspur

Theft of auto stereophonic equipment valued at $350 from the car of William R. Norman and parked at his home, 15 Via Belardo, Greenbrae, was reported today by Larkspur police.

Officers said the burglary occurred between Sunday and yesterday.

Marinwood Swim Pool Opening Set

A note of spring — and of warm weather to follow — was sounded last night in Marinwood.

The swimming pool at the community center will open on March 29, the Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission decided.

Commissioners recommended that the pool fees remain unchanged — $35 per family per year and $17.50 per person.

The Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission also:

FLAG FOOTBALL — Recommended to the Marinwood Community Services District that fall flag football be jointly sponsored with Upper Lucas Valley and Terra Linda, if the district's liability insurance will cover such a program.

FEE CHANGES — Recommended lowering of the resident fee for the tiny tot program for two months from $9 to $8, and raising of the non-resident fee from $11 to $14

WINTER PROGRAM — Announced a March 3 start for signups for the new winter recreation classes for adults, teen-agers and children, with Mrs. Roberta Carlson in charge. Recreation director William A. Gordon said a few seats were still open for the Feb. 15 snow trip, and a new winter folk dancing class for boys and girls would be held Wednesday afternoons with Mrs. Diggins John as instructor.

Report Exposure

Two teen-age girls, who were riding horseback in Los Ranchitos Saturday, reported to the sheriff's office that a man drove by them four times, exposing himself.

'Oakland 7' Jury Lessons Are Sought

OAKLAND (UPI)—The judge presiding over the conspiracy trial of the "Oakland Seven" today was considering a defense motion that the four women and eight men of the jury be instructed in international law.

Superior Judge George W. Phillips Jr. was asked by defense attorney Malcolm Burnstein yesterday to have the jury instructed concerning the decisions of the Nuremberg war crimes trials which followed World War II.

The principle established at Nuremberg was that a soldier is duty-bound to refuse an order to commit acts considered crimes against humanity or war crimes.

The seven are accused of felony conspiracy to commit misdemeanor acts of trespass and obstructing police during antidraft demonstrations at the Oakland Induction Center in October, 1967.

One of the seven is Michael J. Smith, 27, formerly of Corte Madera and a leader of the 1964 free speech movement at Berkeley and the Progressive Labor Party.

Burnstein, an instructor in international law at San Francisco State College, is expected to lead a complex legal assault on the Vietnam War when testimony begins in the trial later this week.

Evidence relating to the Muremberg trials has been allowed at other trials, including the Boston trial of baby doctor Benjamin Spock, but in all cases the defense was unsuccessful.

The jury was completed Monday with the selection of four alternates after three weeks of legal wrangling.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Lowell Jensen said he expected to deliver his opening statement this afternoon if the judge rules on a variety of legal motions before him.

Chief defense counsel Charles R. Garry said he would also make an opening statement, a defense rarity.

Priest's Heroic Work Approved

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican took a major step today toward beatification of a Belgian missionary who lived among lepers in Molokai Island, Hawaii, in the last century and died from the disease.

The Vatican Congregation of Rites announced it has approved the heroic virtues of Father Damiam de Veuster, a priest of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and Mary, born at Tremloo, Belgium in 1840. He lived among lepers in Molokai from 1865 until his death in 1879.

Father Damian's beatification cause was started in Malines, Belgium, in 1938-40. The slow progress received a boost a year ago when Pope Paul VI received hundreds of letters signed by lepers throughout the world asking for the beatification of the Belgian priest.

Testimony Conflicts On Presidio Mutiny

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — An Army captain admitted yesterday his mind "was focused on munity" during a sit-down strike by 27 Presidio soldiers protesting the shotgun killing of a fellow prisoner and conditions at the stockade last Oct. 14.

The testimony, by Capt. Robert S. Lamont, correctional officer at the stockade, came yesterday as the Army opened its case against two of the 27 soldiers charged with mutiny.

Captain Lamont related he read Article 94, the mutiny section of the Uniform Code of Military Justice, to the men twice, had photographers shoot the group from all angles and called out military police when they sat down and chanted "we shall overcome." He denied this was "setting up a mutiny."

However, two other military police officers contradicted Lamon't testimony, one disagreeing on the order of events and the other claiming he did not hear Lamont reading Article 94.

Lamont said he did not read any other articles, such as those on disobeying orders or disorderly conduct.

Other prosecuting witnesses yesterday said that what the men did was peaceful, but the acts were described as "non-violent mutiny."

Lamont admitted that the grievances, including elimination of shotgun details, psychological evaluation of personnel before assignment as guards and better sanitary conditions, ''possibly'' were justifiable.

The Army was expected to conclude its case today with a video tape of the demonstrators being carried into a stockade building.

Court-martials of the other 25 men, including Pvt. Keith C. Mather of San Bruno, one of the Marin City Nine who chained themselves to clergymen in an antiwar demonstration at St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church last summer, will be held later. All are charged with mutiny.

Sausalito Arts Group To Lease Old School

The Sausalito School District Board last night agreed unanimously to lease the old Bayside School buildings to the Sausalito Arts Association for five years at $80 a month.

The arts association promised free joint use of the buildings to the Sausalito Parents Club and agreed to shoulder insurance, utility and maintenance costs.

The buildings, declared unsafe for school use, will be used for art festivals, exhibits, classes, public performances, art workshops and seminars, exchange programs and community activities of the parents club.

The arts association proposal was the only one received. The school board asked county counsel to draw up a five-year lease agreement with option to renew for another five years.

The association may hold its annual fall arts festival in the school instead of downtown.

The board moved the Sausalito district into "sensitivity training" by approving the setting up of volunteer "encounter groups" for teachers during a district teacher institute to be held this month or next.

Trustees agreed that one or two of them would accompany Martin Luther King School student council members to the county board of supervisors to complain about the route between Marin City and the School and the way it is patrolled.

Students told the board that there are bad chuckholes in the road near the Highway 101 underpass, that the fence at the underpass barring access to Marin City causes inconvenience to children walking to and from school, and that the children are harassed by too close patrol of the stretch by sheriff's cars.

The board went into closed session to discuss charges made by other Martin Luther King School staff members against James T. Toliver Jr., assistant to the principal, and Orpha E. Barnes, custodian, and counter-charges by the two against others at the school.

Asst. Supt. Joseph Amato said Mrs. Barne's case was resolved at least in part during the closed session by agreement to reschedule her work hours. No action was taken regarding Toliver, and his case probably will be reviewed again, according to Amato.

Nature of the charges was not disclosed. Both Toliver and Mrs. Barnes asked for the closed sessions, Amato said.

The Sausalito School District Board also:

HIRING — Hired Daryl Harris as mathematics teacher at Martin Luther King School at $8,012 per year, to replace Julie Askaland, who resigned last month.

FIELD TRIPS — Allocated $4,000 from reserves to continue field trips and additional individual instruction for seventh and eighth grade social studies pupils at Marin Luther King School.

MATHEMATICS — Heard a review of the special mathematics program at Martin Luther King, financed from federal funds. The state is ending the program and the special courses will cease after this year.

Indian Relic Museum Idea Gains Favor

The Novato Parks and Recreation Commission last night gave its approval to the idea of a Novato prehistory museum, but asked for further investigation.

The museum was proposed to house Indian artfacts dug up by Archeology Club. It is backed by the Novato Kiwanis Club, which has appointed Irving Links as chairman of a museum committee.

Crocker-Citizens National Bank has offered a large house on the northeast corner of Grant Avenue and Sixth Street to house the museum, if it can be moved to a suitable location, Links told the commission. The commission asked the parks and recreation staff to investigate moving cost.

The city has a site available on Novato Creek, adjacent to where the club has dug up an Indian village, according to Edward W. Adams, parks and recreation director.

The Novato Parks and Recreation Commission also:

RENTAL —Agreed to rent the upstairs of the Novato Community House to the Novato Community Players for $70 per month.

RECREATION AREA — Voted to ask the planning commission to require that the recreation area in Marin Highlands Unit 5 be kept as originally planned. The developers, Roberts and Aguirre, had asked to split the area into two building lots.

MATCHING FUNDS — Authorized Adams to apply for matching funds from the Marin County Parks and Recreation Department, which he reported has offered to match up to $2,000 in city recreation funds.

ATTENDANCE — Heard from Adams that there was a decrease of 1,709 in attendance at all recreation activities in January as compared to January of last year: 12,093 compared to 13,802.

TANK SITE — Postponed until Feb. 17 consideration of making a park on the half-acre tanks site on Vallejo Avenue at Seventh Street, offered to the city by the North Marin County Water District.

New Officers Named By Bolinas Firemen

Bolinas Fire Chief Jose A. Silva named 1969 officers at last night's meeting of the Bolinas Volunteer Fire Department. Donald Pepper and Sherman R. Smith were named assistant chiefs, Edward G. Letter captain, Albin B. Fowler lieutenant and Timothy J. Waters secretary-treasurer.

The firemen also set the annual ladies night dinner-dance for firemen and their wives only, for May 15.

Prison Transient Stabbed In Back

A 23-year-old man who arrived at San Quentin for a temporary stay at noon yesterday was stabbed in the back with a prison made knife this morning, Associate Warden James W. L. Park reported.

Donald Roy Priest was reported in surgery today with wounds Park said did not appear to be serious. He said the eight-inch knife blade apparently had been deflected by the victim's shoulder blade.

Park said Priest was originally sentenced in September 1965 for second degree burglary and escape. He had been paroled Feb. 19, 1968 and was being returned to prison on a parole violation, Park said. He was scheduled to go to Vacaville later this week.

Park said the knife was found in a utility corridor in the same cell block where Priest was stabbed. However, he said, there are no suspects and no known motivation.

PLANNED PARENTHOOD—Dr. Harrison Brown, California Institute of Technology professor, will explore the social and economic consequences of population growth at noon Feb. 11 at the Sheraton Palace Hotel, San Francisco. The Planned Parenthood Association of Marin will be one of six Bay Area affiliates attending the luncheon, the 1969 campaign kick-off sponsored by the Planned Parenthood-World Population-San Francisco.

Hanoi Cool To Saigon's Talk Offer

PARIS (UPI)—Communist negotiators have decided to wait for concrete offers of "concessions" from South Vietnam before making any move to break the current deadlock at the Vietnam peace talks, Western diplomats said today.

The diplomats said North Vietnam and the Viet Cong would make no move to break the impasse over whether military or political issues will be discussed first at the talks until they found out exactly what sort of concessions the South Vietnamese had in mind.

South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky made the offer of "more concessions" without specifying what he had in mind, when he called once again for private bilateral talks with North Vietnam at a news conference Monday.

Ky, who had just come from an hour-long conference with American delegation chief Henry Cabot Lodge, emphasized that he was only prepared to discuss military matters in the private talks.

In doing so he ruled out the biggest concession that the Communists have sought—that political questions relating to South Vietnam should be solved before the military problems.

Another development that was expected to hold up progress in the two-week-old talks was the impending visit of President Nixon to Europe.

French government sources said the President would make Paris the first stop on his itinerary, probably next month.

The Communist negotiators, who have maintained all along that there can be no solution except on the basis of their five-point declaration of last November, may wait to see if the presidential visit will bring any new concessions.

Burglaries Solved By Two Arrests

The arrest Sunday of two Oakland men has cleared up three Petaluma break-ins, including a $1,033 car agency burglary, it was reported today by Petaluma Police Lt. Henry Eslick.

Daniel Emery Brown, 21, and Richard Gene Ubry, 28, were arrested in Oakland and charged with four burglaries. Their statements implicated them in the Petaluma cases, according to Eslick. Petaluma police went to Oakland to question them yesterday.

Eslick said the men burglarized the George Buick agency, 822 Petaluma Boulevard North, on Oct. 28, taking $1,033 in cash and checks from the office safe.

Eslick said the pair also burglarized Sonoma Joe's restaurant, 5151 Old Redwood Highway, and the Santa Rosa Cigarette Service, 416 East D Street, on Jan. 13. In both cases, Eslick said, they fled when burglar alarms sounded.

Eslick, said the pair spoke of entering Western Motors, 1221 Petaluma Boulevard North, on Jan. 13, but police have no report on it.

In addition to Petaluma and Oakland, five other cities have holds on the men, according to Eslick. He said the pair admitted to more than 100 burglaries in the West since August 1968.

Offshore Well Operations Closed Due To Oil Slick

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — With one exception, offshore oil drillings were shut down today in the Santa Barbara channel as oil continued to bubble up at 21,000 gallons a day from a runaway well 3,500 feet under the ocean floor.

The rig still running was drilling a second well that experts hoped would relieve underground pressure forcing the oil through a crack in the sea floor.

An oil slick from the runaway covered about 200 square miles of the Pacific off the Southern California coast. Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel, after a flight over the slick, said "The pollution is more severe than I anticipated."

So far, strong winds from the east have kept most of the slick away from beaches except at a few points. However, conservationists express fears for marine and bird life.

Congressional concern over the pollution threat resulted in the Senate Public Works Committee sending a team of investigators from Washington to the scene.

The investigators will report their findings Wednesday to a public works subcommittee currently holding hearings on a bill that proposes fines of up to $15 million in cases of proven negligence in oil spilages.

Hickel, after his inspection, asked for suspension of drilling on a temporary, voluntary basis. Humble, Phillips, Gulf, Texaco and Mobil oil companies quickly agreed. Union Oil Co., owner of the well that began spewing oil eight days ago, had ceased operations at its offshore sites shortly after the seepage was discovered. The shutdown did not involve a Union well being drilled to relieve pressure from the runaway.

Hickel said the suspension "will afford a breathing spell until it can be determined if corrective measures are necessary."

Oil drilling in the 20-mile-wide Santa Barbara channel is being done on land leased from the federal government. After competitive bids, oil companies paid more than $600 million last February for the drilling rights. The federal government also was to receive a royalty on any oil produced.

Hickel told a news conference he feels a "complete reassessment" of drilling regulations may be needed. The oil companies, he said, were following existing regulations.

The oil leak, in the "long-term picture," he said, "might be a blessing in disguise" since it would enable regulations to be written that would prevent a leak under circumstances that might be more disastrous.

Hickel returned to Washington late yesterday.

7,154 Vehicles Over Span In One Hour

A one-hour record of 7,154 vehicles crossed the Golden Gate Bridge southbound between 7:30 and 8:30 a.m. yesterday Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring reported. The record was set despite the usual heavy sales of commute tickets on the first Monday of the month, he noted.

Any figure over 6,000, he said, "is an overload."

TV REVIEW

Tribute To William H. Pratt

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Many years ago I came across the fact that Boris Karloff was born William Henry Pratt. And Willian Henry Pratt was how I always thought of him thereafter—for it always seemed to me a much more accurate reflection of this dignified man than "Boris Karloff," a spooky monicker if ever there was one.

As every late-night watcher of television knows, probably the two spookiest—and most famous—names in oldtime horror movies were Boris Karloff and Bela Lugosi, who, by the way, was born Bela Lugosi Blasko. And now, with the death of Karloff in England Sunday, at the age of 81, both are gone.

Karloff, on screen, was quite different—and more subtle—in his conception of horror than Lugosi. And Karloff, as Frankenstein's monster, was still something of a higher order—and not merely because the shadings of tragedy were written into the movie character.

Even though the shadings were there, it took a superior actor—and a man with superior dignity—to steadily sidestep the easy, all-out horror approach of black and white. And what Karloff was able to create, therefore, was a vividly-etched portrait of a lump of a monster who was not a horror until human beings reacted in terror toward him.

Underneath all the trappings of a horror film, Karloff created a soul for a monster who had none, but was merely stiched together by a scientist seeking—as the scripts always said—to play God. He was a creature who happened to be different from so-called normal persons, and was turned into a horror by people who reacted with fear to something so extremely opposite from themselves. Thus he was both tragic and pathetic. He did not ask to be created.

For myself, I will always remember Karloff's Frankenstein monster in a scene with a little girl. The monster, not knowing his dreadful appearance, and the girl, not yet old enough to be taught to fear what is merely different, were friendly. The monster was charmed by her, playful almost, and somehow childish and very nearly innocent. It took some kind of actor to pull this off.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

When the wintry blasts begin, many northerners get ready for their vacation in the south. Some drive; others go by bus or train. When it comes to flying, persons with heart trouble, high blood pressure, emphysema, or the residuals of a stroke may hesitate.

There usually is no basis for their concern because almost everyone can fly in planes equipped with pressurized cabins.

IF THE INDIVIDUAL can walk down the street or up a flight of stairs without discomfort, he can travel by air. But if he is dropsical or so short of breath, he pants even when lying down, plane travel is out.

The victim of coronary thrombosis should postpone his trip for a minimum of six weeks after the attack because this is how long it takes for the heart to heal.

A wheelchair is available for any one who cannot manage the walk to the boarding ramp.

MAKING THE TRIP in a pressurized cabin will not raise blood pressure but the excitement of traveling and the anxiety of flying might have this effect on the hypertensive. Air sickness may do the same.

Pregnant women beyond the eighth month should not travel by air. The same applies to women who habitually mis-carry, to infants under 14 days of age, to persons with marked anemia, and to diabetics who cannot administer their own insulin or who are subject to unusual reactions or coma.

Flying may aggravate any active lung disease, as well as nasal congestion, colds, and other upper respiratory disorders.

IN THESE instances, altitudes may encourage spread of the infection to the ears and sinuses. Persons with a contagious disease are forbidden to travel by air, not because it affects the illness, but because the disease may be transmitted to others.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

REDUCING CHOLESTEROL

B. C. writes: Is corn oil the only way to keep the blood cholesterol down? My father has gained a lot of weight since he started taking it and the added poundage is not good for his high blood pressure.

REPLY

The level of cholesterol in the blood also can be reduced via low-fat diet, the use of niacin, thyroid extract, or a vegetable steroid like sitosterol. The latest is Atromid-S, which appears to be the most effective to date.

NOISY NECK

A reader writes: Can anything be done about grating of the vertebrae in the neck?

REPLY

Yes. Grating usually is due to a rheumatic condition. Heat, massage, and the usual neck exercises help make the affected tissues more supple. Our leaflet on these exercises can be obtained by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

MISSING SPINAL PART

Mrs. C. T. Writes: Can anything be done for a newborn with apina bifida?

REPLY

In this developmental defect, the bone fails to cover the spinal cord. When strongly marked, nerve tissues may protrude from the back like a large cyst, and surgery is required. Nothing need be done unless the spinal cord is affected.

HORMONES AND HAIR

Miss L. writes: Do hormone shots for the menopause, injected into the hips, cause hair on the face?

REPLY

Not if these are female sex hormones. Age and the change of life are more common causes.

PARKINSONISM CHRONIC

A. R. B. writes: My mother has shaking palsy and has used every new drug that comes out, but she still has the symptom. Is there a cure?

REPLY

No. Parkinson's disease is chronic, but the tremor often can be controled via medication and physical therapy. L-dopa, an experimental drug, is the latest remedy for parkinsonism. And, although the drug does not cure, improvement ranging from modest to dramatic has been seen in those tested. Surgical procedures also are used successfully to stop the shaking and muscle rigidity. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on this disorder.

HE'S LOW

A reader writes: Does a person with low blood pressure usually have a low temperature?

REPLY

Yes, and in addition, the basal metabolsim also may be low.

AGE FOR DECAY

Mrs. P. D. writes: Is there a special age at which children seem to develop cavities?

REPLY

Yes; between ages 5 and 8 and from 12 to 18.

SHOCKED INTO MENOPAUSE

Mrs. E. writes: Could a mental shock bring on an early change? My mother died suddenly and my periods became sporadic. Now its been seven months since my last period. I'm 34 years old.

REPLY

This is unlikely but mental shock can affect the entire glandular system and lead to irregularity in the menstrual cycle.

Petaluma Moratorium Set On Mobile Homes

The Petaluma City Council last night declared a moratorium on rezoning for mobile home parks for six months or until a special mobile home park zone is created.

Several councilmen suggested that nine months might be a more realistic time period, but William C. McGovern, city planner, said his office could prepare the plans in two months. He advised council to allow another four months for public hearings and commission and council decisions.

Mayor Helen Putnam, in offering the resolution, said, "This moratorium will give us time to come up with some quite creative zoning to regulate the placement of mobile home parks."

The moratorium came after the council and planning commission spent several months debating the application of David D. Young to rezone 80 acres of industrial land on Corona Road to permit a mobile home park.

The council approved the Young rezoning request, but whittled the area for the mobile home park to 34.8 acres.

The Petaluma City Council Also:

DEDICATION POLICY — Delayed action on a policy establishing requirements for land dedication for street widening projects. Most members said another study session on it would be necessary. The policy resolution offered would give the city engineer the power to require dedication when he deemed it necessary.

BOAT LAUNCHING — Heard a report from Richard W. Shollenberger, parks and recreation director, that the state Lands Commission had not yet given final approval to the planned boat launching ramp area. He said this delay was caused by a backlog of work before the commission.

DRIVE-INS — Adopted an ordinance adding drive-in restaurants as a conditional use in neighborhood commercial zones.

REZONING — Rezoned 219 Edith Street from multiple family residential to neighborhood commercial to allow construction of a drive-in restaurant.

PUMP SITE — Approved a resolution to acquire land for a new pump station on McNear Avenue at $5,500.

PREZONING — Introduced a resolution to prezone 50 acres on McDowell Boulevard South from agricultural to single family dwelling zone.

SEWER WAIVER — Introduced an ordinance permitting sewer connection fees to be waived where premises had received sewer service within the past five years.

BILLIARDS — Introduced an ordinance to drop the barring of minors from city billiards parlors as suggested by Police Chief Larry D. Higgins.

PRESERVE — Issued a letter of no protest to Sonoma County supervisors who are considering including land at the northeast corner of Corona and Ely roads in the county agricultural preserve. The land is owned by Richard Gray, Nora Baker and Mary Albertoni.

Chamber Asked To Sponsor Core Area Bonds Election

The Petaluma Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday were asked to consider sponsoring a bond issue initiative to place the Petaluma core area plan on the June ballot.

President Floyd Wynne said he felt city council would have second thoughts about getting into a bond election when four council seats will be up for election at the June 10 election.

"If council takes no action to put the plan on the ballot, it could be done through the initiative process," Wynne said.

Wynne suggested the directors consider such action and also consult with city officials before taking action. "We'd certainly need the cooperation of the city if the bond issue were to pass," he said.

Petaluma Chamber Of Commerce Also:

NEW CHAMBER — Heard warning from director George De Long that a new chamber for businesses on the east side of Petaluma is being organized. "Where does that leave us?" De Long asked. "Will we continue to serve only the West Side or incorporate the East Side too?" The Greater Petaluma chamber now technically includes the East Side, but does not include any leaders from that section on the board of directors, in major promotional activities nor in the Christmas lighting program. Wynne said the chamber would welcome the support of all businessmen.

BUDGET — Reacted unfavorably to a suggestion from Wynne that the city council increase business license tax fees to provide greater income for the chamber to offset the $20,000 losses on the Christmas lighting program. Most directors objected to increasing taxes in principal and said such a tax would benefit only businesses in the core area.

INDUSTRIAL COMMITTEE — Named Arnold Brown and Ernest Von Raesfeld to the industrial committee and named councilman Robert S Lipman as a non-voting committee liaison to city council.

Reward Offered On Hijack Tips

WASHINGTON (AP) — Airline companies and their pilots are offering a $25,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of hijackers.

But it will not be paid to anyone who tries to apprehend a hijacker on board an airplane.

The Air Line Pilots Association and the Air Transport Association jointly announced the reward yesterday, They said it will be limited to information supplied before next Jan. 1 about hijackings that occurred on United States airlines after last Jan. 15.

In Congress, Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W. Va., said the House Commerce Committee he heads will start a hearing on air safety and hijacking tomorrow.

Play Scheduled

San Anselmo's Artist Repertory Company of Marin will present "Spoon River Anthology" at 8 p.m. Feb. 15 in the West Marin Arts Crafts Culture Center, Point Reyes Station, Highway 1.

'Sing Out Marin' Concert Slated

The council of music and arts of the Dixie School District will sponsor a concert by "Sing Out Marin" Friday at 3:30 p.m. in the multipurpose room of the Bernard Hoffman School in Terra Linda.

Parents may attend, the district office said.

This is part of the program undertaken by the council in which it arranges cultural events for schools in the Dixie district as an addition to the regular curriculum.

Auditor Hits Schools Data Processing

The Novato Unified School District, along with other school districts in Marin is dissatisfied with the data processing operations of the county school superintendent's office and County of Marin, Robert J. Soderblom, Novato school auditor, last night told district trustees.

Soderblom lashed out at personnel running the data processing equipment and accused them of not giving the districts needed information. He made his accusations while giving the board the annual audit of the district's books.

Soderblom said that the county schools data processing center at Terra Linda and the county's at the Civic Center were not coordinating the information needed by the schools. He cited that districts can learn the cost of operating each school, but not all schools together. The results are "really sad," he said.

Soderblom said that, if the two data processing centers do not work together for the schools, each district will be forced to go back to its own accounting system.

"The schools' information is not programmed correctly so that they do not get the needed information," Soderblom charged. He said that the San Rafael, Tamalpais and Novato school district were working together to see if they could find out how to make the system work.

In reporting on the audit, Soderblom said that student funds at the junior and senior high schools should be kept by administrators since teachers were keeping insufficient records.

The board accepted the annual audit by Soderblom's firm.

The Novato Unified School District board also:

SHOPLIFTING — Authorized the Novato branch of the American Association of University Women to distribute antishoplifting pamphlets to school children.

CONSTRUCTION — Heard a report that Kal Porter and Associates had started work on preliminary plans for an addition to the shop at San Marin High School, and authorized Phillip Lygren Engineering Co. to do work on the San Jose Junior High School playing field at 8 per cent commission.

DRESS — Postponed consideration on a policy statement on dress and disruption of school prepared by the Novato Teachers' Association.

LABOR — Took under advisement a request by the Marin County Labor Council and the Building and Construction Trades Council of Marin that the district hire only local laborers and use California products.

PERSONNEL — Accepted the resignation of Fred Baguio, sixth grade teacher at Loma Verde School, and hired Joyce Blakeley at $2,114, Laura Hurvich at $1,885 and Genevieve Poehlmann at $2,074 as half-time teachers for the handicapped for the balance of the school year.

CLOSED — Held a closed meeting for 10 minutes to discuss with the county counsel's office the case of James Kimmel, former Novato High School teacher who was fired after being arrested on marijuana charges. A preliminary hearing for Kimmel in Marin Municipal Court is scheduled Feb. 11.

Parents Want Marijuana Users Ousted

Parents who do not want their children associating with students who are known narcotics users last night asked the Novato School Board to remove the offenders from school.

The board asked the staff to work with parents to try to fix a policy, possibly within a month, to suspend or expel students. They would use police records to identify narcotics users or pushers, it was indicated.

"The children are being taunted if they do not smoke marijuana," said Joseph Bendik of 1200 Second Street. He asked protection for students from narcotics sellers.

George F. Caldwall Jr. of 22 Truman Drive said the problem was worsening with no action from the school board. He also said a number of parents should be educated about drugs.

Supt. James G. Bunker reported that inquiries around the state had found that Grossmont High School in San Diego suspended drug users for a semester. He said that some Bay Area school districts suspended them for 10 to 15 days.

On a question from Caldwell, Bunker said that the Grossmont High School superintendent said that the suspension had cut down on the sale and use of marijuana on the school grounds, but that he did not think it made any difference off the school property.

Bunker said that there was a law which went into effect in November which requires police agencies to report to school districts the names of students arrested by the police for the use of narcotics. He said that the Novato police were cooperating, but that the district had not received any names from the sheriff's department or the county probation office.

Acapulco, Mexico, the world-famous resort, was founded in the 16th Century but remained a sleepy fishing village until a highway reached it in 1927. Most residents now live on tourism.

Ballad Opera On Schedule

"The Chambermaid," an 18th Century ballad opera from the collection of the American Music Research Center at Dominican College, will be presented by the college's opera theater at 8 p.m. Thursday and Friday in Angelico Hall on the San Rafael campus.

Ballad opera, forerunner of the American musical comedy, was a comic play interspersed with popular tunes of the day. According to Sister M. Dominic, O.P., director of the research center, "The compiler-composer might also select tunes from Handel, Purcell or other good composers and on occasion might even compose two or three for himself."

"The Chambermaid" was first performed at Drury Lane in London on Feb. 10, 1730. The music is by Henry Carey, Handel, Richard Leveridge and others, while the text is by Edward Phillips.

Arthur Conrad will direct the production in conjunction with Sister Dominic as musical director and arranger.

The cast of eight includes sopranos Catherine Collette, Elizabeth Heffernan and Suanne O'Hare; tenors Melvyn Poll and Fred Lewis; mezzo soprano Sherry Silva, and Marjorie Broughton and Stan Berde in dramatic roles.

Underground Paper Salesmen Arrested

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Mayor Joseph Alioto complained to police Monday that he had been "obnoxiously solicited" to buy the Berkeley Barb, an underground newspaper, outside the St. Francis Hotel.

Two peddlers of the paper, Robert P. Lee, 19, and James E. Bowman, 19, both of San Francisco, were arrested and booked as public nuisances and obstructing the sidewalk.

Rohnert Park Sets Date On Road Bidding

The Rohnert Park City Council called last night for bids March 17 for road construction along Highway 101, estimated to cost $414,000.

City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan said the first phase of the project would be realignment of the frontage road on the west side of Highway 101, so that it veers west from the freeway.

He told the council this would prepare the road as an entry to the ramps the state Department of Highways plans to build this year off the freeway.

Callinan said the $414,000 cost also includes land purchase and engineering.

The Rohnert Park City Council also:
zsasuee

COMMISSIONER — Appointed Nore Theisfeld, planning and building coordinator for Sonoma State College, to the city recreation commission.

PREZONED — Approved prezoning of 13 acres on the future Arthur Avenue and Santa Alicia Drive from agricultural to multifamily residential.

DANCE HALLS — Adopted an ordinance requested by Bradley Koch, public safety director, to regulate dances and dance halls.

EASEMENTS — Introduced an ordinance that will require dedication of easements for drainage improvements in connection with lot splits or minor subdivisions.

SALARY — Granted a 5 per cent salary increase to Callinan, raising his monthly salary to $1,365.

Homeowners Elect Plambeck As President

Elected to one-year terms with Plambeck were Thomas A. Ring, vice president, Robert A. Geurts, treasurer, and Mrs. Raymond S. Rielly, secretary.

The association also reaffirmed its demand that the county construct a protective guard rail along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The group recently turned down the county's offer to contribute part of the cost, because Greenbrae property owners would have to pick up a quarter of the tab.

The property owners have pushed for safety improvements on the boulevard since last June a Greenbrae 12-year-old was killed when his bicycle swerved into the path of a truck.

The association also heard Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. discuss property taxes and the commuter problem during the short meeting.

Hit-Run Reported

William R. Cannon, 30, of 912 Fifth Street, San Rafael, told police that he was the victim of a hit-and-run driver at about 11 p.m. Sunday while walking near Third and A streets. He was treated at Marin General Hospital and released for a cut left elbow.

Extension Approved For Sycamore Avenue

Plans for a 1,000-foot extension of Sycamore Avenue, which will cost approximately $100,000 and dead-end one block away from Camino Alto, were approvel last night by the Mill Valley City Council.

Included in construction cost estimates are $52,000 for the 40-foot roadway, center islands, curb and gutters, $58,000 for undergrounding utilities and $10,000 for landscaping and light standards.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer said road construction costs will be financed by the city's share of state gas tax funds and a portion of the undergrounding costs will be offset by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. donations, leaving some $40,000 for landscaping, light standards and a portion of the undergrounding — to be financed from the city's general fund.

The road will extend from Camino Alto to the Northwestern Pacific railroad tracks serving the new middle school on Project 17, the city sewage treatment plant and the Mill Valley Methodist Church. In future years, it will be further extended to serve the proposed yacht harbor and eventually to connect with Highway 101 near Sabella's retsaurant.

Balmer told the council the city would have the option of recouping up to $30,000 of its $40,000 share of the road project since PG&E has agreed to give the city cash rebates on its annual undergrounding allocations through 1972 to cover the total undergrounding costs of the project.

Thus, said Balmer, if the council wanted to delay other undergrounding projects until after 1972, the city will only spend $10,000 on the extension project.

The council's unanimous vote, with Mayor Dean N. Meyer absent, came after more than an hour of debate in which the council agonized over the big investment for the short section of road, which Councilman Robert H. Andresen termed a "$100,000 road to sewer plant."

One proposal to construct a road without center islands, landscaping or underground utilities was rejected after long debate and several votes. At one point, the council even toyed with a suggestion from the audience that the city pave a minimum road of 18 feet, leaving the more expensive improvements for "future generations to pay for."

The final decision came after Councilman Jerome C. Hauke reminded the council that only a few weeks before it had chastized the school board for trying to cut corners on the middle school landscaping. "We asked the school to do a quality job, now we have to do the same thing," he said.

However, the council hedged a bit at the end, declaring it would postpone the $8,000 in landscaping to some future time.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

DENSITY — Agreed to hold a study session at 1 p.m. Saturday in city hall on a request by Manuel Gomez for a density increase for property on northwest of the Christian Science Church on Camino Alto.

BACKYARD BURNING — Reaffirmed its policy that the city will support a ban on backyard burning only when the county provides an adequate dump for garden cuttings.

REGIONAL GOVERNMENT — Named Councilman Rodric L. Robinson to study and report on Feb. 17 on recommendations of the Joint Legislative Committee on Bay Area Regional Organization.

CARMELITA AVENUE — Postponed to Feb. 17 discussion of improvements to Carmelita Avenue because of the lateness of the hour.

DIPSEA TRAIL — Heard a request from residents on Hazel Avenue that the section of the Dipsea Trail between Hazel and Edgewood avenues be repaired.

A resolution to attempt to establish a Child Development Center for Handicapped Minors at Dominican College of San Rafael, was passed yesterday by the Marin County Board of Education.

The center operating would be in conjunction with the college, and would bring centers presently at Christ Presbyterian Church in Terra Linda and at 71 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, into a single center.

Robert E. Spain, director of administrative services, county schools office, said if the joint venture with the college is approved, the center probably would use portable buildings and could be operating by September.

The swimming pool at the community center will open on March 29, the Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission decided.

Commissioners recommended that the pool fees remain unchanged — $35 per family per year and $17.50 per person.

'Oakland 7' Jury Lessons Are Sought

OAKLAND (UPI)—The judge presiding over the conspiracy trial of the "Oakland Seven" today was considering a defense motion that the four women and eight men of the jury be instructed in international law.

Superior Judge George W. Phillips Jr. was asked by defense attorney Malcolm Burnstein yesterday to have the jury instructed concerning the decisions of the Nuremberg war crimes trials which followed World War II.

The principle established at Nuremberg was that a soldier is duty-bound to refuse an order to commit acts considered crimes against humanity or war crimes.

The seven are accused of felony conspiracy to commit misdemeanor acts of trespass and obstructing police during antidraft demonstrations at the Oakland Induction Center in October, 1967.

One of the seven is Michael J. Smith, 27, formerly of Corte Madera and a leader of the 1964 free speech movement at Berkeley and the Progressive Labor Party.

Burnstein, an instructor in international law at San Francisco State College, is expected to lead a complex legal assault on the Vietnam War when testimony begins in the trial later this week.

Evidence relating to the Muremberg trials has been allowed at other trials, including the Boston trial of baby doctor Benjamin Spock, but in all cases the defense was unsuccessful.

The jury was completed Monday with the selection of four alternates after three weeks of legal wrangling.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Lowell Jensen said he expected to deliver his opening statement this afternoon if the judge rules on a variety of legal motions before him.

Chief defense counsel Charles R. Garry said he would also make an opening statement, a defense rarity.

Priest's Heroic Work Approved

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican took a major step today toward beatification of a Belgian missionary who lived among lepers in Molokai Island, Hawaii, in the last century and died from the disease.

The Vatican Congregation of Rites announced it has approved the heroic virtues of Father Damiam de Veuster, a priest of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and Mary, born at Tremloo, Belgium in 1840. He lived among lepers in Molokai from 1865 until his death in 1879.

Father Damian's beatification cause was started in Malines, Belgium, in 1938-40. The slow progress received a boost a year ago when Pope Paul VI received hundreds of letters signed by lepers throughout the world asking for the beatification of the Belgian priest.

Testimony Conflicts On Presidio Mutiny

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — An Army captain admitted yesterday his mind "was focused on munity" during a sit-down strike by 27 Presidio soldiers protesting the shotgun killing of a fellow prisoner and conditions at the stockade last Oct. 14.

The testimony, by Capt. Robert S. Lamont, correctional officer at the stockade, came yesterday as the Army opened its case against two of the 27 soldiers charged with mutiny.

Captain Lamont related he read Article 94, the mutiny section of the Uniform Code of Military Justice, to the men twice, had photographers shoot the group from all angles and called out military police when they sat down and chanted "we shall overcome." He denied this was "setting up a mutiny."

However, two other military police officers contradicted Lamon't testimony, one disagreeing on the order of events and the other claiming he did not hear Lamont reading Article 94.

Lamont said he did not read any other articles, such as those on disobeying orders or disorderly conduct.

Other prosecuting witnesses yesterday said that what the men did was peaceful, but the acts were described as "non-violent mutiny."

Lamont admitted that the grievances, including elimination of shotgun details, psychological evaluation of personnel before assignment as guards and better sanitary conditions, "possibly" were justifiable.

The Army was expected to conclude its case today with a video tape of the demonstrators being carried into a stockade building.

Court-martials of the other 25 men, including Pvt. Keith C. Mather of San Bruno, one of the Marin City Nine who chained themselves to clergymen in an antiwar demonstration at St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church last summer, will be held later. All are charged with mutiny.

Sausalito Arts Group To Lease Old School

The Sausalito School District Board last night agreed unanimously to lease the old Bayside School buildings to the Sausalito Arts Association for five years at $80 a month.

The arts association promised free joint use of the buildings to the Sausalito Parents Club and agreed to shoulder insurance, utility and maintenance costs.

The buildings, declared unsafe for school use, will be used for art festivals, exhibits, classes, public performances, art workshops and seminars, exchange programs and community activities of the parents club.

The arts association proposal was the only one received. The school board asked county counsel to draw up a five-year lease agreement with option to renew for another five years.

The association may hold its annual fall arts festival in the school instead of downtown.

The board moved the Sausalito district into "sensitivity training" by approving the setting up of volunteer "encounter groups" for teachers during a district teacher institute to be held this month or next.

Trustees agreed that one or two of them would accompany Martin Luther King School student council members to the county board of supervisors to complain about the route between Marin City and the School and the way it is patrolled.

Students told the board that there are bad chuckholes in the road near the Highway 101 underpass, that the fence at the underpass barring access to Marin City causes inconvenience to children walking to and from school, and that the children are harassed by too close patrol of the stretch by sheriff's cars.

The board went into closed session to discuss charges made by other Martin Luther King School staff members against James T. Toliver Jr., assistant to the principal, and Orpha E. Barnes, custodian, and countercharges by the two against others at the school.

Asst. Supt. Joseph Amato said Mrs. Barne's case was resolved at least in part during the closed session by agreement to reschedule her work hours. No action was taken regarding Toliver, and his case probably will be reviewed again, according to Amato.

Nature of the charges was not disclosed. Both Toliver and Mrs. Barnes asked for the closed sessions, Amato said.

The Sausalito School District Board also:

HIRING — Hired Daryl Harris as mathematics teacher at Martin Luther King School at $8,012 per year, to replace Julie Askaland, who resigned last month.

FIELD TRIPS — Allocated $4,000 from reserves to continue field trips and additional individual instruction for seventh and eighth grade social studies pupils at Marin Luther King School.

MATHEMATICS — Heard a review of the special mathematics program at Martin Luther King, financed from federal funds. The state is ending the program and the special courses will cease after this year.

Indian Relic Museum Idea Gains Favor

The Novato Parks and Recreation Commission last night gave its approval to the idea of a Novato prehistory museum, but asked for further investigation.

The museum was proposed to house Indian artfacts dug up by Archeology Club. It is backed by the Novato Kiwanis Club, which has appointed Irving Links as chairman of a museum committee.

Crocker-Citizens National Bank has offered a large house on the northeast corner of Grant Avenue and Sixth Street to house the museum, if it can be moved to a suitable location, Links told the commission. The commission asked the parks and recreation staff to investigate moving cost.

The city has a site available on Novato Creek, adjacent to where the club has dug up an Indian village, according to Edward W. Adams, parks and recreation director.

The Novato Parks and Recreation Commission also:

RENTAL —Agreed to rent the upstairs of the Novato Community House to the Novato Community Players for $70 per month.

RECREATION AREA — Voted to ask the planning commission to require that the recreation area in Marin Highlands Unit 5 be kept as originally planned. The developers, Roberts and Aguirre, had asked to split the area into two building lots.

MATCHING FUNDS — Authorized Adams to apply for matching funds from the Marin County Parks and Recreation Department, which he reported has offered to match up to $2,000 in city recreation funds.

ATTENDANCE — Heard from Adams that there was a decrease of 1,709 in attendance at all recreation activities in January as compared to January of last year: 12,093 compared to 13,802.

TANK SITE — Postponed until Feb. 17 consideration of making a park on the half-acre tanks site on Vallejo Avenue at Seventh Street, offered to the city by the North Marin County Water District.

New Officers Named By Bolinas Firemen

Bolinas Fire Chief Jose A. Silva named 1969 officers at last night's meeting of the Bolinas Volunteer Fire Department. Donald Pepper and Sherman R. Smith were named assistant chiefs, Edward G. Letter captain, Albin B. Fowler lieutenant and Timothy J. Waters secretary-treasurer.

The firemen also set the annual ladies night dinner-dance for firemen and their wives only, for May 15.

Prison Transient Stabbed In Back

A 23-year-old man who arrived at San Quentin for a temporary stay at noon yesterday was stabbed in the back with a prison made knife this morning, Associate Warden James W. L. Park reported.

Donald Roy Priest was reported in surgery today with wounds Park said did not appear to be serious. He said the eight-inch knife blade apparently had been deflected by the victim's shoulder blade.

Park said Priest was originally sentenced in September 1965 for second degree burglary and escape. He had been paroled Feb. 19, 1968 and was being returned to prison on a parole violation, Park said. He was scheduled to go to Vacaville later this week.

Park said the knife was found in a utility corridor in the same cell block where Priest was stabbed. However, he said, there are no suspects and no known motivation.

PLANNED PARENTHOOD—Dr. Harrison Brown, California Institute of Technology professor, will explore the social and economic consequences of population growth at noon Feb. 11 at the Sheraton Palace Hotel, San Francisco. The Planned Parenthood Association of Marin will be one of six Bay Area affiliates attending the luncheon, the 1969 campaign kickoff sponsored by the Planned Parenthood-World Population-San Francisco.

Hanoi Cool To Saigon's Talk Offer

PARIS (UPI)—Communist negotiators have decided to wait for concrete offers of "concessions" from South Vietnam before making any move to break the current deadlock at the Vietnam peace talks, Western diplomats said today.

The diplomats said North Vietnam and the Viet Cong would make no move to break the impasse over whether military or political issues will be discussed first at the talks until they found out exactly what sort of concessions the South Vietnamese had in mind.

South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky made the offer of "more concessions" without specifying what he had in mind, when he called once again for private bilateral talks with North Vietnam at a news conference Monday.

Ky, who had just come from an hour-long conference with American delegation chief Henry Cabot Lodge, emphasized that he was only prepared to discuss military matters in the private talks.

In doing so he ruled out the biggest concession that the Communists have sought—that political questions relating to South Vietnam should be solved before the military problems.

Another development that was expected to hold up progress in the two-week-old talks was the impending visit of President Nixon to Europe.

French government sources said the President would make Paris the first stop on his itinerary, probably next month.

The Communist negotiators, who have maintained all along that there can be no solution except on the basis of their five-point declaration of last November, may wait to see if the presidential visit will bring any new concessions.

Burglaries Solved By Two Arrests

The arrest Sunday of two Oakland men has cleared up three Petaluma break-ins, including a $1,033 car agency burglary, it was reported today by Petaluma Police Lt. Henry Eslick.

Daniel Emery Brown, 21, and Richard Gene Ubry, 28, were arrested in Oakland and charged with four burglaries. Their statements implicated them in the Petaluma cases, according to Eslick. Petaluma police went to Oakland to question them yesterday.

Eslick said the men burglarized the George Buick agency, 822 Petaluma Boulevard North, on Oct. 28, taking $1,033 in cash and checks from the office safe.

Eslick said the pair also burglarized Sonoma Joe's restaurant, 5151 Old Redwood Highway, and the Santa Rosa Cigarette Service, 416 East D Street, on Jan. 13. In both cases, Eslick said, they fled when burglar alarms sounded.

Eslick, said the pair spoke of entering Western Motors, 1221 Petaluma Boulevard North, on Jan. 13, but police have no report on it.

In addition to Petaluma and Oakland, five other cities have holds on the men, according to Eslick. He said the pair admitted to more than 100 burglaries in the West since August 1968.

Baseball Players May Go Through With Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — The Baseball Players Association is tightening the screws in its continuing battle over pensions with the club owners and the spectre of a major league strike looms larger and larger.

First, the Players Association urged its members not to sign their 1969 contracts until the dispute was settled. Then, yesterday, the association announced plans to boycott spring training unless the pension question is resolved.

Faced with the possibility of unsigned contracts and spring training camps populated only by minor leaguers, the owners could console themselves with the fact that should a strike come, it won't include pickets around their ball parks.

"No, I don't think pickets would be necessary," said Marvin Miller, executive director of the Players Association. "I don't think players can be replaced if they walk out."

Miller presided over a four-hour meeting attended by some 125 players yesterday. At the conclusion of the session, the players issued a resolution supporting their negotiators and saying they would not sign contracts or report to camp until "the negotiations are satisfactorily concluded."

Among the players at the meeting were World Series stars Bob Gibson and Mickey Lolich as well as Brooks Robinson, Ernie Banks, Jim Bunning, Maury Wills, Joe Torre and Rusty Staub.

The decision to boycott the training camps came just 10 days before the Chicago White Sox are scheduled to open the major's first camp site and less than one month before the traditional March 1 opening date.

Some players have indicated that they would pay their own way to their club's training sites and work out on their own should the pension dispute drag on. But Miller said the Players Association was taking a stand against such individual action.

"We've told them," Miller said, "that it would not be wise to put out their own expenses, and we don't want to appear eager."

Miller said that most players have followed the Association's recommendation that they not sign their contracts.

"There are very, very few established players who have signed," he said. "A conservative estimate would be that 90 per cent have not signed, and the figure probably would be higher."

Many clubs claim to have signed contracts on hand but say they have agreed not to release the names of the players who have signed until the dispute with the Players Association is settled.

Miller explained that at the center of the dispute are the players' rights to radio and television revenue. The Players Association contends the owners want to shut the pension plan off from broadcast income "even though the two matters have been directly tied for the last 22 years."

The owners have offered to increase their total yearly contribution to the fund by $1 million, boosting it to $5.1 million annually.

The current plan provides a top of $643 per month at age 65 for a player in the majors five years and $1,288 per month at 65 for a 10-year player.

Just Call It Show Biz, Or Kick With A Smile

LIGHTS, CAMERA — Redwood High School coaches Bob Troppmann, Al Endriss and Dick Hart, along with "Barefoot Placekicker" Gordon Tovani of San Rafael, are going into show biz, I kid you not.

They'll collaborate in a football training film on place kicking which will be premiered at the kicking clinic scheduled at Redwood High on June 7.

I don't imagine the kick flick will win any prizes in the Film Festival, but it should prove popular among coaches at the high school level where kicking is weak.

Anyway, in the Fearsome Foursome's kick flick, Tovani will play the lead role of the barefoot placekicker; Endriss will be the barefingered holder; Hart will be the bare . . . well, the center; and Troppmann will produce, direct and sell popcorn. Barely.

Lights . . . camera . . . hike.

Jawn Jay Remembered

REMEMBERING — My piece here last week on the late John J. Connolly was limited to his newspaper career as a sports editor and columnist, but William E. Waste of Kentfield remembers old Jawn Jay's contribution to production at Marinship during World War II.

Waste, who was vice president and general manager of the Bechtel Corp.'s Sausalito shipyard, recalls: "Much could be written about John's activities there, not the least of which was to start up an in-yard publication called 'The Stinger.'

"Its main purpose was to put the needle on supervision and management, which he did in a way that very often got results and also helped in building up the morale of the workers who took great delight in the barbs that John threw at everybody from Ken Bechtel on down. We finally decided if you couldn't lick Jawn it would be best to join him, which we did and consolidated The Stinger with the official Marinship publication, The Marin-er, and made him editor of both publications. This action, incidentally, did not lessen John's effectiveness at all.

Called Himself 'Old 999'

"I just wanted to let you know that John — or 'Old 999,' as he used to call himself — is remembered for other things besides his interest in sports."

JIM SHORTS:

Look for the 49ers to schedule an exhibition game against the Buffalo Bills at Kezar this summer. With native San Franciscan O. J. Simpson as Buffalo's No. 1 attraction, the 49ers could make hay while the native son shines. Maybe a rare sellout.

Speaking of the Niners, wouldn't it be just their luck if Vince Lombardi were to take over the Washington Redskins and guide them to a great comeback next season? I mean, the 49ers have Washington's No. 1 draft choice next year as a result of the Walter Rock trade, so the higher the Skins finish, the lower the 49ers draft — or vice versa.

Lombardi Hoping Packers Okay His Move To Capital

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)—Vince Lombardi, the coaching genius who turned the Green Bay Packers into a dynasty unparalleled in football history, would like to start all over again with another team—if the Packers give him a chance.

Lombardi, who at the age of 54 "retired" from active coaching last year to become the Packers' general manager, said yesterday he has asked the team to release him from the final five years of his contract so that he can become the top executive officer, the coach and an owner of the Washington Redskins.

"Everybody wants to own something sometime," Lombardi said. "And you want to do something you feel you do best. I will have a substantial piece of equity, and the position will include coaching. I will have control of the club—everything."

However, his transfer from the city that has been his home for the past 10 years hinges on one thing—the willingness of the Packers' executive council to excuse him from the balance of his contract.

VINCE LOMBARDI
Tug-o-war

Packers president Dominic Olejniczak said the council would give Lombardi's request "serious consideration." But, he said, "this is not just an ordinary matter."

Olejniczak said it could take "two or three more meetings" of the council to decide and another meeting would be scheduled in "a day or two."

"Mr. Lombardi has not been given his release," he said. "The matter is open to serious consideration. We are grateful and appreciative for what he has done for Green Bay. But a matter of this type, has to be seriously considered."

Lombardi said two things had swayed him to the decision to move: the chance to return to coaching and the chance to become an owner.

The Packers, a community-owned, non-profit organization, could not give him that ownership opportunity.

And, it was Lombardi himself who had selected as coach of the Packers Phil Bengtson. Any decision to return to coaching at Green Bay would have meant a demotion for his old-time friend.

His players admitted they could see last fall that Lombardi was restless away from the action on the field.

Mathis Batters Chuvalo

NEW YORK (AP) — Buster Mathis, the one-time blubber boy, has turned into a bruiser and the proof is etched today on George Chuvalo's carved-up face.

Mathis, of Grand Rapids, Mich., bloodied Chuvalo over 12 brutal rounds last night and scored a unanimous decision over the game Canadian heavyweight in the second half of a Madison Square Garden boxing doubleheader.

In the opener, Emile Griffith of New York celebrated his 31st birthday with an impressive unanimous 10-round decision over Andy Heilman, a last-minute substitute for injured Doyle Baird.

Mathis, enraged at some low blows in the opening round, charged at Chuvalo to retaliate and twice shoved referee Harold Valan out of the way in attempts to return the fouls.

"He hit me low and said 'I'm sorry,' " Mathis said.

"I was hurt and I told the referee, 'Let me hit him low and tell him that.' "

Mathis calmed down later and methodically chopped Chuvalo down, cutting him over both eyes and raising a huge lump on the Toronto fighter's left cheek.

In the 11th round, a right lead opened a deep cut at the corner of Chuvalo's left eye and the

Raiders Announce John Madden New Head Coach

For two years Madden has been an assistant to John Rauch, who resigned last month to become coach of the Buffalo Bills of the AFL.

Before joining the Raiders in 1967 as coach for linebackers, Madden was an assistant for three years at San Diego State College. In 1963 his Hancock Junior College team at Santa Maria, Calif., won its league championship and was ninth-rated nationally.

A native of Daly City, he played high school ball there and was an all-conference tackle at Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo.

His professional career with the Philadelphia Eagles was cut short in 1959 by a knee injury.

BASEBALL OWNERS HUDDLE

MIAMI (AP)—The baseball club owners went into joint session almost two hours late today after a committee of American League owners met with National League owners in an attempt to find a new commissioner and an answer to their pension squabble with the players.

The American League committee of Gabe Paul of Cleveland, Lee MacPhail of the New York Yankees and Arthur Allyn of the Chicago White Sox met with the full complement of National League owners after the N.L. met in separate session.

Then the two leagues went into session together.

Champs Golf Changes Sites

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The $150,000 Tournament of Champions golf tournament is joining the move to the suburbs, at least for this year.

A spokesman for the Stardust Hotel, sponsor of the April 17-20 event, said yesterday the hotel would keep its contract with the Professional Golfers Association but would move the tournament from the Stardust Country Club to La Costa Country Club, near the Southern California coast.

Morris B. Dalitz, who heads a group which owns the format of the tournament, said last week the group would sell the Stardust Hotel to Parvin-Dohrmann Co.

Broncos Get Scare But Win

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Mighty Santa Clara is still unbeaten in basketball today—but it's a little scared, too.

The Broncs got about as good a battle as they have had all season from upstart San Francisco State last night.

Playing on the Bronco's home court, Santa Clara trailed by as much as 10 points in the second quarter and were still down 39-34 at the half. But Ralph Ogden and Dennis Awtrey, the Broncs' two best gunners, finally got going and Santa Clara won going away, 72-59.

It was the first time Santa Clara had trailed at halftime all season. San Francisco State hit 68 per cent of its first half shots. Awtrey had 23, Ogden 20 and Joe Callaghan 21 for the Gators. Santa Clara has won 18 straight this season.

Another team with a brilliant record, Puget Sound, made its record 17-1, with an 87-56 win over Simon Fraser, only team to beat them. John Smith had 21 for the winners.

And Seattle, a good independent club which has lost only four, sneaked past the tough Athletes in Action team 76-75 in a game played for some reason in Portland, Ore. Willie Blue hit the key last-second free throw and Tom Little had 21 to lead the Chiefs.

S.F. PRESS CONFERENCE

King Says Giants Have Two Flags To Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Clyde King, new manager of the San Francisco Giants, expects the club to be in contention for the 1969 National League pennant, but says, "It will be harder to get into the World Series because you have to win twice."

King, who made a brief stopover at Candlestick Park yesterday, said he thought Atlanta and Cincinnati were the teams to beat in the new two-division setup the Giants will be playing in next year.

Answering those who have said the Giants are in the easier National League division, King made his point about winning in one division, then playing the winner of the other.

King also said:

That Jim Hart would be moved from third base to left field.

That Tito Fuentes, who was out last season when he broke a leg at the Giants' Phoenix Farm club, had recovered and might replace Hart at third.

That young Rich Robertson "has a real good chance to break into our starting rotation, maybe not right off the bat, but he has the equipment and the temperament to do it."

That pitchers dominated the game last year because of the individualized instruction they get and that he planned to give the same type of training to his hitters.

That he hopes to develop a reliable middle-inning relief man so Frank Linzy, the late-inning artist, can be saved until late in games.

King also said he planned to continue resting Willie Mays at times and that he had had "a nice chat" with Juan Marichal in Santo Domingo.

"I didn't want to say much to Juan," King said, "You don't want to work on a 25-game winner too much."

Candlestick Improvement Costs Rise To $16 Million

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco Stadium Inc. estimates it may cost $16 million to expand and improve Candlestick Park, home of the Giants baseball club.

The non-profit corporation, set up to finance the park when it was built, wrote the city government yesterday saying it would need a detailed list of needed improvements and additions before it could arrange financing.

Included in the improvements would be a means of reducing the wind that makes baseballs take odd flights in the outfield.

Stadium, Inc., also said the city would have to put up $350,000 for architectural and engineering plans and specifications and pay for financial consultants. That money, it said, could be repaid after the sale of bonds for the complete project.

Rams Tackle Best In West

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Los Angeles Rams defensive tackle David (Deacon) Jones has been named the West Coast's top professional athlete of 1968 by the Peninsula All-Sports Club, it was announced today.

The balloting was conducted among sports editors in various western cities from a list of most valuable players submitted by 16 professional teams.

Clifton McNeil, San Francisco 49ers end, and Elgin Baylor, Los Angeles Lakers forward, were named runners-up. The award will be presented at a banquet here Feb. 17.

Namath Edges Out McLain For Hickok Athlete Award

McLain received 70 first-place votes to Namath's 63, but the Jets' all-pro quarterback polled 321 points to 317 for McLain.

Bob Gibson, star pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, was third in the voting, followed by golfer Billy Capser, Mickey Lolich of the Tigers, quarterback Earl Morrall of the Baltimore Colts, golfer Lee Trevino, pitcher Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Player-Coach Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics and middleweight boxing champion Nino Benvenuti.

The Golden Link Award, given to athletes who starred before the Hickok competition came into being, went to fullback Bronko Nagurski of Minnesota and the Chicago Bears.

Offshore Well Operations Closed Due To Oil Slick

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — With one exception, offshore oil drillings were shut down today in the Santa Barbara channel as oil continued to bubble up at 21,000 gallons a day from a runaway well 3,500 feet under the ocean floor.

The rig still running was drilling a second well that experts hoped would relieve underground pressure forcing the oil through a crack in the sea floor.

An oil slick from the runaway covered about 200 square miles of the Pacific off the Southern California coast. Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel, after a flight over the slick, said "The pollution is more severe than I anticipated."

So far, strong winds from the east have kept most of the slick away from beaches except at a few points. However, conservationists express fears for marine and bird life.

Congressional concern over the pollution threat resulted in the Senate Public Works Committee sending a team of investigators from Washington to the scene.

The investigators will report their findings Wednesday to a public works subcommittee currently holding hearings on a bill that proposes fines of up to $15 million in cases of proven negligence in oil spilages.

Hickel, after his inspection, asked for suspension of drilling on a temporary, voluntary basis. Humble, Phillips, Gulf, Texaco and Mobil oil companies quickly agreed. Union Oil Co., owner of the well that began spewing oil eight days ago, had ceased operations at its offshore sites shortly after the seepage was discovered. The shutdown did not involve a Union well being drilled to relieve pressure from the runaway.

Hickel said the suspension "will afford a breathing spell until it can be determined if corrective measures are necessary."

Oil drilling in the 20-mile-wide Santa Barbara channel is being done on land leased from the federal government. After competitive bids, oil companies paid more than $600 million last February for the drilling rights. The federal government also was to receive a royalty on any oil produced.

Hickel told a news conference he feels a "complete reassessment" of drilling regulations may be needed. The oil companies, he said, were following existing regulations.

The oil leak, in the "long-term picture," he said, "might be a blessing in disguise" since it would enable regulations to be written that would prevent a leak under circumstances that might be more disastrous.

Hickel returned to Washington late yesterday.

7,154 Vehicles Over Span In One Hour

A one-hour record of 7,154 vehicles crossed the Golden Gate Bridge southbound between 7:30 and 8:30 a.m. yesterday Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring reported. The record was set despite the usual heavy sales of commute tickets on the first Monday of the month, he noted.

Any figure over 6,000, he said, "is an overload."

TV REVIEW

Tribute To William H. Pratt

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Many years ago I came across the fact that Boris Karloff was born William Henry Pratt. And Willian Henry Pratt was how I always thought of him thereafter—for it always seemed to me a much more accurate reflection of this dignified man than "Boris Karloff," a spooky monicker if ever there was one.

As every late-night watcher of television knows, probably the two spookiest—and most famous—names in oldtime horror movies were Boris Karloff and Bela Lugosi, who, by the way, was born Bela Lugosi Blasko. And now, with the death of Karloff in England Sunday, at the age of 81, both are gone.

Karloff, on screen, was quite different—and more subtle—in his conception of horror than Lugosi. And Karloff, as Frankenstein's monster, was still something of a higher order—and not merely because the shadings of tragedy were written into the movie character.

Even though the shadings were there, it took a superior actor—and a man with superior dignity—to steadily sidestep the easy, all-out horror approach of black and white. And what Karloff was able to create, therefore, was a vividly-etched portrait of a lump of a monster who was not a horror until human beings reacted in terror toward him.

Underneath all the trappings of a horror film, Karloff created a soul for a monster who had none, but was merely stiched together by a scientist seeking—as the scripts always said—to play God. He was a creature who happened to be different from so-called normal persons, and was turned into a horror by people who reacted with fear to something so extremely opposite from themselves. Thus he was both tragic and pathetic. He did not ask to be created.

For myself, I will always remember Karloff's Frankenstein monster in a scene with a little girl. The monster, not knowing his dreadful appearance, and the girl, not yet old enough to be taught to fear what is merely different, were friendly. The monster was charmed by her, playful almost, and somehow childish and very nearly innocent. It took some kind of actor to pull this off.

$1 MILLION VENTURE

Sports Minded Marinites Seek Recreation Complex

Jack MacPhee, long time San Rafael weightlifting coach and enthusiast, with a big helping hand from the Marin Sertoma Club, is starting out on a venture that he hopes will have a million dollar ending.

MacPhee is coach of the Marvel Athletic Club, Marin mecca for weightlifters and boxers. Without any facilities to train, MacPhee has turned his basement at 60 Woods Street into a gymnasium but can accommodate only eight or 10 athletes at a time.

The Marin Sertoma, headed by president Hans Schneider, voted Thursday night to sponsor MacPhee and the Marvel Athletic Club to develop bigger and better facilities for youth of Marin County.

First item to take care of is finding a building large enough to be used as a training center for weightlifting, boxing, wrestling and judo.

4,000 FEET

"That's the first thing we are working on," said MacPhee, adding that about 4,000 square feet is needed for the training program function.

Schneider said the Marin Sertoma Club, made up of 11 businessmen will lease the property, when the right piece is found, for a year.

"That's the start," said MacPhee, "and eventually we would like to buy property and enlarge the facilities to include a track, swimming pool, handball courts, things like that."

NO TRAINING

MacPhee said he had some Marvel A. C. members who wanted to enter the Golden Gloves boxing tournament next week in San Francisco, but because of no place to train, had to pass it up.

"We want a place for kids who are active, kids who want to make something of themselves," said MacPhee. "It's not going to be for loafing."

Although admitting the plans have not gone far enough ahead for actual cost estimates of the finished product, MacPhee has his sights set on "a million dollar complex, a complete athletic layout."

NON-PROFIT

MacPhee plans to take out corporation papers on the Marvel A. C. which will be a non-profit organization. Cost of the program will be met entirely by donations, said MacPhee.

"We want to compete with the hippie scene," said MacPhee, "and pull the kids this way . . . give them something to do."

"There is nothing for the youngsters of the county," said Schneider. "There just are no indoor athletic facilities for them to turn to."

"We want to build Marin County into a sports capital," added MacPhee. "We want a sports complex that will have something for everybody."

Bonds, Hunt Give Giants Fine Hit And Run Punch

For years the Giants were without an effective leadoff man. Then, last season they suddenly got two. Ron Hunt started the season in the No. 1 batting position. Bobby Bonds moved into the top spot shortly after he was called up from Phoenix June 24.

Until Hunt came along, the Giants hadn't had an effective leadoff batter since Eddie Stanky. Every time you looked at first base in 1951 Stanky seemed to be on with a walk or single. He was a very important contributor to the National League championship of the Giants in 1951.

Stanky always was good for close to 100 or more walks a season. He still holds the National League record of 148 walks for Brooklyn in 1945, an impressive number of passes but substantially below Babe Ruth's all-time American League mark of 170 for the Yankees in 1923.

IN HIS first season as a Giant, Hunt showed the team how to get on base last year. He led the team in walks (78), was third in hits (132) and set a modern record by getting hit with a pitch 25 times. Hunt was on base 235 times in 529 ABs.

When Hunt was dropped to the No. 2 batting position following call-up of Bonds, he was asked to sacrifice 16 times. Hunt bunted perfectly, 16-for-16.

IN THE No. 1 or No. 2 position, Hunt proved to be a very versatile batter. He is the kind of batter that pitchers don't like to face. Invariably he will take at least two pitches even if they are strikes. Then, he will protect the plate, fouling off one pitch after another. He repeatedly works pitchers into 3-2 counts.

This year Hunt probably will bat No. 2 again because of his ability to advance a runner. Clyde King, the new manager, says the Giants are going to be a hit-run team this year.

WITH BONDS batting No. 1 and Hunt in the No. 2 slot, the Giants did have an effective hit-run combination during the second half of the season last year.

Bonds' speed kept pitchers a trifle edgy. His 16 stolen bases in 23 attempts were the team high — and they all came in just half a season.

Hunt's coolness at bat, taking first pitches, gave Bonds an opportunity to steal. Hunt's ability on a hit-run play to get his bat on the ball gave Bonds the protection a runner should have. Hunt's ability to draw a base on balls was an added way of advancing the runner. So, too, was his fearless attitude against tight pitches, 25 of which hit him.

wound pumped blood for the rest of the fight. It took 10 stitches to close the cut.

"I prayed they would stop the fight after he was cut," said Mathis. "But they didn't, so I had to keep going."

When the fight ended, Chuvalo's face was a bloody mask. George seemed resigned to the unamimous decision against him.

"I fought a bad fight," said Chuvalo. "But I'd like to fight him again. It was just one of those nights."

Mathis, so angry at Chuvalo in the early rounds that he risked disqualification by shoving the referee, knelt in prayer as the decision was announced.

"I said a prayer for George," said Buster, who weighed 232, 24 pounds more than Chuvalo. "I'd hate to be in his room now. I know how it is. I've been in that situation."

On deck for Mathis is a March 10 Garden date with California heavyweight Jerry Quarry. The winner of that fight could get a shot at Joe Frazier'sshare of the heavyweight title. Frazier beat Mathis for the crown last March.

In the opener of the doubleheader, Griffith stung Heilman repeatedly, piling up a big lead on points. The fighters spent much of the bout pounding away at close quarters.

"I thought I could have done a little better inside," said Griffith, who weighed 156¼ to Heilman's 161. "He just kept coming at me."

The cut could jeopardize a Feb. 24 Garden date between Griffith and Stanley "Kitten" Hayward. "We'll have to see how it is in a couple of days," said Gil Clancy, Griffith's co-manager.

The doubleheader attracted a crowd of 14,155 and the show drew a gross gate of $128,536.

Golfing Trail Hits Desert

Bob Hope Classic On Tap

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — The 1969 winter golf trail shifted to this California winter resort area today for the 10th annual Bob Hope Desert Classic, a 90-hole marathon which Arnold Palmer has won an unprecedented three times.

Palmer, who chucked the tour at San Diego last week is back as defending champion as are Billy Casper, Doug Sanders and Jack Nicklaus, the last fresh from his triumph in the $150,000 event Sunday at San Diego.

Missing as a contestant in the pro-amateur sideline attraction will be the entertainment star of the show, Hope himself. The comedian's doctors have advised him to stay clear of too much physical activity because of a recurring eye ailment.

The tournament, longest by holes in the world, is played over four courses — Bermuda Dunes, Indian Wells, La Quinta and Tamarisk.

The affair is a strain on scorekeepers. Each of the 136 pros entered will play with a different set of three amateurs for four rounds. The pros have things to themselves for the nationally televised final round Sunday.

The official purse money is $100,000, the winning pro to collect $20,000. An additional $22,000 is split by the pros in the pro-am competition.

Indicative of the trend toward bigger prize money, the 1969 hundred grand is exactly double what was offered in the initial tournament under its present format in 1960.

Palmer, the inaugural winner, won $12,000. But the winner later received sums of $5,300, $9,000 and $15,000.

A year ago Palmer had to win the $20,000 the hard way—in a sudden death playoff with Deane Beman. The two finished all even at 348 for 90 holes.

One stroke back in regular play was Soth Africa's Harold Henning, who also is entered this year.

NORCAL BASKETBALL

Well, The Worst Is Over For Cal, Stanford Cagers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California's Jim Padgett wanted to forget all about it. Stanford's Howie Dallmar wanted to get it out of his system.

It was the misfortune of both Padgett and Dallmar that their teams played UCLA over the weekend. The top-ranked Bruins polished off Cal 109-74 on Friday, then stomped Stanford 98-61 the next night.

"I'd rather look ahead," said Padgett to the Northern California Basketball Writers yesterday. Cal, which also lost to Southern Cal Saturday, plays Oregon State and Oregon this Friday and Saturday.

Dallmar was more expansive on the subject of UCLA, though he pointedly reminded listeners that his club had beaten Southern Cal on Friday 66-56.

"I don't think there's ever been a front line in college basketball to match what they have up there," said the Stanford coach, referring to UCLA center Lew Alcindor and forwards Lynn Shackelford and Curtis Rowe.

Not the San Francisco combination of Bill Russell-Mike Farmer of the 1950s nor the Ohio State twosome of later years of Jerry Lucas and John Havlicek equalled UCLA, said Dallmar.

He said that if the opposing team contested Alcindor and company for rebounds on its own offensive board, it risked having Lew fling long passes to unguarded teammates at the other end of the court.

The alternative, Dallmar said, was to lay back and play defense. Neither plan helped the Indians much.

The writers named Bill Stricker of Pacific and Dennis Awtrey of Santa Clara as players of the week.

Stricker scored 29 points and had 13 rebounds in a triumph over Seattle and Awtrey had 38 points in a victory over Cal State-Hayward.

Bowling Tips

By MARION LADEWIG

Ghilotti Wins Rec. Cage Game

A balanced scoring attack led Ghilotti Brothers to a 78-69 victory over Sausalito Pharmacy in a Class A basketball game of the San Rafael Recreation Department Adult League yesterday at San Rafael High School.

Sausalito got 29 points out of Don Johnson but it wasn't enough to offset five Ghilotti Brothers players in double figures, led by Jim Caranica with 18.

Northwestern Cage Coach To Retire

EVANSTON, Ill. (UPI)—Larry Glass has resigned as basketball coach at Northwestern, effective at the end of the season, Athletic Director Tippy Dye announced yesterday.

Glass said his resignation came as a result "of pressure...within myself" and because "in my opinion the basketball program will be more effective with someone else at its head."

Tam Booters In First Place

Tamalpais High School's soccer team took over undisputed possession of first place in the unofficial Marin Counry Ahtletic League Soccer Standings, by downing Novato, 3-1, at Mill Valley yesterday.

The Tamalpais jayvees also won, 2-0, to keep its hold on first place in the junior varsity standings.

TOMORROW NIGHT

Brother Acts Headline Novato High Ring Show

Three sets of brothers, four returning champions and some formerly well known boxing names will be on hand for the fifth annual Novato Boxing Night at Novato High School tomorrow at 8 p.m.

There will be teen-aged battles in 10 weight divisions and some of it looks like a family affair.

Three brother duos, including one set of twins, will be on the program. The twins are Kevin and Ken Burton. Kevin will be in the flyweight division at 126 pounds, opposing John Mills, while Ken will go against Rich Campbell, another member of a brother act, at the 139-pound junior-welterweight division.

Rich Campbell is a junior, while older brother Wally, a senior, goes after his third title, battling Randy Smith in the 147-pound welterweight division.

CHAMPS CLASH

That should be a slam-bang affair. Smith already has won the lightweight and flyweight titles while Campbell has the welterweight and junior-middleweight crowns to his credit.

Former world middleweight champion Carl "Bobo" Olson will act as one of the officials during the night, sharing duties with Sixto Rodriguez, former California light-heavyweight champ, and former California featherweight champ "Pee Wee" Thomas.

Ruby Nominated To Drive At Indy

COMBINED AP & UPI

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Lloyd Ruby, veteran race driver from Wichita Falls, Tex., was nominated today to drive a wedge-shaped turbocharged Offenhauser car in the 53rd Indianapolis 500-mile race May 30.

Dave Laycock is building the Ruby car and another without a named driver at Avon, Ind.

Ruby led last year's Indy 500 with only 26 laps to go when his car developed ignition trouble. Laycock replaced a faulty coil in only six minutes and 27 seconds and Ruby finished fifth.

Ruby has driven 3,902.5 miles in competition at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, more than any active driver, and has finished eighth or better in nine appearances. His best was third in 1964.

Petaluma Moratorium Set On Mobile Homes

The Petaluma City Council last night declared a moratorium on rezoning for mobile home parks for six months or until a special mobile home park zone is created.

Several councilmen suggested that nine months might be a more realistic time period, but William C. McGovern, city planner, said his office could prepare the plans in two months. He advised council to allow another four months for public hearings and commission and council decisions.

Mayor Helen Putnam, in offering the resolution, said, "This moratorium will give us time to come up with some quite creative zoning to regulate the placement of mobile home parks."

The moratorium came after the council and planning commission spent several months debating the application of David D. Young to rezone 80 acres of industrial land on Corona Road to permit a mobile home park.

The council approved the Young rezoning request, but whittled the area for the mobile home park to 34.8 acres.

The Petaluma City Council Also:

DEDICATION POLICY — Delayed action on a policy establishing requirements for land dedication for street widening projects. Most members said another study session on it would be necessary. The policy resolution offered would give the city engineer the power to require dedication when he deemed it necessary.

BOAT LAUNCHING — Heard a report from Richard W. Shollenberger, parks and recreation director, that the state Lands Commission had not yet given final approval to the planned boat launching ramp area. He said this delay was caused by a backlog of work before the commission.

DRIVE-INS — Adopted an ordinance adding drive-in restaurants as a conditional use in neighborhood commercial zones.

REZONING — Rezoned 219 Edith Street from multiple family residential to neighborhood commercial to allow construction of a drive-in restaurant.

PUMP SITE — Approved a resolution to acquire land for a new pump station on McNear Avenue at $5,500.

PREZONING — Introduced a resolution to prezone 50 acres on McDowell Boulevard South from agricultural to single family dwelling zone.

SEWER WAIVER — Introduced an ordinance permitting sewer connection fees to be waived where premises had received sewer service within the past five years.

BILLIARDS — Introduced an ordinance to drop the barring of minors from city billiards parlors as suggested by Police Chief Larry D. Higgins.

PRESERVE — Issued a letter of no protest to Sonoma County supervisors who are considering including land at the northeast corner of Corona and Ely roads in the county agricultural preserve. The land is owned by Richard Gray, Nora Baker and Mary Albertoni.

Chamber Asked To Sponsor Core Area Bonds Election

The Petaluma Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday were asked to consider sponsoring a bond issue initiative to place the Petaluma core area plan on the June ballot.

President Floyd Wynne said he felt city council would have second thoughts about getting into a bond election when four council seats will be up for election at the June 10 election.

"If council takes no action to put the plan on the ballot, it could be done through the initiative process," Wynne said.

Wynne suggested the directors consider such action and also consult with city officials before taking action. "We'd certainly need the cooperation of the city if the bond issue were to pass," he said.

Petaluma Chamber Of Commerce Also:

NEW CHAMBER — Heard warning from director George De Long that a new chamber for businesses on the east side of Petaluma is being organized. "Where does that leave us?" De Long asked. "Will we continue to serve only the West Side or incorporate the East Side too?" The Greater Petaluma chamber now technically includes the East Side, but does not include any leaders from that section on the board of directors, in major promotional activities nor in the Christmas lighting program. Wynne said the chamber would welcome the support of all businessmen.

BUDGET — Reacted unfavorably to a suggestion from Wynne that the city council increase business license tax fees to provide greater income for the chamber to offset the $20,000 losses on the Christmas lighting program. Most directors objected to increasing taxes in principal and said such a tax would benefit only businesses in the core area.

INDUSTRIAL COMMITTEE — Named Arnold Brown and Ernest Von Raesfeld to the industrial committee and named councilman Robert S Lipman as a non-voting committee liaison to city council.

Reward Offered On Hijack Tips

WASHINGTON (AP) — Airline companies and their pilots are offering a $25,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of hijackers.

But it will not be paid to anyone who tries to apprehend a hijacker on board an airplane.

The Air Line Pilots Association and the Air Transport Association jointly announced the reward yesterday, They said it will be limited to information supplied before next Jan. 1 about hijackings that occurred on United States airlines after last Jan. 15.

In Congress, Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W. Va., said the House Commerce Committee he heads will start a hearing on air safety and hijacking tomorrow.

'Sing Out Marin' Concert Slated

The council of music and arts of the Dixie School District will sponsor a concert by "Sing Out Marin" Friday at 3:30 p.m. in the multipurpose room of the Bernard Hoffman School in Terra Linda.

Parents may attend, the district office said.

This is part of the program undertaken by the council in which it arranges cultural events for schools in the Dixie district as an addition to the regular curriculum.

Play Scheduled

San Anselmo's Artist Repertory Company of Marin will present "Spoon River Anthology" at 8 p.m. Feb. 15 in the West Marin Arts Crafts Culture Center, Point Reyes Station, Highway 1.

Auditor Hits Schools Data Processing

The Novato Unified School District, along with other school districts in Marin is dissatisfied with the data processing operations of the county school superintendent's office and County of Marin, Robert J. Soderblom, Novato school auditor, last night told district trustees.

Soderblom lashed out at personnel running the data processing equipment and accused them of not giving the districts needed information. He made his accusations while giving the board the annual audit of the district's books.

Soderblom said that the county schools data processing center at Terra Linda and the county's at the Civic Center were not coordinating the information needed by the schools. He cited that districts can learn the cost of operating each school, but not all schools together. The results are "really sad," he said.

Soderblom said that, if the two data processing centers do not work together for the schools, each district will be forced to go back to its own accounting system.

"The schools' information is not programmed correctly so that they do not get the needed information," Soderblom charged. He said that the San Rafael, Tamalpais and Novato school district were working together to see if they could find out how to make the system work.

In reporting on the audit, Soderblom said that student funds at the junior and senior high schools should be kept by administrators since teachers were keeping insufficient records.

The board accepted the annual audit by Soderblom's firm.

The Novato Unified School District board also:

SHOPLIFTING — Authorized the Novato branch of the American Association of University Women to distribute antishoplifting pamphlets to school children.

CONSTRUCTION — Heard a report that Kal Porter and Associates had started work on preliminary plans for an addition to the shop at San Marin High School, and authorized Phillip Lygren Engineering Co. to do work on the San Jose Junior High School playing field at 8 per cent commission.

DRESS — Postponed consideration on a policy statement on dress and disruption of school prepared by the Novato Teachers' Association.

LABOR — Took under advisement a request by the Marin County Labor Council and the Building and Construction Trades Council of Marin that the district hire only local laborers and use California products.

PERSONNEL — Accepted the resignation of Fred Baguio, sixth grade teacher at Loma Verde School, and hired Joyce Blakeley at $2,114, Laura Hurvich at $1,885 and Genevieve Poehlmann at $2,074 as half-time teachers for the handicapped for the balance of the school year.

CLOSED — Held a closed meeting for 10 minutes to discuss with the county counsel's office the case of James Kimmel, former Novato High School teacher who was fired after being arrested on marijuana charges. A preliminary hearing for Kimmel in Marin Municipal Court is scheduled Feb. 11.

Parents Want Marijuana Users Ousted

Parents who do not want their children associating with students who are known narcotics users last night asked the Novato School Board to remove the offenders from school.

The board asked the staff to work with parents to try to fix a policy, possibly within a month, to suspend or expel students. They would use police records to identify narcotics users or pushers, it was indicated.

"The children are being taunted if they do not smoke marijuana," said Joseph Bendik of 1200 Second Street. He asked protection for students from narcotics sellers.

George F. Caldwall Jr. of 22 Truman Drive said the problem was worsening with no action from the school board. He also said a number of parents should be educated about drugs.

Supt. James G. Bunker reported that inquiries around the state had found that Grossmont High School in San Diego suspended drug users for a semester. He said that some Bay Area school districts suspended them for 10 to 15 days.

On a question from Caldwell, Bunker said that the Grossmont High School superintendent said that the suspension had cut down on the sale and use of marijuana on the school grounds, but that he did not think it made any difference off the school property.

Bunker said that there was a law which went into effect in November which requires police agencies to report to school districts the names of students arrested by the police for the use of narcotics. He said that the Novato police were cooperating, but that the district had not received any names from the sheriff's department or the county probation office.

Acapulco, Mexico, the world-famous resort, was founded in the 16th Century but remained a sleepy fishing village until a highway reached it in 1927. Most residents now live on tourism.

Ballad Opera On Schedule

"The Chambermaid," an 18th Century ballad opera from the collection of the American Music Research Center at Dominican College, will be presented by the college's opera theater at 8 p.m. Thursday and Friday in Angelico Hall on the San Rafael campus.

Ballad opera, forerunner of the American musical comedy, was a comic play interspersed with popular tunes of the day. According to Sister M. Dominic, O.P., director of the research center, "The compiler-composer might also select tunes from Handel, Purcell or other good composers and on occasion might even compose two or three for himself."

"The Chambermaid" was first performed at Drury Lane in London on Feb. 10, 1730. The music is by Henry Carey, Handel, Richard Leveridge and others, while the text is by Edward Phillips.

Arthur Conrad will direct the production in conjunction with Sister Dominic as musical director and arranger.

The cast of eight includes sopranos Catherine Collette, Elizabeth Heffernan and Suanne O'Hare; tenors Melvyn Poll and Fred Lewis; mezzo soprano Sherry Silva, and Marjorie Broughton and Stan Berde in dramatic roles.

Margin Of Declines Narrow On Market

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks stumbled a bit today, although the margin of declines over advances was relatively narrow. Trading was heavy.

Economic news generally was bullish, but the international news including Vietnam and the Middle East was unsettling to traders.

The encouraging domestic news included rising steel prices and output, record construction spending in December and stepped-up sales of automobiles last month, led by General Motors, the No. 1 car maker.

Steels were mostly higher following favorable industry developments. Motors traded in narrow ranges, as did most chemical issues.

Several oil issues moved a point or so in each direction, with Standard of California firm. Rails and airlines generally swung narrowly.

B.F. Goodrich, was firm for most of the session. A federal judge has rejected its bid to block Northwest Industries, a holding company created by the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, from buying Goodrich shares in a tender offer. Northwest also gained.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Annuities Assure Income For Life

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am approaching retirement and am trying to figure how much income I can muster up. I have been considering a 5 per cent passbook savings account. But a high-rated insurance company has offered me a straight life annuity that will pay what amounts to 9 per cent income on my investment for the rest of my life. Would this be riskier than the bank?—L.B.

A. I am not sure from your letter if you fully understand what an annuity is. Since the company has a good reputation, you need not be concerned with risk; monthly income is guaranteed for your lifetime. But any portion of the principal which might remain after your death reverts to the life insurance company, not to your estate. The insurance company uses not only the income it earns from your money but also dips into your capital to provide monthly payments.

An individual could set up this type of plan for himself, but there is the constant threat of outliving the capital. If, for instance, you deposited $100,000 in a 5 per cent savings account and withdrew $9,000 annually, it would take only 17 years to exhaust your capital plus accrued interest. This same capital used to purchase a single premium straight life annuity would guarantee about $9,000 annually, regardless of how many years you lived.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Drive-In Secretarial Service Is Doing Business In Fairfax

There is something new in drive-in establishments in Fairfax — Dell's Drive-In Secretarial Service — opened yesterday at 85 Bolinas Road.

Occupying an abandoned service station at this address, owner Mrs. Dell Blodgett, formerly a secretary with the City of Fairfax, has set up a business to handle transcription from either dictation or draft, mimeograph work, photocopies, place card and badge lettering (her penmanship is beautiful), addressing manuscripts and tabulations — and she is also a notary public. She has been a secretary for 29 years, so is experienced in just about every phase of this type of service.

Gas pumps and all still remain. What to do with them is something of a problem — decorate them, block them out, or cut off the tops and make flower pots of them.

Perhaps the thing to do would be to install self-service dictating equipment inside each one for businessmen in a hurry who don't want to leave their cars.

JOSEPH F. EDELSTEIN of Sleepy Hollow, partner in the San Francisco investment securities firm, Edelstein, Campbell and Co., has been elected governor of the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange for a two-year term. He is past president of the San Francisco Security Analysts and a member of the business conduct committee of the National Association of Security Dealers.

ROBERT J. PETERSEN of Fairfax has joined Pacific Coast Title Co. of Marin, San Rafael, as vice president and branch manager of the Mill Valley office. He started in the title business in 1962 at San Rafael. Since early last year he has been with First American Title Co. of Marin — first as sales manager and since last May as vice president.

RICHARD J. BENNETT of Novato has been promoted to automotive finance officer in Crocker-Citizens National Bank's automotive finance administration in San Francisco. He will continue as assistant manager of the schedule and lease department. He joined Crocker-Citizens in 1964 following five years of financial experience in San Rafael.

JOHN R. PITCAIRN of Ross, a certified public accountant in San Francisco, has joined Terence V. McLoughlin of that city in partnership as Pitcairn and McLoughlin, Certified Public Accountants. Offices are at 683 McAllister Street.

Marchant

Mrs. Schram

REAL ESTATE. Hugh H. (Bud) Marchant of Nipper and Marchant, San Anselmo, has been designated Graduate, Realtors Institute by the California Real Estate Association. While some 10,000 candidates are enrolled today, only 303 have completed the requirements and have been awarded the GRI designation. His certificate number is 103. . .

Jeanne Schramm of Sausalito has joined Home and Land Co. and will be headquartered at the Sausalito office. Before obtaining her license she was five years with the foreign aid program in Africa and Brazil. . . .

Paul C. Holter of Kentfield, principal in Holter Communications Corp., San Francisco, has a new publication out, The Bay Area House Hunter, which showcases new and resale homes in this area and also discusses gardening, landscaping and decorating. It will be issued every other month throughout the year and will have a circulation of 50,000.

Baseball Players May Go Through With Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — The Baseball Players Association is tightening the screws in its continuing battle over pensions with the club owners and the spectre of a major league strike looms larger and larger.

First, the Players Association urged its members not to sign their 1969 contracts until the dispute was settled. Then, yesterday, the association announced plans to boycott spring training unless the pension question is resolved.

Faced with the possibility of unsigned contracts and spring training camps populated only by minor leaguers, the owners could console themselves with the fact that should a strike come, it won't include pickets around their ball parks.

"No, I don't think pickets would be necessary," said Marvin Miller, executive director of the Players Association. "I don't think players can be replaced if they walk out."

Miller presided over a four-hour meeting attended by some 125 players yesterday. At the conclusion of the session, the players issued a resolution supporting their negotiators and saying they would not sign contracts or report to camp until "the negotiations are satisfactorily concluded."

Among the players at the meeting were World Series stars Bob Gibson and Mickey Lolich as well as Brooks Robinson, Ernie Banks, Jim Bunning, Maury Wills, Joe Torre and Rusty Staub.

The decision to boycott the training camps came just 10 days before the Chicago White Sox are scheduled to open the major's first camp site and less than one month before the traditional March 1 opening date.

Some players have indicated that they would pay their own way to their club's training sites and work out on their own should the pension dispute drag on. But Miller said the Players Association was taking a stand against such individual action.

"We've told them," Miller said, "that it would not be wise to put out their own expenses, and we don't want to appear eager."

Miller said that most players have followed the Association's recommendation that they not sign their contracts.

"There are very, very few established players who have signed," he said. "A conservative estimate would be that 90 per cent have not signed, and the figure probably would be higher."

Many clubs claim to have signed contracts on hand but say they have agreed not to release the names of the players who have signed until the dispute with the Players Association is settled.

Miller explained that at the center of the dispute are the players' rights to radio and television revenue. The Players Association contends the owners want to shut the pension plan off from broadcast income "even though the two matters have been directly tied for the last 22 years."

The owners have offered to increase their total yearly contribution to the fund by $1 million, boosting it to $5.1 million annually.

The current plan provides a top of $643 per month at age 65 for a player in the majors five years and $1,288 per month at 65 for a 10-year player.

Just Call It Show Biz, Or Kick With A Smile

LIGHTS, CAMERA — Redwood High School coaches Bob Troppmann, Al Endriss and Dick Hart, along with "Barefoot Placekicker" Gordon Tovani of San Rafael, are going into show biz, I kid you not.

They'll collaborate in a football training film on place kicking which will be premiered at the kicking clinic scheduled at Redwood High on June 7.

I don't imagine the kick flick will win any prizes in the Film Festival, but it should prove popular among coaches at the high school level where kicking is weak.

Anyway, in the Fearsome Foursome's kick flick, Tovani will play the lead role of the barefoot placekicker; Endriss will be the barefingered holder; Hart will be the bare . . . well, the center; and Troppmann will produce, direct and sell popcorn. Barely.

Lights . . . camera . . . hike.

Jawn Jay Remembered

REMEMBERING — My piece here last week on the late John J. Connolly was limited to his newspaper career as a sports editor and columnist, but William E. Waste of Kentfield remembers old Jawn Jay's contribution to production at Marinship during World War II.

Waste, who was vice president and general manager of the Bechtel Corp.'s Sausalito shipyard, recalls: "Much could be written about John's activities there, not the least of which was to start up an in-yard publication called 'The Stinger.'

"Its main purpose was to put the needle on supervision and management, which he did in a way that very often got results and also helped in building up the morale of the workers who took great delight in the barbs that John threw at everybody from Ken Bechtel on down. We finally decided if you couldn't lick Jawn it would be best to join him, which we did and consolidated The Stinger with the official Marinship publication, The Marin-er, and made him editor of both publications. This action, incidentally, did not lessen John's effectiveness at all.

Called Himself 'Old 999'

"I just wanted to let you know that John — or 'Old 999,' as he used to call himself — is remembered for other things besides his interest in sports."

JIM SHORTS:

Look for the 49ers to schedule an exhibition game against the Buffalo Bills at Kezar this summer. With native San Franciscan O. J. Simpson as Buffalo's No. 1 attraction, the 49ers could make hay while the native son shines. Maybe a rare sellout.

Speaking of the Niners, wouldn't it be just their luck if Vince Lombardi were to take over the Washington Redskins and guide them to a great comeback next season? I mean, the 49ers have Washington's No. 1 draft choice next year as a result of the Walter Rock trade, so the higher the Skins finish, the lower the 49ers draft — or vice versa.

Lombardi Hoping Packers Okay His Move To Capital

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)— Vince Lombardi, the coaching genius who turned the Green Bay Packers into a dynasty unparalleled in football history, would like to start all over again with another team—if the Packers give him a chance.

Lombardi, who at the age of 54 "retired" from active coaching last year to become the Packers' general manager, said yesterday he has asked the team to release him from the final five years of his contract so that he can become the top executive officer, the coach and an owner of the Washington Redskins.

"Everybody wants to own something sometime," Lombardi said. "And you want to do something you feel you do best. I will have a substantial piece of equity, and the position will include coaching. I will have control of the club—everything."

VINCE LOMBARDI
Tug-o-war

However, his transfer from the city that has been his home for the past 10 years hinges on one thing—the willingness of the Packers' executive council to excuse him from the balance of his contract.

Packers president Dominic Olejniczak said the council would give Lombardi's request "serious consideration." But, he said, "this is not just an ordinary matter."

Olejniczak said it could take "two or three more meetings" of the council to decide and another meeting would be scheduled in "a day or two."

"Mr. Lombardi has not been given his release," he said. "The matter is open to serious consideration. We are grateful and appreciative for what he has done for Green Bay. But a matter of this type, has to be seriously considered."

Lombardi said two things had swayed him to the decision to move: the chance to return to coaching and the chance to become an owner.

The Packers, a community-owned, non-profit organization, could not give him that ownership opportunity.

And, it was Lombardi himself who had selected as coach of the Packers Phil Bengtson. Any decision to return to coaching at Green Bay would have meant a demotion for his old-time friend.

His players admitted they could see last fall that Lombardi was restless away from the action on the field.

Mathis Batters Chuvalo

NEW YORK (AP) — Buster Mathis, the one-time blubber boy, has turned into a bruiser and the proof is etched today on George Chuvalo's carved-up face.

Mathis, of Grand Rapids, Mich., bloodied Chuvalo over 12 brutal rounds last night and scored a unanimous decision over the game Canadian heavyweight in the second half of a Madison Square Garden boxing doubleheader.

In the opener, Emile Griffith of New York celebrated his 31st birthday with an impressive unanimous 10-round decision over Andy Heilman, a last-minute substitute for injured Doyle Baird.

Mathis, enraged at some low blows in the opening round, charged at Chuvalo to retaliate and twice shoved referee Harold Valan out of the way in attempts to return the fouls.

"He hit me low and said 'I'm sorry,' " Mathis said.

"I was hurt and I told the referee, 'Let me hit him low and tell him that.' "

Mathis calmed down later and methodically chopped Chuvalo down, cutting him over both eyes and raising a huge lump on the Toronto fighter's left cheek.

In the 11th round, a right lead opened a deep cut at the corner of Chuvalo's left eye and the

S.F. PRESS CONFERENCE

King Says Giants Have Two Flags To Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Clyde King, new manager of the San Francisco Giants, expects the club to be in contention for the 1969 National League pennant, but says, "It will be harder to get into the World Series because you have to win twice."

King, who made a brief stopover at Candlestick Park yesterday, said he thought Atlanta and Cincinnati were the teams to beat in the new two-division setup the Giants will be playing in next year.

Answering those who have said the Giants are in the easier National League division, King made his point about winning in one division, then playing the winner of the other.

King also said:

That Jim Hart would be moved from third base to left field.

That Tito Fuentes, who was out last season when he broke a leg at the Giants' Phoenix Farm club, had recovered and might replace Hart at third.

That young Rich Robertson "has a real good chance to break into our starting rotation, maybe not right off the bat, but he has the equipment and the temperament to do it."

That pitchers dominated the game last year because of the individualized instruction they get and that he planned to give the same type of training to his hitters.

That he hopes to develop a reliable middle-inning relief man so Frank Linzy, the late-inning artist, can be saved until late in games.

King also said he planned to continue resting Willie Mays at times and that he had had "a nice chat" with Juan Marichal in Santo Domingo.

"I didn't want to say much to Juan," King said, "You don't want to work on a 25-game winner too much."

Candlestick Improvement Costs Rise To $16 Million

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco Stadium Inc. estimates it may cost $16 million to expand and improve Candlestick Park, home of the Giants baseball club.

The non-profit corporation, set up to finance the park when it was built, wrote the city government yesterday saying it would need a detailed list of needed improvements and additions before it could arrange financing.

Included in the improvements would be a means of reducing the wind that makes baseballs take odd flights in the outfield.

Stadium, Inc., also said the city would have to put up $350,000 for architectural and engineering plans and specifications and pay for financial consultants. That money, it said, could be repaid after the sale of bonds for the complete project.

Rams Tackle Best In West

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Los Angeles Rams defensive tackle David (Deacon) Jones has been named the West Coast's top professional athlete of 1968 by the Peninsula All-Sports Club, it was announced today.

The balloting was conducted among sports editors in various western cities from a list of most valuable players submitted by 16 professional teams.

Clifton McNeil, San Francisco 49ers end, and Elgin Baylor, Los Angeles Lakers forward, were named runners-up. The award will be presented at a banquet here Feb. 17.

Namath Edges Out McLain For Hickok Athlete Award

McLain received 70 first-place votes to Namath's 63, but the Jets' all-pro quarterback polled 321 points to 317 for McLain.

Bob Gibson, star pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, was third in the voting, followed by golfer Billy Capser, Mickey Lolich of the Tigers, quarterback Earl Morrall of the Baltimore Colts, golfer Lee Trevino, pitcher Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Player-Coach Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics and middleweight boxing champion Nino Benvenuti.

The Golden Link Award, given to athletes who starred before the Hickok competition came into being, went to fullback Bronko Nagurski of Minnesota and the Chicago Bears.

Raiders Announce John Madden New Head Coach

For two years Madden has been an assistant to John Rauch, who resigned last month to become coach of the Buffalo Bills of the AFL.

Before joining the Raiders in 1967 as coach for linebackers, Madden was an assistant for three years at San Diego State College. In 1963 his Hancock Junior College team at Santa Maria, Calif., won its league championship and was ninth-rated nationally.

A native of Daly City, he played high school ball there and was an all-conference tackle at Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo.

His professional career with the Philadelphia Eagles was cut short in 1959 by a knee injury.

BASEBALL OWNERS HUDDLE

MIAMI (AP)—The baseball club owners went into joint session almost two hours late today after a committee of American League owners met with National League owners in an attempt to find a new commissioner and an answer to their pension squabble with the players.

The American League committee of Gabe Paul of Cleveland, Lee MacPhail of the New York Yankees and Arthur Allyn of the Chicago White Sox met with the full complement of National League owners after the N.L. met in separate session.

Then the two leagues went into session together.

Champs Golf Changes Sites

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The $150,000 Tournament of Champions golf tournament is joining the move to the suburbs, at least for this year.

A spokesman for the Stardust Hotel, sponsor of the April 17-20 event, said yesterday the hotel would keep its contract with the Professional Golfers Association but would move the tournament from the Stardust Country Club to La Costa Country Club, near the Southern California coast.

Morris B. Dalitz, who heads a group which owns the format of the tournament, said last week the group would sell the Stardust Hotel to Parvin-Dohrmann Co.

Broncos Get Scare But Win

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Mighty Santa Clara is still unbeaten in basketball today—but it's a little scared, too.

The Broncs got about as good a battle as they have had all season from upstart San Francisco State last night.

Playing on the Bronco's home court, Santa Clara trailed by as much as 10 points in the second quarter and were still down 39-34 at the half. But Ralph Ogden and Dennis Awtrey, the Broncs' two best gunners, finally got going and Santa Clara won going away, 72-59.

It was the first time Santa Clara had trailed at halftime all season. San Francisco State hit 68 per cent of its first half shots. Awtrey had 23, Ogden 20 and Joe Callaghan 21 for the Gators. Santa Clara has won 18 straight this season.

Another team with a brilliant record, Puget Sound, made its record 17-1, with an 87-56 win over Simon Fraser, only team to beat them. John Smith had 21 for the winners.

And Seattle, a good independent club which has lost only four, sneaked past the tough Athletes in Action team 76-75 in a game played for some reason in Portland, Ore. Willie Blue hit the key last-second free throw and Tom Little had 21 to lead the Chiefs.

LT. SUSAN SCHNALL
Antiwar activities

Navy Nurse's Sentence Is Suspended

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Navy nurse given a six-month suspended sentence of hard labor for antiwar activities was back on duty today. One of her first patients may be the officer who conducted her court-martial.

Lt. (j.g.) Susan Schnall, 25, was found guilty yesterday by a six-member court which deliberated one hour before reaching a verdict.

Rear Adm. Leo B. McCuddin, 12th Naval District commander, immediately suspended the sentence on the ground that a woman sentenced to a year or less cannot "under any circumstances" be sent to prison.

As Mrs. Schnall prepared to leave the Treasure Island court, Capt. John P. Gleeson, who presided as judge advocate general turned and said:

"Susan, I'm on my way to Oak Knoll tomorrow for my eye operation. I expect you to take good care of me."

"I will," replied Mrs. Schnall, a nurse at Oak Knoll Naval Hospital in Oakland. "I'll see you out there."

The jury of five men and one woman found Mrs. Schnall guilty of violating a general order by marching in uniform in a peace parade and of conduct unbecoming to an officer by helping drop antiwar leaflets from an airplane over four military posts.

Murray Is Ordered To Find Lawyer

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — George Murray, Black Panther leader and controversial figure at San Francisco State College, has one week to find an attorney.

Murray is charged with carrying a concealed weapon, but a municipal court judge ruled yesterday he could have additional time to find legal assistance.

Officials say two loaded pistols were in a car Murray was driving when arrested on a speeding charge by the highway patrol in East Palo Alto Jan. 24.

The alleged violation resulted in revocation of probation for Murray, who had been convicted of battery in an attack on a college newspaper editor in San Francisco. A hearing is pending on the revocation order.

Murray, free on $625 bail, was suspended from San Francisco State after he advised Negro students to carry guns. He had been a part-time English teacher for minority students.

St. Francis Hotel Due Expansion

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Western International Hotels Co. announced yesterday it was starting construction of a 32-story, 580-room, $39 million, addition to the St. Francis Hotel.

The addition, to bring the hotel's total to 1,220 rooms, is to be completed by mid 1971.

Campus Needs Report Opposed, Due Study

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Co-ordinating Council for Higher Education has delayed consideration of a controversial 100-page report which would put the brakes on state funds for building new campuses.

The action came yesterday after Dr. John W. Gunn, Peralta College president and head of the California Junior College Association, contended that the report gave inadequate weight to the conditions and needs of local communities.

The council agreed to ask the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges to review the matter involving the smaller schools and report back in October.

It also decided to discuss at the May session, staff findings that no new state college or University of California campuses were needed before 1978.

Dr. Owen Albert Knorr, staff director, conceded that there will be a need for 11 new community college campuses before 1978, but called for close scrutiny before any state aid funds are approved for other planned campuses.

State Finance Department projections show the number of 18-24 year olds will decline by 1980.

The 19-campus state college system has planned three new schools—in San Mateo, Ventura and Contra Costa counties.

The University of California, with nine campuses, has made no firm plans for any additional campuses before 1978.

San Anselmo Library Budget Discussed

A general discussion of items to be purchased in the 1969-70 budget was held by the San Anselmo Library board yesterday.

Valerie M. Ansel, chairman, said these items include books and library shelves. Budget talks will probably start at end of this month, she said.

Ramparts Files For Bankruptcy

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Attorneys for Ramparts magazine filed a bankruptcy petition in federal court yesterday and asked for time to submit a list of full assets and liabilities.

Federal Judge Alfonzo Zirpoli granted 10 days for submission of the list and requested a plan whereby the magazine would reorganize and pay off debts of $1.8 million.

The petition said the magazine could not meet obligations as they mature and owed 61 employees $30,000.

$1 MILLION VENTURE

Sports Minded Marinites Seek Recreation Complex

Jack MacPhee, long time San Rafael weightlifting coach and enthusiast, with a big helping hand from the Marin Sertoma Club, is starting out on a venture that he hopes will have a million dollar ending.

MacPhee is coach of the Marvel Athletic Club, Marin mecca for weightlifters and boxers. Without any facilities to train, MacPhee has turned his basement at 60 Woods Street into a gymnasium but can accommodate only eight or 10 athletes at a time.

The Marin Sertoma, headed by president Hans Schneider, voted Thursday night to sponsor MacPhee and the Marvel Athletic Club to develop bigger and better facilities for youth of Marin County.

First item to take care of is finding a building large enough to be used as a training center for weightlifting, boxing, wrestling and judo.

4,000 FEET

"That's the first thing we are working on," said MacPhee, adding that about 4,000 square feet is needed for the training program function.

Schneider said the Marin Sertoma Club, made up of 11 businessmen will lease the property, when the right piece is found, for a year.

"That's the start," said MacPhee, "and eventually we would like to buy property and enlarge the facilities to include a track, swimming pool, handball courts, things like that."

NO TRAINING

MacPhee said he had some Marvel A. C. members who wanted to enter the Golden Gloves boxing tournament next week in San Francisco, but because of no place to train, had to pass it up.

"We want a place for kids who are active, kids who want to make something of themselves," said MacPhee. "It's not going to be for loafing."

Although admitting the plans have not gone far enough ahead for actual cost estimates of the finished product, MacPhee has his sights set on "a million dollar complex, a complete athletic layout."

NON-PROFIT

MacPhee plans to take out corporation papers on the Marvel A. C. which will be a non-profit organization. Cost of the program will be met entirely by donations, said MacPhee.

"We want to compete with the hippie scene," said MacPhee, "and pull the kids this way . . . give them something to do."

"There is nothing for the youngsters of the county," said Schneider. "There just are no indoor athletic facilities for them to turn to."

"We want to build Marin County into a sports capital," added MacPhee. "We want a sports complex that will have something for everybody."

Bonds, Hunt Give Giants Fine Hit And Run Punch

For years the Giants were without an effective leadoff man. Then, last season they suddenly got two. Ron Hunt started the season in the No. 1 batting position. Bobby Bonds moved into the top spot shortly after he was called up from Phoenix June 24.

Until Hunt came along, the Giants hadn't had an effective leadoff batter since Eddie Stanky. Every time you looked at first base in 1951 Stanky seemed to be on with a walk or single. He was a very important contributor to the National League championship of the Giants in 1951.

Stanky always was good for close to 100 or more walks a season. He still holds the National League record of 148 walks for Brooklyn in 1945, an impressive number of passes but substantially below Babe Ruth's all-time American League mark of 170 for the Yankees in 1923.

IN HIS first season as a Giant, Hunt showed the team how to get on base last year. He led the team in walks (78), was third in hits (132) and set a modern record by getting hit with a pitch 25 times. Hunt was on base 235 times in 529 ABs.

When Hunt was dropped to the No. 2 batting position following call-up of Bonds, he was asked to sacrifice 16 times. Hunt bunted perfectly, 16-for-16.

IN THE No. 1 or No. 2 position, Hunt proved to be a very versatile batter. He is the kind of batter that pitchers don't like to face. Invariably he will take at least two pitches even if they are strikes. Then, he will protect the plate, fouling off one pitch after another. He repeatedly works pitchers into 3-2 counts.

This year Hunt probably will bat No. 2 again because of his ability to advance a runner. Clyde King, the new manager, says the Giants are going to be a hit-run team this year.

WITH BONDS batting No. 1 and Hunt in the No. 2 slot, the Giants did have an effective hit-run combination during the second half of the season last year.

Bonds' speed kept pitchers a trifle edgy. His 16 stolen bases in 23 attempts were the team high — and they all came in just half a season.

Hunt's coolness at bat, taking first pitches, gave Bonds an opportunity to steal. Hunt's ability on a hit-run play to get his bat on the ball gave Bonds the protection a runner should have. Hunt's ability to draw a base on balls was an added way of advancing the runner. So, too, was his fearless attitude against tight pitches, 25 of which hit him.

wound pumped blood for the rest of the fight. It took 10 stitches to close the cut.

"I prayed they would stop the fight after he was cut," said Mathis. "But they didn't, so I had to keep going."

When the fight ended, Chuvalo's face was a bloody mask. George seemed resigned to the unamimous decision against him.

"I fought a bad fight," said Chuvalo. "But I'd like to fight him again. It was just one of those nights."

Mathis, so angry at Chuvalo in the early rounds that he risked disqualification by shoving the referee, knelt in prayer as the decision was announced.

"I said a prayer for George," said Buster, who weighed 232, 24 pounds more than Chuvalo. "I'd hate to be in his room now. I know how it is. I've been in that situation."

On deck for Mathis is a March 10 Garden date with California heavyweight Jerry Quarry. The winner of that fight could get a shot at Joe Frazier'sshare of the heavyweight title. Frazier beat Mathis for the crown last March.

In the opener of the doubleheader, Griffith stung Heilman repeatedly, piling up a big lead on points. The fighters spent much of the bout pounding away at close quarters.

"I thought I could have done a little better inside," said Griffith, who weighed 156¼ to Heilman's 161. "He just kept coming at me."

The cut could jeopardize a Feb. 24 Garden date between Griffith and Stanley "Kitten" Hayward. "We'll have to see how it is in a couple of days," said Gil Clancy, Griffith's co-manager.

The doubleheader attracted a crowd of 14,155 and the show drew a gross gate of $128,536.

Golfing Trail Hits Desert

Bob Hope Classic On Tap

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — The 1969 winter golf trail shifted to this California winter resort area today for the 10th annual Bob Hope Desert Classic, a 90-hole marathon which Arnold Palmer has won an unprecedented three times.

Palmer, who chucked the tour at San Diego last week is back as defending champion as are Billy Casper, Doug Sanders and Jack Nicklaus, the last fresh from his triumph in the $150,000 event Sunday at San Diego.

Missing as a contestant in the pro-amateur sideline attraction will be the entertainment star of the show, Hope himself. The comedian's doctors have advised him to stay clear of too much physical activity because of a recurring eye ailment.

The tournament, longest by holes in the world, is played over four courses — Bermuda Dunes, Indian Wells, La Quinta and Tamarisk.

The affair is a strain on scorekeepers. Each of the 136 pros entered will play with a different set of three amateurs for four rounds. The pros have things to themselves for the nationally televised final round Sunday.

The official purse money is $100,000, the winning pro to collect $20,000. An additional $22,000 is split by the pros in the pro-am competition.

Indicative of the trend toward bigger prize money, the 1969 hundred grand is exactly double what was offered in the initial tournament under its present format in 1960.

Palmer, the inaugural winner, won $12,000. But the winner later received sums of $5,300, $9,000 and $15,000.

A year ago Palmer had to win the $20,000 the hard way—in a sudden death playoff with Deane Beman. The two finished all even at 348 for 90 holes.

One stroke back in regular play was Soth Africa's Harold Henning, who also is entered this year.

Tam Booters In First Place

Tamalpais High School's soccer team took over undisputed possession of first place in the unofficial Marin Countv Ahtletic League Soccer Standings, by downing Novato, 3-1, at Mill Valley yesterday.

The Tamalpais jayvees also won, 2-0, to keep its hold on first place in the junior varsity standings.

TOMORROW NIGHT

Brother Acts Headline Novato High Ring Show

Three sets of brothers, four returning champions and some formerly well known boxing names will be on hand for the fifth annual Novato Boxing Night at Novato High School tomorrow at 8 p.m.

There will be teen-aged battles in 10 weight divisions and some of it looks like a family affair.

Three brother duos, including one set of twins, will be on the program. The twins are Kevin and Ken Burton. Kevin will be in the flyweight division at 126 pounds, opposing John Mills, while Ken will go against Rich Campbell, another member of a brother act, at the 139-pound junior-welterweight division.

Rich Campbell is a junior, while older brother Wally, a senior, goes after his third title, battling Randy Smith in the 147-pound welterweight division.

CHAMPS CLASH

That should be a slam-bang affair. Smith already has won the lightweight and flyweight titles while Campbell has the welterweight and junior-middleweight crowns to his credit.

Former world middleweight champion Carl "Bobo" Olson will act as one of the officials during the night, sharing duties with Sixto Rodriguez, former California light-heavyweight champ, and former California featherweight champ "Pee Wee" Thomas.

NORCAL BASKETBALL

Well, The Worst Is Over For Cal, Stanford Cagers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California's Jim Padgett wanted to forget all about it. Stanford's Howie Dallmar wanted to get it out of his system.

It was the misfortune of both Padgett and Dallmar that their teams played UCLA over the weekend. The top-ranked Bruins polished off Cal 109-74 on Friday, then stomped Stanford 98-61 the next night.

"I'd rather look ahead," said Padgett to the Northern California Basketball Writers yesterday. Cal, which also lost to Southern Cal Saturday, plays Oregon State and Oregon this Friday and Saturday.

Dallmar was more expansive on the subject of UCLA, though he pointedly reminded listeners that his club had beaten Southern Cal on Friday 66-56.

"I don't think there's ever been a front line in college basketball to match what they have up there," said the Stanford coach, referring to UCLA center Lew Alcindor and forwards Lynn Shackelford and Curtis Rowe.

Not the San Francisco combination of Bill Russell-Mike Farmer of the 1950s nor the Ohio State twosome of later years of Jerry Lucas and John Havlicek equalled UCLA, said Dallmar.

He said that if the opposing team contested Alcindor and company for rebounds on its own offensive board, it risked having Lew fling long passes to unguarded teammates at the other end of the court.

The alternative, Dallmar said, was to lay back and play defense. Neither plan helped the Indians much.

The writers named Bill Stricker of Pacific and Dennis Awtrey of Santa Clara as players of the week.

Stricker scored 29 points and had 13 rebounds in a triumph over Seattle and Awtrey had 38 points in a victory over Cal State-Hayward.

Bowling Tips

By MARION LADEWIG

Ghilotti Wins Rec. Cage Game

A balanced scoring attack led Ghilotti Brothers to a 78-69 victory over Sausalito Pharmacy in a Class A basketball game of the San Rafael Recreation Department Adult League yesterday at San Rafael High School.

Sausalito got 29 points out of Don Johnson but it wasn't enough to offset five Ghilotti Brothers players in double figures, led by Jim Caranica with 18.

In a Class B game, Xeros Repros dumped Taberna, 82-56, as Bob Haxton scored 27 points.

Northwestern Cage Coach To Retire

EVANSTON, Ill. (UPI)—Larry Glass has resigned as basketball coach at Northwestern, effective at the end of the season, Athletic Director Tippy Dye announced yesterday.

Glass said his resignation came as a result "of pressure...within myself" and because "in my opinion the basketball program will be more effective with someone else at its head."

Ruby Nominated To Drive At Indy

COMBINED AP & UPI

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Lloyd Ruby, veteran race driver from Wichita Falls, Tex., was nominated today to drive a wedge-shaped turbocharged Offenhauser car in the 53rd Indianapolis 500-mile race May 30.

Dave Laycock is building the Ruby car and another without a named driver at Avon, Ind.

Ruby led last year's Indy 500 with only 26 laps to go when his car developed ignition trouble. Laycock replaced a faulty coil in only six minutes and 27 seconds and Ruby finished fifth.

Ruby has driven 3,902.5 miles in competition at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, more than any active driver, and has finished eighth or better in nine appearances. His best was third in 1964.

BASEBALL

OAKLAND — Darryl D Thomas, 20, a lefthanded pitcher from Long Beach City College, yesterday signed a contract with the Oakland Athletics. Thomas was Oakland's first round pick in the secondary phase of last week's free agent baseball draft.

FOOTBALL

SAN FRANCISCO — Jim Sniadecki, Indiana linebacker and fourth-round pick of the San Francisco 49ers, underwent knee surgery yesterday. The 49ers picked up the tab even though Sniadecki has not signed a 49er contract yet.

CHICAGO — Richard "Doc" Urich, football coach and athletic director of State University of New York in Buffalo, was named head football coach at Northern Illinois University, succeeding Howard Fletcher.

BASKETBALL

SAN FRANCISCO — The San Francisco Warriors will be without the services of Joe Ellis—again. Margin Of Declines Narrow On Market

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks stumbled a bit today, although the margin of declines over advances was relatively narrow. Trading was heavy.

Economic news generally was bullish, but the international news including Vietnam and the Middle East was unsettling to traders.

The encouraging domestic news included rising steel prices and output, record construction spending in December and stepped-up sales of automobiles last month, led by General Motors, the No. 1 car maker.

Steels were mostly higher following favorable industry developments. Motors traded in narrow ranges, as did most chemical issues.

Several oil issues moved a point or so in each direction, with Standard of California firm. Rails and airlines generally swung narrowly.

B.F. Goodrich, was firm for most of the session. A federal judge has rejected its bid to block Northwest Industries, a holding company created by the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, from buying Goodrich shares in a tender offer. Northwest also gained.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Annuities Assure Income For Life

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am approaching retirement and am trying to figure how much income I can muster up. I have been considering a 5 per cent passbook savings account. But a high-rated insurance company has offered me a straight life annuity that will pay what amounts to 9 per cent income on my investment for the rest of my life. Would this be riskier than the bank?—L.B.

A. I am not sure from your letter if you fully understand what an annuity is. Since the company has a good reputation, you need not be concerned with risk; monthly income is guaranteed for your lifetime. But any portion of the principal which might remain after your death reverts to the life insurance company, not to your estate. The insurance company uses not only the income it earns from your money but also dips into your capital to provide monthly payments.

An individual could set up this type of plan for himself, but there is the constant threat of outliving the capital. If, for instance, you deposited $100,000 in a 5 per cent savings account and withdrew $9,000 annually, it would take only 17 years to exhaust your capital plus accrued interest. This same capital used to purchase a single premium straight life annuity would guarantee about $9,000 annually, regardless of how many years you lived.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Drive-In Secretarial Service Is Doing Business In Fairfax

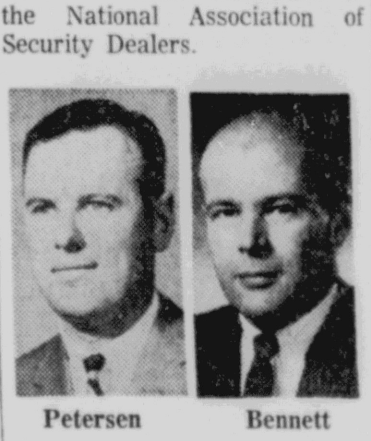
There is something new in drive-in establishments in Fairfax — Dell's Drive-In Secretarial Service — opened yesterday at 85 Bolinas Road.

Occupying an abandoned service station at this address, owner Mrs. Dell Blodgett, formerly a secretary with the City of Fairfax, has set up a business to handle transcription from either dictation or draft, mimeograph work, photocopies, place card and badge lettering (her penmanship is beautiful), addressing manuscripts and tabulations — and she is also a notary public. She has been a secretary for 29 years, so is experienced in just about every phase of this type of service.

Gas pumps and all still remain. What to do with them is something of a problem — decorate them, block them out, or cut off the tops and make flower pots of them.

Perhaps the thing to do would be to install self-service dictating equipment inside each one for businessmen in a hurry who don't want to leave their cars.

JOSEPH F. EDELSTEIN of Sleepy Hollow, partner in the San Francisco investment securities firm, Edelstein, Campbell and Co., has been elected governor of the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange for a two-year term. He is past president of the San Francisco Security Analysts and a member of the business conduct committee of the National Association of Security Dealers.



Petersen Bennett

ROBERT J. PETERSEN of Fairfax has joined Pacific Coast Title Co. of Marin, San Rafael, as vice president and branch manager of the Mill Valley office. He started in the title business in 1962 at San Rafael. Since early last year he has been with First American Title Co. of Marin — first as sales manager and since last May as vice president.

RICHARD J. BENNETT of Novato has been promoted to automotive finance officer in Crocker-Citizens National Bank's automotive finance administration in San Francisco. He will continue as assistant manager of the schedule and lease department. He joined Crocker-Citizens in 1964 following five years of financial experience in San Rafael.

JOHN R. PITCAIRN of Ross, a certified public accountant in San Francisco, has joined Terence V. McLoughlin of that city in partnership as Pitcairn and McLoughlin, Certified Public Accountants. Offices are at 683 McAllister Street.

Marchant Mrs. Schram

REAL ESTATE. Hugh H. (Bud) Marchant of Nipper and Marchant, San Anselmo, has been designated Graduate, Realtors Institute by the California Real Estate Association. While some 10,000 candidates are enrolled today, only 303 have completed the requirements and have been awarded the GRI designation. His certificate number is 103. . .

Jeanne Schramm of Sausalito has joined Home and Land Co. and will be headquartered at the Sausalito office. Before obtaining her license she was five years with the foreign aid program in Africa and Brazil. . . .

Paul C. Holter of Kentfield, principal in Holter Communications Corp., San Francisco, has a new publication out, The Bay Area House Hunter, which showcases new and resale homes in this area and also discusses gardening, landscaping and decorating. It will be issued every other month throughout the year and will have a circulation of 50,000.

STATE FARM MUTUAL AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE COMPANY Home Office: Bloomington, Illinois

State Farm is all you need to know about insurance.

Torino GT makes other cars that talk performance eat their words.

Calling a car a hot performer is one thing. Proving it is another. Torino GT performance speaks for itself. Just how loud is up to you—with six V-8 choices, from a standard 302 V-8 up to the big 428 Cobra Jet Ram-Air. (When this one talks, others listen.)

Torino GT shows it's heir apparent to the 1968 NASCAR racing champ. Special handling suspension. Wide-oval tires. Competition-style wheels. Stripes. The works. In SportsRoof, 2-door hardtop, and convertible models. And then there's Cobra. All muscle at a very low price.

In all, you have 16 different ways to go in Ford's intermediate line, from the hissing-hot Cobra to the handsome new Fairlanes. Every one a winner. Visit your Ford Dealer's Performance Corner soon. Very little talk—lots of action!

Campus Needs Report Opposed, Due Study

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Co-ordinating Council for Higher Education has delayed consideration of a controversial 100-page report which would put the brakes on state funds for building new campuses.

The action came yesterday after Dr. John W. Gunn, Peralta College president and head of the California Junior College Association, contended that the report gave inadequate weight to the conditions and needs of local communities.

The council agreed to ask the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges to review the matter involving the smaller schools and report back in October.

It also decided to discuss at the May session, staff findings that no new state college or University of California campuses were needed before 1978.

Dr. Owen Albert Knorr, staff director, conceded that there will be a need for 11 new community college campuses before 1978, but called for close scrutiny before any state aid funds are approved for other planned campuses.

State Finance Department projections show the number of 18-24 year olds will decline by 1980.

The 19-campus state college system has planned three new schools—in San Mateo, Ventura and Contra Costa counties.

The University of California, with nine campuses, has made no firm plans for any additional campuses before 1978.

San Anselmo Library Budget Discussed

A general discussion of items to be purchased in the 1969-70 budget was held by the San Anselmo Library board yesterday.

Valerie M. Ansel, chairman, said these items include books and library shelves. Budget talks will probably start at end of this month, she said.

Ramparts Files For Bankruptcy

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Attorneys for Ramparts magazine filed a bankruptcy petition in federal court yesterday and asked for time to submit a list of full assets and liabilities.

Federal Judge Alfonzo Zirpoli granted 10 days for submission of the list and requested a plan whereby the magazine would reorganize and pay off debts of $1.8 million.

The petition said the magazine could not meet obligations as they mature and owed 61 employees $30,000.

LT. SUSAN SCHNALL
Antiwar activities

Navy Nurse's Sentence Is Suspended

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Navy nurse given a six-month suspended sentence of hard labor for antiwar activities was back on duty today. One of her first patients may be the officer who conducted her court-martial.

Lt. (j.g.) Susan Schnall, 25, was found guilty yesterday by a six-member court which deliberated one hour before reaching a verdict.

Rear Adm. Leo B. McCuddin, 12th Naval District commander, immediately suspended the sentence on the ground that a woman sentenced to a year or less cannot "under any circumstances" be sent to prison.

As Mrs. Schnall prepared to leave the Treasure Island court, Capt. John P. Gleeson, who presided as judge advocate general turned and said:

"Susan, I'm on my way to Oak Knoll tomorrow for my eye operation. I expect you to take good care of me."

"I will," replied Mrs. Schnall, a nurse at Oak Knoll Naval Hospital in Oakland. "I'll see you out there."

The jury of five men and one woman found Mrs. Schnall guilty of violating a general order by marching in uniform in a peace parade and of conduct unbecoming to an officer by helping drop antiwar leaflets from an airplane over four military posts.

Murray Is Ordered To Find Lawyer

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — George Murray, Black Panther leader and controversial figure at San Francisco State College, has one week to find an attorney.

Murray is charged with carrying a concealed weapon, but a municipal court judge ruled yesterday he could have additional time to find legal assistance.

Officials say two loaded pistols were in a car Murray was driving when arrested on a speeding charge by the highway patrol in East Palo Alto Jan. 24.

The alleged violation resulted in revocation of probation for Murray, who had been convicted of battery in an attack on a college newspaper editor in San Francisco. A hearing is pending on the revocation order.

Murray, free on $625 bail, was suspended from San Francisco State after he advised Negro students to carry guns. He had been a part-time English teacher for minority students.

St. Francis Hotel Due Expansion

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Western International Hotels Co. announced yesterday it was starting construction of a 32-story, 580-room, $39 million, addition to the St. Francis Hotel.

The addition, to bring the hotel's total to 1,220 rooms, is to be completed by mid 1971.

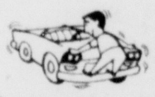
Town & Country shocks are heavy duty shocks, designed to give a comfortable ride on country roads, a sure-footed stability on modern highways.

ROAD TEST YOUR CAR!

Worn-out shock absorbers can make your car bounce or cause wheels to shimmy.

A fender that drags on a tire over bumps might indicate too-old shocks.

If you have uneven tire wear, it may mean you have fast-fading shocks.



If your car sags when you lean on a bumper you may need new shock absorbers.

NIXON'S PRESS DAY

Mideast Report Likely Thursday

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The White House said today President Nixon had conferred with former President Lyndon B. Johnson on the smoldering Middle East crisis and was preparing to "make some decisions" on U. S. strategy to defuse the situation.

With Nixon ready to go along with a French proposal for Big Four Mideast talks within the United Nations, the President talked with Johnson by telephone for about 15 minutes last night to discuss the latest developments.

Nixon had conferred with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower on the situation Sunday at Walter Reed Hospital.

Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said the Middle East crisis was the "priority item" today as Nixon conferred again with his National Security Council.

"The President will make some decisions on the Middle East following today's meeting," Ziegler said. "These decisions will become apparent over the next few days."

Nixon will have an opportunity to spell out his administration's position on the Arab-Israeli troubles when he holds his second presidential news conference on Thursday.

Ziegler said the President will give both Johnson and Eisenhower weekly briefings on foreign policy developments, either by telephone, written reports or personal briefings by staff members.

Moratorium Urged On Death Penalty

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A four-year moratorium on California's death penalty to try to prove it does not deter crime was proposed today by the student body president of San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

The 24-year-old seminarian, Douglas Huneke, and Assemblyman Henry Waxman, D-Los Angeles — both firm opponents of capital punishment — announced the proposal in a joint press conference today. Waxman, serving his first term, has agreed to sponsor the bill drawn up by Huneke.

The California Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of the death penalty in November, and courts throughout the state have begun to reschedule execution dates for San Quentin's 85 Death Row inmates. One is scheduled to die in the gas chamber on Feb. 18, a second on March 5 and a third on March 12.

The justices agreed that "retention or abolition (of the death penalty) raises a question of legislative policy under which our system of division of powers falls within the competence of the Legislature or the electorate."

Waxman's bill is an urgency measure, so it would be effective immediately if it passed the Legislature and were signed by the governor. Urgency measures, however, require a two-thirds approval of all members in each house, instead

CORONADO (AP) — The executive officer of the Pueblo, backing up testimony of its skipper, said today the intelligence ship did not enter North Korean territorial waters and was "heavily outgunned" by its captors.

Lt. Edward R. Murphy also told in detail about the death of the only crewman killed during North Korea's capture of the Pueblo a year ago.

Murphy, 31, boyish-faced with thinning black hair and glasses, spoke clearly and deliberately in addressing a court of inquiry investigating the Pueblo's capture and the imprisonment of its crew. He was the first crew member other than the skipper to testify in an open session of the court.

His testimony agreed in virtually every detail with that given earlier by Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, the ship's captain, and with Murphy's own remarks at a news conference several weeks ago.

Murphy spoke at length of the death of Fireman Duane Hodges, 21, of Creswell, Ore., hit in the leg and abdomen by a 57mm hell from a North Korean gunboat. He said that, as the ship's medical officer, he was with Hodges at the end and he died "resting easily."

Murphy also was the Pueblo's navigator. He said: "I unreservedly comment that at no time between the day we got underway on 11 January 1968 to the day of the capture on 23 January 1968 did the USS Pueblo violate the coastal 12-mile limit claimed by North Korea."

Seventeen Communist claims of intrusion were fabricated, he said.

Referring to the Pueblo's armament, two .50-caliber machine guns plus some hand weapons, he said: "It is not my opinion that we could have held up against any ship . . . that had any greater armaments than we

Bomb-Blasted Offices Open During Repair

Workmen were mopping up and installing plate glass windows today in the office of Public Finance Corporation, San Rafael, following Sunday night's city-jarring bomb explosion.

San Rafael police reported that they have sent a small object, believed to be a fuse for the bomb, to the Criminal Identification and Investigation center in Sacramento.

Otherwise there is nothing new, reported Deputy Chief Joseph J. Brusatori. "We're continuing our investigation."

Business went on as usual yesterday in the Marin Selective Service headquarters, located in the bombed building, assistant clerk Sandra May reported. "We worked by candlelight until noon yesterday, however."

Gary Hall, branch representative at the finance company at 817 A Street, said his company was operating but that it was a bit limited because of repairs going on.

Windows have been replaced in other offices in the building, Hall said, including that of Trimarin Realty Associates.

The bomb, believed to contain three to five sticks of dynamite, was placed beside the stairs leading to the second floor of the building where the Selective Service office is located. No injuries were reported from the blast.

Sirhan Takes Stand, Details His Earnings

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, taking the witness stand at his trial on a charge he murdered Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, said today that the most money he earned in any of the four previous years was $2,212.46.

The slender young Jordanian was poised and spoke clearly during five minutes of testimony about his financial status. He spoke in support of a defense motion to quash the grand jury indictment against him on grounds the jury was unbalanced in makeup.

He confirmed these income figures: 1965, $964.90; 1966, $2,212.46; 1967, $430.96; 1968, $752.35. The money, he said, came from jobs in a drive-in, motor service firm, a ranch in nearby Chino, a construction company in nearby Corona, and a food store in Pasadena.

Sirhan, 24, was neatly dressed in a gray suit, blue tie and shirt, and took the oath with fists clenched. But he seemed relaxed while speaking. His voice was slightly accented.

The defense earlier presented testimony that the grand jury was mostly composed of college-educated persons in the professional, sales or managerial classes and included no one who was under 30 or poor.

Under questioning by chief defense counsel Grant B. Cooper, Sirhan responded almost entirely with "yes" or "yes sir."

Under cross - examination by Chief Deputy Dist. Atty. Lynn D. Compton, Sirhan's replies were a bit longer.

Was he going to school dur-

Red China Diplomat Asks Asylum In United States

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The State Department announced today that Liao Hu-Shu, a Red Chinese diplomat who defected in the Netherlands 10 days ago, has come to the United States and requested asylum.

A department spokesman, Robert J. McCloskey, said Liao's request was "under consideration" and that the Chinese official —the highest ever to defect to the United States —was in "protective custody."

Liao, born Dec. 20, 1922, in Hunan Province, was described by McCloskey as a diplomat about whom little was known.

He defected in the Hague, where reports earlier today said he had left the Netherlands.

When specifically asked whether Liao was an intelligence agent, the State Department spokesman brushed aside the question by saying that he did not think "a great deal was known" about the Communist Chinese official.

Liao, who was temporary charge d'affaires at the Chinese Legation, informed the Netherlands government on Jan. 24 he "no longer wanted to carry on his function," the statement said.

The ministry of justice said Liao had been allowed to remain in the country "for the time being" but would not say where he had been hiding.

Liao's whereabouts have been a topic of speculation in the Dutch press for several days.

A telephone bomb threat was reportedly received today by the Kettle restaurant at 209 Third Street in San Rafael. A caller said: "A bomg will go off in the Kettle in 10 minutes." Both personnel and police searched the restaurant but found nothing.

Peace March Trial Opens At Hamilton

Court martial for Airman 1/C Michael Locks, 25, of San Anselmo, charged with wearing a uniform to a peace demonstration, opened today at Hamilton Air Force Base with his attorney questioning panel members on their views of the Vietnam War.

Locks, who was a leader of the GI's and Veterans Peace March Oct. 12 in San Francisco, sat stoically staring straight ahead during the session in the Air Force courtroom.

The examination of the nine-member court-martial panel by attorney Richard J. Wertheimer of San Anselmo was expected to continue through the day.

Wertheimer questioned the Air Force officers on the panel not only about their views on the war, which all said they supported, but also on the effect the peace march had had on base personnel.

One officer was excused by the legal officer when he said he had already made up his mind about the case.

A Navy nurse who participated in the same peace march was sentenced yesterday. (See story page 32.)

Heater Blamed In Olompali Fire

Blame for the fire which destroyed the historic Burdell Mansion at Rancho Olompali Sunday was pinned today on a faulty gas heater.

Novato Asst. Fire Chief James W. (Jack) Kidder said the spectacular fire which routed 20 hippies into the cold before dawn Sunday was definitely caused by a heater in the rumpus room off the main living area.

The estate has been a haven for a hippie population for about a year since businessman-turned-hippie Donald C. McCoy Jr. began using his inherited fortune to run the hippie mecca north of Novato.

Report Puts Chill On New Campuses

Novato, Petaluma Area College Plans Affected

BY PAUL E. PETERZELL

SACRAMENTO — No new junior college campuses should be built in Marin or Sonoma counties at least until after 1977, the staff of the California Coordinating Council for Higher Education has reported.

The staff report, originally set for review today in San Francisco by the council, has been shelved until the council's May session at the request of Dr. John W. Gunn, Peralta College president and head of the California Junior College Association. (See story, page 32.)

The report is bound to be controversial in Marin and Sonoma, junior college districts, where planning is well under way for new campuses.

SECOND CAMPUS

The College of Marin's proposed second campus, north of Novato, the council noted, would be only 10 miles from the Sonoma district's proposed second campus, just north of Petaluma.

The report conceded that 11 new junior college campuses will be needed throughout the state before 1977. The proposed new campuses in Marin and Sonoma were among 19 the report said would not be needed before 1977.

The council is the legislature's official advisory body on programs and facilities for higher education in the state and the study was made to consider the need for new centers of public higher education through 1977. The legislature's policy is to approve funds for new school facilities only if they are recommended by the council.

STATE FUNDS

The new campuses planned in Marin and Sonoma both anticipate the use of some state funds. Thus, without council approval, property taxpayers in both districts would have to makeup any loss of state funds.

Instead of new campuses, the council recommended increased use of the existing campuses. Specifically, the council recommended year-round operation which it said would increase enrollment ceilings by one-third, "with only a small corresponding increase in facilities."

The council explained that

Supervisors Grumble, Vote For Meyer

Two Marin County Supervisors from San Rafael tried unsuccessfully today to oust fellow supervisor Michael Wornum from the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board in order to get representation from Northern Marin.

Chairman John F. McInnis and Supervisor Louis H. Baar noted that the appointment of Mayor Dean N. Meyer of Mill Valley by the cities means all three representatives to the bridge board are from Southern Marin.

EARLIER APPOINTEES

Joseph E. Sheeks, a Belvedere attorney, was named to the bridge board by the 1968 board of supervisors, and Wornum, of Mill Valley, was named by the board of supervisors last month.

Both McInnis and Baar emphasized that they have nothing against the choice of Meyer by the cities, but they think Meyer and Wornum could not effectively represent the commuters of Northern Marin because problems of commuters in the north are different from those in the south.

"I question the desirability of having such an important appointment all from the same general area of Marin," said McInnis. "We could amend that by withdrawing the name of Mr. Wornum and putting in the name of L. H. Baar."

Wornum said he would be willing to give up his post on the bridge board, but only to another commuter. "I feel the commuter has the greatest problem as far as the bridge is concerned." The only other commuter on the board is Peter R. Arrigoni of Fairfax.

ARRIGONI SATISFACTION

Arrigoni announced he is satisfied with Meyer's selection by the cities, and councilmen in his district (Ross Valley) feel they are well represented by Meyer and Wornum. "I would be hard pressed to vote to remove Mr. Wornum," said Arrigoni.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss chuckled: "I just want to say I'm taking no part in this." If a resident of Novato were in the running, Gnoss said he would have backed that person.

The supervisors ratified the Marin Council on Mayors and Councilmen's designation of Mayor Meyer as Marin's third representative to the bridge board.

RALPH McGILL
Crusading newspaperman

Publisher Ralph McGill Dies At 71

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) —Ralph Emerson McGill, the Pulitzer Prize-winning publisher of the Atlanta Constitution, died last night of a heart attack. He would have been 71 Wednesday.

McGill rose from life in a small Tennessee farm community to become the South's most vocal white advocate of civil rights.

He was stricken as he was leaving a private birthday party in his honor at the home of a friend, John B. Lawhorn. He was pronounced dead at Holy Family Hospital.

McGill, who became publisher of the Constitution in 1960 after 31 years with the newspaper, received the Pulitzer Prize in 1958 for editorial writing. The Pulitzer committee pointed to his "long, courageous and effective editorial leadership."

He was awarded the Medal of Freedom in 1964, for what President Johnson described as making "man's world safe, his physical body more durable, his mind broader and his dignity important."

McGill, born 10 miles from the little farm community of Soddy, Tenn., began his newspaper career in 1922 as a sports writer and reporter for the Nashville Banner. He joined the Constitution as sports editor in 1929.

He was named executive editor in 1938 and became editor in 1942.

McGill became widely-known through his syndicated column, in which he championed civil rights.

McGill made his first mark as a sports writer, coining the phrase "strong legs run that weak legs may walk," a slogan still used by Shriners in their all-star football games for the benefit of crippled children's hospitals.

Survivors include his second wife, Mary Lynn Morgan McGill, and a son by his first marriage, Ralph E. McGill Jr. of Richmond, Va.

Reagan To Give Budget Talk Tonight

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan goes on prime-time television tonight for the premiere of his 1969-70 budget.

The governor will appear with Finance Director Caspar Weinberger at 7 p.m. on Channel 4 to explain the budget to the public.

Reagan also will discuss again the 10 per cent personal income tax cut he promised during a similar television report last week.

Tonight's progarm was filmed two weeks ago. "It's an attempt by the governor to explain to the people the budget, which is a very complicated thing," said Paul Beck, Reagan's press secretary.

Reagan has decided to adopt an entirely new style of budget this year — a "program budget." It will list the statewide cost of the entire program, rather than an individual breakdown of the cost of separate institutions in each program.

Another new twist is the television report itself. This is the first time Reagan has planned to give the public a direct, detailed explanation of the budget.

The budget is expected to be somewhere around $6 billion, a record, and contain a "substantial" increase in the state appropriation to local school districts.

Also included will be the tax rebate. Reagan said a budget surplus of $100 million from last year will make the 10 per cent across - the - board cut possible.

Help Wanted Ad Separation Out

WASHINGTON (UPI)—From now on, unless you need something like a go-go dancer or a football tackle, you will be violating the law if you advertise for employees by sex.

The U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission printed new guidelines yesterday which prohibit the placement of job openings under separate male and female headings except in rare cases where sex is a definite qualification for the position.

The order, according to the commission, is retroactive to Jan. 24 when the U.S. Court of Appeals in the District of Columbia ruled the guidelines constitutional.

Arab Leader Pledges 'War Of Liberation'

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

An Arab guerrilla leader today vowed to mount a "war of liberation" throughout Israeli-occupied territory.

In Cairo, Yassir Arafat told newsmen he would "escalate the Palestinian armed revolution in all parts of occupied Palestine to become a popular war of liberation."

He spoke following his election last night as chairman of the executive committee of the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO), a combine of guerrilla bands and groups of Arab refugees from Israeli-held territory.

Arafat said armed forces is their only solution.

In Amman, Jordanian authorities yesterday accused Israel of sending two helicopters gunships backed by jet fighters into the area and strafing a civilian settlement, killing two women. According to Jordanian and Iraqui spokesmen it was the fourth Israeli air incursion and strike of the day into Jordan. Both Jordan and Iraq, which keeps some 10,000 troops in Jordan, claimed downing two Israeli aircraft.

In Jerusalem, Israeli spokesmen denied their craft did any raiding yesterday except for hitting Jordanian guns that popped at an Israeli patrol on the west bank of the Jordan. The Israelis reported no air losses.

Heyns Blames U.C. Unrest For Delaying Afro Studies

BERKELEY (AP) — University of California Berkeley Chancellor Roger W. Heyns blames slow progress in developing an Afro-American study program on "disorder, violence and mistrust" by striking students.

He told the Academic Senate yesterday that since the strike by the Third World Liberation Front began Jan. 22, there have been seven attempts at arson or firebombing and "innumerable bomb threats on lives of students and faculties."

He noted 14 buildings have been damaged and 21 students face possible suspension for strike activities.

The Academic Senate reaffirmed its support of administration plans to establish ethnic programs and condemned the use of force and violence by strikers.

The striking students want, among other things, a minority-group studies Third World College on the Berkeley campus.

Heyns said he is considering the advantages of a college of ethnic studies at Berkeley, but "obviously I cannot commit myself in advance."

Some 300 demonstrators marched through university buildings yesterday trying to disrupt classes.

There was a five-minute brawl including 20 strikers and students in a zoology class after the study room was invaded. One student had a cut over an eye.

Police were called but made no arrests.

U.S. Tallies Enemy Force Inside DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. intelligence reports say there are from 1,500 to 3,000 North Vietnamese troops inside the demilitarized Zone between North and South Vietnam, it was learned today.

The U.S. Command would not comment on enemy strength in the six-mile-wide strip that stretches 40 miles across Vietnam. But it was learned from other reliable sources that intelligence places three to six North Vietnamese battalions of 500 men each in the zone, most of them in the northern half.

President Nixon said at his first news conference last week that one of the top American priorities at the Paris peace talks would be restoration of the zone to the demilitarized status prescribed in the 1954 Geneva agreement. But the Communist side at the conference has refused to discuss this, saying it is a U.S. trick to perpetuate American forces in Vietnam.

Sources said that Gen. Creighton Z. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, does not consider the enemy troops inside the zone a serious threat this point. But the North Vietnamese have been moving war supplies through the zone into Laos and then down the Ho Chi Minh Trail to support North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops fighting in South Vietnam.

One source said North Vietnamese activity in the zone is at about the same level as the past several weeks. They are repairing bunkers and building some new ones."

Aid Program Chief Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon Administration has picked John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University and architect of its pioneer adventures in helping underdeveloped countries, to guide the nation's embattled foreign aid program.

Hannah, staunch Republican and long-time friend of President Nixon, was expected to submit his resignation to the Democratic - controlled MSU Board of Regents tonight.

But he indicated in a statement released in Detroit last night that problems of succession—former Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams was reportedly to take his place — could delay a "fulltime role in the federal government" until spring or later.

Administration sources in Washington confirmed Hannah's selection after announcement of two other high level appointments.

New Zoning Advances On Houseboats

New zoning regulations to control houseboat marinas were approved by the Marin County Planning commissioners by split vote yesterday and forwarded to the Marin County Board of Supervisors for a public hearing.

Margaret Azevedo moved to adopt the new rules on "floating home marinas" and got a second from Dr. William F. Upton. The lone dissenting vote came from Walter F. Freitas, who objected to a provision which allows only one dwelling unit per vessel.

Michael Praszker abstained for two reasons: he missed the previous discussion two weeks ago and wants more information on use of water for human habitation before deciding.

Under the new rules, a floating home marina must have 50 per cent of the total area in open water, including fairways, which will be 35 feet wide. Only one dwelling unit will be allowed per vessel, and six feet of space must be allowed between floating homes. The distance must be 10 feet if either floating home is more than one story.

Existing houseboats that do not conform to the new regulations must apply for use permit within six months. All floating homes must comply within three years, except that the planning commission may grant extensions of up to two more years where justified by individual circumstances.

Defining a "transient vessel" proved to be a stickler, and the commissioners decided to drop that paragraph completely. At the suggestion of Niels Schultz Jr., the commissioners decided that the definition of a "floating home" would be sufficient.

The commissioners agreed that houseboats must float at plus five feet tide in order for the area to qualify as a floating home marina.

San Pablo Bay Drilling Probe Asked

No oil or gas drilling should be allowed anywhere in San Pablo Bay until a hearing is held in Marin to provide full information on possible hazards, Marin County Planning commissioners declared unanimously yesterday.

"Can what happened in Santa Barbara happen here?" asked Margaret Azevedo, referring to the giant oil bubble that is jeopardizing the Southern California coast.

"Absolutely," replied Commissioner Michael Praszker, an engineer.

Illustrating on a blackboard, Praszker explained that drilling can penetrate an earthquake fault at an angle and cause gas or oil to leak into the fault. Furthermore, extraction of gas or oil could cause imbalances and trigger an earthquake, warned Praszker. "Gas and oil drilling should stay away from built up areas!"

Solnit and Planning Director Paul C. Zucker warned that drilling in San Pablo Bay, even if it were outside Marin County waters, would pose the same hazard to Marin as well as the entire Bay Area. They said they would seek a similar resolution today from the Marin County Board of Supervisors, opposing drilling in the bay.

Drilling rigs have been proposed offshore in Solano and Contra Costa counties and public hearings by the State Lands Commission were scheduled today and tomorrow to discuss the proposed leases.

Two Women Booked For Taking Coat

Two 22-year-old women were booked into the Marin County Jail Friday afternoon after they allegedly shoplifted a $149 suede coat from Roos-Atkin at the Northgate Shopping Center, San Rafael police reported.

The two suspects Linda Jones of Los Angeles, and Maveleba Strong of San Francisco, were bailed on $315 each and were to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. today.

Point Reyes Camping Plans Are Applauded

The first tourist camp to serve overnight visitors to Point Reyes National Seashore won enthusiastic approval of the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday.

Larry H. Marks Jr. received unanimous approval on his plan to install facilities for overnight campers, tents and trailers on 14 acres along Shoreline Highway at Olema, just north of Bear Valley Road.

"We're delighted this plan is before us," said Chairman Hugh Dougherty. He said the facilities would encourage overnight stay by tourists and bring economic benefit to the entire county.

Marks will have 100 sites in all — 70 for tents and campers, 20 for trailers and camper-vehicles, and 10 primarily for trailers. He said he plans extensive landscaping, and possibly a swimming pool.

Marin County Planning Commission also:

NORTHBRIDGE APARTMENT — Continued until March 10 a request for apartment zoning of 2.5 acres of land on North San Pedro Road at East Meriam Drive, Santa Venetia. The property, owned by David Rosenberg and several partners, is now zoned limited agricultural. More than 50 residents of Northbridge headed by Louis A. Przetak, appeared before the commission and asked that the area be retained for one-family homes.

STREET ABANDONMENT — Agreed to abandon a strip of Cedar Avenue south of Harbor Drive and Grandview Avenue, Black Point, because the land is too steep for use as a county roadway.

LOT SPLIT — Upheld the county zoning administrator, permitting Armand Allegra of 724 Alta Vista Way, Tamalpais Valley, to split his 11,000-square-foot lot into two equal building sites.

APARTMENT DENSITY — Asked the planning staff to bring in specific suggestions on how the present apartment house ordinance can be tightened to cut down on density.

Industrial Park Sewer On Agenda

A proposed agreement for operation by the Corte Madera Sanitary District of the privately owned Fifer Industrial Park sewer system will be considered at the district's 7:30 p.m. board meeting today at 300 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera.

The system services the industrial park area and Redwood High School of the Tamalpais High School District. It would be upgraded by the sanitary district and its owners before transfer of the operation.

Access Road Is Set For Study

Plans for an access road to Marin City from Tennessee Valley will be discussed again by the Marin County Redevelopment Agency when it meets at 8:30 p.m. today in the Manzanita Center, Marin City.

The agency also will consider the nomination by the Marin City Homeowners and Improvement Association of its president, Mrs. Juanita Cobb, for the next vacancy on the agency board.

The Marin County Housing Authority, meeting at 7:30 p.m. at the Manzanita Center, will elect 1969 officers and will consider rental of commercial space in Building C-64 next to Hayden's Market in Marin City.

Agenda Is Light For Design Panel

The Fairfax Design Review board, meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Fairfax Women's Club, faces a light agenda which includes consideration of a report on street lighting fixtures requested by the city council.

The board will also receive routine reports from the city clerk on public hearing procedures for amendments to the zoning ordinance and the reappointment of Paul Steinmetz to the board.

Belvedere Favors Change In Dog Control System

A plan to squeeze more patrol time out of existing Marin Humane Society personnel, instead of adding five more men and trucks, was recommended last night by the Belvedere City Council.

The council agreed to suggest to the county that the existing staff save time by issuing citations to owners of offending dogs instead of hauling the dogs to the pound in Novato, thus increasing the number of hours available for patrol.

The plan, devised by Councilmen Edwin J. Dreschel and Sally G. Mathews, also suggested new staff be added one at a time if needed.

City Manager William L. Cavalli pointed out that after the new ordinance goes into effect, the number of loose dogs probably will diminish as owners receive citations and the number of dogcatchers needed would also be reduced.

In other business last night, the council learned the ark donated for a teen-age coffee house is homeless.

Northwestern Pacific Railroad denied the teens' request to place the ark on its property opposite the Tiburon ferry dock, reported Roger Felton, chairman of the city's park and recreation commission.

"The act of donating the ark was a generous one, but I'm sure Mrs. (Harry B.) Allen had no way of knowing the problems that would accrue," said Mayor Thomas S. Price.

Felton reported the frustrated young people are now looking for other sites. "They are learning about government," he said.

The Belvedere City Council also:

GOVERNMENT — Agreed to attend a meeting proposed by Supervisor John F. McInnis, a director of the Association of Bay Area Governments, on what form of regional government should be supported, but stipulated Belvedere would make its own decision after Mrs. Mathews expressed concern that a McInnis-led meeting would end up supporting ABAG.

BOATS — Authorized City Atty. William H. MacKay to prepare an ordinance regulating boats along Belvedere's waterfront, an action prompted by the unwanted appearance of a boat on the shore during the recent storms.

DRUG ABUSE — Appointed Timothy Harris and Kenneth G. Wells as the city's representatives to a Reed Union School District committee to study drug abuse.

VARIANCE — Denied a request from Samuel M. Haskins, 61 Acacia Avenue, to turn his garage into a room because he did not provide offstreet parking.

New Officers Seated By Marin Group

Novato Police Chief Robert J. DiGrazia was installed as first vice president; Lt. Raymond T. Bleasdale of the San Rafael Police Department, second vice president; Sheriff's Inspector Kenneth Irvine, secretary-treasurer; and Lt Col. Arthur Olson, a California Highway Patrol officer on leave, serving with the Air Force at Hamilton Air Force Base, sergeant-at-arms.

S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley, acting president of San Francisco State College, was given a "distinguished citizen" award, and highway patrol officer Robert A. Espagnolle of Novato was given the "outstanding peace officer" award for his rescue of a construction worker from a flaming culvert in Terra Linda last summer.

CHP Capt. Theodore Parnow, who headed the Marin district for 14 years until his recent appointment as assistant to the chief of staff of the highway patrol in Sacramento, was given an award of appreciation for his work in Marin.

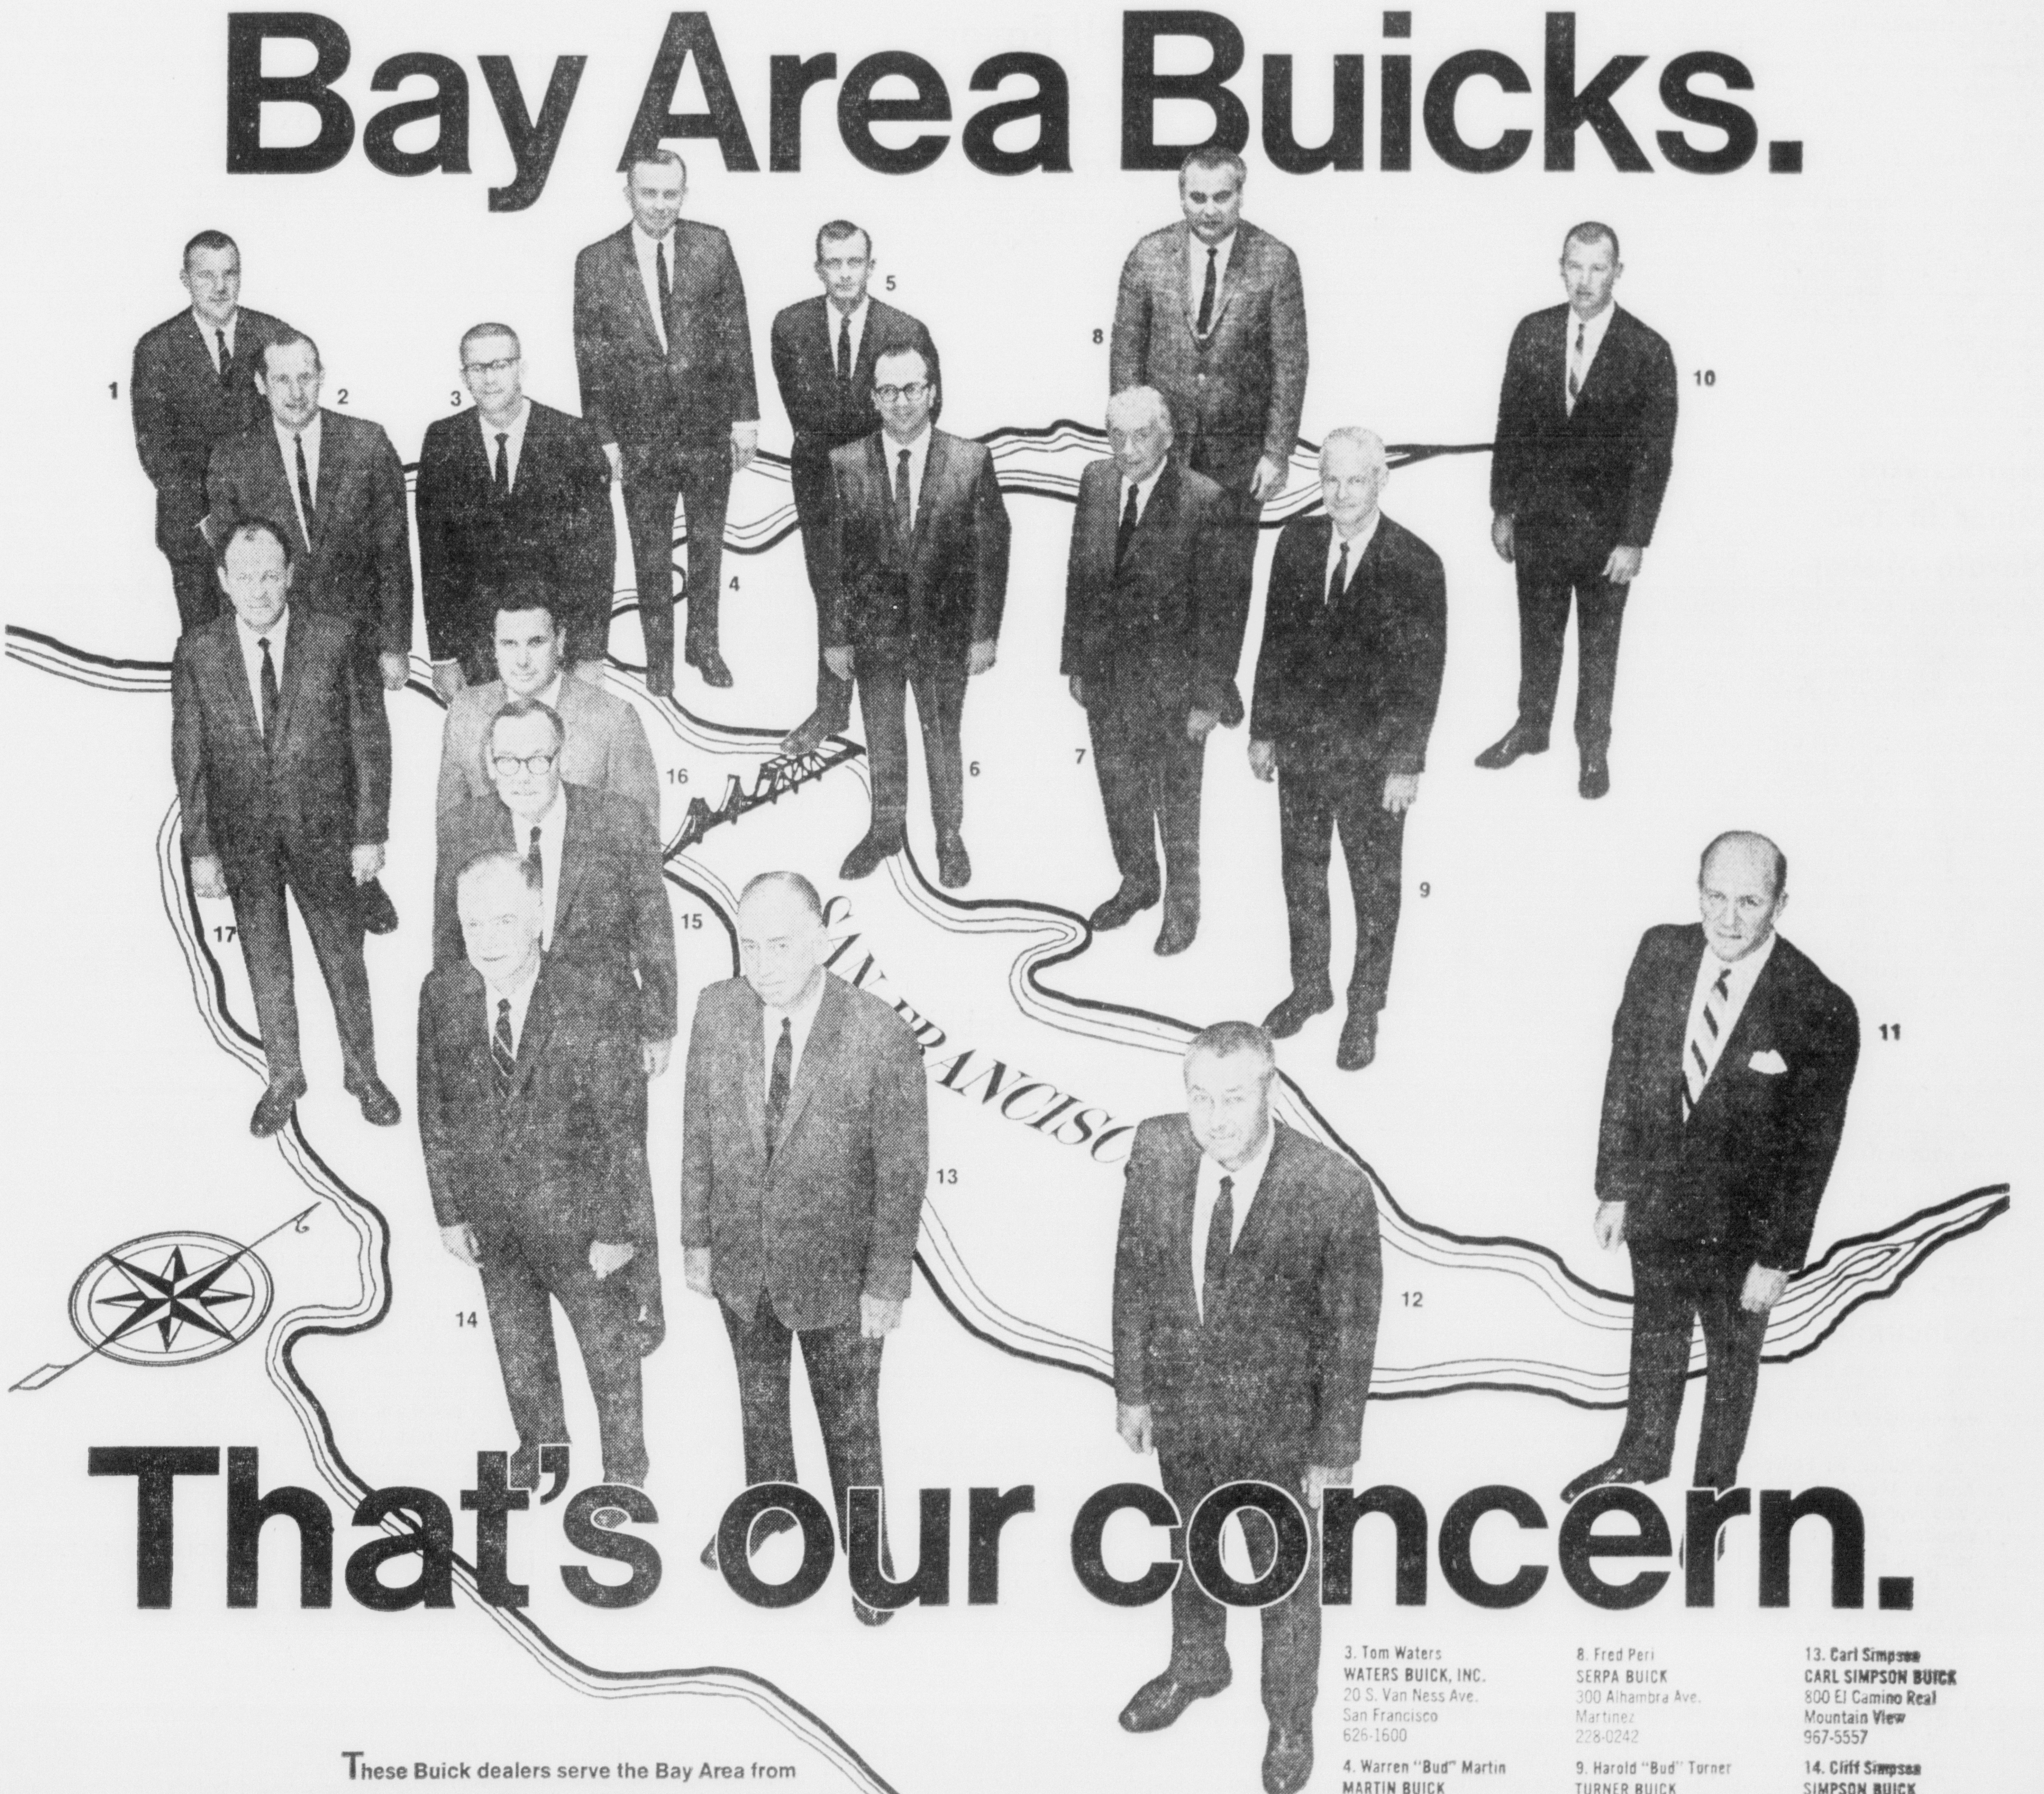
David Vinning, a Humboldt State College student, was given an "outstanding citizen" award in absentia. He won the award by chasing off two men who had planted dynamite under the sheriff's substation at Marin City last October.

CHP Sgt. James C. Dukes was outgoing president.

Appeal Will Be Made On Parking

An appeal by restaurateur Sam Zakessian of a variance granted Edgewater Yacht Co. for off-site parking for a proposed new restaurant at Bridgeway and Turney streets will be heard by the Sausalito City Council when it meets at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

The council also will hear a planning commission report on the proposed 548-unit apartment development on the American Distillery Co. property, but a hearing on the commission's denial of needed permits has been set for the Feb. 18 council meeting.



Bay Area Buicks.

That's our concern.

These Buick dealers serve the Bay Area from San Rafael to San Jose. Their concern makes things happen. Like when they got together and proposed a new kind of Buick based on features most asked for by Bay Area drivers. Buick came up with the solution to this sporting proposition. Called it the California GS.

Buick dealers are big on service, too. Before delivery. And after. Their reputations depend on it. So you can depend on them. Visit one of the Buick showrooms and try out the California GS. Or Riviera. Or Skylark. Or an Opel Mini-Brute.

Bay Area Buick Dealers. Their concern is giving you the most Buick for your money.

fifth since he took office, and the second in four days dealing with the Mideast.

In Paris, meantime, Western diplomatic sources reported that the President will arrive in Paris in early March for talks with President Charles de Gaulle, who shares Nixon's deep concern about the Middle East.

Paris will be the first stop on Nixon's forthcoming tour of Europe, the sources said.

Even with the Mideast problem hanging heavy over the early days of his administration, Nixon tentatively plans a weekend trip to Florida Friday. Nixon continued making the rounds of various federal agencies for get-acquainted sessions yesterday. He dropped in on the Department of Housing and Urban Development and told HUD's top officials they must "maintain the character of American life in our cities."

He said public housing projects he had seen in his travels abroad suffered from a "gray dullness." He urged the HUD workers to "maintain some character —some sense of individuality" in their projects for this country.

HUD Secretary George Romney praised Nixon for "being a president with a deeper concern for urban problems than any president in history."

In a stop at the Agriculture Department Nixon said he had gicen Secretary Clifford M. Hardin a special responsibility to try to eliminate hunger and malnutrition in America.

He said he realized the department still had the "primary responsibility" for protecting the welfare of farmers. He called farm surpluses "a great bounty because we can deal effectively with hunger.

The planned Florida trip, to Nixon's compound at Key Biscayne, is to begin on Friday afternoon and end Sunday evening or early Monday. Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's national security adviser, is to accompany him on the trip to discuss foreign policy.

It will de Nixon's first break from work since he entered the White House.

Injuries Are Minor In Two Novato Mishaps

A pedestrian and a bicycle rider received minor injuries in separate accidents near Novato yesterday afternoon, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Scott Wreden, 7, of 440 Corte Escuela, Ignacio, was reported in good condition today at Novato General Hospital. The patrol said he was hit at 2:40 p.m. on Alameda De La Loma by a car driven by Audrey A. Beckman, 40, of 463 Via Del Plano, Ignacio. The boy had bruises on tne head, face and back. The patrol said he rode his bicycle into the street without watching for traffic.

Diana L. Davis, 15, of 557 McClay Road, Novato, was treated at Novato General Hospital for bruises after she was hit as she walked along the shoulder at 5:20 p.m. on Wilson Avenue by a truck driven by Steven J. Lambert, 17, of 642 Wilson Avenue.

Also expiring June 30 is the term of a third board member, Glen Robinson. Election is April 15.

Two East Bay Men Sentenced To Jail

Alvin Netherton, 23, of Concord and Hugh Eugene Bell, 24, of Pacheco, were sentenced yesterday in Marin Superior Court to 30 days in the county jail for possession of marijuana. The Contra Costans were also fined $100 each and placed on one year probation.

They were arrested by Mill Valley police on Aug. 14.

COLLEGE

year-round operation meant extension of the conventional academic year of 36 weeks to at least 48 weeks of instruction by the addition of a summer quarter.

The council also recommended extension of instruction to evenings and to Saturday mornings. This would increase enrollment ceilings another two-thirds, the council estimated.

Enrollment at Marin's Kentfield campus in 1967, according to the report, was 3,155. Projected enrollment to 1977 was 6,732, an increase of 78 per cent.

For the Sonoma campus at Santa Rosa, the 1967 enrollment was 3,155. Projected enrollment to 1977 was 5,664, an increase of 79 per cent.

"In all instances," the report stated, "the council staff has sought to take a point of view designed to insure the accommodating of anticipated enrollment demand within each segment of public higher education at the least cost to the public, whether the cost is met by state, local or federal agencies."

The report, which dealt with all higher education campuses throughout the state, should be updated in 1972, the council recommended. The 1972 report would be made to the 1973 legislature.

The report also concluded that no additional campuses will be needed for the University of California at least until after the council's 1973 report. One of the new campuses is to be in the Bay Area and the other in the Los Angeles area.

"It appears at this time authorization for the establishment of one of these campuses may be recommended by the coordinating council to the legislature in 1973 and recommendations for the second campus approximately in 1978," the report said.

Teen-Age Novato Girl Molested

A 17-year-old Novato girl was molested as she walked along Novato Boulevard near Boulevard Court at 10 p.m. yesterday, Novato police reported.

The girl said she noticed her attacker as he walked toward her on Novato Boulevard. The man grabbed her and made indecent passes at her, she reported.

She screamed and kicked him with her knee, she reported. He let go of her and she ran to a nearby home and called police.

The man was described as about 20 years of age, five feet, nine inches tall, of medium build, weighing about 155 pounds and having dark hair.

Volunteer Firemen Elect In Sausalito

John Maggiora was elected president for 1969 by the Sausalito Volunteer Firemen's Association last night. Robert Anderson was elected vice president, Gene Poole sergeant at arms, and William D. McDonald III was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The firemen also agreed to buy a vehicle to convert into a rescue truck. McDonald said a three-quarter-ton van or a similar vehicle would be sought.

PENALTY

of the majority required to pass most other bills.

"The death penalty is a barbaric and inhumane punishment which is not justified in modern times," Waxman declared. "The application of the death penalty seems to be reserved for the poor people and the black people who cannot afford the services of attorneys and investigators to properly handle their cases."

"We feel that we really don't know what the death penalty does in California — it's never been studied," Huneke said.

Last month, he said, he completed a study of the death penalty for the Presbytery of San Francisco, the governing body of Bay Area Presbyterian churches. "I found that it does not appear to work, but also that it needs more study."

His report, "Men in Trouble — The Death Penalty and Prisons," is to be published soon, he said.

The four-year study would be done by the University of California, according to his proposal, probably by the law and criminology departments. He had no estimate of its cost.

If the study found that the death penalty does not deter crime, Huneke said, then it should propose a system that will.

Huneke, to graduate in June, said his proposal was endorsed unanimously by students and faculty at the seminary in separate meetings on it Wednesday. About 80 of the 125 students were present, and 17 of the 20 faculty members, he said.

Huneke reported that his proposal also had the endorsement of Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Los Angeles, who introduced legislation last month to abolish the death penalty and to replace it with life imprisonment.

"The whole idea," said Huneke, "is that we're looking for some responsible way of not overreacting to a criminal, but to understand what we are doing when we execute."

Waxman's bill would provide that persons convicted of capital crimes be sentenced to life imprisonment without possibility of parole during the four-year moratorium.

Waxman's predecessor from his Los Angeles district was Assemblyman Lester A. McMillan, who for years led a futile fight to abolish the death penalty. Waxman defeated him in the Democratic primary.

Waxman said he expected the university study to confirm his opinion that the death penalty does not deter crime.

ing the years cited?

"Yes, in 1964, 1965, 1966 — no just 1964 and 65 at Pasadena City College."

"Did you turn over your money to your mother?"

"Part of it."

Asked his age, Sirhan replied: "I'll be 25 next month."

He said he lived at home most of the time during the years in question.

After Sirhan was excused his mother, Mary, 55, was called.

Doctors To Talk On Smoking Role

Two Marin County physicians will participate in a daylong University of California seminar on smoking and health in dentistry to be held at the San Francisco Medical Center Saturday.

De Gerald Hill of San Rafael will speak on the pyschology of smoking and breaking the habit during the postgraduate session which is cosponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Dr. John V. Carbone of Kentfield will discuss smoking and heart disease during the meeting.

Carbone is a professor of medicine at the University's School of Medicine and Hill is chairman of the California Interagency Council on Smoking and Health.

Novato Parks Office Moves

The Novato Parks and Recreation Department yesterday moved from its quarters in the Novato city hall to the old Busher house adjacent to the police station on Sherman Avenue.

The city purchased the Busher house for $27,000 last fall and has remodeled and repainted the house for offices for the parks and recreation department.

The upstairs of the house will be used for storage, according to Edward W. Adams, parks and recreation director.

More Dates Ordered For Gas Chamber

Execution dates have been set for two more men on San Quentin's death row, bringing to four the number scheduled to die since the California Supreme Court upheld the death penalty in November.

Lawrence Modesto, 40, has been scheduled to die in the prison's gas chamber March 5, and Gerald Beivelman, 30, will be executed April 16.

Modesto was convicted in the sledgehammer slayings of two girls in October 1961 in Riverside County, according to Associate Warden James W. L. Park.

Park said Modesto has since had three complete new trials, all of them won on legal technicalities. It is the second time an execution date has been set.

Riverside Superior Court Judge John Neblett set Modesto's execution date.

Beivelman was convicted of first degree murder in the beating death of a Sacramento County liquor store owner in June 1967.

Earlier, he served time at San Quentin for selling narcotics, Park said.

His execution date, his first, was set by Judge W. M. Gallagher of Sacramento County Superior Court.

Death dates set last month scheduled Dorman F. Talbot, 28, to the gas chamber Feb. 18, and Robert L. Massie, 27, to die March 12.

Poll Favors Keeping S.F. State Open

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A majority of San Francisco State College students believes the campus should remain open despite strikes, a poll showed today.

The survey was made under American Association of University Professors auspices by A. Daniel Peck, an education teacher who sent questionaires to 1,195 students and got replies from 794.

To make his list of 1,195, the professor put the school's full list of 18,000 students through a computer.

Asked if the campus should be closed because of strikes called by the Black Students Union and the American Federation of Teachers, 57.7 per cent replied they did not believe so and 40.7 per cent said the school should be closed.

Asked if the believed the spring semester should be opened regardless of the strikes, 51.5 per cent said yes and 46.5 per cent said no.

If the semester is opened, 73.8 per cent said they would be enrolled and 19.8 per cent said they wouldn't.

Prison Stabbing Case Continued

Charles W. Evans, 22, a San Quentin inmate, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Superior Court on a charge of stabbing a prison guard on Sept. 10. Judge Harold J. Haley appointed the public defender to defend Evans, although Evans protested this.

Evans is accused of stabbing Raymond R. Klein, 25, of Fairfax in the abdomen during a routine cell search.

Marin Escapee Reported Shot

A 16-year-old Marin City youth, who escaped from Marin Juvenile Hall last August, has been wounded, allegedly while attempting a robbery in Louisiana, Baton Rouge police deported Sunday to the Marin sheriff's department.

Details of the shooting of Gordon Ricky Johnson of 69 Cole Drive were not available here.

Baton Rouge officials said the youth was recovering from his wounds in a hospital there.

Sentence In Jail For Pot Possession

Marshall E. Craig, 19, of Marin City was sentenced yesterday in Marin Superior Court to four months in the county jail for possession of marijuana and having a concealed weapon. He was also placed on one year probation and given a suspended state prison sentence.

Craig was accused of having marijuana Aug. 23 in Sausalito and possessing the gun when he was arrested on a bench warrant on Nov. 12.

PUEBLO

had. It was defense only against a ship of equal stature, a small coastal transport with maybe 50 caliber machine guns . . . a small type of boat not normally heavily armed."

Earlier, an admiral said that after the Pueblo's capture two high-ranking Navy officials ordered a destroyer to prepare to go into a North Korean harbor to board it and tow it away if necessary.

Rear Adm. George L. Cassell detailed the order yesterday. But a further question, asking whether any actual attempt to rescue the Pueblo was ever carried out, was left unanswered.

There was no known actual attempt to remove the Pueblo from North Korean custody.

When the Pueblo was seized a little over a year ago, Cassell was assistant chief of staff for operations for the commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet, based in Hnonlulu.

He agreed with earlier witnesses that neither U.S. ships nor planes were close enough to help immediately but said recovery action was possible the next day.

Agent Shot In Dope Raid Still Critical

CONCORD (UPI)—A U.S. customs agent remained in critical condition today as legal troubles mounted for Lawrence A. Fassler, the narcotics suspect whose arrest touched off the shooting of the agent and two others.

George Gudbranson, one of three agents mistakenly shot by a Concord policeman at the climax of the 13-hour stakeout for Fassler, remained in critical condition at Concord Community Hospital. Gudbranson was shot in the head.

Two other agents, David Wilson and Leon Jaussaud, were also shot by Concord Policeman Donald A. McLennan. Both are in fair condition at the same hospital.

Fassler's wife, Dolores, 29, was arrested after Sunday's shootout at the Concord Inn and booked for possession of dangerous drugs.

Fassler, 26, Tucson, Ariz., was arraigned today and U.S. Commissioner Richard Goldsmith set bail at $100,000 for allegedly transporting 1,500 pounds of marijuana from Arizona and $50,000 for unlawful flight from the state.

Reason Is Given Behind Bolinas Auditing Switch

It was the replacement of Peter H. Behr and Thomas T. Storer on the Marin County Board of Supervisors which led to an agreement by Bolinas Harbor District trustees to hand over district financial records to the county auditor, Thomas J. Barfield, board president, said yesterday.

The board acted Thursday after noting that "resignation and the voters' action" had removed objections to auditing by the county.

Barfield said he felt the Independent-Journal report of that meeting implied that the departure of trustee Gene W. McDaniel from the board may have been a factor in the action, Barfield said, however, that was not the case.

Storer and Behr led supervisorial criticism of the district board last year and pushed through the scheduled March 11 election on dissolution of the district.

The board has used a private auditor since supervisorial criticism began peaking in 1966.

Youth To Jail For Petty Theft

Ronald David Halverson, 19, of San Rafael, yesterday was sentenced to seven days in the county jail for petty theft of items March 12, 1968 from a Northwestern Pacific Railroad car in San Rafael.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales commended the youth on readily admitting his part in the crime and taking blame for it. The district attorney had originally charged Halverson with burglary and possession of stolen property.

A co-defendant in the case, Kenneth Leland Little, 19, of Los Ranchitos earlier pleaded guilty to petty theft and also served the same jail term.

Jade Ring Stolen

OBITUARIES

Psychiatrist Charles D. Ryan Dies

Dr. Charles Diller Ryan, 81, a psychiatrist who helped pioneer the use of psychiatry in criminological investigation, died today at a local convalescent home after a long illness.

A native of Springfield, Ill., where both his father and grandfather practiced medicine, Ryan was graduated from Harvard College in 1910 and received his medical degree from John Hopkins Medical College after World War I.

He had lived in Ross since 1962 and earlier had lived in Sausalito since his retirement in 1948.

Ryan was the first official psychiatric consultant to the New York City police department and was a member of the La Guardia Commission for the Study of Marijuana.

He also taught neurology and psychiatry at Johns Hopkins and Cornell universities and served as chief resident and clinical executive of the Payne Whitney Clinic in New York.

In Marin County, Ryan served on the Marin Senior Coordinating Council and was one of the founders of Marin Country Day School. He was a Fellow of the New York Academy of Medicine, a member of the Peripatetic Club, the Harvard Club of New York and St. Paul's Masonic Lodge of Springfield.

He is survived by his wife Corinne Payne Diller; three sons, Diller, Ridgway and Hughes, all of Ross, and a brother, Walter Ridgway Ryan of Roswell, N.M.

Memorial service will be held at 11 a.m. Friday at Christ Church in Sausalito. Interment will be private. The family prefers memorial contributions to the Marin Country Day School in Corte Madera.

CHARLES GERTH

Funeral for Charles J. Gerth, 70, of 3362 Moorland Avenue, Santa Rosa, father of Mrs. Albert Moore of Novato, will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Welti Chapel of the Roses in Santa Rosa.

He died Sunday in a Santa Rosa hospital after a long illness.

A native of Reading, Pa., he had lived in San Francisco for many years. He served in the Navy during World War I and later worked for Southern Pacific Railroad.

He is also survived by his wife, Katherin Gerth of the home; a son, Henry C. Gerth of San Francisco and two grandchildren.

Burial will be at Santa Rosa Memorial Gardens.

EMY JOHNSON

Emy M. Johnson, 76, of 934 Middlefield Drive, Petaluma, formerly of San Francisco, died yesterday at a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Sweden, Mrs. Johnson came to San Francisco in 1925 and lived there until 1966 when she moved to Petaluma.

Mrs. Johnson is survived by two sons, Arthur Johnson of San Mateo and Ivan Johnson of Los Altos; a daughter, Dorothy Dawson of Petaluma; a half-brother, Sven Hedin of Ogden, Utah, and several brothers and sisters in Sweden.

Funeral will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Private inurnment will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

CHARLES H. JORDAN

Charles Howard Jordan, 52, of San Rafael, died last night after collapsing in an elevator at Marin General Hospital where he had been taken by his son after complaining of shortness of breath.

The Marin County coroner's office said the death was apparently of natural causes and scheduled an autopsy for today.

Jordan had been in poor health for some time and suffered a stroke a year ago, according to his son.

He had lived in Marin County for eight years and had been custodian at St. Isabella's Church in Terra Linda the last 18 months. Earlier, he was a custodian in the Dixie School District for five years.

A native of Lynchburg, Va., Jordan lived with his wife, Rose, at 260 Merrydale Road in San Rafael. He is also survived by a son, Charles, and a daughter, Mrs. Diane Kinder of Novato.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

Panel Approves Plans For New Apartment Units

The Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee last night endorsed construction of a 12-unit apartment house at 915 East Blithedale Avenue, secretary Jeanne McLean reported.

Plans for the apartment, which is outside the city limits, were referred to the committee by the Marin County planning staff.

Committee members said they had no objections to the 12-unit density but did object to the extent of lot coverage and lack of landscaped open space, Mrs. McLean said.

The committee also asked the county to encourage planned-unit development rather than single-lot development, Mrs. McLean said.

Ivan S. Poutiatine was elected chairman and Dartmond Cherk, vice chairman.

A submittal by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. representatives of cost estimates for the Miller Avenue street lighting demonstration project was postponed to Feb. 17.

Plea Switched In Check Case

Leo Brunson, 30, of Vallejo who pleaded guilty in December in Marin Superior Court to a charge that he had stolen money order in his possession on Sept. 24, 1967, yesterday said that he was misled into making this plea.

Brunson said that he is innocent of the charge and that he pleaded guilty after being told by his attorney and the district attorney's office that he would receive a light sentence. In the meantime, he said, he has been sentenced to state prison by another county, and wishes to be tried on the Marin charge.

Judge Harold J. Haley set a trial for March 3.

Officers Named In Loma Verde

Bruce B. Robinson was elected president last night of the Loma Verde Homeowners Association, according to Mrs. John Tindell, publicity chairman.

Elected with him were: Murray C. Carter, vice president; Mrs. Richard W. Williams, recording secretary; Mrs. Murray W. Carter, corresponding secretary and David E. Perotti, treasurer.

District representatives elected were: John S. Bratina, Donald W. Allison, David H. Lincoln, Walter V. Kane and Robert W. Pingel.

The winter rains have slowed down work on the Lois Curtin tot lot, but it should be completed in April, Mrs. Tindell reported.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Feb. 4th the 35th day of 1969 with 330 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1901, a campaign was started by Maj. William Gorgas of the U.S. Army to wipe out yellow fever in Cuba.

In 1938 Adolf Hitler seized control of the German Army, putting Nazi officers in key posts.

In 1948 Ceylon became a free and self-governing dominion of Great Britain.

In 1966 President Lyndon Johnson flew to Hawaii for a conference on the Vietnam war.

A thought for the day: William Penn said, "Passion is a sort of fever in the mind which never leaves us weaker than it found us."

TIME AND TIDE

From Each Disaster, Player Should Learn Useful Lesson

One way of dealing with misfortune is to search for the right lucky charm. Another way is to reach for a lesson. How could you have foretold disaster was about to strike?

RETURNS CLUBS

East took the king of hearts and returned the 10 of clubs. West took two club tricks and then led another club to South's king.

South promptly led out the ace and king of diamonds. The queen didn't fall, and the opponents took a diamond, the ace of hearts and two more clubs.

The average declarer would sigh about his luck and would walk around his chair. Others would sit on a handkerchief to ward off this kind of hard luck.

The practical way to deal with this misfortune is learn from it. How could you tell that the diamonds were not going to break evenly?

THINK BACK

Think back to the opening lead of the deuce of hearts. Surely this showed a four-card suit. If West held five hearts he would have bid that suit; if East held five hearts he would have returned a heart instead of switching to clubs.

Subsequently, West took two club tricks and led a third club, on which East discarded a spade. Clearly, therefore, West started with five clubs.

South should take the ace of diamonds and cash three spade tricks before leading the next diamond from dummy. By then the count of West's hand would be complete: five clubs, four hearts and three spades. Hence only one diamond.

IS WARNED

South is warned about the 3-1 break in diamonds and takes a finesse to make his contract. A player who learns to count after a hand like this has forged a weapon that will ward off many disasters.

You have opened with one diamond, and partner has responded one heart.

It is up to you again, holding:

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one no-trump. You have minimum high-card strength for your opening bid, together with some kind of strength in the unbid suits. The rebid of one no-trump describes your hand perfectly. A rebid of two diamonds would permit your partner to hope that you held some extra strength.

Council Selects Two New Commissioners

San Rafael City Council last night appointed two planning commissioners, and accepted the resignation of a veteran fire commissioner.

James Dougan of 40 Knoll Road, former Bolinas civic leader, was appointed to the planning commission by a 3-2 vote. Councilmen Frederick C. Robbins Jr. and John A. Miskimen dissented but did not say why.

Dougan, orginally an applicant for the vacant council seat which was filled by Robbins, apparently lacked the residency requirement to serve on the council. He later indicated interest in the commission seat.

The second planning seat went to Lawrence E. Mulyran of 74 Upper Oak Drive, a San Francisco attorney, by a unanimous vote.

Mulyran has served as president of the Mont Marin Homeowners Association and chairman of the 1968 finance study committee of the Dixie School District.

Dougan was appointed to complete Robbins' term on the planning commission which ends June 30, 1971, and Mulyran to complete the term of Carl S. Brown, which ends this June 30.

Councilmen Fred E. Jensen said that one of the planning posts should go to someone in the construction industry. "There is no fast rule, but we've always had one," he said.

Brown, who resigned last November, was secretary-manager of Associated Home Builders Inc., considered a representative of the construction industry.

James D. Mahoney of 5 Sierra Circle argued for appointment of a construction representative, after the vote was taken. He advocated someone who not only lived in the city, but worked in San Rafael and was "close to the pulse."

Mahoney pointed out that Louis M. Della Valle, manager of Shamrock Materials, was strongly recommended for the seat.

The council received the resignation of William C. Herup, who has been a member of the fire commission since 1958, and at one time served on the city council.

The council posponed until Feb. 17 appointing someone to fill the vacant seat on the parks and recreation commission, created when Councilman Louis H. Baar was elected county supervisor.

Jensen nominated Roy R. Rhodes of 31 Grove Street, a director of Goldenaires, a senior citizen group, but there was no second. Mayor C. Paul Bettini said there were other applicants to be considered.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

NEW SNORKEL — Called for bids on a snorkel ladder fire truck, estimated to cost $70,000, to be opened at 2 p.m. March 12 at city hall.

CIRCUS PERMITS — Adopted an ordinance amendment to delete circuses and carnivals from uses for which a use permit is required, since applicants must come to the council for approval on bonding.

NORTHGATE CONTROL — Gave first approval to an ordinance which will give the city authority to enforce the vehicle code at Northgate Shopping Center One.

NEW STREET — Approved plans by the State Division of Highways to construct a 200-foot section of new street off Paloma Avenue, in connection with the Highway 101 widening project, to provide access to three parcels which would be cut off by the project.

PARKING AGREEMENT — Approved and agreement with Marin County whereby the county will pay $1,000 toward a $4,000 study by D. Jackson Faustman, Sacramento consultant, on a parking plan for downtown San Rafael, including the courthouse square.

VICE PRESIDENT — Unanimously elected Fred E. Jensen as vice president of the council.

HIRING — Authorized hiring of Cecilia M. Labagh and Sandra Jean Testa as parking enforcement officers at $476 a month, and Howard C. Gold as a fireman at $670 a month.

135 Receive Guide Dog Aid

Guide Dogs for the Blind has reported 135 men and women graduated from the free-28 day training program last year.

Although the school is undergoing reconstruction, said executive director William F. Johns, the training program has not been interrupted.

The school completed a new kennel program last year and construction has now started for a new student dormitory. The present student building will be in use until completion of the new structure, said Johns.

The dormitory will house 16 students and another wing is planned at a latter date to accommodate an additional 16 students.

The non-profit organization is planning an annual membership campaign to help pay for these new buildings, added Johns.

Marin GOP Council Slates Dinner Dance

The Marin Republican Council will hold its annual membership dinner dance at 8 p.m. on Saturday at the Meadow Club, Fairfax.

Music will be by Bob Olney and his orchestra.

Richmond Schools Put On Blacklist

BURLINGAME (AP) — The 44,000-pupil Richmond Unified School District has been put under statewide sanction by the 165,000 - member California Teachers Association.

The CTA says that its members are being notified that "unsatisfactory educational and teaching conditions" exist in the district.

Harry Fosdick, CTA assistant executive director, declared:

"Richmond is under sanctions because it has failed abysmally to provide adequate financing for its schools. The purpose of this blacklist is to underscore the plight of the Richmond schools and focus community attention on the economic plight of the schools."

The district, which has about 1,900 teachers, has been under local sanctions since December.

Two Charter Changes Due April 15 Vote

San Rafael City Council last night proposed two charter amendments, one to extend on the term of the mayor and the other to expand membership on two commissions and one city board.

Councilmen voted unanimously to put the proposed amendments on the ballot at the April 15 municipal election.

One would extend the term of the mayor from two to four years.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said the two year term wasn't long enough for a mayor to accomplish programs and that it was expensive to campaign every two years.

The other would increase from five to seven the number of members on the park and recreation commission, fire commission and library board. The planning commission now has seven members.

Councilmen can serve voluntarily on the park and recreation commission, the fire commission and the library board. Councilmen John A. Miskimen said, however, that this eliminates a member of the public from serving.

Also on the bllot will be separate charger amendments to permit the council to appoint the police chief, city attorney, city clerk and city attorney, who are now elected.

Jury Trial Slated In Pot Possession

Jury trial for David Woeller, 38, of Sausalito, accused of possessing marijuana for sale and possessing LSD, is scheduled to open Wednesday in Marin Superior Court.

Woeller was arrested in February, 1968.

Voters To Say Whether City Will Get Golf Course

San Rafael voters will have a chance to decide whether the city should operate a municipal golf course under a 40-year lease-purchase plan.

City councilmen voted 3-2 last night in fovor of a referendum, with Mayor C. Paul Bettini and Councilman John A. Miskimen dissenting.

As originally proposed the decision would have been made by the council, and since no bond measure is involved, there would have been no vote by the people.

No date was set for the vote, but it won't be April 15, the council decided. Neither will there be a vote then on bond proposals for sewer improvements and construction of a fire station and recreation center.

The golf course vote was a victory for Councilman Fred E. Jensen, who for months has strongly opposed entering into a contract for lease-purchase of a golf course without the voters having a say.

As proposed the city would enter into a contract with San Rafael Municipal Facilities Corp., a nonprofit corporation, for lease-purchase of a proposed 18-hole golf course on Smith Brothers ranch north of Gallinas Creek.

Jensen said the city would have to pay from $96,000 to $100,000 a year in lease payments and if revenues failed to raise that amount, the taxpayers would have to make up the difference.

"This is such an immense project that the people should have their say," Jensen asserted. He described a nonprofit corporation as a gimmick which "takes away the right of the people to decide."

The council is reviewing feasibility studies of the proposal, including expected revenue and operating costs. The non-profit corporation would construct the course, estimated to cost $1.3 million, through bonds.

Councilmen agreed there wasn't enough information available to put the golf course question or bond proposals for sewer system improvements and construction of a recreation center and fire station on the April 15 municipal election ballot.

Miskimen said it would be advisable to put both bond measures and the golf course question to the voters at the same time "because there is a choice involved."

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen reported that 50 per cent matching funds might be available from the Department of Housing and Urban Development to repair the sewer system.

The council authorized Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles to make preliminary application for the unds.

It has been estimated that it would cost $1.2 million to put the sewer system in the older part of the city in proper shape, and another $625,000 for cleaning, sealing and testing lines, for a total cost of $1.85 million.

Rawles said he would apply for a $2 million project, on the theory that inflation would increase the costs by the time work got underway.

Gumps Open After $2 Million Inferno

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gumps, internationally known fine arts store, has reopened after being closed since Dec. 22 by a fire that damaged four stores on Post Street in downtown San Francisco.

Yesterday, Gumps estimated damage at $2 million. The most serious losses were in the jewelry department and the jade room, said Richard Gump.

Appointee To Overhaul Military Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird appointed today a new defense manpower specialist who will be assigned to take "decisive action" in modernizing the military pay system.

The new appointee is Roger T. Kelley, now with Caterpillar Tractor Co. of Peoria, Ill., who will be assistant secretary of defense for manpower and reserve affairs.

Laird said Kelley, 50, has directed worldwide personnel programs for Caterpillar Tractor. He served as a Navy officer in World War II.

As soon as Kelley's appointment is confirmed by the Senate he will be charged with a "high priority responsibility for decisive action to modernize our military compensation structure," Laird said.

The defense chief said military compensation needs to be brought more in line with other government jobs. And he said the improvement of military pay scales would be a first step towards reducing reliance on the draft.

Rare Parrot Is Returned Safely

The rare Red Mollucan Lorie parrot which was taken from its perch at Aquarium Beautiful, 1409 Fourth Street, San Rafael, has returned as mysteriously as it disappeared.

Store owner Robert Bancroft said the parrot, a four-month-old bird which needs special food and care, was set on a perch in the store sometime Friday and it was several hours before he discovered it.

He had offered a $50 reward for the return of the parrot he valued at $200.

Target Board Election To Be Held On Friday

New representatives to the Economic Opportunity Council's Marin City Target Area Board will be elected Friday at a community-wide fish fry starting at 11 a.m. Friday at the Manzanita Center, Marin City, area director Reginald Tolbert announced today.

The fish fry will also be a community forum. Marin City residents will be able to give their views and opinions over a public address system, and Marin City's governmental and quasigovernmental agencies will be there to hear the community expressions, Tolbert said. The Marin City Community Services District board, Marin City Council, EOC staff and members of the Development Corporation of Marin City are to attend.

Several speakers and entertainers have been scheduled, and volunteers from the community's churches will serve the food, Tolbert said.

Candidates for the target area board, who must be Marin City residents, may present petitions with 15 signatures at the EOC office in the Manzanita Center.

North Carolina entered the Union Nov. 21, 1789.

Hijacker Is Persuaded To Give Up

But Peparo, who was accompanied by his girlfriend, was foiled in his attempt to become the 13th hijacker of the year by the smooth-talking National crew. The plane landed safely in Miami.

Peparo and the girl, Tamsin R. Fitzgerald, 18, of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., were lodged in the Dade County Jail under $100,000 bond each facing charges of air piracy.

Just hours earlier, four Cubans successfully diverted an Eastern Air Lines Miami jetliner with 93 persons aboard to Havana.

The Eastern hijackers were later identified as J. Babin and W. Hernandez, who was accompanied by his wife and teen-aged daughter.

Capt. Jack W. Moore, the Eastern pilot on his second hijacking trip of the year, was allowed to bring the crew and plane back to Miami in the later afternoon, but the passengers had to wait on a propjet ferry flight back last night.

Knives were used in both incidents.

Peparo, who attended Duchess Community College in Poughkeepsie, N.Y. also had a mosquito spray can which he tried to pass off as a bomb.

91 Per Cent Of Scout Council Funds Collected

The Marin Boy Scout Council came within $3,600 of reaching its goal of $40,500 for sustaining membership in 1968, according to the council's annual report.

The report listed contributions and pledges of $36,910 — or 91 per cent of the goal, compared to 72 per cent of the goal in 1967.

The council said it had $105,831 in income during 1968 and estimated expenses for 1969 totaling $108,000.

The annual report also showed a membership increase last year of 300 boys —nearly 6 per cent — over 1967.

In reviewing the year's activities, the report said the Scout-o-rama drew 15,000 people to Dominican College last year, netting $11,806. This year's Scout-o-rama is scheduled for May 24.

Safety Building To Be Discussed

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission, meeting at 8 p.m. today will consider a report recommending construction of a new public safety building at the site of the city's present police and fire facilities.

The recommendation will be made, along with presentation of preliminary plans for the multi-purpose building, by the commission's committee for site selection for new city facilities.

No cost estimates for the project will be presented by the committee.

Assembly Asked To Revive Constitutional Revisions

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An ad hoc Assembly committee says Proposition 1, the constitutional revision plan defeated in the Nov. 5 election, should be reexamined to determine if it should be resubmitted to the voters.

The suggestion was included in a special report by the Assembly Interim Committee on Constitutional Amendments submitted to the Legislature yesterday by Assemblyman Paul Priolo, R-Santa Monica, the new chairman of the Assembly Committee on Elections ond Constitutional Amendments.

The report contained findings and recommendations concerning the California Constitutional Revision Commission and the future of the revision project.

"The committee agreed," Priolo said, "that the defeat of Proposition 1 at the November election does not reflect a general interest among California's citizens in the termination of the revision project or the abolition of the revision committee."

Priolo said the committee feels the contents of Proposition 1 should be restudied by the legislature to see if all of it or part of the plan should be put to another vote.

The interim committee's report asked the legislature to give a vote of confidence to the revision commission and urged Priolo's Assembly committee to hold public hearings throughout the state on the commission's future recommendations.

"Many thousands of man-hours have been contributed to this important project by the members of the legislature and the commission," Priolo said. "The culmination of all these efforts represents a vast expenditure of time, talent and funds that can ill afford to be wasted by the legislature of the people."

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Democratic assemblyman says Gov. Ronald Reagan dangled a judgeship in front of him as bait in an attempt to persuade him to give up his Assembly seat and make way for a Republican replacement.

Assemblyman Harvy Johnson, D-El Monte, said yesterday the governor is afraid GOP Assemblyman John Veneman will accept an offer to become the No. 2 man in the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and jeopardize Republican control of the Assembly.

Johnson said Reagan sent a Republican assemblyman to "make a deal with me" about a vacant judgeship in the El Monte Municipal Court. He said he rejected the alleged offer. He did not identify the Republican assemblyman.

"The governor apparently will go to any lengths to make sure a 40-40 tie among Republicans and Democrats does not develop in the Assembly," he said.

Reagan's press aide, Paul Beck, denied Johnson's charges. "No one has been authorized to act on behalf of the governor to make appointments or offer such jobs," he said.

The Democrat called Reagan's alleged offer "an obvious attempt to shore up the sagging fortunes of the Republican party," and said the governor should "climb down off his high-horse of hypocrisy."

Within an hour after Johnson made his accusations in a written statement, Reagan's office announced the appointment of Los Angeles County Deputy Dist. Atty. Roy L. Norman to the vacant judgeship. Norman is a Democrat.

Home Owners Halt Corte Madera Plan To Annex 29-Acre Parcel

A visibly miffed Corte Madera Town Council last night failed in its effort to annex a 29-acre parcel on Meadowsweet Drive.

Confronted during a public hearing on the proposed annexation with sufficient protests by property owners to kill the issue, the council resignedly passed a resolution ending the effort.

On Jan. 6, it had passed a resolution to hold a special election for the annexation, but last night's hearing was a necessary step toward that end.

Protest by property owners representing over 50 per cent of the parcel's land value of $122,015 was enough to halt the annexation. Last night saw protest letters received from 12 owners representing $81,995 in property value, or $20,987 more than required.

About 15 owners also appeared in person to voice their objections, which centered mostly on the contention that annexing to Corte Madera would cost more in additional taxes than benefits would be worth.

The council made several efforts before conceding. Twon Mgr. Ronald L. Usher said the area, west of Meadowsweet Drive and including Marin Joe's restaurant and the Casa Buena motel, is surrounded by the Corte Madera boundary and by location alone should fit with the town.

He claimed to no avail that better police and fire protection can be provided by Corte Madera than by the county, which presently has jurisdiction over the parcel. He also said rumors that the property owners must share in back bonded indebtedness for the city was untrue, and that town taxes would not be effective until December 1970.

A new annexation hearing cannot be held for another year.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

PARKING — Granted the request of William W. Wood for a 10-foot "no parking" zone on the south side of his driveway at 346 Corte Madera Avenue.

DOGS — Adopted the proposed amendments of the City-County Services Committee to a county-wide animal control ordinance. Amendments would include the possibility of citing the owner of a dog not under control, and the raising of pound fees.

PERMITS — Approved the requests by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Finlay for a home occupation permit to distribute Holiday Magic cosmetics at 42 Prince Royal Passage, and by Roger Starkey for a similar permit to operate a station wagon commuter service office at 225 Uplands Circle.

LOT CHANGE — Granted a lot line change request by Councilman Robert P. Simmons to add 150 square feet of land from a parcel at 138 Edison Avenue to an adjacent non-conforming parcel. Simmons abstained from voting because he was the applicant.

ORDINANCE — Adopted an interim ordinance making new service stations apply for use permits in all commercial zones. A proposed permanent ordinance is being created. The measure is to give the town closer control of stations.

STREET NUMBERS — Informally agreed to a suggestion by the Corte Madera Volunteer Fire Department that street house numbers should be painted on curbs to make location of residences easier. The public works department was asked to determine the best procedure and report back to the council at its next regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 17.

TREES — Informally agreed to planting 22 trees around the Village Square, but delayed action pending more study.

STREET BIDS — Ageed to call for bids on the construction phase of San Clemente Drive, which connects Tamalpais Drive with Paradise Drive. The half-mile stretch of construction is expected to cost $95,505 with a total cost of $218,751 including right-of-way. Bids will be opened at 2 p.m. Feb. 28.

REGIONAL GOVERNMENT — Agreed with the county board of supervisors that more time is needed for consideration of a proposed formation of a Bay Area Regional Organization. A joint legislative committee sought comments by the board and city councils by last Jan. 24.

Guidelines To Be Reviewed

Further work on the policies and procedures guide for the new Shoreline Unified School District will be discussed by the board when it meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the district administration office at Tomales Elementary School.

The board has been working with Supt. Charles E. McCully compiling guidelines.

The board will hire a district secretary and hear a report from the superintendent on progress in organizing the district which on July 1 will replace Tomales High School and elementary districts within its boundaries.

Transit Discussion

Seymour Kashin, manager of the Marin Transit District, will discuss Marin County's transportation situation at a noon board meeting of the Novato Chamber of Commerce board Thursday at Cloud Five, according to George A. Barnwell, chamber president.

Park Finances To Be Studied

The Petaluma Recreation, Music and Parks Comission will discuss ways to finance development of Lucchesi Park at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at city hall.

Landscape architect Sidney M. Lewin of San Rafael has suggested consideration of a special bond issue to provide funds for the 31-acre park. No price tag has been placed on the recreation site.

The commission will also receive a status report on plans for a Vietnam memorial at Walnut Park.

Grant Honors Claudia O'Connor

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

"It's almost a disgrace to be honored for doing something you do to please yourself. It doesn't seem quite fair."

So says Mrs. R. S. O'Connor of Mill Valley, who has just had a $500 international fellowship grant named for her.

The Mill Valley branch of the American Association of University Women has named the grant the Claudia O'Connor grant in recognition of the former president's outstanding service to the branch and organization and her leadership in community and county affairs.

After joining the branch in 1952, about four years after it was founded, Claudia immediately started assuming responsibilities, serving her first two years as chairman for radio, television and movies.

She served twice as president — in 1958-59 and 1961-62. Talented in art, she was section chairman for painting in 1956 to 1958. Her most recent service has been as area representative for community problems last year and area representative for world problems for five years before that.

Speaking of the name grants, she explained, "They are used mainly to supplement the $1,500 fellowships." She noted that 54 awards were given to American women last year out of 369 applicants in the United States, and 44 international awards were given to women from foreign countries out of 314 applicants from 66 countries. Total money contributed to fellowships last year by members of the organization was $719,000.

"Over the years I have had a great deal of intellectual stimulation from AAUW in different fields at different times," she says. "The organization has such a broad spectrum of interests."

Born in Pismo Beach, Claudia was graduated from high school in Arroyo and from San Jose State College with a bachelor's degree in fine arts.

"I was mainly interested in art at this time," she recalls. "I wanted to be a painter, but I'm a vocal person, and I don't really have anything in a picture form to express myself. I don't believe real artists are vocal. If you can express yourself in words, you don't need to do it in any other way.

"I attended the California School of Fine Arts, but I'm a sometime painter now — when I don't have anything else to do."

After her marriage to Mr. O'Connor, who is a driver for the Gray Line Company, Claudia worked four years as a draftsman during World War II for the Southern Pacific Company in the motive power department. She received her training for this in a drafting class sponsored by Stanford University and given at Cogswell Technical Institute in San Francisco.

Claudia has also somehow found time in her busy life as mother of two children — Moira, now 22 and employed in the insurance business in San Francisco, and Robert, 17, a senior at Tamalpais High School, to be active in the community.

She has been a Parent-Teacher Association president, and in 1962 she was appointed the AAUW Mill Valley branch representative to the Fall Arts Festival and ended up as its chairman.

"I'll never forget that," she laughs. "It was the year we had a lot of rain, and we couldn't even get a weather report because the World Series was going on in San Francisco, and they didn't want to give out any local reports that might affect attendance. We finally got one issued for farmers out of Sacramento."

Claudia served on the Arts Festival board one year and has continued her interest in it but has now become more involved in Fair Marin on the county level.

Appointed representative for all three Marin branches of the AAUW, she became a member of the organizing committee and is now chairman of the committee in charge of the dedication of the new Veterans Auditorium now under construction at the Civic Center.

"I'm very happy with the progress the board is making," she said. "The dedication will probably take place before Christmas."

MRS. R. S. O'Connor, who has worked as a draftsman herself, checks a plot plan of the Veterans Auditorium now under construction at the Marin Civic Center while she works as chairman of the dedication committee on ideas for the dedication ceremonies. Her leadership in community projects is one of the reasons that a $500 AAUW fellowship grant has been named for her. (Independent-Journal photo)

Cardin Brings On 'Total Look' Show

By LUCIE NOEL

PARIS (AP) — Pierre Cardin opened his spring collection Friday in the Hotel Bristol salons instead of his own premises.

Cardin's collection stepped fourth at terrific pace in groups of five and six at a time. A further mistake was made by showing all the ideas he has ever produced, because this gave the impression of a follies finale.

Weeded out, however are the following new trends:

Half-circles or quarter-crescent moons appear as only one cape sleeve is lifted, the second arm is treated to a long tight slbyhu. A charming navy wool afternoon dress has two large circles forming the skirt, one in the back, one in front and joined at the sides.

FOR DAY, in a short length, and for evening, in floor length, in white crepe, he does a beautiful diagonal draped band, assymetrically slanted across one shoulder and most of the torso. It's in the slave mood and further emphasized by a Roman slave running onstage dressed in a brief hipster miniskirt, belt and bra all in jeweled gold.

There are many versions of the sarong skirt with a top attached by a panel or buttoned on tabs. An entire group featuring this trend also included criss-cross lacing in white vinyl, or black, contrasting with the dress.

There are many overdress effects, one slashed down one side over nothing.

Among all this variety and creative ideas, Cardin has a basic layer of good clothes that make good sense and will please most everyone. Excellent coats, some with exaggerated back swing, others with simple chic touches step forth in spring wools, in both one color and bicolor contrasts.

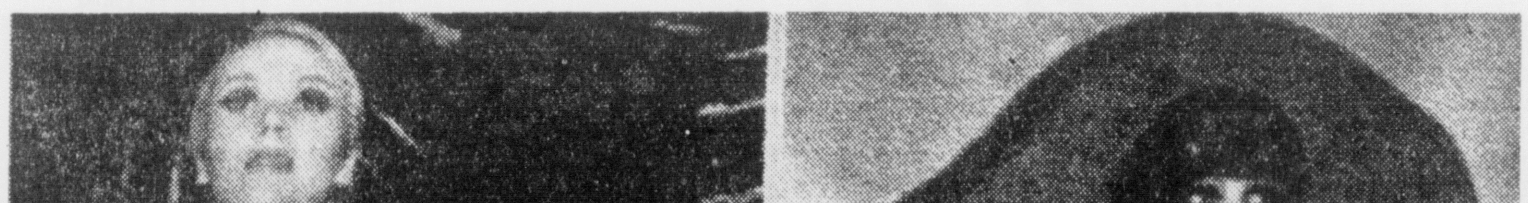
BECAUSE CARDIN believes strongly in the total look and the accessories he calls "fashion environment," he has designed a collection of gloves, made by Aris and coordinated with his custommade collection.

He endorses modernistic geometric decor. A long pair of black gloves are elbow length and have inserted vinyl diamond triangles stepping up the arm. Similar motifs are worked out in shorties and wrist length. They run round the clock and are shown in leather and fabric from sports to evening wear.

Cardin says they will be available with his models and delivered simultaneously.

Fabulous jeweled embroidery appears on siren crepe sheaths, some featuring draping.

THERE ARE RUMORS that this may be the last haute couture collection Cardin will show. He reportedly dreams of one a year in May with his ready to wear line, only.



PIERRE CARDIN stepped up the pace during the showing of his 1969 spring-summer collection Friday in Paris by bringing out the models five and six at a time. According to fashion writers attending the showing he erred in bringing out all the ideas he has ever produced. The white cotton evening dress with an open skirt, left, and the red cotton beach suit with capeline of the same material, right, were two of his new ideas. (AP Wirephoto)

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'Liberated' Sister Causes Brother Much Embarrassment

DEAR HELEN:

I guess my problem is a liberated sister, at least that's what she jokingly calls herself. She's liberated from all the things women have to go through to be women—cosmetics (she's pretty enough without them), curlers, hairspray, woman's magazines — she prefers the Playboy type — girdles, etc.

This wouldn't matter, except that I am her "kid brother," and since I started college, I share her apartment. We get along fine, and it's a very economical arrangement, but the way she dresses — or doesn't dress — embarrasses me. At home that is. She gussies up for dates.

I'll be specific. The other night she invited one of her girlfriends over for dinner. I kept asking when she was going to change her clothes, but she just shrugged. She entertained in short shorts and a heavy pullover sweatshirt, but nothing on underneath, and this was very apparent as her figure is a knockout — around 38-24-35.

When I talked to her later she apologized and said she was amazed that I was upset. After all, she was just entertaining another woman and her own brother, and she wasn't indecent She just doesn't care about wearing undergarments. I'll admit she never wears see-through clothes and she covers herself properly, but Helen, even though I'm her brother, I'm a man and, in the presence of her woman friends, I'm apt to blush. Also, I'd like to invite girls over to the apartment to study, but they might be embarrassed.
—PUZZLED BROTHER

DEAR BROTHER:

Wouldn't you be better off in a bachelor apartment shared with other college men? Your sister likes her way of life — and this is fine for relaxed feminine living: Most single girls dress down at home and don't dress up for female company. But I can see where it would embarrass you, just as she would be irked if you appeared shirtless in front of her boy friends.

You'll be close friends if you split up. Right?—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am a male college student and need extra cash but can't hack a steady, eight-hour job. I am interested in modeling clothes for male magazines that have fashion pages. I believe I have the proper qualifications. How do I go about getting jobs?
—B.R., NEW JERSEY

DEAR B:

Inquire at a model agency, preferably in New York (though most large cities have good agencies). If the director here thinks you stack up favorably against the competition, he will make arrangements to produce a photo "composite" which will be sent to photographers, magazine editors, etc. This is all at your own expense, and it isn't exactly cheap. But it often produces results.

Good luck.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

My dad is always saying things like, "Straighten up or leave the table!" or "If you aren't going to work, get out of the house!" The other day I got out of the house when he said that, and when I came back he grounded me for a month for being disobedient. I did just what he said. Why don't parents say what they mean?—NICK

DEAR NICK:

I'll bet your father will, next time. And watch out — because he'll mean what he says, too! (Okay Pop — admit it — you goofed! —H.

New Relaxed Rules For The Second Time Around

AP Newsfeature

Thanks to the "do your own thing" approach which has modified, if not abolished, etiquette rules everywhere, the second time around bride need no longer hide in the shadows.

Although newly-relaxed rules permit much more freedom in planning a second wedding, most likely a second-time bride will not want to imitate the bride who's saying her first "I do." The elaborate white dress, the long train and veil are all part of the first nuptial ritual — but that doesn't preclude the second-time bride from wearing white again. A white or pastel gown, long or short, traditional or up-to-the-minute sans train and veil is perfect. A very young second-time bride may prefer the more elaborate trappings of a first-time ritual — (train, elaborate gown, etc.) and if the groom-to-be doesn't object, there's no reason why anyone else should.

SECOND WEDDING plans are often pared down — but they needn't be — as long as everything is in good taste. The processional can be eliminated because this time the bride doesn't have to be given away. Two honor attendants on each side are all that are needed. Children of a first marriage shouldn't be forced into flower girl or ring bearer roles. They'll most likely be happier as guests than as members of the wedding party. However, if they wish to be included, making them a flower girl or ring-bearer adds a nice touch.

The wedding site is up to the bride, but a home or garden ceremony is especially suited for second marriages. You should know what you want in a wedding, so why not plan one that's your own creation? Doing it yourself may mean a canopy of roses in the garden and a patio buffet or a daisy-lined living room and champagne and cake. It's your choice. Just be sure it's as meaningful and memorable as the vows it celebrates.

ONE OTHER POINT — if the bride has never been married before even though the bridegroom has, the wedding may be as elaborate and as lavish as for any other first-time bride.

Marinwood Unit Elects Mrs. Glenn D. Hendrix

The new president enjoys languages, reading, tennis, sewing, painting, stitchery, gardening, hiking, ballet and bicycling.

Size Important

Buying tips: Size is important in selecting root vegetables, says the Consumer and Marketing Service. Very large carrots may have woody cores. Oversized radishes may be pithy. Oversized turnips, beets and parnips may be woody. Size and condition of the tops on these vegetables do not necessarily indicate the eating quality.

Government Buys Surplus

The United States Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service spent nearly $160 million last fiscal year to buy more than half a billion pounds of meat, poultry, eggs, oils, fruits, vegetables, and dairy and grain products.

As a result, producers of these products got better prices — and the products helped to improve the diets of many persons including those in needy families, schools and institutions.

The purchases were made under authority of "Section 32" of Public Law 74-320 — a little known program designed to give price assistance mainly to perishable farm products which are in temporary oversupply.

Another use of the "Section 32" program last fiscal year was a broad diversion program to help potato producers faced with disastrously low prices. Farmers, under the program, were paid premiums to sell potatoes to low-price outlets, such as livestock feed or starch manufacturers.

HERE'S WHERE YOU GET CLIPPED.

Because, as an advertiser, you're really exposed. Men will clip you. Women will clip you. Kids, too. And if your dollar volume begins to swell, swell.

But first, you've got to set yourself up for it. Putting coupons in your ads is the best way. Because they're in print. And print lets people clip and save your message. Or file it. Or compare it. Or pass it along to a friend. Or mail it back to you.

And that's not all. Print shows your product off to its very best advantage. It flashes its color. Struts its style. Displays its beauty. Shows its uses. And enables people to read and re-read your message.

Print can do lots of things for you. Even get you clipped. By customers who like to read before they buy.

SIXTH GRADE SCIENCE — Students at Santa Venetia Middle School conduct microscopic studies under the supervision of James A. LeCzel, sixth grade science teacher. Taking advantage of the middle school system, which includes sixth, seventh and eighth graders and allows sixth graders to have specialized instruction rather than spending the entire day in the same classroom with the same teacher, are (from the left) Mikoto Middleton, Geff M. Allen, Geff Creamer and Rickie Dean. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

SCHOOL BONDS

$2.1 Million Needed To Permit Switch To Middle School Plan

(Second of four articles)

San Rafael Elementary School District's $2.1 million bond election Feb. 18 involves not only a building program but an educational concept.

The idea is to group sixth, seventh and eighth graders in what educators have termed middle schools.

Santa Venetia Middle School has been operating under this system since 1966, but if the bonds are passed there will be three middle schools.

Davidson Junior High School would become a middle school and the proposed new school at Glenwood would be a middle school.

Sixth graders in neighborhood schools would be switched to the middle schools, freeing 14 classrooms for use by kindergarten through fifth grade.

Your Elementary Schools Committee, the district's bond campaign committee, views the middle school "as a transitional phase between the self-contained classroom of the neighborhood elementary school and the varied, departmentalized environment of the high school." This is the same concept as in the junior high school.

The three-year grouping starting with sixth grade is currently fashionable among educators.

Supt. John F. Plank said opening of a new middle school, combined with switching of sixth graders, would "add room in the district for 900 pupils."

It would provide permanent classrooms for 425 pupils now housed in portable classrooms and space to meet the expected growth in the next four to five years, about 100 pupils a year, he said.

Plank conceded that not all the space opened up in elementary schools would be needed immediately, but contended the district would not be overbuilding.

The space would be used for expanded libraries, science areas, language and audio-visual centers or art centers until needed for classrooms, he said.

If enrollment growth were uneven and other space were available, it could be used for special education classes that "are meeting all over" or by psychologists "who are interviewing in closets," Plank said.

All 23 classrooms constructed with funds from a $3.3 million bond measure in 1964 are filled, except two rooms at Gallinas School, which sends sixth graders to Santa Venetia Middle School. Four would be unused until future growth of enrollment.

Coleman School would gain three classrooms; Laurel Dell Intermediate, three; San Pedro, three; Glenwood, two, and Bahia Vista, Sun Valley and West End schools, one each.

Proposed uses for the space are:

Coleman School, one room to replace a portable, one for an expanded library, leaving one for future growth.

Laurel Dell Intermediate, one room for special education programs, with two left for growth.

San Pedro, to replace three portables and provide library facilities.

Glenwood, one room to replace a portable, leaving one for growth.

Bahia Vista, one room for a language and audio-visual center, science area or arts area.

Sun Valley, one room to replace a portable.

West End, one room will be released for remodeling of the central portion of the main building.

The middle school experiment at Santa Venetia has met with approval from teachers, parents and pupils, according to a poll, the YES committee reported.

Parents, according to the committee, wrote that the middle school system gave their children more opportunity to develop their potential, and teachers said it provided sixth graders access to special teachers for specialized subjects.

One of the questions expected to be raised by parents is whether sixth graders are socially ready to mingle with the junior high group. The committee contends there is no evidence that placing a sixth grader in a middle school will push him too fast socially.

For those who believe the middle school is a new idea, the committee reported that "grouping of sixth, seventh and eighth grades in San Rafael existed in 1922. It was later changed when seventh and eighth grade students were moved to another building to provide additional space."

In a middle school the sixth grader spends much of his time in a self-contained classroom, but has a chance to work in foreign languages, art and music with specialists.

In the seventh grade students work in larger time blocks with two or more teachers, and eight grade approaches the high school format with shorter blocks of time and more electives, Plank explained.

(Part Three tomorrow: Glenwood Middle School.)

Peak Traffic No-Parking Lane Voted

The San Anselmo Planning Commission by a 4-1 vote yesterday recommended to the city council that a Sir Francis Drake Boulevard parking lane be used for westbound traffic during peak commuter evening traffic.

Proposed was that parking on the lane from El Cerrito Avenue to Butterfield Road, be banned from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. daily. A similar plan is in operation on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from the Hub intersection to El Cerrito.

City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell said the commission majority felt the extension would only be a short-term solution to the heavy traffic problem, however, and that it would be an undesirable change for the neighborhood.

Commissioner Allen J. Creighton voted against the recommendation. Commissioner Philip S. Heinecke abstained, and Commissioner Joseph Gue was absent.

The council had requested a recommendation.

The San Anselmo Planning Commission also:

LOT LINE — Approved revision of a lot line on property owned by Richard Shortall and Rosalind Watkin to make two lots out of three existing lots.

STREET NAME — Approved a request to name a private road "Echo Court." The road is off Melville Avenue.

USE PERMIT — Held a six-month review of a use permit granted the Bon Vin Restaurant at 112 Spaulding Street and concluded there is no reason to alter permit conditions.

Contractor Faces Loss Of $7,640

The Lagunitas School District board voted last night to withhold $7,640 from the final payment for construction on the new San Geronimo Valley Elementary School for several unfinished items.

The contractor for the new school, which opened Nov. 18, is E. H. Chapman of San Rafael, Supt. Marshall J. McCuniff said if the work is not finished within 30 days, new contracts for the remaining work will be let.

Unfinished items include installation of electrical fixtures and replacement of faulty skylights, McCuniff said.

The board had been scheduled to begin consideration of its 1969-70 budget but postponed that until next Monday because of the press of other business. No preliminary budget figures are yet available.

In other action, the board announced that the dedication of the San Geronimo Valley School will be at 1 p.m., March 1, and set next Monday's meeting for a public hearing on the proposed transfer of ownership of two small tracts of land near the school.

Jail Term On Driving Count

Christopher C. Leslie, 28, of Piedmont, was sentenced yesterday in Marin Superior Court to 90 days in the county jail for drunken driving which resulted in a head-on collision on Golden Gate Bridge on Sept. 28, 1967.

Leslie, who formerly lived in Sausalito, was also ordered to pay a $500 fine by Judge Harold J. Haley.

Probation officers said that Leslie, who was himself seriously injured in the accident, no longer drinks. They added that the other persons injured in the accident have recovered.

WILLIAM B. LEWIS
15 years on board

W. B. Lewis Resigns Tam Trustee Job

William B. Lewis of San Anselmo resigned last night as trustee of the Tamalpais High School District. He had served on the board 15 years.

Lewis, not present at the meeting, wrote that his work took him out of town too frequently to continue serving on the board.

Lewis, an insurance company representantive, and his wife, who reside at 1623 San Anselmo Avenue, have three daughters, all of whom were graduated from Drake High School.

Trustees will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m., Feb. 13, at the district office to appoint and interview trustee candidates to fill the vacancy. They set Monday as the deadline for interested parties to submit their names to the Superintendent's office.

To Review Budget

The Fairfax School District trustees will meet 7:45 p.m. next Tuesday at the district office to discuss the 1969-70 budget and the sixth grade camping program.

Tam Teachers' Pay Boosts Challenged In Budget Study

Trustees of the Tamalpais High School District took a look last night at the preliminary 1969-70 budget, and at least one board members didn't like what she saw.

Trustee Bette C. Wallace noted that the tentative amount for teachers, salaries — $592,000 — was three times what it is in the current budget, $217,000, and far above the 1966-67 figure, $185,000. She asked why.

Frank A. Cassou, district business director, explained that the $592,000 represented only the sum proposed by the Tamalpais District Teachers Association, including fringe benefits.

The new budget — for which only preliminary figures were prepared last night — does include hiring of five new teachers, however.

Total 1968-69 budget is $9,181,336. The total 1969-70 budget has not been set but the Proposed 1969-70 operating budget is $8,562,408 compared with the current figure of $8,879,084. No tax rate was discussed last night.

Mrs. Wallace noted that the preliminary budget showed that spending exceeded income by $400,000.

Cassou explained that, for the first time, balancing was done by program — not by dollars. "You assign priorities to your program so that everything most essential is built within the resources of the district," he said. Ring appeared a bit skeptical at this but it was agreed that the format would continue to be used with the final budget to be presented also in the regular state form.

Trsstee David D. Ring, noting that the cost of in-service training for teachers is projected at $7,349, asked for more details on where money was being spent in other parts of the budget on such training. He indicated the sum was very low for such an important item.

Tamalpais High School District Board Also:

MEETINGS — Set a closed session at 4 p.m. Monday, at the district office to select a board member to meet with the Teachers Negotiation Council. It set a special meeting Feb. 13 at 8 p.m. to appoint and interview board candidates to fill the vacancy of trustee William B. Lewis, and canceled its regular Feb. 17 meeting.

OPPORTUNITY SCHOOL — Authorized hiring a team leader for the proposed Opportunity School, a school which is to give special training to potential dropouts. The job is to run to June 30. Salary is to be determined by the candidate's placement on the salary schedule. Supt. Chester G. Carlisle said that, if and when the school is approved, he will ask the board for a 2-cent override tax to finance it.

DRUG ABUSE — Trustee Ring asked for a summary of district policies and practices on handling drug abuse to be submitted Mar. 3.

CALENDAR — Approved the 1969-70 school calendar of 176 school days from Sept. 8 to June 12.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations of Brooks H. Dutt, photography teacher, Drake High School, who is retiring June 30 and Mrs. Joan Bandes, librarian, Tamalpais High, now on leave, who is taking a job at the University of Idaho, Pocatello.

NEW TEACHERS — Agreed to hire until June 30 Mrs. Vida Ray H. Freeman of San Anselmo, as substitute mathematics teacher, Drake High, replacing Larry Dickey who died last December and Jens L. Lund of Berkeley for the year 1969-70, to take Mrs. Freeman's position July 1. Salaries were not disclosed.

Trustees Frank L. Miller and William B. Lewis were absent.

Guilty Plea To Pot Possession

Garth J. B. Upton, 24, of San Anselmo pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of possessing marijuana in San Rafael on Nov. 18, 1966.

Upton, however, denied that the amount of the drug was the large quantity which police claimed they found in the trunk of his car. Officers had said that he had a $20,000 cache of the drug.

His case had been held up until a decision last year by the California District Court of Appeals overturned an illegal search ruling.

Upton was ordered by Judge Halold J. Haley to return to Court March 10 for sentencing.

Guilty Plea To Theft Of Auto

Richard Bruce Schwartz, 24, of Gate Six near Sausalito, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to two charges of car theft, one charge of possessing a bad check with intent to defraud and possessing a hypodermic needle.

Judge Harold J. Haley suspended proceedings in the case, however, until it is determined whether Schwartz is addicted to drugs or in danger of becoming so.

Schwartz was arrested Jan. 16 by Mill Valley police.

'We Have Nothing To Hide' (As Of Oct. 22, 1968)

The San Rafael Board of Education devoted long discussion one night last summer to how to increase communication between board and community.

One after another, the board members bemoaned lack of public interest and participation in the affairs of the city's elementary and high school districts.

"There is a lack of communication between the board and the community, and I don't place the blame anywhere," said board member Herman L. Childress Jr.

The board, in an effort to do something about it, authorized Supt. John F. Plank to issue periodical reports to the public, to be printed and distributed at public expense.

That was on July 9.

LITTLE OVER A MONTH later, the board scheduled a meeting to discuss elementary and high school building plans, to be held in the office of Marshall Bowles and Associates, architects, in San Francisco. Only after Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino called to the superintendent's attention that a meeting outside the school district would be illegal, was the discussion of plans which led eventually to the bond issue before voters on Feb. 18 moved to San Rafael High School, to give citizens a chance to attend.

Not many attended.

THE NEED for better communication with the public was still present in October. On Oct. 22, Mrs. E. M. Cole appeared at the board meeting to voice her displeasure over hearing that report cards were being done away with and to ask if it were true, as she had heard rumored, that San Rafael was going to put in non-graded schools.

Superintendent Plank assured her that report cards were not being abolished. As to non-graded schools, he said, Glenwood, Sun Valley and Coleman Schools "are started in that direction," and plans for the expanded Short School were for non-graded classrooms.

Mrs. Cole said she thought plans for such a change should be imparted to parents. Board members agreed.

"We have nothing to hide," said Childress.

When Superintendent Plank presented the material for his first printed report to the public, board chairman Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. criticized it for not containing enough specific information. The superintendent had to do it over.

NOT IN EVERYTHING, however, is the San Rafael Board of Education so eager to "share with you," as the teachers say.

Early this month, the board scheduled a closed session to "evaluate" Superintendent Plank, whose four-year contract has two years to run. Implicit in such "evaluation" was and is a probable pay raise.

However, at the Jan. 14 meeting, at which the closed evaluation session was scheduled, Plank informed the board that he had been advised by Godino that it would be illegal.

At last week's board meeting, Kramer declared:

"I can't believe that even the Brown Act wants us to dissect whatever bad points there may be in front of the whole world."

Childress agreed. This time he did not say, "We have nothing to hide."

SHARING, PERHAPS, is only for the good things?

Come, come, gentlemen! John Plank is perfectly capable of defending himself, in public or private.

McCarthy's Chance To Succeed Burns Discounted At Capitol

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Sen. John F. McCarthy's pronouncement last week that he will be a candidate for the most powerful position in the Senate, president pro tempore, if the GOP gets a 21-19 edge by winning the special election in Contra Costa County, was greeted with unanimous disbelief by this writer's capitol sources.

All agreed with McCarthy that he would need Democratic support, but none saw him getting it. The same eight or nine Democratic senators who want to dump the present pro tem, Sen. Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, won't go for McCarthy as an alternative because he is as much a bulwark of the Senate's bipartisan old guard, as Burns, they said.

A more likely Republican candidate would be Sen. Howard Way, of Exeter, according to these sources.

Ironically, strong pressure is reported in the Republican Senate caucus to bounce McCarthy as a member of the rules committee, of which he is the vice chairman and Burns chairman. The pressure comes from GOP senators who want a stronger voice on the committee, which is dominated, 3-2, by Democrats.

McCarthy's motive for his pronouncement simply may have been to quiet Republicans who think party loyalty is more important than perpetuating the old guard in the Senate.

His challenge also is good for consumption on the local front — assuming McCarthy will run again next year.

AS FOR THE special election next month for the seat vacated by the death of Democratic Sen. George Miller Jr. of Martinez, Republican registration has increased with the growth of suburbs in Contra Costa.

Also, special elections in California almost always have been won by Republicans. Voters easily cross party lines because there is only one ballot in special elections, and California Democrats often turn out to be Republicans anyway.

So McCarthy may have a chance to make good on his challenge.

ASSEMBLY SPEAKER Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, declared a "general policy" at the beginning of the legislative session that committee chairmen would serve on only one other committee besides his own.

But after Monagan had gone through the elaborate process of making assignments, he found two GOP assemblymen on two other committees. The two are his political allies, William T. Bagley of San Rafael and John G. Veneman of Modesto. Bagley even was on a third, but was dropped from it.

So much for policies that don't turn out to match the speaker's own needs.

Schoolmen Up Tight On Snowball Fight

Ever since high school physics I was under the impression that one should not operate a steam boiler without a safety valve. Later, in psychology class we were told that humans, too, need a relief valve once in a while, teenagers particularly.

Reading your article today (Jan. 30) about the anti-snowball fight school officials of Redwood High, and having grown up in areas blessed with plenty of snow, I remembered with nostalgia the many happy and envigorating snowball fights of my school years.

Our teachers usually encouraged a good, healthy, clean workout in the snow and sometimes even joined our friendly battles. But then, they preferred this type of blow-off valve to absenteeism, militancy and drugs.

Editorial Ignores Basis For Unrest

Your editorial of Feb. 1, "Disrupters on Campus: Revolution's Vanguard," is another example of your insensitivity to the underlying issues of the strikes at San Francisco State and elsewhere. It would seem that there are some legitimate demands in the strike. Your editorials do little to clarify the situation when they focus on anarchy and irresponsibility rather than suggesting ways in which the college system might meet the needs of all citizens — the poor and minorities as well as middle class whites.

General questions which students are raising are: (1) Why does the university only study social issues, without making any effort to overcome unjust situations: What sense does the study of democracy make, for instance, if those who try to participate are suppressed, as happened at the Democratic convention? (2) Why must universities concentrate on defense-related technology at the expense of the humanities and the arts: What does it mean for technical man to be human? (3) Is the only purpose of education to obtain a degree and a job?

Specifically, at San Francisco State, those black students who have discovered that "Black is beautiful," those who have begun to find their identity as worthwhile human beings, are demanding a black studies department. History teaching in this country has never recognized the background or identity of the black man. Are we to be surprised that blacks demand department? . . .

Your editorial of Dec. 17, "To Restore Responsibility, Bring Back Woodshed," suggested that student rebels were incapable of benefitting from college educations. In fact, student rebels are often among the better students. . . . It is those that hold the power that force the radicalization of the protestors, for if the needs of the students were being met, the protest would not have grown to such proportions.

Education Needs Support Of All

Several points should be clarified regarding the debate between Mr. Tom Hayden and myself at the College of Marin. The basis on which the SDS movement obtains its support lies in its criticism of society for its immorality, its misuse of power, etc. SDS, however, is far more immoral than the society which it attacks, since its program is one of destruction, i.e., revolution, without any attempt at a basis for reconstruction. If SDS were successful in its attempts to destroy government as such, the resulting chaos would inevitably be followed by a form of dictatorship. History demonstrates this situation time and again.

I attempted to show that the better way to improve society is to work for those corrections and modifications to improve its function and direction. . .

I must correct one statement in your review regarding my membership in the AFT. I resigned over two years ago due to a serious disagreement with the policies, goals and methods of operation. . .

In addition to the power struggle mentioned above, higher education is under severe attack by the "establishment" who fear the natural consequences of its legitimate purpose. We also are under attack by those who wish to restrict the financial support of public education.

I cannot honestly ask for your blanket approval of higher education, since we too have our deficiencies, our excesses, our misuse of trust and responsibility. Despite the admission of shortcomings of higher education, the great majority of us are working desperately to improve the quality and performance of higher education and its service to all segments of society.

We have an abundance of enemies. What we need is support.

TRY AND STOP ME

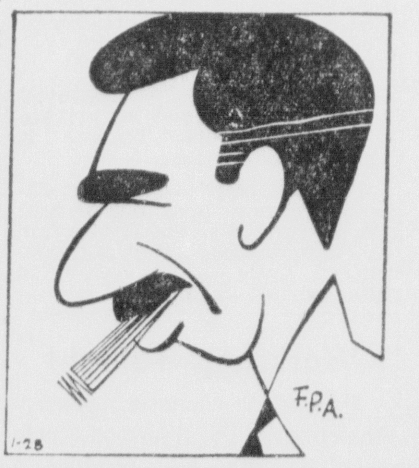
A REVEREND asked one day in a paid advertisement, "Does civilization pay?" Columnist Franklin P. Adams answered, "Yes — but only about 10 cents on the dollar!"

Another time, asked whether he knew 6-foot 7-inch playwright Robert Sherwood, Adams climbed on a chair, extended his arm full length toward the ceiling, and boomed, "Man, I've known Bob Sherwood since he was this high!"



Overheard on the golf-links:

Strikers Call Shots For College Heads

By JOHN W. GILBAUGH
Professor of Education
San Jose State College

Imagine organized labor gaining control of the management function of business or industry! That is precisely what has happened in the California state colleges.

Obviously, college administrators, as an arm of management, cannot morally sit on the labor side of the negotiating table in efforts to resolve issues in dispute. Yet, this presposterous arrangement has continued unchecked during the college teachers strike.

NOT ONLY have some department heads refused to report absences from teaching assignments by striking professors, but they have joined them on the picket lines. Though a portion of their salaries are paid to perform departmental management functions, some department heads have served as strike leaders.

Furthermore, while state law mandates that any state employee has resigned if he absents himself without leave for five consecutive days, one college president has already set machinery into motion to rehire some of the fired professors. This may circumvent the spirit of the law, and possibly the letter of the law as well. A loophole in the law, though contrary to legislative intent, may provide the basis to restore the jobs of all the professors who have been purged from the state's payroll. The law does not stipulate the length of the period during which a fired professor remains ineligible for re-employment. Consequently, college administrators, some of whom owe their jobs to the striking professors, will leave no stone unturned in their determination to reinstate the fired dissidents

AT NO OTHER time during recent history has the public had such a strategic opportunity to rid the faculties of its tax-supported institutions of the activist and revolutionist professors. Not only should the striking professors be replaced, but their faculty-elected administrative accomplices from department chairman to college president, who conspire to circumvent the letter or spirit of the law, should also be removed for dereliction of duty.

While missing their classes, in addition to setting a reprehensible example for college youth, striking professors expect the taxpayers to close their eyes, grit their teeth, and enthusiastically bear the burden of paying their unearned salaries. Some of the faculty members, claiming to be on strike, meet classes in a physical sense to avoid the five-day law, which would qualify them for dismissal. According to strike standards of organized labor, this is tantamount to "scabbing" on their own union.

Even without invoking the five-day absence provision, those faculty members who accept pay without having fully performed their employment obligations are subject to dismissal for inadequate discharge of thier duties. No faculty-elected administrator, however, would jeopardize his own position by enforcing such a regulation.

HOW ORGANIZED labor can affiliate and support the tactics of subversive college professors who are turning the college campuses into battlefields of revolution is beyond the comprehension of every peace-loving, law-abiding citizen. If organized labor, which has done so much to bring about better standards of living for most of the nation's working men, persists in backing these academic spoilers, it may experience a public opinion backlash which could ring the death knell for the entire labor movement.

During the strike, a city thoroughfare which runs across the central part of the San Jose State College campus has been turned into a virtual Seventh Street Sodom. There, during daily, midday and afternoon gatherings, any observer may hear obscenities spewed by disheveled, bearded, hippy-type, dissident, college professors and their placard-carrying, four-letter-lewd-word-displaying student followers. All this in support of the phony strike by the American Federation of Teachers!

Here, we have a strike in which the issues are as spurious as the professors who daily circle the campus perimeter to disrupt classes by bellowing through bullhorns. Their raucous message is designed to influence other professors and students, who choose to preserve, rather than to destroy, a responsible academic climate.

Control Court Or Face Curbs, Warren Cautioned

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Chief Justice Earl Warren is confronted with a new demand that the Supreme Court tighten its rules of procedure so as to preclude "arbitrary and capricious" decrees by its members.

Unless the tribunal itself institutes such corrective measures, legislation imposing curbs will be sought in Congress, Warren has been warned by Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La.

THE INFLUENTIAL legislator's ire was aroused by stays granted by Justice William O. Douglas blocking the sending of National Guardsmen and reservists to Vietnam. In every instance, such restraining orders had previously been denied by lower federal courts and other members of the Supreme Court — including the chief justice and Justices Black, Brennan, Harlan and White.

Every one of Douglas' stays was subsequently thrown out by the Supreme Court as a whole.

"Justice Douglas' action, then and since," Hebert wrote Warren, "has reflected a complete and utter lack of judicial restraint, and in my view was prompted solely by his sense of political activism — in short, his apparent opposition to the war in Vietnam."

HEBERT complained last fall when Douglas granted a stay to a company of Maryland guardsmen after they were repeatedly rebuffed by lower courts and several Supreme Court members. In that letter, Hebert bluntly told Warren that "bizarre circumstances surrounded the issuing of this stay which in my view clearly indicate that Justice Douglas was either unmindful of the implications of his actions, or worse, chose to disregard them entirely."

Hebert urged that the Supreme Court itself take steps to crack down on such procedural free-wheeling. He warned that unless that was done, Congress would be strongly impelled to act.

Warren's reply was non-committal.

He ignored the issue of tightening the court's rules of procedure, but did say Douglas' controversial stay would be promptly considered. It was, and was thrown out. The balking guardsmen had to go to Vietnam.

In Hebert's latest letter he makes it pointedly clear that he does not intend to let the matter rest. His five-pgae letter to Warren details specific instances in which the liberal Douglas granted stays after they had been denied by other federal courts and jurists.

POINTEDLY noting that Warren ducked the procedural question Hebert raised several months ago, the latter insisted on an explicit reply.

"Since this question is no less pertinent today," wrote Hebert, "I solicit your advice on whether the court itself can within its own organization and authority establish rules of procedure which will preclude a repetition of these unfortunate circumstances in the future. Or, whether Congress may be required to legislate on this subject?"

Two New Groups Enliven Political Picture In Petaluma

Two new organizations aimed at gaining the ear of public officials have been formed in the past two weeks in Petaluma.

The group which has won the most support so far is a new taxpayer group for residents of the east side of Highway 101.

Lack of representation on the city council has long been a complaint of residents there. All seven members of the council live on the west side. When elected, Councilman Robert S. Lipman resided in an east side tract home, but he moved to the other side of town shortly after taking office.

THE ORGANIZATION already has specific problems it would like to bring before council as a group. A second freeway overpass, possibly at Caulfield Lane, will be sought to alleviate congestion on the East Washington Street overpass.

Also high on the list of gripes is the intersection of East Washington Street and McDowell Boulevard, which residents have called extremely dangerous at peak traffic hours. City officials have been aware of the situation and have been attempting to purchase rights of way to enlarge the interesection and install a traffic signal.

City Engineer David Young, a member of the taxpayer group, said the enlarged intersection has been completely engineered, with only finances and land purchase holding up construction. Most city funds for major street improvements have been earmarked for the higher - priority Washington Street Bridge project, and for enlargement of the intersection of Washington Street and Petaluma Boulevard North, on the west side of town.

THE ORGANIZATION has chosen an auspicious time to form and be heard, with four city council seats up for election on June 10. The terms of Mayor Helen Putnam, Councilmen Phillip S. Joerger, Kenneth C. Colin and Lipman will expire.

Joerger has said informally that he intends to seek re-election, but Lipman said he will give up his seat. Mrs. Putnam and Vice Mayor Colin both claim to be undecided.

Also to be considered is the county supervisor's seat from the Southern Sonoma district from which incumbent Leigh S. Shoemaker intends to retire in January.

Although the organization stated it will not nominate candidates as a group, it may indeed be a strong supporter of persons from the east side.

The East Side Taxpayers will meet today at 8 p.m. at the Bernard E. Eldredge School to make further plans.

THE SECOND organization is being formed to fight sex education in Petaluma schools. Called "Citizens for Quality Education," it is led by Mrs. Kenneth Styles, who until she moved recently to the Petaluma school district was a strong voice against the "Time of Your Life" film series being shown in the Old Adobe School District on the eastern edge of town.

Mrs. Styles, whose husband served on the Old Adobe School board for six years, complains that boards are generally unresponsive to the desires of parents and almost automatically accept recommendations from administrators.

In the next few months, when the members of the board of education are weighing Supt. Lesly H. Meyer's recommendation to use the controversial film series, Mrs. Styles says she hopes her group will be well enough organized to successfully oppose the plan.

The organizational meeting will be held at Mrs. Styles's home at 1080 Petaluma Boulevard North tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

No Wonder Crime Rate Rises –The Way We Coddle Victims

WASHINGTON — There is so much talk about crime in the streets and the rights of the criminal that little attention is being paid to the victims of crime. But there is a current of opinion that our courts are being too soft on the victims, and many of them are going unpunished for allowing a crime to be committeed against them. One man who feels that unless the police start cracking down on the victims of criminal acts, the crime rate in this country will continue to rise.

"The people who are responsible for crime in this country are the victims. If they didn't allow themselves to be robbed, the problem of crime in this country would be solved," Applebaum said.

"THAT MAKES sense, professor. Why do you think the courts are soft on victims of crimes?"

"We're living in a permissive society and anything goes," Applebaum replied. "Victims of crimes don't seem to be concerned about the consequences of their acts. They walk down a street after dark, or they display jewelry in their store windows, or they have their cash registers right out where everyone can see them. They seem to think that they can do this in the United States and get away with it."

"They should know better," I said.

"Look at the way we pamper the victims of crime in this country. As soon as they're hit over the head we call an ambulance and taken them to a hospital. If they've got Blue Cross or a hospital insurance plan, most of their bills will be paid. They know they'll get workmen's compensation while they're recovering. What have they got to lose by becoming victims of a crime?"

"YOU SPEAK as if all the legal machinery in this country was weighted in favor of the victim, instead of the person who committed the crime."

"It is," Applebaum said. "While everyone is worried about the victim, the poor criminal is dragged down to the police station, booked and arraigned, and if he's lucky he'll be let out on bail. He may lose his job if his boss hears about it, and there is even a chance that if he has a police record it may prejudice the judge when he's sentenced."

"I guess in this country people always feel sorrier for the victim than they do for the person who committed the crime."

"You can say that again. Do you know that in some states they are even compensating victims of crimes?"

"IT'S HARD to believe," I said.

"Well, it's true. The dogooders and the bleeding hearts all feel that victims of crimes are misunderstood and if they were treated better they would stop being victims. But the statistics don't bear this out. The easier you are on the victims, the higher the crime rate becomes."

"What is the solution, professor?"

"I say throw the book at anybody who's been robbed. They knew what they were getting into when they decided to be robbed, and they should pay the penalty for it. Once a person has been a victim of crime and realizes he can't get away with it, the chances of his becoming a victim again will be slim."

"WHY DO PEOPLE want to become victims of crime, professor?"

"Who knows? They're probably looking for thrills. Boredom plays a part, but I would think the biggest factor is that victims think they can still walk around the streets of their cities and get away with it. Once they learn they can't, you'll see a big drop in crime statistics."

"You make a lot of sense, professor. Do you believe the American people are ready to listen to you?

"They'd better be, because the criminal element is getting pretty fed up with all the permissive coddling of victims that is going on in this country."

Recent Rains Prompt Street Clarification

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Sonoma County supervisors yesterday were asked to remove a short Petaluma street from the list of county maintained roads.

Donald Head, road commissioner, said he thought that Ellis Street, north of East Madison Street, had been included in the list of county roads through a clerical error made many years ago. He noted reports by long-time county road employees showed the county had never done any work on the one-tenth-mile strip of roadway.

Head said the question came up about two weeks ago when heavy rains washed away a private bridge on the street. He said county crews barricaded the bridge to prevent an accident and also worked several days to provide another access for two families living in the area.

Head said the work was done on an emergency basis since most of the residents were aged and included several invalids who needed to be assured of access to medical facilities. The commissioner said the street has not been annexed by the City of Petaluma.

A resolution to delete the street from the county list will be proposed at a supervisors' meeting in May.

The Sonoma County supervisors also:

RIOT CONTROL — Heard request from Sheriff John A. Ellis that $1,526 be appropriated to purchase equipment for the new riot control squad. He said the funds would be used to purchase gloves, batons, fog-making machines and helmet visors for the 15 deputies who have been training for a month.

NAME CHANGE — Delayed changing the name of Peterson Road in Petaluma to Petersen Road because the change has not been properly advertised.

Dance Group Will Offer Scholarships

The Marin Dance Council is offering folk dance camp scholarships to any Marin resident at least 26 years old.

Winners will be given a choice of attending folk dance camps in Mendicino, Stockton, Idlywild or Santa Barbara.

Race Is Not Major Issue, Mother Says

Racial prejudice, if it exists in the Lucas Valley-Marinwood area, does not extend to Santa Venetia, a Santa Venetia mother said yesterday.

Mrs. Joseph P. Belle, a Marin resident for 25 years, the last four in Santa Venetia, told the Independent-Journal she thought the I-J's recent series on racial problems created the impression there are such problems in Santa Venetia.

"We have never had any trouble in the area," said Mrs. Belle, a Negro. Disagreements which may arise are not due to prejudice, but to personality conflicts, she said.

For example, Mrs. Belle said, an incident involving her son, reported in the series on race relations, was misunderstood.

Her son, 17-year-old Joseph E. Belle, was not beaten to the ground by white youths in a racial incident as stated in the I-J, she said. He was having a long-standing disagreement with two youths, but the color difference was not the problem, she said.

"We enjoy our peace and quiet," said Mrs. Belle who has been active in Santa Venetia activities with her white neighbors.

served as publicity chairman of John MacPhail School and is a deacon at the Presbyterian Church of Santa Venetia.

North Carolina is second only to Texas in the number f farms within its boundaries.

Preliminary Hearing Slated On Marijuana

A preliminary hearing was set for March 3 for Peter Robert Harris, 21, of San Francisco, who is accused of possession of marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

He was arrested Dec. 28 near Point Reyes Station.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Flying presents No Problems With Most Chronic Diseases

VAN DELLEN

When the wintry blasts begin, many northerners get ready for their vacation in the south. Some drive; others go by bus or train. When it comes to flying, persons with heart trouble, high blood pressure, emphysema, or the residuals of a stroke may hesitate.

There usually is no basis for their concern because almost everyone can fly in planes equipped with pressurized cabins.

IF THE INDIVIDUAL can walk down the street or up a flight of stairs without discomfort, he can travel by air. But if he is dropsical or so short of breath, he pants even when lying down, plane travel is out.

The victim of coronary thrombosis should postpone his trip for a minimum of six weeks after the attack because this is how long it takes for the heart to heal.

A wheelchair is available for any one who cannot manage the walk to the boarding ramp.

MAKING THE TRIP in a pressurized cabin will not raise blood pressure but the excitement of traveling and the anxiety of flying might have this effect on the hypertensive. Air sickness may do the same.

Pregnant women beyond the eighth month should not travel by air. The same applies to women who habitually mis-carry, to infants under 14 days of age, to persons with marked anemia, and to diabetics who cannot administer their own insulin or who are subject to unusual reactions or coma.

Flying may aggravate any active lung disease, as well as nasal congestion, colds, and other upper respiratory disorders.

IN THESE instances, altitudes may encourage spread of the infection to the ears and sinuses. Persons with a contagious disease are forbidden to travel by air, not because it affects the illness, but because the disease may be transmitted to others.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

REDUCING CHOLESTEROL

B. C. writes: Is corn oil the only way to keep the blood cholesterol down? My father has gained a lot of weight since he started taking it and the added poundage is not good for his high blood pressure.

REPLY

The level of cholesterol in the blood also can be reduced via low-fat diet, the use of niacin, thyroid extract, or a vegetable steroid like sitosterol. The latest is Atromid-S, which appears to be the most effective to date.

NOISY NECK

A reader writes: Can anything be done about grating of the vertebrae in the neck?

REPLY

Yes. Grating usually is due to a rheumatic condition. Heat, massage, and the usual neck exercises help make the affected tissues more supple. Our leaflet on these exercises can be obtained by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

MISSING SPINAL PART

Mrs. C. T. Writes: Can anything be done for a newborn with apina bifida?

REPLY

In this developmental defect, the bone fails to cover the spinal cord. When strongly marked, nerve tissues may protrude from the back like a large cyst, and surgery is required. Nothing need be done unless the spinal cord is affected.

HORMONES AND HAIR

Miss L. writes: Do hormone shots for the menopause, injected into the hips, cause hair on the face?

REPLY

Not if these are female sex hormones. Age and the change of life are more common causes.

PARKINSONISM CHRONIC

A. R. B. writes: My mother has shaking palsy and has used every new drug that comes out, but she still has the symptom. Is there a cure?

REPLY

No. Parkinson's disease is chronic, but the tremor often can be controled via medication and physical therapy. L-dopa, an experimental drug, is the latest remedy for parkinsonism. And, although the drug does not cure, improvement ranging from modest to dramatic has been seen in those tested. Surgical procedures also are used successfully to stop the shaking and muscle rigidity. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on this disorder.

HE'S LOW

A reader writes: Does a person with low blood pressure usually have a low temperature?

REPLY

Yes, and in addition, the basal metabolsim also may be low.

AGE FOR DECAY

Mrs. P. D. writes: Is there a special age at which children seem to develop cavities?

REPLY

Yes; between ages 5 and 8 and from 12 to 18.

SHOCKED INTO MENOPAUSE

Mrs. E. writes: Could a mental shock bring on an early change? My mother died suddenly and my periods became sporadic. Now its been seven months since my last period. I'm 34 years old.

REPLY

This is unlikely but mental shock can affect the entire glandular system and lead to irregularity in the menstrual cycle.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Mayor Joseph Alioto complained to police Monday that he had been "obnoxiously solicited" to buy the Berkeley Barb, an underground newspaper, outside the St. Francis Hotel.

Two peddlers of the paper, Robert P. Lee, 19, and James E. Bowman, 19, both of San Francisco, were arrested and booked as public nuisances and obstructing the sidewalk.

Rohnert Park Sets Date On Road Bidding

The Rohnert Park City Council called last night for bids March 17 for road construction along Highway 101, estimated to cost $414,000.

City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan said the first phase of the project would be realignment of the frontage road on the west side of Highway 101, so that it veers west from the freeway.

He told the council this would prepare the road as an entry to the ramps the state Department of Highways plans to build this year off the freeway.

Callinan said the $414,000 cost also includes land purchase and engineering.

The Rohnert Park City Council also:
zsasuee

Homeowners Elect Plambeck As President

Kentfield dentist Ronald O. Plambeck Monday night was elected president of the Greenbrae Property Owners Association.

Elected to one-year terms with Plambeck were Thomas A. Ring, vice president, Robert A. Geurts, treasurer, and Mrs. Raymond S. Rielly, secretary.

The association also reaffirmed its demand that the county construct a protective guard rail along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The group recently turned down the county's offer to contribute part of the cost, because Greenbrae property owners would have to pick up a quarter of the tab.

The property owners have pushed for safety improvements on the boulevard since last June a Greenbrae 12-year-old was killed when his bicycle swerved into the path of a truck.

The association also heard Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. discuss property taxes and the commuter problem during the short meeting.

Hit-Run Reported

William R. Cannon, 30, of 912 Fifth Street, San Rafael, told police that he was the victim of a hit-and-run driver at about 11 p.m. Sunday while walking near Third and A streets. He was treated at Marin General Hospital and released for a cut left elbow.

Extension Approved For Sycamore Avenue

Plans for a 1,000-foot extension of Sycamore Avenue, which will cost approximately $100,000 and dead-end one block away from Camino Alto, were approvel last night by the Mill Valley City Council.

Included in construction cost estimates are $52,000 for the 40-foot roadway, center islands, curb and gutters, $58,000 for undergrounding utilities and $10,000 for landscaping and light standards.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer said road construction costs will be financed by the city's share of state gas tax funds and a portion of the undergrounding costs will be offset by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. donations, leaving some $40,000 for landscaping, light standards and a portion of the undergrounding — to be financed from the city's general fund.

The road will extend from Camino Alto to the Northwestern Pacific railroad tracks serving the new middle school on Project 17, the city sewage treatment plant and the Mill Valley Methodist Church. In future years, it will be further extended to serve the proposed yacht harbor and eventually to connect with Highway 101 near Sabella's retsaurant.

Balmer told the council the city would have the option of recouping up to $30,000 of its $40,000 share of the road project since PG&E has agreed to give the city cash rebates on its annual undergrounding allocations through 1972 to cover the total undergrounding costs of the project.

Thus, said Balmer, if the council wanted to delay other undergrounding projects until after 1972, the city will only spend $10,000 on the extension project.

The council's unanimous vote, with Mayor Dean N. Meyer absent, came after more than an hour of debate in which the council agonized over the big investment for the short section of road, which Councilman Robert H. Andresen termed a "$100,000 road to sewer plant."

One proposal to construct a road without center islands, landscaping or underground utilities was rejected after long debate and several votes. At one point, the council even toyed with a suggestion from the audience that the city pave a minimum road of 18 feet, leaving the more expensive improvements for "future generations to pay for."

The final decision came after Councilman Jerome C. Hauke reminded the council that only a few weeks before it had chastized the school board for trying to cut corners on the middle school landscaping. "We asked the school to do a quality job, now we have to do the same thing," he said.

However, the council hedged a bit at the end, declaring it would postpone the $8,000 in landscaping to some future time.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

'Oakland 7' Jury Lessons Are Sought

OAKLAND (UPI)—The judge presiding over the conspiracy trial of the "Oakland Seven" today was considering a defense motion that the four women and eight men of the jury be instructed in international law.

Superior Judge George W. Phillips Jr. was asked by defense attorney Malcolm Burnstein yesterday to have the jury instructed concerning the decisions of the Nuremberg war crimes trials which followed World War II.

The principle established at Nuremberg was that a soldier is duty-bound to refuse an order to commit acts considered crimes against humanity or war crimes.

The seven are accused of felony conspiracy to commit misdemeanor acts of trespass and obstructing police during antidraft demonstrations at the Oakland Induction Center in October, 1967.

One of the seven is Michael J. Smith, 27, formerly of Corte Madera and a leader of the 1964 free speech movement at Berkeley and the Progressive Labor Party.

Burnstein, an instructor in international law at San Francisco State College, is expected to lead a complex legal assault on the Vietnam War when testimony begins in the trial later this week.

Evidence relating to the Muremberg trials has been allowed at other trials, including the Boston trial of baby doctor Benjamin Spock, but in all cases the defense was unsuccessful.

The jury was completed Monday with the selection of four alternates after three weeks of legal wrangling.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Lowell Jensen said he expected to deliver his opening statement this afternoon if the judge rules on a variety of legal motions before him.

Chief defense counsel Charles R. Garry said he would also make an opening statement, a defense rarity.

Priest's Heroic Work Approved

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican took a major step today toward beatification of a Belgian missionary who lived among lepers in Molokai Island, Hawaii, in the last century and died from the disease.

The Vatican Congregation of Rites announced it has approved the heroic virtues of Father Damiam de Veuster, a priest of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and Mary, born at Tremloo, Belgium in 1840. He lived among lepers in Molokai from 1865 until his death in 1879.

Father Damian's beatification cause was started in Malines, Belgium, in 1938-40. The slow progress received a boost a year ago when Pope Paul VI received hundreds of letters signed by lepers throughout the world asking for the beatification of the Belgian priest.

Testimony Conflicts On Presidio Mutiny

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — An Army captain admitted yesterday his mind "was focused on munity" during a sit-down strike by 27 Presidio soldiers protesting the shotgun killing of a fellow prisoner and conditions at the stockade last Oct. 14.

The testimony, by Capt. Robert S. Lamont, correctional officer at the stockade, came yesterday as the Army opened its case against two of the 27 soldiers charged with mutiny.

Captain Lamont related he read Article 94, the mutiny section of the Uniform Code of Military Justice, to the men twice, had photographers shoot the group from all angles and called out military police when they sat down and chanted "we shall overcome." He denied this was "setting up a mutiny."

However, two other military police officers contradicted Lamon't testimony, one disagreeing on the order of events and the other claiming he did not hear Lamont reading Article 94.

Lamont said he did not read any other articles, such as those on disobeying orders or disorderly conduct.

Other prosecuting witnesses yesterday said that what the men did was peaceful, but the acts were described as "nonviolent mutiny."

Lamont admitted that the grievances, including elimination of shotgun details, psychological evaluation of personnel before assignment as guards and better sanitary conditions, "possibly" were justifiable.

The Army was expected to conclude its case today with a video tape of the demonstrators being carried into a stockade building.

Court-martials of the other 25 men, including Pvt. Keith C. Mather of San Bruno, one of the Marin City Nine who chained themselves to clergymen in an antiwar demonstration at St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church last summer, will be held later. All are charged with mutiny.

Sausalito Arts Group To Lease Old School

The Sausalito School District Board last night agreed unanimously to lease the old Bayside School buildings to the Sausalito Arts Association for five years at $80 a month.

The arts association promised free joint use of the buildings to the Sausalito Parents Club and agreed to shoulder insurance, utility and maintenance costs.

The buildings, declared unsafe for school use, will be used for art festivals, exhibits, classes, public performances, art workshops and seminars, exchange programs and community activities of the parents club.

The arts association proposal was the only one received. The school board asked county counsel to draw up a five-year lease agreement with option to renew for another five years.

The association may hold its annual fall arts festival in the school instead of downtown.

The board moved the Sausalito district into "sensitivity training" by approving the setting up of volunteer "encounter groups" for teachers during a district teacher institute to be held this month or next.

Trustees agreed that one or two of them would accompany Martin Luther King School student council members to the county board of supervisors to complain about the route between Marin City and the School and the way it is patrolled.

Students told the board that there are bad chuckholes in the road near the Highway 101 underpass, that the fence at the underpass barring access to Marin City causes inconvenience to children walking to and from school, and that the children are harassed by too close patrol of the stretch by sheriff's cars.

The board went into closed session to discuss charges made by other Martin Luther King School staff members against James T. Toliver Jr., assistant to the principal, and Orpha E. Barnes, custodian, and countercharges by the two against others at the school.

Asst. Supt. Joseph Amato said Mrs. Barne's case was resolved at least in part during the closed session by agreement to reschedule her work hours. No action was taken regarding Toliver, and his case probably will be reviewed again, according to Amato.

Nature of the charges was not disclosed. Both Toliver and Mrs. Barnes asked for the closed sessions, Amato said.

The Sausalito School District Board also:

HIRING — Hired Daryl Harris as mathematics teacher at Martin Luther King School at $8,012 per year, to replace Julie Askaland, who resigned last month.

FIELD TRIPS — Allocated $4,000 from reserves to continue field trips and additional individual instruction for seventh and eighth grade social studies pupils at Marin Luther King School.

MATHEMATICS — Heard a review of the special mathematics program at Martin Luther King, financed from federal funds. The state is ending the program and the special courses will cease after this year.

Indian Relic Museum Idea Gains Favor

The Novato Parks and Recreation Commission last night gave its approval to the idea of a Novato prehistory museum, but asked for further investigation.

The museum was proposed to house Indian artfacts dug up by Archeology Club. It is backed by the Novato Kiwanis Club, which has appointed Irving Links as chairman of a museum committee.

Crocker-Citizens National Bank has offered a large house on the northeast corner of Grant Avenue and Sixth Street to house the museum, if it can be moved to a suitable location, Links told the commission. The commission asked the parks and recreation staff to investigate moving cost.

The city has a site available on Novato Creek, adjacent to where the club has dug up an Indian village, according to Edward W. Adams, parks and recreation director.

The Novato Parks and Recreation Commission also:

RENTAL —Agreed to rent the upstairs of the Novato Community House to the Novato Community Players for $70 per month.

RECREATION AREA — Voted to ask the planning commission to require that the recreation area in Marin Highlands Unit 5 be kept as originally planned. The developers, Roberts and Aguirre, had asked to split the area into two building lots.

MATCHING FUNDS — Authorized Adams to apply for matching funds from the Marin County Parks and Recreation Department, which he reported has offered to match up to $2,000 in city recreation funds.

ATTENDANCE — Heard from Adams that there was a decrease of 1,709 in attendance at all recreation activities in January as compared to January of last year: 12,093 compared to 13,802.

TANK SITE — Postponed until Feb. 17 consideration of making a park on the half-acre tanks site on Vallejo Avenue at Seventh Street, offered to the city by the North Marin County Water District.

New Officers Named By Bolinas Firemen

Bolinas Fire Chief Jose A. Silva named 1969 officers at last night's meeting of the Bolinas Volunteer Fire Department. Donald Pepper and Sherman R. Smith were named assistant chiefs, Edward G. Letter captain, Albin B. Fowler lieutenant and Timothy J. Waters secretary-treasurer.

The firemen also set the annual ladies night dinner-dance for firemen and their wives only, for May 15.

Prison Transient Stabbed In Back

A 23-year-old man who arrived at San Quentin for a temporary stay at noon yesterday was stabbed in the back with a prison made knife this morning, Associate Warden James W. L. Park reported.

Donald Roy Priest was reported in surgery today with wounds Park said did not appear to be serious. He said the eight-inch knife blade apparently had been deflected by the victim's shoulder blade.

Park said Priest was originally sentenced in September 1965 for second degree burglary and escape. He had been paroled Feb. 19, 1968 and was being returned to prison on a parole violation, Park said. He was scheduled to go to Vacaville later this week.

Park said the knife was found in a utility corridor in the same cell block where Priest was stabbed. However, he said, there are no suspects and no known motivation.

PLANNED PARENTHOOD— Dr. Harrison Brown, California Institute of Technology professor, will explore the social and economic consequences of population growth at noon Feb. 11 at the Sheraton Palace Hotel, San Francisco. The Planned Parenthood Association of Marin will be one of six Bay Area affiliates attending the luncheon, the 1969 campaign kickoff sponsored by the Planned Parenthood-World Population-San Francisco.

Hanoi Cool To Saigon's Talk Offer

PARIS (UPI)—Communist negotiators have decided to wait for concrete offers of "concessions" from South Vietnam before making any move to break the current deadlock at the Vietnam peace talks, Western diplomats said today.

The diplomats said North Vietnam and the Viet Cong would make no move to break the impasse over whether military or political issues will be discussed first at the talks until they found out exactly what sort of concessions the South Vietnamese had in mind.

South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky made the offer of "more concessions" without specifying what he had in mind, when he called once again for private bilateral talks with North Vietnam at a news conference Monday.

Ky, who had just come from an hour-long conference with American delegation chief Henry Cabot Lodge, emphasized that he was only prepared to discuss military matters in the private talks.

In doing so he ruled out the biggest concession that the Communists have sought—that political questions relating to South Vietnam should be solved before the military problems.

Another development that was expected to hold up progress in the two-week-old talks was the impending visit of President Nixon to Europe.

French government sources said the President would make Paris the first stop on his itinerary, probably next month.

The Communist negotiators, who have maintained all along that there can be no solution except on the basis of their five-point declaration of last November, may wait to see if the presidential visit will bring any new concessions.

Burglaries Solved By Two Arrests

The arrest Sunday of two Oakland men has cleared up three Petaluma break-ins, including a $1,033 car agency burglary, it was reported today by Petaluma Police Lt. Henry Eslick.

Daniel Emery Brown, 21, and Richard Gene Ubry, 28, were arrested in Oakland and charged with four burglaries. Their statements implicated them in the Petaluma cases, according to Eslick. Petaluma police went to Oakland to question them yesterday.

Eslick said the men burglarized the George Buick agency, 822 Petaluma Boulevard North, on Oct. 28, taking $1,033 in cash and checks from the office safe.

Eslick said the pair also burglarized Sonoma Joe's restaurant, 5151 Old Redwood Highway, and the Santa Rosa Cigarette Service, 416 East D Street, on Jan. 13. In both cases, Eslick said, they fled when burglar alarms sounded.

Eslick, said the pair spoke of entering Western Motors, 1221 Petaluma Boulevard North, on Jan. 13, but police have no report on it.

In addition to Petaluma and Oakland, five other cities have holds on the men, according to Eslick. He said the pair admitted to more than 100 burglaries in the West since August 1968.

Offshore Well Operations Closed Due To Oil Slick

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — With one exception, offshore oil drillings were shut down today in the Santa Barbara channel as oil continued to bubble up at 21,000 gallons a day from a runaway well 3,500 feet under the ocean floor.

The rig still running was drilling a second well that experts hoped would relieve underground pressure forcing the oil through a crack in the sea floor.

An oil slick from the runaway covered about 200 square miles of the Pacific off the Southern California coast. Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel, after a flight over the slick, said "The pollution is more severe than I anticipated."

So far, strong winds from the east have kept most of the slick away from beaches except at a few points. However, conservationists express fears for marine and bird life.

Congressional concern over the pollution threat resulted in the Senate Public Works Committee sending a team of investigators from Washington to the scene.

The investigators will report their findings Wednesday to a public works subcommittee currently holding hearings on a bill that proposes fines of up to $15 million in cases of proven negligence in oil spilages.

Hickel, after his inspection, asked for suspension of drilling on a temporary, voluntary basis. Humble, Phillips, Gulf, Texaco and Mobil oil companies quickly agreed. Union Oil Co., owner of the well that began spewing oil eight days ago, had ceased operations at its offshore sites shortly after the seepage was discovered. The shutdown did not involve a Union well being drilled to relieve pressure from the runaway.

Hickel said the suspension "will afford a breathing spell until it can be determined if corrective measures are necessary."

Oil drilling in the 20-mile-wide Santa Barbara channel is being done on land leased from the federal government. After competitive bids, oil companies paid more than $600 million last February for the drilling rights. The federal government also was to receive a royalty on any oil produced.

Hickel told a news conference he feels a "complete reassessment" of drilling regulations may be needed. The oil companies, he said, were following existing regulations.

The oil leak, in the "long-term picture," he said, "might be a blessing in disguise" since it would enable regulations to be written that would prevent a leak under circumstances that might be more disastrous.

Hickel returned to Washington late yesterday.

The drilling platform itself is six miles off the coast.

7,154 Vehicles Over Span In One Hour

A one-hour record of 7,154 vehicles crossed the Golden Gate Bridge southbound between 7:30 and 8:30 a.m. yesterday Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring reported. The record was set despite the usual heavy sales of commute tickets on the first Monday of the month, he noted.

Any figure over 6,000, he said, "is an overload."

TV REVIEW

Tribute To William H. Pratt

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Many years ago I came across the fact that Boris Karloff was born William Henry Pratt. And William Henry Pratt was how I always thought of him thereafter—for it always seemed to me a much more accurate reflection of this dignified man than "Boris Karloff," a spooky monicker if ever there was one.

As every late-night watcher of television knows, probably the two spookiest—and most famous—names in oldtime horror movies were Boris Karloff and Bela Lugosi, who, by the way, was born Bela Lugosi Blasko. And now, with the death of Karloff in England Sunday, at the age of 81, both are gone.

Karloff, on screen, was quite different—and more subtle—in his conception of horror than Lugosi. And Karloff, as Frankenstein's monster, was still something of a higher order—and not merely because the shadings of tragedy were written into the movie character.

Even though the shadings were there, it took a superior actor—and a man with superior dignity—to steadily sidestep the easy, all-out horror approach of black and white. And what Karloff was able to create, therefore, was a vividly-etched portrait of a lump of a monster who was not a horror until human beings reacted in terror toward him.

Underneath all the trappings of a horror film, Karloff created a soul for a monster who had none, but was merely stiched together by a scientist seeking—as the scripts always said—to play God. He was a creature who was different from so-called normal persons, and was turned into a horror by people who reacted with fear to something so extremely opposite from themselves. Thus he was both tragic and pathetic. He did not ask to be created.

For myself, I will always remember Karloff's Frankenstein monster in a scene with a little girl. The monster, not knowing his dreadful appearance, and the girl, not yet old enough to be taught to fear what is merely different, were friendly. The monster was charmed by her, playful almost, and somehow childish and very nearly innocent. It took some kind of actor to pull this off.

Petaluma Moratorium Set On Mobile Homes

The Petaluma City Council last night declared a moratorium on rezoning for mobile home parks for six months or until a special mobile home park zone is created.

Several councilmen suggested that nine months might be a more realistic time period, but William C. McGovern, city planner, said his office could prepare the plans in two months. He advised council to allow another four months for public hearings and commission and council decisions.

Mayor Helen Putnam, in offering the resolution, said, "This moratorium will give us time to come up with some quite creative zoning to regulate the placement of mobile home parks."

The moratorium came after the council and planning commission spent several months debating the application of David D. Young to rezone 80 acres of industrial land on Corona Road to permit a mobile home park.

The council approved the Young rezoning request, but whittled the area for the mobile home park to 34.8 acres.

The Petaluma City Council Also:

DEDICATION POLICY — Delayed action on a policy establishing requirements for land dedication for street widening projects. Most members said another study session on it would be necessary. The policy resolution offered would give the city engineer the power to require dedication when he deemed it necessary.

BOAT LAUNCHING — Heard a report from Richard W. Shollenberger, parks and recreation director, that the state Lands Commission had not yet given final approval to the planned boat launching ramp area. He said this delay was caused by a backlog of work before the commission.

DRIVE-INS — Adopted an ordinance adding drive-in restaurants as a conditional use in neighborhood commercial zones.

REZONING — Rezoned 219 Edith Street from multiple family residential to neighborhood commercial to allow construction of a drive-in restaurant.

PUMP SITE — Approved a resolution to acquire land for a new pump station on McNear Avenue at $5,500.

PREZONING — Introduced a resolution to prezone 50 acres on McDowell Boulevard South from agricultural to single family dwelling zone.

SEWER WAIVER — Introduced an ordinance permitting sewer connection fees to be waived where premises had received sewer service within the past five years.

BILLIARDS — Introduced an ordinance to drop the barring of minors from city billiards parlors as suggested by Police Chief Larry D. Higgins.

PRESERVE — Issued a letter of no protest to Sonoma County supervisors who are considering including land at the northeast corner of Corona and Ely roads in the county agricultural preserve. The land is owned by Richard Gray, Nora Baker and Mary Albertoni.

Chamber Asked To Sponsor Core Area Bonds Election

The Petaluma Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday were asked to consider sponsoring a bond issue initiative to place the Petaluma core area plan on the June ballot.

President Floyd Wynne said he felt city council would have second thoughts about getting into a bond election when four council seats will be up for election at the June 10 election.

"If council takes no action to put the plan on the ballot, it could be done through the initiative process," Wynne said.

Wynne suggested the directors consider such action and also consult with city officials before taking action. "We'd certainly need the cooperation of the city if the bond issue were to pass," he said.

Petaluma Chamber Of Commerce Also:

NEW CHAMBER — Heard warning from director George De Long that a new chamber for businesses on the east side of Petaluma is being organized. "Where does that leave us?" De Long asked. "Will we continue to serve only the West Side or incorporate the East Side too?" The Greater Petaluma chamber now technically includes the East Side, but does not include any leaders from that section on the board of directors, in major promotional activities nor in the Christmas lighting program. Wynne said the chamber would welcome the support of all businessmen.

BUDGET — Reacted unfavorably to a suggestion from Wynne that the city council increase business license tax fees to provide greater income for the chamber to offset the $20,000 losses on the Christmas lighting program. Most directors objected to increasing taxes in principal and said such a tax would benefit only businesses in the core area.

INDUSTRIAL COMMITTEE — Named Arnold Brown and Ernest Von Raesfeld to the industrial committee and named councilman Robert S Lipman as a non-voting committee liaison to city council.

Reward Offered On Hijack Tips

WASHINGTON (AP) — Airline companies and their pilots are offering a $25,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of hijackers.

But it will not be paid to anyone who tries to apprehend a hijacker on board an airplane.

The Air Line Pilots Association and the Air Transport Association jointly announced the reward yesterday, They said it will be limited to information supplied before next Jan. 1 about hijackings that occurred on United States airlines after last Jan. 15.

In Congress, Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W. Va., said the House Commerce Committee he heads will start a hearing on air safety and hijacking tomorrow.

Play Scheduled

San Anselmo's Artist Repertory Company of Marin will present "Spoon River Anthology" at 8 p.m. Feb. 15 in the West Marin Arts Crafts Culture Center, Point Reyes Station, Highway 1.

'Sing Out Marin' Concert Slated

The council of music and arts of the Dixie School District will sponsor a concert by "Sing Out Marin" Friday at 3:30 p.m. in the multipurpose room of the Bernard Hoffman School in Terra Linda.

Parents may attend, the district office said.

This is part of the program undertaken by the council in which it arranges cultural events for schools in the Dixie district as an addition to the regular curriculum.

"Sing Out Marin" is a group of some 40 high school singers and instrumentalists, under the direction of 19-year-old Gary Walker.

Auditor Hits Schools Data Processing

The Novato Unified School District, along with other school districts in Marin is dissatisfied with the data processing operations of the county school superintendent's office and County of Marin, Robert J. Soderblom, Novato school auditor, last night told district trustees.

Soderblom lashed out at personnel running the data processing equipment and accused them of not giving the districts needed information. He made his accusations while giving the board the annual audit of the district's books.

Soderblom said that the county schools data processing center at Terra Linda and the county's at the Civic Center were not coordinating the information needed by the schools. He cited that districts can learn the cost of operating each school, but not all schools together. The results are "really sad," he said.

Soderblom said that, if the two data processing centers do not work together for the schools, each district will be forced to go back to its own accounting system.

"The schools' information is not programmed correctly so that they do not get the needed information," Soderblom charged. He said that the San Rafael, Tamalpais and Novato school district were working together to see if they could find out how to make the system work.

In reporting on the audit, Soderblom said that student funds at the junior and senior high schools should be kept by administrators since teachers were keeping insufficient records.

The board accepted the annual audit by Soderblom's firm.

The Novato Unified School District board also:

SHOPLIFTING — Authorized the Novato branch of the American Association of University Women to distribute antishoplifting pamphlets to school children.

CONSTRUCTION — Heard a report that Kal Porter and Associates had started work on preliminary plans for an addition to the shop at San Marin High School, and authorized Phillip Lygren Engineering Co. to do work on the San Jose Junior High School playing field at 8 per cent commission.

DRESS — Postponed consideration on a policy statement on dress and disruption of school prepared by the Novato Teachers' Association.

LABOR — Took under advisement a request by the Marin County Labor Council and the Building and Construction Trades Council of Marin that the district hire only local laborers and use California products.

CLAIM — Denied a claim for $25,000 from Andrea Kay, 16, of 1 Shon Court, for left leg injuries allegedly received in a physical education class at Novato High School on Dec. 11.

PERSONNEL — Accepted the resignation of Fred Baguio, sixth grade teacher at Loma Verde School, and hired Joyce Blakeley at $2,114, Laura Hurvich at $1,885 and Genevieve Poehlmann at $2,074 as half-time teachers for the handicapped for the balance of the school year.

CLOSED — Held a closed meeting for 10 minutes to discuss with the county counsel's office the case of James Kimmel, former Novato High School teacher who was fired after being arrested on marijuana charges. A preliminary hearing for Kimmel in Marin Municipal Court is scheduled Feb. 11.

Parents Want Marijuana Users Ousted

Parents who do not want their children associating with students who are known narcotics users last night asked the Novato School Board to remove the offenders from school.

The board asked the staff to work with parents to try to fix a policy, possibly within a month, to suspend or expel students. They would use police records to identify narcotics users or pushers, it was indicated.

"The children are being taunted if they do not smoke marijuana," said Joseph Bendik of 1200 Second Street. He asked protection for students from narcotics sellers.

George F. Caldwall Jr. of 22 Truman Drive said the problem was worsening with no action from the school board. He also said a number of parents should be educated about drugs.

Supt. James G. Bunker reported that inquiries around the state had found that Grossmont High School in San Diego suspended drug users for a semester. He said that some Bay Area school districts suspended them for 10 to 15 days.

On a question from Caldwell, Bunker said that the Grossmont High School superintendent said that the suspension had cut down on the sale and use of marijuana on the school grounds, but that he did not think it made any difference off the school property.

Bunker said that there was a law which went into effect in November which requires police agencies to report to school districts the names of students arrested by the police for the use of narcotics. He said that the Novato police were cooperating, but that the district had not received any names from the sheriff's department or the county probation office.

Acapulco, Mexico, the world-famous resort, was founded in the 16th Century but remained a sleepy fishing village until a highway reached it in 1927. Most residents now live on tourism.

Ballad Opera On Schedule

"The Chambermaid," an 18th Century ballad opera from the collection of the American Music Research Center at Dominican College, will be presented by the college's opera theater at 8 p.m. Thursday and Friday in Angelico Hall on the San Rafael campus.

Ballad opera, forerunner of the American musical comedy, was a comic play interspersed with popular tunes of the day. According to Sister M. Dominic, O.P., director of the research center, "The compiler-composer might also select tunes from Handel, Purcell or other good composers and on occasion might even compose two or three for himself."

"The Chambermaid" was first performed at Drury Lane in London on Feb. 10, 1730. The music is by Henry Carey, Handel, Richard Leveridge and others, while the text is by Edward Phillips.

Arthur Conrad will direct the production in conjunction with Sister Dominic as musical director and arranger.

The cast of eight includes sopranos Catherine Collette, Elizabeth Heffernan and Suanne O'Hare; tenors Melvyn Poll and Fred Lewis; mezzo soprano Sherry Silva, and Marjorie Broughton and Stan Berde in dramatic roles.

Baseball Players May Go Through With Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — The Baseball Players Association is tightening the screws in its continuing battle over pensions with the club owners and the spectre of a major league strike looms larger and larger.

First, the Players Association urged its members not to sign their 1969 contracts until the dispute was settled. Then, yesterday, the association announced plans to boycott spring training unless the pension question is resolved.

Faced with the possibility of unsigned contracts and spring training camps populated only by minor leaguers, the owners could console themselves with the fact that should a strike come, it won't include pickets around their ball parks.

"No, I don't think pickets would be necessary," said Marvin Miller, executive director of the Players Association. "I don't think players can be replaced if they walk out."

Miller presided over a four-hour meeting attended by some 125 players yesterday. At the conclusion of the session, the players issued a resolution supporting their negotiators and saying they would not sign contracts or report to camp until "the negotiations are satisfactorily concluded."

Among the players at the meeting were World Series stars Bob Gibson and Mickey Lolich as well as Brooks Robinson, Ernie Banks, Jim Bunning, Maury Wills, Joe Torre and Rusty Staub.

The decision to boycott the training camps came just 10 days before the Chicago White Sox are scheduled to open the major's first camp site and less than one month before the traditional March 1 opening date.

Some players have indicated that they would pay their own way to their club's training sites and work out on their own should the pension dispute drag on. But Miller said the Players Association was taking a stand against such individual action.

"We've told them," Miller said, "that it would not be wise to put out their own expenses, and we don't want to appear eager."

Miller said that most players have followed the Association's recommendation that they not sign their contracts.

"There are very, very few established players who have signed," he said. "A conservative estimate would be that 90 per cent have not signed, and the figure probably would be higher."

Many clubs claim to have signed contracts on hand but say they have agreed not to release the names of the players who have signed until the dispute with the Players Association is settled.

Miller explained that at the center of the dispute are the players' rights to radio and television revenue. The Players Association contends the owners want to shut the pension plan off from broadcast income "even though the two matters have been directly tied for the last 22 years."

The owners have offered to increase their total yearly contribution to the fund by $1 million, boosting it to $5.1 million annually.

The current plan provides a top of $643 per month at age 65 for a player in the majors five years and $1,288 per month at 65 for a 10-year player.

Just Call It Show Biz, Or Kick With A Smile

LIGHTS, CAMERA — Redwood High School coaches Bob Troppmann, Al Endriss and Dick Hart, along with "Barefoot Placekicker" Gordon Tovani of San Rafael, are going into show biz, I kid you not.

They'll collaborate in a football training film on place kicking which will be premiered at the kicking clinic scheduled at Redwood High on June 7.

I don't imagine the kick flick will win any prizes in the Film Festival, but it should prove popular among coaches at the high school level where kicking is weak.

Anyway, in the Fearsome Foursome's kick flick, Tovani will play the lead role of the barefoot placekicker; Endriss will be the barefingered holder; Hart will be the bare . . . well, the center; and Troppmann will produce, direct and sell popcorn. Barely.

Lights . . . camera . . . hike.

Jawn Jay Remembered

REMEMBERING — My piece here last week on the late John J. Connolly was limited to his newspaper career as a sports editor and columnist, but William E. Waste of Kentfield remembers old Jawn Jay's contribution to production at Marinship during World War II.

Waste, who was vice president and general manager of the Bechtel Corp.'s Sausalito shipyard, recalls: "Much could be written about John's activities there, not the least of which was to start up an in-yard publication called 'The Stinger.'

"Its main purpose was to put the needle on supervision and management, which he did in a way that very often got results and also helped in building up the morale of the workers who took great delight in the barbs that John threw at everybody from Ken Bechtel on down. We finally decided if you couldn't lick Jawn it would be best to join him, which we did and consolidated The Stinger with the official Marinship publication, The Marin-er, and made him editor of both publications. This action, incidentally, did not lessen John's effectiveness at all.

Called Himself 'Old 999'

"I just wanted to let you know that John — or 'Old 999,' as he used to call himself — is remembered for other things besides his interest in sports."

JIM SHORTS:

Look for the 49ers to schedule an exhibition game against the Buffalo Bills at Kezar this summer. With native San Franciscan O. J. Simpson as Buffalo's No. 1 attraction, the 49ers could make hay while the native son shines. Maybe a rare sellout.

Speaking of the Niners, wouldn't it be just their luck if Vince Lombardi were to take over the Washington Redskins and guide them to a great comeback next season? I mean, the 49ers have Washington's No. 1 draft choice next year as a result of the Walter Rock trade, so the higher the Skins finish, the lower the 49ers draft — or vice versa.

Lombardi Hoping Packers Okay His Move To Capital

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)—Vince Lombardi, the coaching genius who turned the Green Bay Packers into a dynasty unparalleled in football history, would like to start all over again with another team—if the Packers give him a chance.

Lombardi, who at the age of 54 "retired" from active coaching last year to become the Packers' general manager, said yesterday he has asked the team to release him from the final five years of his contract so that he can become the top executive officer, the coach and an owner of the Washington Redskins.

"Everybody wants to own something sometime," Lombardi said. "And you want to do something you feel you do best. I will have a substantial piece of equity, and the position will include coaching. I will have control of the club—everything."

However, his transfer from the city that has been his home for the past 10 years hinges on one thing—the willingness of the Packers' executive council to excuse him from the balance of his contract.

VINCE LOMBARDI
Tug-o-war

Packers president Dominic Olejniczak said the council would give Lombardi's request "serious consideration." But, he said, "this is not just an ordinary matter."

Olejniczak said it could take "two or three more meetings" of the council to decide and another meeting would be scheduled in "a day or two."

"Mr. Lombardi has not been given his release," he said. "The matter is open to serious consideration. We are grateful and appreciative for what he has done for Green Bay. But a matter of this type, has to be seriously considered."

Lombardi said two things had swayed him to the decision to move: the chance to return to coaching and the chance to become an owner.

The Packers, a community-owned, non-profit organization, could not give him that ownership opportunity.

And, it was Lombardi himself who had selected as coach of the Packers Phil Bengtson. Any decision to return to coaching at Green Bay would have meant a demotion for his old-time friend.

His players admitted they could see last fall that Lombardi was restless away from the action on the field.

Mathis Batters Chuvalo

NEW YORK (AP) — Buster Mathis, the one-time blubber boy, has turned into a bruiser and the proof is etched today on George Chuvalo's carved-up face.

Mathis, of Grand Rapids, Mich., bloodied Chuvalo over 12 brutal rounds last night and scored a unanimous decision over the game Canadian heavyweight in the second half of a Madison Square Garden boxing doubleheader.

In the opener, Emile Griffith of New York celebrated his 31st birthday with an impressive unanimous 10-round decision over Andy Heilman, a last-minute substitute for injured Doyle Baird.

Mathis, enraged at some low blows in the opening round, charged at Chuvalo to retaliate and twice shoved referee Harold Valan out of the way in attempts to return the fouls.

"He hit me low and said 'I'm sorry,' " Mathis said.

"I was hurt and I told the referee, 'Let me hit him low and tell him that.' "

Mathis calmed down later and methodically chopped Chuvalo down, cutting him over both eyes and raising a huge lump on the Toronto fighter's left cheek.

In the 11th round, a right lead opened a deep cut at the corner of Chuvalo's left eye and the

Raiders Announce John Madden New Head Coach

For two years Madden has been an assistant to John Rauch, who resigned last month to become coach of the Buffalo Bills of the AFL.

Before joining the Raiders in 1967 as coach for linebackers, Madden was an assistant for three years at San Diego State College. In 1963 his Hancock Junior College team at Santa Maria, Calif., won its league championship and was ninth-rated nationally.

A native of Daly City, he played high school ball there and was an all-conference tackle at Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo.

His professional career with the Philadelphia Eagles was cut short in 1959 by a knee injury.

BASEBALL OWNERS HUDDLE

MIAMI (AP)—The baseball club owners went into joint session almost two hours late today after a committee of American League owners met with National League owners in an attempt to find a new commissioner and an answer to their pension squabble with the players.

The American League committee of Gabe Paul of Cleveland, Lee MacPhail of the New York Yankees and Arthur Allyn of the Chicago White Sox met with the full complement of National League owners after the N.L. met in separate session.

Then the two leagues went into session together.

Champs Golf Changes Sites

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The $150,000 Tournament of Champions golf tournament is joining the move to the suburbs, at least for this year.

A spokesman for the Stardust Hotel, sponsor of the April 17-20 event, said yesterday the hotel would keep its contract with the Professional Golfers Association but would move the tournament from the Stardust Country Club to La Costa Country Club, near the Southern California coast.

Morris B. Dalitz, who heads a group which owns the format of the tournament, said last week the group would sell the Stardust Hotel to Parvin-Dohrmann Co.

Broncos Get Scare But Win

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Mighty Santa Clara is still unbeaten in basketball today—but it's a little scared, too.

The Broncs got about as good a battle as they have had all season from upstart San Francisco State last night.

Playing on the Bronco's home court, Santa Clara trailed by as much as 10 points in the second quarter and were still down 39-34 at the half. But Ralph Ogden and Dennis Awtrey, the Broncs' two best gunners, finally got going and Santa Clara won going away, 72-59.

It was the first time Santa Clara had trailed at halftime all season. San Francisco State hit 68 per cent of its first half shots. Awtrey had 23, Ogden 20 and Joe Callaghan 21 for the Gators. Santa Clara has won 18 straight this season.

Another team with a brilliant record, Puget Sound, made its record 17-1, with an 87-56 win over Simon Fraser, only team to beat them. John Smith had 21 for the winners.

And Seattle, a good independent club which has lost only four, sneaked past the tough Athletes in Action team 76-75 in a game played for some reason in Portland, Ore. Willie Blue hit the key last-second free throw and Tom Little had 21 to lead the Chiefs.

S.F. PRESS CONFERENCE

King Says Giants Have Two Flags To Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Clyde King, new manager of the San Francisco Giants, expects the club to be in contention for the 1969 National League pennant, but says, "It will be harder to get into the World Series because you have to win twice."

King, who made a brief stopover at Candlestick Park yesterday, said he thought Atlanta and Cincinnati were the teams to beat in the new two-division setup the Giants will be playing in next year.

Answering those who have said the Giants are in the easier National League division, King made his point about winning in one division, then playing the winner of the other.

King also said:

That Jim Hart would be moved from third base to left field.

That Tito Fuentes, who was out last season when he broke a leg at the Giants' Phoenix Farm club, had recovered and might replace Hart at third.

That young Rich Robertson "has a real good chance to break into our starting rotation, maybe not right off the bat, but he has the equipment and the temperament to do it."

That pitchers dominated the game last year because of the individualized instruction they get and that he planned to give the same type of training to his hitters.

That he hopes to develop a reliable middle-inning relief man so Frank Linzy, the late-inning artist, can be saved until late in games.

King also said he planned to continue resting Willie Mays at times and that he had had "a nice chat" with Juan Marichal in Santo Domingo.

"I didn't want to say much to Juan," King said, "You don't want to work on a 25-game winner too much."

Candlestick Improvement Costs Rise To $16 Million

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco Stadium Inc. estimates it may cost $16 million to expand and improve Candlestick Park, home of the Giants baseball club.

The non-profit corporation, set up to finance the park when it was built, wrote the city government yesterday saying it would need a detailed list of needed improvements and additions before it could arrange financing.

Included in the improvements would be a means of reducing the wind that makes baseballs take odd flights in the outfield.

Stadium, Inc., also said the city would have to put up $350,000 for architectural and engineering plans and specifications and pay for financial consultants. That money, it said, could be repaid after the sale of bonds for the complete project.

Rams Tackle Best In West

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Los Angeles Rams defensive tackle David (Deacon) Jones has been named the West Coast's top professional athlete of 1968 by the Peninsula All-Sports Club, it was announced today.

The balloting was conducted among sports editors in various western cities from a list of most valuable players submitted by 16 professional teams.

Clifton McNeil, San Francisco 49ers end, and Elgin Baylor, Los Angeles Lakers forward, were named runners-up. The award will be presented at a banquet here Feb. 17.

Namath Edges Out McLain For Hickok Athlete Award

McLain received 70 first-place votes to Namath's 63, but the Jets' all-pro quarterback polled 321 points to 317 for McLain.

Bob Gibson, star pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, was third in the voting, followed by golfer Billy Capser, Mickey Lolich of the Tigers, quarterback Earl Morrall of the Baltimore Colts, golfer Lee Trevino, pitcher Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Player-Coach Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics and middleweight boxing champion Nino Benvenuti.

The Golden Link Award, given to athletes who starred before the Hickok competition came into being, went to fullback Bronko Nagurski of Minnesota and the Chicago Bears.

$1 MILLION VENTURE

Sports Minded Marinites Seek Recreation Complex

Jack MacPhee, long time San Rafael weightlifting coach and enthusiast, with a big helping hand from the Marin Sertoma Club, is starting out on a venture that he hopes will have a million dollar ending.

MacPhee is coach of the Marvel Athletic Club, Marin mecca for weightlifters and boxers. Without any facilities to train, MacPhee has turned his basement at 60 Woods Street into a gymnasium but can accommodate only eight or 10 athletes at a time.

The Marin Sertoma, headed by president Hans Schneider, voted Thursday night to sponsor MacPhee and the Marvel Athletic Club to develop bigger and better facilities for youth of Marin County.

First item to take care of is finding a building large enough to be used as a training center for weightlifting, boxing, wrestling and judo.

4,000 FEET

"That's the first thing we are working on," said MacPhee, adding that about 4,000 square feet is needed for the training program function.

Schneider said the Marin Sertoma Club, made up of 11 businessmen will lease the property, when the right piece is found, for a year.

"That's the start," said MacPhee, "and eventually we would like to buy property and enlarge the facilities to include a track, swimming pool, handball courts, things like that."

NO TRAINING

MacPhee said he had some Marvel A. C. members who wanted to enter the Golden Gloves boxing tournament next week in San Francisco, but because of no place to train, had to pass it up.

"We want a place for kids who are active, kids who want to make something of themselves," said MacPhee. "It's not going to be for loafing."

Although admitting the plans have not gone far enough ahead for actual cost estimates of the finished product, MacPhee has his sights set on "a million dollar complex, a complete athletic layout."

NON-PROFIT

MacPhee plans to take out corporation papers on the Marvel A. C. which will be a non-profit organization. Cost of the program will be met entirely by donations, said MacPhee.

"We want to compete with the hippie scene," said MacPhee, "and pull the kids this way . . . give them something to do."

"There is nothing for the youngsters of the county," said Schneider. "There just are no indoor athletic facilities for them to turn to."

"We want to build Marin County into a sports capital," added MacPhee. "We want a sports complex that will have something for everybody."

Bonds, Hunt Give Giants Fine Hit And Run Punch

For years the Giants were without an effective leadoff man. Then, last season they suddenly got two. Ron Hunt started the season in the No. 1 batting position. Bobby Bonds moved into the top spot shortly after he was called up from Phoenix June 24.

Until Hunt came along, the Giants hadn't had an effective leadoff batter since Eddie Stanky. Every time you looked at first base in 1951 Stanky seemed to be on with a walk or single. He was a very important contributor to the National League championship of the Giants in 1951.

Stanky always was good for close to 100 or more walks a season. He still holds the National League record of 148 walks for Brooklyn in 1945, an impressive number of passes but substantially below Babe Ruth's all-time American League mark of 170 for the Yankees in 1923.

IN HIS first season as a Giant, Hunt showed the team how to get on base last year. He led the team in walks (78), was third in hits (132) and set a modern record by getting hit with a pitch 25 times. Hunt was on base 235 times in 529 ABs.

When Hunt was dropped to the No. 2 batting position following call-up of Bonds, he was asked to sacrifice 16 times. Hunt bunted perfectly, 16-for-16.

IN THE No. 1 or No. 2 position, Hunt proved to be a very versatile batter. He is the kind of batter that pitchers don't like to face. Invariably he will take at least two pitches even if they are strikes. Then, he will protect the plate, fouling off one pitch after another. He repeatedly works pitchers into 3-2 counts.

This year Hunt probably will bat No. 2 again because of his ability to advance a runner. Clyde King, the new manager, says the Giants are going to be a hit-run team this year.

WITH BONDS batting No. 1 and Hunt in the No. 2 slot, the Giants did have an effective hit-run combination during the second half of the season last year.

Bonds' speed kept pitchers a trifle edgy. His 16 stolen bases in 23 attempts were the team high — and they all came in just half a season.

Hunt's coolness at bat, taking first pitches, gave Bonds an opportunity to steal. Hunt's ability on a hit-run play to get his bat on the ball gave Bonds the protection a runner should have. Hunt's ability to draw a base on balls was an added way of advancing the runner. So, too, was his fearless attitude against tight pitches, 25 of which hit him.

wound pumped blood for the rest of the fight. It took 10 stitches to close the cut.

"I prayed they would stop the fight after he was cut," said Mathis. "But they didn't, so I had to keep going."

When the fight ended, Chuvalo's face was a bloody mask. George seemed resigned to the unamimous decision against him.

"I fought a bad fight," said Chuvalo. "But I'd like to fight him again. It was just one of those nights."

Mathis, so angry at Chuvalo in the early rounds that he risked disqualification by shoving the referee, knelt in prayer as the decision was announced.

"I said a prayer for George," said Buster, who weighed 232, 24 pounds more than Chuvalo. "I'd hate to be in his room now. I know how it is. I've been in that situation."

On deck for Mathis is a March 10 Garden date with California heavyweight Jerry Quarry. The winner of that fight could get a shot at Joe Frazier'sshare of the heavyweight title. Frazier beat Mathis for the crown last March.

In the opener of the doubleheader, Griffith stung Heilman repeatedly, piling up a big lead on points. The fighters spent much of the bout pounding away at close quarters.

"I thought I could have done a little better inside," said Griffith, who weighed 156¼ to Heilman's 161. "He just kept coming at me."

Heilman, a hard rock of a fighter from Fargo, N.D., pounded at Griffith's body early in the fight and opened a slight cut at the corner of the ex-middleweight and welterweight champ's left eye.

The cut could jeopardize a Feb. 24 Garden date between Griffith and Stanley "Kitten" Hayward. "We'll have to see how it is in a couple of days," said Gil Clancy, Griffith's co-manager.

The doubleheader attracted a crowd of 14,155 and the show drew a gross gate of $128,536.

Golfing Trail Hits Desert

Bob Hope Classic On Tap

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — The 1969 winter golf trail shifted to this California winter resort area today for the 10th annual Bob Hope Desert Classic, a 90-hole marathon which Arnold Palmer has won an unprecedented three times.

Palmer, who chucked the tour at San Diego last week is back as defending champion as are Billy Casper, Doug Sanders and Jack Nicklaus, the last fresh from his triumph in the $150,000 event Sunday at San Diego.

Missing as a contestant in the pro-amateur sideline attraction will be the entertainment star of the show, Hope himself. The comedian's doctors have advised him to stay clear of too much physical activity because of a recurring eye ailment.

The tournament, longest by holes in the world, is played over four courses — Bermuda Dunes, Indian Wells, La Quinta and Tamarisk.

The affair is a strain on scorekeepers. Each of the 136 pros entered will play with a different set of three amateurs for four rounds. The pros have things to themselves for the nationally televised final round Sunday.

The official purse money is $100,000, the winning pro to collect $20,000. An additional $22,000 is split by the pros in the pro-am competition.

Indicative of the trend toward bigger prize money, the 1969 hundred grand is exactly double what was offered in the initial tournament under its present format in 1960.

Palmer, the inaugural winner, won $12,000. But the winner later received sums of $5,300, $9,000 and $15,000.

A year ago Palmer had to win the $20,000 the hard way—in a sudden death playoff with Deane Beman. The two finished all even at 348 for 90 holes.

One stroke back in regular play was Soth Africa's Harold Henning, who also is entered this year.

NORCAL BASKETBALL

Well, The Worst Is Over For Cal, Stanford Cagers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California's Jim Padgett wanted to forget all about it. Stanford's Howie Dallmar wanted to get it out of his system.

It was the misfortune of both Padgett and Dallmar that their teams played UCLA over the weekend. The top-ranked Bruins polished off Cal 109-74 on Friday, then stomped Stanford 98-61 the next night.

"I'd rather look ahead," said Padgett to the Northern California Basketball Writers yesterday. Cal, which also lost to Southern Cal Saturday, plays Oregon State and Oregon this Friday and Saturday.

Dallmar was more expansive on the subject of UCLA, though he pointedly reminded listeners that his club had beaten Southern Cal on Friday 66-56.

"I don't think there's ever been a front line in college basketball to match what they have up there," said the Stanford coach, referring to UCLA center Lew Alcindor and forwards Lynn Shackelford and Curtis Rowe.

Not the San Francisco combination of Bill Russell-Mike Farmer of the 1950s nor the Ohio State twosome of later years of Jerry Lucas and John Havlicek equalled UCLA, said Dallmar.

He said that if the opposing team contested Alcindor and company for rebounds on its own offensive board, it risked having Lew fiing long passes to unguarded teammates at the other end of the court.

The alternative, Dallmar said, was to lay back and play defense. Neither plan helped the Indians much.

The writers named Bill Stricker of Pacific and Dennis Awtrey of Santa Clara as players of the week.

Stricker scored 29 points and had 13 rebounds in a triumph over Seattle and Awtrey had 38 points in a victory over Cal State-Hayward.

Bowling Tips

By MARION LADEWIG

Tam Booters In First Place

Tamalpais High School's soccer team took over undisputed possession of first place in the unofficial Marin Counry Ahtletic League Soccer Standings, by downing Novato, 3-1, at Mill Valley yesterday.

Allan Mackey scored a pair of goals for Tamalpais and David Evans added another score.

The Tamalpais jayvees also won, 2-0, to keep its hold on first place in the junior varsity standings.

Ghilotti Wins Rec. Cage Game

A balanced scoring attack led Ghilotti Brothers to a 78-69 victory over Sausalito Pharmacy in a Class A basketball game of the San Rafael Recreation Department Adult League yesterday at San Rafael High School.

Sausalito got 29 points out of Don Johnson but it wasn't enough to offset five Ghilotti Brothers players in double figures, led by Jim Caranica with 18.

In a Class B game, Xeros Repros dumped Taberna, 82-56, as Bob Haxton scored 27 points.

Northwestern Cage Coach To Retire

EVANSTON, Ill. (UPI)—Larry Glass has resigned as basketball coach at Northwestern, effective at the end of the season, Athletic Director Tippy Dye announced yesterday.

Glass said his resignation came as a result "of pressure...within myself" and because "in my opinion the basketball program will be more effective with someone else at its head."

TOMORROW NIGHT

Brother Acts Headline Novato High Ring Show

Three sets of brothers, four returning champions and some formerly well known boxing names will be on hand for the fifth annual Novato Boxing Night at Novato High School tomorrow at 8 p.m.

There will be teen-aged battles in 10 weight divisions and some of it looks like a family affair.

Three brother duos, including one set of twins, will be on the program. The twins are Kevin and Ken Burton. Kevin will be in the flyweight division at 126 pounds, opposing John Mills, while Ken will go against Rich Campbell, another member of a brother act, at the 139-pound junior-welterweight division.

Rich Campbell is a junior, while older brother Wally, a senior, goes after his third title, battling Randy Smith in the 147-pound welterweight division.

CHAMPS CLASH

That should be a slam-bang affair. Smith already has won the lightweight and flyweight titles while Campbell has the welterweight and junior-middleweight crowns to his credit.

The other brother act is composed of Ross Allen, a sophomore flyweight, going against Joe Ferretti, and Wade Allen, a junior light heavyweight, going against Billy Busig.

In other fights, Steve Law and Mike Wilburn clash in an all-sophomore battle in the 132-pound lightweight division; Kevin McDowell and Terry Barson, both seniors, clash in the 156-pound junior-middleweight division; two juniors, Neal Given and Mike Morris, battle in the 165-pound middleweight division, and Bill Cummings and Mike Russell, both seniors, vie for the heavyweight crown.

Former world middleweight champion Carl "Bobo" Olson will act as one of the officials during the night, sharing duties with Sixto Rodriguez, former California light-heavyweight champ, and former California featherweight champ "Pee Wee" Thomas.

Ruby Nominated To Drive At Indy

COMBINED AP & UPI

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Lloyd Ruby, veteran race driver from Wichita Falls, Tex., was nominated today to drive a wedge-shaped turbocharged Offenhauser car in the 53rd Indianapolis 500-mile race May 30.

Dave Laycock is building the Ruby car and another without a named driver at Avon, Ind.

Ruby led last year's Indy 500 with only 26 laps to go when his car developed ignition trouble. Laycock replaced a faulty coil in only six minutes and 27 seconds and Ruby finished fifth.

Ruby has driven 3,902.5 miles in competition at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, more than any active driver, and has finished eighth or better in nine appearances. His best was third in 1964.

Margin Of Declines Narrow On Market

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks stumbled a bit today, although the margin of declines over advances was relatively narrow. Trading was heavy.

Economic news generally was bullish, but the international news including Vietnam and the Middle East was unsettling to traders.

The encouraging domestic news included rising steel prices and output, record construction spending in December and stepped-up sales of automobiles last month, led by General Motors, the No. 1 car maker.

Steels were mostly higher following favorable industry developments. Motors traded in narrow ranges, as did most chemical issues.

Several oil issues moved a point or so in each direction, with Standard of California firm. Rails and airlines generally swung narrowly.

B.F. Goodrich, was firm for most of the session. A federal judge has rejected its bid to block Northwest Industries, a holding company created by the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, from buying Goodrich shares in a tender offer. Northwest also gained.

Annuities Assure Income For Life

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am approaching retirement and am trying to figure how much income I can muster up. I have been considering a 5 per cent passbook savings account. But a high-rated insurance company has offered me a straight life annuity that will pay what amounts to 9 per cent income on my investment for the rest of my life. Would this be riskier than the bank?—L.B.

A. I am not sure from your letter if you fully understand what an annuity is. Since the company has a good reputation, you need not be concerned with risk; monthly income is guaranteed for your lifetime. But any portion of the principal which might remain after your death reverts to the life insurance company, not to your estate. The insurance company uses not only the income it earns from your money but also dips into your capital to provide monthly payments.

An individual could set up this type of plan for himself, but there is the constant threat of outliving the capital. If, for instance, you deposited $100,000 in a 5 per cent savings account and withdrew $9,000 annually, it would take only 17 years to exhaust your capital plus accrued interest. This same capital used to purchase a single premium straight life annuity would guarantee about $9,000 annually, regardless of how many years you lived.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Drive-In Secretarial Service Is Doing Business In Fairfax

There is something new in drive-in establishments in Fairfax — Dell's Drive-In Secretarial Service — opened yesterday at 85 Bolinas Road.

Occupying an abandoned service station at this address, owner Mrs. Dell Blodgett, formerly a secretary with the City of Fairfax, has set up a business to handle transcription from either dictation or draft, mimeograph work, photocopies, place card and badge lettering (her penmanship is beautiful), addressing manuscripts and tabulations — and she is also a notary public. She has been a secretary for 29 years, so is experienced in just about every phase of this type of service.

Gas pumps and all still remain. What to do with them is something of a problem — decorate them, block them out, or cut off the tops and make flower pots of them.

Perhaps the thing to do would be to install self-service dictating equipment inside each one for businessmen in a hurry who don't want to leave their cars.

JOSEPH F. EDELSTEIN of Sleepy Hollow, partner in the San Francisco investment securities firm, Edelstein, Campbell and Co., has been elected governor of the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange for a two-year term. He is past president of the San Francisco Security Analysts and a member of the business conduct committee of the National Association of Security Dealers.

ROBERT J. PETERSEN of Fairfax has joined Pacific Coast Title Co. of Marin, San Rafael, as vice president and branch manager of the Mill Valley office. He started in the title business in 1962 at San Rafael. Since early last year he has been with First American Title Co. of Marin — first as sales manager and since last May as vice president.

RICHARD J. BENNETT of Novato has been promoted to automotive finance officer in Crocker-Citizens National Bank's automotive finance administration in San Francisco. He will continue as assistant manager of the schedule and lease department. He joined Crocker-Citizens in 1964 following five years of financial experience in San Rafael.

JOHN R. PITCAIRN of Ross, a certified public accountant in San Francisco, has joined Terence V. McLoughlin of that city in partnership as Pitcairn and McLoughlin, Certified Public Accountants. Offices are at 683 McAllister Street.

Marchant

Mrs. Schram

REAL ESTATE. Hugh H. (Bud) Marchant of Nipper and Marchant, San Anselmo, has been designated Graduate, Realtors Institute by the California Real Estate Association. While some 10,000 candidates are enrolled today, only 303 have completed the requirements and have been awarded the GRI designation. His certificate number is 103. . .

Jeanne Schramm of Sausalito has joined Home and Land Co. and will be headquartered at the Sausalito office. Before obtaining her license she was five years with the foreign aid program in Africa and Brazil. . . .

Paul C. Holter of Kentfield, principal in Holter Communications Corp., San Francisco, has a new publication out, The Bay Area House Hunter, which showcases new and resale homes in this area and also discusses gardening, landscaping and decorating. It will be issued every other month throughout the year and will have a circulation of 50,000.

STATE FARM MUTUAL AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE COMPANY Home Office: Bloomington, Illinois
State Farm is all you need to know about insurance.

Torino GT makes other cars that talk performance eat their words.

Calling a car a hot performer is one thing. Proving it is another. Torino GT performance speaks for itself. Just how loud is up to you—with six V-8 choices, from a standard 302 V-8 up to the big 428 Cobra Jet Ram-Air. (When this one talks, others listen.)

Torino GT shows it's heir apparent to the 1968 NASCAR racing champ. Special handling suspension. Wide-oval tires. Competition-style wheels. Stripes. The works. In SportsRoof, 2-door hardtop, and convertible models. And then there's Cobra. All muscle at a very low price.

In all, you have 16 different ways to go in Ford's intermediate line, from the hissing-hot Cobra to the handsome new Fairlanes. Every one a winner. Visit your Ford Dealer's Performance Corner soon. Very little talk—lots of action!

Campus Needs Report Opposed, Due Study

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Co-ordinating Council for Higher Education has delayed consideration of a controversial 100-page report which would put the brakes on state funds for building new campuses.

The action came yesterday after Dr. John W. Gunn, Peralta College president and head of the California Junior College Association, contended that the report gave inadequate weight to the conditions and needs of local communities.

The council agreed to ask the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges to review the matter involving the smaller schools and report back in October.

It also decided to discuss at the May session, staff findings that no new state college or University of California campuses were needed before 1978.

Dr. Owen Albert Knorr, staff director, conceded that there will be a need for 11 new community college campuses before 1978, but called for close scrutiny before any state aid funds are approved for other planned campuses.

State Finance Department projections show the number of 18-24 year olds will decline by 1980.

The 19-campus state college system has planned three new schools—in San Mateo, Ventura and Contra Costa counties.

The University of California, with nine campuses, has made no firm plans for any additional campuses before 1978.

San Anselmo Library Budget Discussed

A general discussion of items to be purchased in the 1969-70 budget was held by the San Anselmo Library board yesterday.

Valerie M. Ansel, chairman, said these items include books and library shelves. Budget talks will probably start at end of this month, she said.

Ramparts Files For Bankruptcy

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Attorneys for Ramparts magazine filed a bankruptcy petition in federal court yesterday and asked for time to submit a list of full assets and liabilities.

Federal Judge Alfonzo Zirpoli granted 10 days for submission of the list and requested a plan whereby the magazine would reorganize and pay off debts of $1.8 million.

The petition said the magazine could not meet obligations as they mature and owed 61 employees $30,000.

Navy Nurse's Sentence Is Suspended

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Navy nurse given a six-month suspended sentence of hard labor for antiwar activities was back on duty today. One of her first patients may be the officer who conducted her court-martial.

Lt. (j.g.) Susan Schnall, 25, was found guilty yesterday by a six-member court which deliberated one hour before reaching a verdict.

Rear Adm. Leo B. McCuddin, 12th Naval District commander, immediately suspended the sentence on the ground that a woman sentenced to a year or less cannot "under any circumstances" be sent to prison.

As Mrs. Schnall prepared to leave the Treasure Island court, Capt. John P. Gleeson, who presided as judge advocate general turned and said:

"Susan, I'm on my way to Oak Knoll tomorrow for my eye operation. I expect you to take good care of me."

"I will," replied Mrs. Schnall, a nurse at Oak Knoll Naval Hospital in Oakland. "I'll see you out there."

The jury of five men and one woman found Mrs. Schnall guilty of violating a general order by marching in uniform in a peace parade and of conduct unbecoming to an officer by helping drop antiwar leaflets from an airplane over four military posts.

Murray Is Ordered To Find Lawyer

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — George Murray, Black Panther leader and controversial figure at San Francisco State College, has one week to find an attorney.

Murray is charged with carrying a concealed weapon, but a municipal court judge ruled yesterday he could have additional time to find legal assistance.

Officials say two loaded pistols were in a car Murray was driving when arrested on a speeding charge by the highway patrol in East Palo Alto Jan. 24.

The alleged violation resulted in revocation of probation for Murray, who had been convicted of battery in an attack on a college newspaper editor in San Francisco. A hearing is pending on the revocation order.

Murray, free on $625 bail, was suspended from San Francisco State after he advised Negro students to carry guns. He had been a part-time English teacher for minority students.

St. Francis Hotel Due Expansion

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Western International Hotels Co. announced yesterday it was starting construction of a 32-story, 580-room, $39 million, addition to the St. Francis Hotel.

The addition, to bring the hotel's total to 1,220 rooms, is to be completed by mid 1971.

Keep your car on the road with Town & Country shocks

Town & Country shocks are heavy duty shocks, designed to give a comfortable ride on country roads, a sure-footed stability on modern highways.

ROAD TEST YOUR CAR!

Worn-out shock absorbers can make your car bounce or cause wheels to shimmy.

A fender that drags on a tire over bumps might indicate too-old shocks.

If you have uneven tire wear, it may mean you have fast-fading shocks.

If your car sags when you lean on a bumper you may need new shock absorbers.
